Milligan 1978 . . .

This year we approached the organization of THE BUFFALO differently — we tried to build around the theme of Milligan, and the places that are Milligan, and, of course, the people who are Milligan.

Our main goal was to record the year 1978 at Milligan. In the pages of this book we hope you'll find pictures and memories of what it was to be a part of Milligan in 1978.

The staff has worked hard this year, and, as editor, I would like to thank them and, on their behalf, dedicate the 1978 BUFFALO to Mr. Rod Irvin and Mr. Eugene Wigginton — who've done so much this year through their constant optimism, encouragement, and willingness to help to make the 1978 BUFFALO the fine book I hope you'll find it to be.

THE DORMITORIES

Hardin Hilton

In this progressive world there is always a small group of courageous and daring individuals who are unafraid of change. Such are the women of Hardin Hall. They moved from their secure lives on the top of the hill to the adventure of being the first females in many years to reside in that quaint dorm — legally. They have withstood extremes of cold and heat and defied the scoffings of men. They survived, with longsuffering, the tyrannical rule of John the Fierce. These victorious residents of Hardin made dangerous journeys down the hall to the showers, and stood proudly facing many perils with only a can of RAID in their hands.

Much good has come out of their pioneer year at the Hardin Hilton; these hard-working women have improved their home far beyond its former state. They enjoyed one another's fellowship at many parties, Bible-studies, and late-night-on-the-stairway-talks. "Through many dangers, toils, and snares, they have already come. 'Tis grace hath brought them safe thus far; now Hardin is their home."

John and Sandy Rasel, Head Residents

Pardee Hall (home of the Rowdies)

Pardee is known for its originality. The spirit behind the dorm can take ordinary things and make them exciting. Whether it be cards, frisbee, Dr. Pepper, or just a dip of Skoal, Pardee can make it exciting. The bond which holds the family together is one of brotherly love. The Rowdies share all their experiences together, both good and bad. The dorm has a quality of being wild yet tame. All this combines to give Pardee an immortal character all its own.

Boredom is never a part of Pardee's character. When the rest of Milligan College runs out of things to do, Pardee invents new ones. Pardee has developed such sports as "Hall Ball", "Steps", and "Blow Pong", which tests the motor skills of the participants, who try to pass a ping-pong ball suspended on a column of air from a blow drier.

In closing, Pardee may be best explained by one concept, which is Springtime. Milligan knows it is spring when the beautiful music begins to exude from Pardee and the Rowdies begin their outdoor Springtime fun.

Hart Hall

This year the Sweethearts of Hart Hall not only continued traditions but also started new ones. Some of the annual activities included dorm devotions, section parties, and "Hill Duty" on Body Hill, as well as a fall and spring clean-up day. Santa Claus (alias Al White) and two elves made guest appearances at the customary Christmas party and delighted the kids of a sponsored family with gifts and goodies.

The Sweethearts ventured out under the stars with candles lit in their hands one cold December night and a song bursting forth from their lungs. This was the evening of the first Hart Hall "Pajama Caroling Party." Valentine's Day brought around the first male Hart Honey Elections. Hart residents, 175 in all, nominated, voted for, and awarded three outstanding guys as their Hart Honies.

Dorm life was typical — boring, exciting, happy, sad. There were many special moments for us each. As a dorm and as individuals the girls of Hart Hall grew stronger this year.

Christmas!

Webb Hