

MILLIGAN on the AIR

THE BUFFALO RANGE

TUNE IN W J H L
4 p.m. every Sun.

Published by the Alumni Association

VOLUME 1

MILLIGAN COLLEGE, TENN. FEBRUARY 13, 1929

NUMBER 6

PARDEE HALL, THE BOY'S HOME

PICTURE REPRODUCED FROM DENVER POST PHOTOGRAPH

Left to right: Mr. and Mrs. A. Paul Daugherty, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. William D. Daugherty, Waco; and Mr. and Mrs. J. Charles Daugherty, Nacogdoches.

At the international convention which met recently in Denver, Colo., the Daugherty brothers and their wives were signally honored by the convention and the city of Denver as well. The headquarters hotel, The Albany, gave them special recognition; the Christian Evangelist got their pictures for running with a story later; and the Denver Post gave them a large picture space and a headline on the second page of the first section.

This was not the Daugherty brothers' idea but almost as soon as it was learned that the three brothers and their wives were at the convention they were herded into the press rooms.

Only three children in the family and all of them ministers in the Christian church and in the same state. And the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty are also in Texas. Mr. W. E. Daugherty, the father was for years state evangelist of Florida and was listed in the "Who's Who of the Ministry." And his father, Mr. Charles R. Daugherty, was at Englewood, Tenn., many years, while Charles R.'s brother, Mr. W. A. Daugherty (great uncle of the brothers) preached for 50 years at Nona-burg, Tenn.; and the great-grandfather, Mr. S. C. Daugherty, an Orangeman in Ireland, upheld Protestantism there in the homeland.

—Character Building First of All—

The modern housewife walks a mile preparing a meal -- half a mile to and from the delicatessen store.

CATHERINE T. HANCOCK

Mrs. Catharine T. Hancock, formerly Catharine Thomas, 221 West Fifth Street, San Dimas, California, graduated from Milligan College in 1913; attended Los Angeles Conservatory of Music in 1931 and 1935; she has father studied under Dr. Walter Barkley and Olga Steeb; her present occupation is piano teacher in San Dimas, California. She is organist at the First Christian Church and social editor of the San Dimas Press. Her community interest are Sunday School, missionary work, organist for the First Christian Church, order of the Eastern Star and a member and publicity chairman for the Pomone Valley Musicians Club. Immediately after graduating from Milligan College she taught at Sweetwater Seminary for two years. She has a son, Lambreth, Jr. who is now twenty one years of age. He is specializing in Journalism and has been editor and publisher of the "La Verne Leader" for the past year. Mrs. Hancock writes:

"Although I have been very slow in responding since receiving the Alumni edition of the "Stampede", I wish to say it was read -- every word -- and brought back many happy memories of Milligan College days. I shall ever hold a warm spot in my heart for Milligan. The Buffalo Range makes it possible to keep in touch with friends of other days and while I live so far away, when it is possible I always visit the school again. It has been ten years now since

DAVID SINCLAIR BURLESON

David Sinclair Burleson, College Dean; born in Carter County, Tennessee, 1871, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Burleson. He received his B.A. degree and his M.A. degree from Milligan College in 1891 and 1898 respectively; graduate student, University of Virginia, 1896-98 traveled in Europe, summer 1909 1927; Harvard summers 1901-02 University of Chicago, summer, 1911 Principle of Academy, New Castle Virginia, 1894; Professor of Mathematics, Tazwell, Virginia 1892; Professor of Mathematics, Tazwell, Virginia, 1893; Head, Department of Language, Florence, Alabama, State Normal School, summer and fall, 1908; Professor of English Literature, East Tennessee State Teachers College, since 1911; Dean of the East Tennessee State Teachers College since 1920; Acting President of the East Tennessee State Teachers College, summer and spring, 1925; Secretary of the East Tennessee Educational Association since 1922; Author: Practical English Grammar, Applied English Grammar, and Grammar Manual; Joint author of Applied English Language and Applied English Language Manual; Co-author: Adventures in English (series of six books). Married Mary Henley Dew of West Point, Virginia.

—Christian Education, Hope of World—

that was my privilege. My heartfelt wishes are extended for the success to continue Character Building as done at Milligan."

S. O. S.

Please Help Us Find These Lost Children

We have not heard from the following former students. Anyone knowing addresses of any of these, please communicate with the Range.

Mr. Ellis Robert Veatch
Gordonville, Va.

Mr. Arthur Francis Woods
New Castle, Penn.

Mr. Lyle Williams
Tampa, Fla.

Mr. Ardis Williams
c/o Toote and Davis
Atlanta, Ga.

W.W. Williams
Tampa, Fla.

Mr. A.Z. Updyke
Merchanicsburg, Ky.

Mr. Jesse Boyd
Bridgeport, Ala.

Mrs. B. W. Thomas
Linden Ave
Asheville, N. C.

Mr. R. L. Thornburg
Ashland, Ky.

Mr. Clyde Turrentine
Shelbyville, Tenn.

Mrs. E. M. Sutton
Marion, Va.

Herbert Sutton
Tampa, Fla.

Mr. Mack Sutton
Armstead, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Sues
Murphy, N. C.

Miss Laura Bell Stacy
Grundy, Va.

Mrs. Maggie Stuart
Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. George W. Stacy
Aloran, Va.

Mrs. Eunice Shockly
Leaksville, N. C.

Mr. Wilbur Stanbery
400 Daytona Elizabethton, Tenn.

Mr. Lawrence Richard Stephens
Wytheville, Tenn.

Mammie Baylor Simpson
Bluefield, W. Va.

(Continued on page 7)

Who They Are - Where They Are What They Are Doing

O. Neil Hall, 312 D. Street Elizabethton, Tennessee, class of 1933; is now assistant to Chief Auditor at American Bemberg Corporation, and North American Rayon Corporation. Elizabethton; is a member of the Red Cross, Fellowship Bible Class of First Baptist Church of Elizabethton, Cherokee Athletic Association.

— R —

Mrs. Helen Tranum Nave, 226 E. Chilhowie Avenue, Johnson City Tennessee; member of class of 1935; she is assistant to Mrs. H. J. Derthick at Milligan College; her interests are Church and Scouting.

— R —

Steve B. Lacey, 116 W. Unaka Street, Johnson City, Tennessee; member of class of 1931; has attended Duke and the University of California. Present occupation, Head Coach of Football Track, and Girls' Basketball at Milligan College; interests are Church and anything that aids the underprivileged; he has held the following Public positions: Athletic Director of Mary Hughes High School, Principal of Mary Hughes High School.

— R —

Hazel J. Hart, Elizabethton, Tennessee, Route Number 4; member of class of 1936; teacher of Home Economics at Elk Mills High School.

— R —

W. H. Garfield Price, Embreville, Tennessee; class of 1905; at present time is inspecting lumber at Embreville; community interests are the people of the community, keeping them busy and seeing them self-supporting.

— R —

Elsie Lee Price, 304 Union St., Erwin, Tennessee; class of 1936; at present she is teaching art in the Erwin City Schools; community interests are Church work, member of the Business and Professional Organization, Vice President of Parent-Teacher Association.

Mary Hendrickson, class of 1891 of El Monte, California has sent in a poem called "Milligan, The Beautiful." She has written in reference to the poem, the following quotation; "Reading the Range and seeing the pictures of familiar scenes of more than half a century ago, resulted in a little poem which you can use as a chink-filler for the Range when you are in need of more material. And lest some one should waste pity over my seemingly hard lot I'll add that I am now retired, not on a pension, but savings from past activities, also a good home with my sister. But best of all, the Lord is my Shepherd."

Milligan the Beautiful

O Milligan the beautiful,
How dear thy scenes to me;
The brightest years of all my life
Were those I spent in thee.

Thy hills and dales and crystal creek,
With graceful shade trees tall
And grand old Buffalo mountain.
Standing monitor over all.

— R —

Manuel E. Sanders, Route No. 4, Jonesboro, Tennessee; member of the class of 1932; present occupation is chemist in analytical Laboratory for Tennessee Eastman Corporation, Kingsport, Tennessee; community interest are Young peoples activities Church, school. During the years 1933-1934 he taught in the Washington county public schools, also served four years as Sunday School superintendent. He writes, "Enclosed you will find one dollar for my subscription to the Buffalo Range. I received my sample copy at Mrs. Derthicks pre-Christmas dinner and think it a fine publication. I shall never cease to remember Milligan and friendships made there.

Elizabeth Leatitia Wilson, Kent, Oregon; class of 1905; she was formerly Elizabeth Leatitia Kelly; she is the wife of a wheat rancher and mother of five boys and one daughter; community interests are church, Grange, and all civic interests. She enclosed one dollar for a years subscription to the Buffalo Range.

— R —

Ella B. Payne, Etowah, Tennessee; class of 1932; she is teacher of Civics and History and serves as Teacher-Librarian at Etowah High School; her interests are Parent-Teacher Association, Sunday School, and Church.

— R —

Mable Dyer, Jonesboro, Tennessee; class of 1933; she is now teacher of Home Economics in Boones Creek High School, Jonesboro, Tennessee; she has taught in the same school since graduation from Milligan.

— R —

Martha Shepherd, Mosheim, Tennessee; class of 1926; present occupation teaching Biology and Mathematics in Mosheim High School; community interests are Community Club, Eastern Star, and Church. She writes: "The four years I spent at Milligan have helped me in the rest of my life. I prize very highly the friendship I formed there."

— R —

Clarence E. Witt, 405 Ohio Ave., Erwin, Tennessee; class of 1936; since leaving Milligan attended University of Tennessee Law School for two years; he is now Assistant Coach, Musical Director, Physical Educational Director, and Teacher of Commercial Law in Talladega High School, Talladega, Alabama.

— R —

James Edwin Edens, 527 Race Street, Elizabethton, Tennessee; member of the class of 1938; present occupation, teacher at Tiger Valley Elementary School in Carter county

EUGENIA ADAMSON

After graduating from Milligan College in 1932, Eugenia Adamson taught in the City Schools of Gadseen, Alabama; in 1936-37, attended the Library School of Georgia Peabody College receiving her B.S. in Library Science in June, 1937; since September 1937 she has been librarian at Hiwassee College.

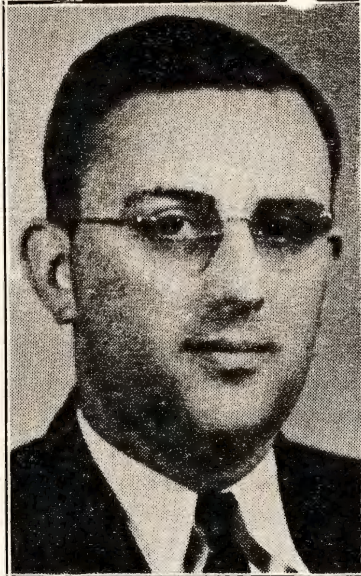

— R —

Lucy Louise Hatcher was a member of the class of 1905; since leaving Milligan College, she received diploma from East Tennessee State Teachers College and M. A. degree from University of Virginia; graduate work toward the Ph. D. degree at Peabody College and New York University; Miss Hatcher has had experience as teacher in the high schools of Tennessee and Oklahoma, Midland College, Texas, East Tennessee State Teachers College and Appalachia State Teachers College, North Carolina. She was principal of the high school at Walter, Oklahoma and Johnson City, Tennessee; Miss Hatcher is State President of the National League of American Women and has contributed both prose and poetry to magazines and newspapers; has traveled in eight foreign countries and is now Dean of the Gulf Park College, Gulfport, Mississippi. She writes: I still consider Milligan the dearest spot in the world my "Kindly Mother."

DR. MYRTLE SMITH

Dr. Myrtle Smith graduated from Milligan College in the class of 1922. In September of this same year she enrolled at the University of Tennessee Medical College in Nashville where she remained from 1922 to 1924. In September, 1924 she transferred her studies to the women's Medical College of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and graduated from that institution in June, 1926. She served internship at Passavant Hospital in Pittsburg Pennsylvania during the years 1926 and 1927. From Passavant Hospital she went to Kentucky and Tennessee where she served in public health work. In August, 1927, Dr. Smith sailed for Europe, having spent the previous year at the Kennedy School of Missions in Hartford, Connecticut. She was ordained as a minister in the spring of 1929 and was commissioned as a minister to the Belgian Congo in Africa. Before entering upon her duty of a missionary in the Belgian Congo she spent six months in Brussels, Belgian, learning French and tropical medicine. In February, 1930 she sailed from Antwerp and arrived at Matadi from thence by rail to Leopoldville, and from there to our district of the Equator in March. After serving for a while in the hospital in Leopoldville Dr. Smith went to the Lotumbe where she spent sixteen months as a medical

KENNETH C. HART

Along with a photograph for the Alumni paper of Milligan College K. C. Hart of Madisonville, Tennessee, has sent in the following account of his work since leaving Milligan.

Principal Chuckey High School, Chuckey, Tennessee, 1926-29; Principal Mosheim High School, Mosheim, Tenn., 1929-33; Superintendent of Public Schools, Green County, 1933-36; Head Science Department, Hiwassee College, Madisonville, Tennessee since 1936.

—Christian Education, Hope of World—

missionary.

Dr. Smith was forced to return to America due to illness. After she recovered from this illness she travelled among the greatest churches of the United States and then spent nine months in the Protestant Hospital, Nashville, Tennessee. Since leaving the hospital in Nashville she has been doing general medical practice in her home county, Overton, and the town of Livingston, Tennessee where she has done excellent work. In 1938 she planned to return to the Congo but due to ill health she was prevented from going.

Milligan College salutes Dr. Smith and is proud of her achievements, aims, and devotion to a great cause.

DR. L. R. DINGUS

"Lee" R. Dingus was born near Wood, Scott County, Virginia, January 4, 1873. His parents were Philip M. and Martha Banner Dingus. His early educational training was obtained, for the most part, in the public free schools of his native county. Outstanding among his early teachers, he is pleased to recall names of Professor Joe C. Vicars and Prof. Wm. Floyd Ramey as being particularly helpful to him in the character of their instruction. He mentions Brickley's Schoolhouse, "Sugar Tree", and Riverview Seminary as places where he attended school in his boyhood.

Dr. Dingus is an alumnus of Milligan College, A. B., 1894; the University of Virginia, M. A., 1907; and Ph. D., University of Virginia, 1914; graduate student University of Chicago, summers of 1908, 1910, 1911, 1920; University of Berlin 1912-14; he also spent the summer of 1907 studying in France and Germany.

He has held professorships in the following institutions of learning: Professor of English and history, South Kentucky College, 1903-05; Professor of German, Richmond College, 1914-1920; Professor of Romance Languages, Transylvania College, 1920-25; Professor of Modern Languages, Transylvania College, since 1925.

Dr. Dingus' literary work

The Buffalo Range

Published Monthly
by the Alumni Association
J. Goff Long, Editor
Subscription, $1.00 per year.

Visitors From Out On The Range

Jesse Boatman, class of 1938,
Jonesboro, Tennessee.

Beatrice Rice Striker, class of 1937, St. Louis, Missouri.

John E. Willison

—Character Building First of All—

embraces a wide range of subjects. His contributions to literature are as follows: "Study of Literary Tendencies in the Novellen of Theodore Storm"; "Chaucer's Verb" (based on a study of the "Knight's Tale" and the "Nonne's Priestes Tale"); "The Indo-European Root 'Dha' as it Appears in Modern English"; "Beowulf Translated into Alliterative Verse--Selections"; "Max and Theklain, Schiller's Wallenstein"; "Heinrich Heine's Attitude toward Religion"; "Southern Lyric Poetry"; "A Brief on Schiller's Esthetic Philosophy"; "New Europe and the Language Complex"; "The Virginia Contribution to Kentucky and Transylvania"; "Transylvania, the Pioneer College of the West"; "Founding of Transylvania College"; "Rivers as National Boundaries"; "A Word-List from Virginia" (being localisms and dialect words used in Scott County); "Lavan, a Short Story"; "The Abode of True Ideals, a Sketch"; "George and Polly, a Story of the Civil War."

Dr. Dingus did war work with the Food Administration at Richmond, Virginia, from the early summer of 1918 until the close of the War with Germany.

September 14, 1907, he married Miss Elizabeth Kilbourn, of Lancaster, Massachusetts, and has one daughter, Elizabeth.

Dr. Dingus is one of the ripest scholars the country has produced.

DR. H. P. HYDER

Dear Mr. Long:-

I am enclosing some notes of my activities with a small 'Photo' of myself. I hope these may be of service to you in assembling data.

The Alumni Association has my best wishes in the effort to enhance the interests and to broaden the endeavors of Milligan College.

Yours very truly,
H. P. Hyder, M. D.

Following my graduation from Milligan College in 1907 I taught in Carter County public schools. After taking three years in medicine at Lincoln Memorial University, Knoxville, Tenn. I graduated from the University of Arkansas in 1917. Soon after my graduation, through competitive examination, I received an appointment to the medical staff of Saint Elizabeths Hospital, Washington, D. C. where I remained for nine years with U. S. Government Service.

At present I am located in the suburb of Washington treating private patients. I am interested in church work, local social and prophylactic health.

At Saint Elizabeths Hospital for about six years I was in charge of a Clinic on Neuro-syphilis and Allied conditions, (Social disease). The Senior students from George Washington University, School of Medicine attended the clinic receiving training on this phase of applied medicine

During the World War I was in charge of the Receiving Department of Saint Elizabeths Hospital, where I diagnosed the mental as well as the physical illness of soldiers, sailors and other Federal employes from overseas and other points.

Officers from the Army were assigned to Saint Elizabeths for training in Psychiatry, they received one phase of this course under my direction.

In every institution where I have been located I have been given charge and have handled the work on social diseases.

Aside from the administrative work at Saint Elizabeths Hospital I was rated as third officer while in the Veterans Hospital, frequently having the hospital left under my direction for intervals, acting as Clinical Director and Assistant Superintendent at Spring Grove State Hospital, Maryland I was in charge of the institution at all times during the Superintendent's absence as well as having charge of the Receiving Department at all times, the Medical Staff was under my direction.

While in the Indian Service, under the supervision of a Medical Director in the U. S. Public Health Service I administered medically to the needs of the station and the reservation directing the maintenance and operation of a hospital. All problems pertaining to health were in my hands in the local area. This included the ordering of drugs and all other supplies for the maintenance of the hospital along with the health supplies for the reservation. A general outline of health problems was made and lectures were given; the leaders of different groups were called together at regular intervals. At these meetings knowledge was imparted necessary to improve health conditions. This was an innovation for the Indians.

I have written the following articles for publication: "The Effect of the Selective Draft Law in the Production of Psychoses" in 'Medical Record' November 9,

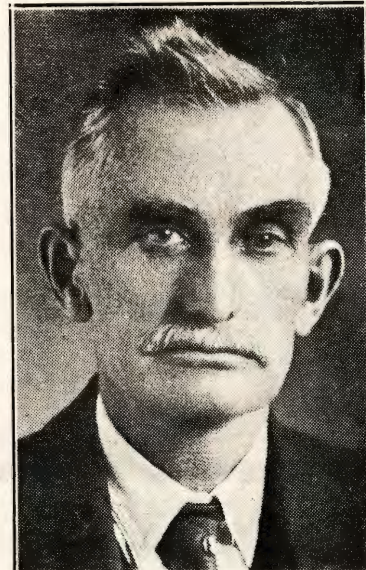

J. P. WHITT

J. P. Whitt, East Radford, Virginia has sent in a brief sketch of what he has done since graduating from Milligan College which is as follows:

Summer School of the South; Principal of Greendale Academy; Professor of Ancient and Modern Languages, Milligan College; Associate Principal of Luna Training School; Teacher of Latin, Greek and German, Centerville Training School; Teacher of Ancient Languages, Shenandoah College; Principal, Asbino Central High School, Louisiana; Superintendent Radford City Schools, 1911-20; Peabody College, summer 1918; Professor of Latin, Radford State Teachers College, 1916-20; graduate student, Peabody College, 1920-21; Department of Education-Director of Teacher-Training, Radford State Teachers College, 192 --; Acting President, Radford State Teachers College, September 1937 to January 1938; Member of the Board of Trustees, Milligan College.

-Christian Education, Hope of World-

1918: "The Relation of Salvarsan to Neurosyphilis" in 'The Journal of Nervous and Mental Disease' Vol. 60, No. 5 November 1926; "Tryparsamide in Neurosyphilis" in 'Medical Journal and Record' from April 15, May 6 and May 1925. "Mechanisms of Affective Response" in 'Medical Record' for May 15, 1925.

H. R. GARRETT

Mr. H. R. Garrett received his A. B. degree at Milligan College, 1889; A. M. 1892; Professor of Mathematics, Milligan College 1889-94; President, Stuart Normal College, 1894-95; Professor of Mathematics and Sacred History, Milligan College, 1892-1903; President, Milligan College, 1903-08; Superintendent Public School, Texas, 1909-10; President, Milligan College, 1911-13; Professor of Mathematics and Sacred History, Southeastern Christian College, Georgia, 1915-21; Professor of Mathematics, Lincoln Memorial University 1921-26; student in various summer school including the University of Tennessee and Texas Christian University; present position since 1926.

-Character Building First of All-

The University of Oklahoma
Norman, Oklahoma
Dear Mr. Long:

A little reminder of an obligation to send a check for the Alumni publication has just been captured, and I am enclosing the amount. I am sorry that this matter was overlooked.

I trust that others have done better than this negligent member, and that the publication is serving a useful purpose.

With best wishes for the success of this worthy enterprise, I am sincerely,

A. R. Ramey

Old Administration Building

The Tennessee legislature of 1866-1867 chartered an institution which was to be known as Buffalo Male and Female Institute. Among those that signed the charter were the grandfathers of Prof. S. J. Hyder and Mrs. R. L. Shepherd. A rather unusual feature of the charter stated that it was unlawful to sell whiskey within a mile of the institute, the penalty being a fine of either twenty-five dollars or fifty dollars half of which was to go to Buffalo Institute.

The first sessions of the Institute were held in an old log church located on the site of the present church. The contract for the first building of the Buffalo Institute stated that the structure was to be "so many bricks high and so many bricks wide" and was to have four rooms. The Institute was made of hand-made bricks which were dried in the sun, the hollow by the side of the present church having been caused by removing clay for these bricks. The students at this time boarded in the village since there were no dormitories.

When Professor Hopwood came to take charge of Buffalo

Institute in 1881 he built an addition to these four rooms and changed the name of the institution to Milligan College, in honor of a beloved teacher of his, Robert Milligan.

The first auditorium at Milligan College was in this structure. It was heated by two big round tin stoves placed on opposite sides of the room and was lighted by wall and swinging lamps. Over the stage was a huge banner on which was printed the words: "Christain Education, the Hope of the World," and "Character Building First of All." It was here that the first basketball at Milligan was played.

The building remained the same then until 1913 when the original four rooms were demolished and another addition made. This new part of the building contained seven rooms and a library, the chapel being on the third floor (the balcony in our present auditorium). The old chapel was then made into a basketball court.

In 1917 a fire, which originated in the old chapel, practically destroyed that part of the building and it was rebuilt to the way it looks today - - our present Administration Building.

The picture accompanying this article is a reprint of one from a postcard which was taken May 2, 1911 by the brother-in-law of Professor Hyder, who sent it to his mother as the latest picture taken of the College.

—Character Building First of All—

CHARLES E. CROUCH

Charles E. Crouch graduated from Milligan College in 1925 with the A. B. degree, then he entered Vanderbilt University in Nashville where he had the M. A. degree conferred upon him in 1927. After his graduation from Vanderbilt he went to Columbia University, New York City and graduated with an M. B. A. degree in 1928. He is now working on the doctorate in the University of Colorado during the summer and expects to complete work for the Ph. D. degree within the next summer. Charles is now professor of accounting at Vanderbilt University and has been there since 1935.

We regret that we do not have a picture of Mr. Crouch to go in this issue.

Taken From "Who's Who In Kentucky"

Dingus, Leonidas Reuben, educator; b. Wood, Scott Co., Va., Jan. 4, 1873; s. Philip Marion and Martha (Banner) Dingus; ed. pub. sch., Scott Co., Va; B. A., Milligan Coll., Tenn., 1894; M. A. Univ. of Va., 1907; Ph. D., 1914; Univ. of Chicago; Marburg Univ. of Germany; Univ. of Berlin; Columbia Univ., New York. m. Elizabeth Fletcher Kilbourn, of S. Lancaster, Mass., Sept. 14, 1907; Prof. (head of dept.) mod. languages, Transylvania Coll., Lexington, Ky. Began teaching career in Scott Co., Va., 1892. Independent. Christian (Disciples of Christ); mem. U. S. Food Administration during World War, Richmond, Va. Taught French and German, State Normal Coll., Florence, Ala., 1907-12; German at Univ. of Richmond, Richmond Va., 1914-20, mod. languages, Transylvania Coll., since 1920. Mem. American Dialect Soc.; Modern Language Ass.; Bradford Club; Lambda Chi Alpha. Author: Novellen of Theodor Storm, 1914, privately printed; mag. article, "Rivers as Natural Boundaries," 1921, Sewanee Review; mag. article, "A Word List from Virginia", 1915; Dialect Notes. Office: Transylvania Coll. Home: 422 Davidson Court, Lexington, Kentucky.

—Christian Education, Hope of World—

Lambreth E, Hancock Florence, Arizona; class of 1913; is pastor of the Florence Christian Church-of-the-Flowers and and Chaplain of the Arizona State prison; community interest is the welfare of its people.

— R —

The right amount of switching has saved many a boy who is on the wrong track.

— R —

Nature does make mistakes, sometimes she puts all the bone in the head and none in the back.

A crank is a person who is so utterly engrossed in his own fool ideas that he hasn't any time to listen to ours.

S. O. S.

Continued from page 2)

- Mr. Arthur H. Sammons
306 Loomis Ave.
Atlanta, Ga.
- Edd Roberts
Damascus, Va.
- Miss Gertrude Smith Rudd
Rochester, N. Y.
- Mr. C. B. Reynolds
Newport, Tenn.
- Mr. Charles William Perkins
Lakewood, O.
- Grace Phelps
Pulaski, Tenn.
- Miss Isabel Laudreth Perkins
Orlando, Fla.
- Mr. John L. Powell
Etowah, Tenn.
- Mrs. Florence McCain
203 E. Holston
Johnson City, Tenn.
- Miss Thelma E. McMahan Hattiesburg, Miss.
- Roby Milorne
Kingsport, Tenn.
- Miss Nora Josephine Mitchell
Chattanooga, Tenn.
- Miss Erva Munford
Memphis, Tenn.
- Miss Billy Jean McClellan
Madisonville, Tenn.
- Mrs. Ruth Dowdy Lafferty
3757 Southern Memphis, Tenn.
- Mamie Sheeler Long
Kingsport, Tenn.
- Mr. Claude Love
364-93rd St.
Brooklyn, N. Y.
- Mrs. Sallie Kegley
Roanoke, Va.
- Mr. Frank Koff Kellar
Etowah, Tenn.
- Mr. David Perryman Johnson
826 Oak St.
Knoxville, Tenn.
- Miss Gladys Elizabeth Johnson
Council, Va.
- Lynn Howard
Pine, Va.
- Mr. Jess Honeycutt
Dungannon, Va.

(Continued on next column)

- Mr. Edward Perin Harry
Madison, Florida
- Miss La Due Holliday
Daisy, Tenn.
- Mr. Jacob Tate Hunt
Cedar Grove, Ga.
- Miss Esther Hobbs
Washington, D. C.
- Mrs. George Hutchinson
3041 Sedgwick, N. W.
Washington, D. C.
- Mr. Joseph Gowen Gilmer
Hansonville, Va.
- Miss Evie Irene Garrett
Summittville, Tenn.
- Mr. Jessie Gunter
Oneida, Tenn.
- Mr. Warren Fair
Augusta, Ga.
- Miss Katherine Clyde Fosbee
Greenville, Tenn.
- Mr. Bascom Fleener
Beacham, Va.
- Mr. Edward Dow
Knoxville, Tenn.
- Mr. Alfred Cox
Gary, Indiana
- Miss Laura Ellen Crider
1443 Dorr St.
Toledo, Ohio
- Mr. Ira Dennis Cole
Piney Flats, Tenn.
- Mrs. Dell Chatting Christie
Bluefield, W. Va.
- Miss Lorena Clark
Pulaski, Tenn.
- Mr. Allen Coggins
Bee Tree, N. C.
- Mr. W. E. Bowers
Bristol, Va.
- Mrs. H. L. Bronson
E. Chester St.
Jackson, Miss.
- Mr. Leo Brown
Austin, Tenn.
- Mr. Lawrence Brown
Rockwood, Tenn.
- Mr. O. G. Whittenurst
Wauchula, Fla.
- Miss Louise Watkins
Kingsport, Tenn.
- Grace Watkins
Church Hill, Tenn.
- Miss Bessie P. Boyd
Bridgeport, Ala.

PARDEE HALL

BY ANNIE MARTIN LAUDERDALE

R

On the outside cover of the Range is a picture of Pardee Hall, the present dormitory for the boys. A short history of the present dormitory follows:

During the Christmas holidays of 1915 a disastrous fire completely destroyed the boys' dormitory, Mee Hall. Because of lack of funds it was impossible to rebuild the dormitory and the boys were forced to find lodging wherever they could. Three years later, in the fall of 1918 the Administration Building was also destroyed by fire and a building program for Milligan became imperative.

One hundred thousand dollars was raised for each building. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Pardee made a generous donation and in appreciation for the liberal gifts which they had made over a period of years Pardee Hall was named for them.

Every dollar needed for the construction of the building was received before the day of dedication. Mr. C. C. Mitchell of Johnson City was employed as the architect and Mr. Linville as the builder. On Sunday October 10, 1919, Pardee Hall was dedicated by Mr. Sweeney, ex-ambassador to Turkey, and an outstanding Christian Preacher.

Professor and Mrs. Cochrane were the first occupants of the building, and for nineteen years they have ably and kindly served as father and mother to the boys.

Pardee Hall, an imposing structure, has three floors and a basement which has also been converted into living quarters for the boys. The first floor has fourteen rooms, having two large parlors, eight rooms for the boys and the remainder serving as an apartment for Professor and Mrs. Cochrane. The other two floors have eighteen rooms each and there are three rooms in the basement. About half of the rooms are each occupied by three boys, these rooms containing double-deck beds. Today the dormitory comfortably houses one hundred and twenty boys.

Of the Pardees, for whom the dormitory was named, President Derthick says, "Mr. and Mrs. Pardee were lovers of youth. It was a joy for the college to honor them by naming the boys' dormitory Pardee Hall. They not only loved youth, but preserved their own youth by their courage, cheerfulness, daring, thoughtfulness, and goodness of heart. Even though the eight children which were born into their home demanded their love, affection, and support, yet their hearts, so full, had plenty of room for the thousands of youth who shall have attended Milligan and for the hundreds of boys who have and shall have enjoyed Pardee Hall."

R. S. V. P.

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK

To J. Goff Long, Secretary Alumni Association
Milligan College, Tennessee.

Enclosed is my check for $1.00 for which please enter my name for one year's subscription to the Buffalo Range.

Name

Address

THE JOSLIN FAMILY

136 Cool Spring Street
Fayetteville, N. Carolina
January 19, 1939

I can scarcely realize that almost ten years have passed since I received my A. B. degree from Milligan College. Half of this time I spent in professional school and the latter half I spent in home-making. I entered the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy in 1929 and from the very first lesson in Anatomy to the last lecture in Therapeutics I never ceased to be grateful for the background for study I had received at Milligan, chiefly in Greek and Latin under beloved Professor Wright, as medical terminology is almost entirely derived directly from those two languages. After four years of intensified work I was granted the degree of Doctor of Osteopathy. As a side issue I studied Roentgenography or X-ray in the Osteopathic Hospital, at the same time doing secretarial work for the head of the Department of Radiography which enabled me to pay most of my expenses in Philadelphia - thanks again to some good instruction in typing and shorthand while at M. C. Upon graduation I was awarded a Fellowship in Radiography, so my fifth year in Philadelphia I spent in post graduate work in that field. Two "high lights" stand out in my memory here - one a visit from President Der-thick and the other a Bible class of which I became a member while in Philadelphia. May I say right here that President Derthick is to my mind one of the best, energetic, hard-working, altruistic Christian men it has ever been my privilege to know, and no praise or gratitude that I might express would be sufficient to convey the sincere appreciation I feel for the friend he has been to me in making my college education possible.

I mentioned the Bible class. This, I think, changed the whole course of my life, as my goal began to change from being a successful physician to being a Spirit-directed Bible teacher. As I look back on my life I can see clearly that the Lord has led me definitely to this day, and I thank Him and praise Him for the privileges and joys He has allowed me. Upon completion of my year of post graduate work I married Dr. Milton Joslin, also an osteopathic physician who had started practice in Fayetteville, N. C., and now we have two little Joslins - Ivan and Arnold, 3 years and 1 year old respectively. I teach Bible in Sunday School and whenever possible in the Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church here. I welcome every opportunity to teach or sit in a class where the Scripture is taught. I know the joy of being saved and kept by the blood of Christ, and to share "the unsearchable riches of God" is my highest privilege.

My letter is too long. You may use any part or parts of it you care to, and I want to thank you for your courtesy in requesting this account of my post-Milligan days. In summary, it is far more delightful to be Mrs. Joslin, and "Mama", than to be Dr. Lumsden!

With very best wishes, I am
Sincerely yours,
Lucile Lumsden Joslin

—Christian Education, Hope of World—

Life is like a grindstone—it can either polish you up or grind you down.

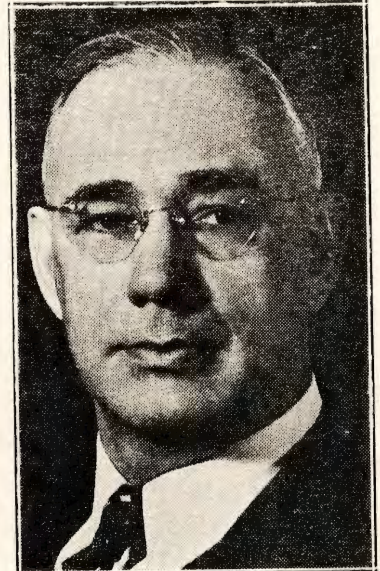

W. R. BOWERS

W. R. Bowers graduated from Milligan College, June, 1900; went to Rural Retreat, Virginia as principal of the high school there in September following and remained there in that capacity fifteen years. Since graduating from Milligan he has attended the following institutions: University of Virginia three summers, the equivalent of one semester; Columbia University two and one-half years. He holds a masters degree from Columbia and has nearly enough credits for the Ph. D. degree.

Mr. Bowers has held the position as professor of Mathematics in Radford State Teachers College since 1919.

In 1906 he married Miss Brown Eiffert of Rural Retreat. She was a former student of Milligan College for two years. Mr. and Mrs. Bowers have two children - a son twenty-three years of age who is working on his masters degree at Duke University, and a daughter twenty-six years of age, who is a graduate of Radford College. She is married but continues to teach in Salem, Virginia, as she is very fond of teaching. She has also attended Columbia University.

Mr. Bowers says, "we own our home and although we do not have a large bank account yet we have done, we feel a lot of living, consequently plenty of hard work and we trust devotion

W. P. BLACKWELL

I graduated from Milligan College, May 1917, Ph. B. I was salutatorian of my class. For a while I taught school, and then evangelized for a while. In May, 1918, I was called to the pastorate of the church at Collierville, Tennessee, where I ministered for four years. Worked under the Home Missionary Society in South Carolina and Alabama for a few years. Served the Forest Avenue Church, Knoxville, for about three years, during which time a fine educational building was built and paid for. I was never satisfied with my educational achievements so in 1928 I entered Vanderbilt University, Nashville, spent three years, and received the M. A. and B. D. degrees from that institution, 1930 and 1931. After this I spent four years with the Hickman and Benton churches, Kentucky, built an educational plant at Benton and remodelled the auditorium and it was paid for. I then served the First Christian Church, Jackson, for about three years, and have been at Highland Street for three years.

I am for Milligan College 100%

—Character Building First of All—

to duty. We owe much of what little success in life we have made to the high ideals and standards of Milligan College."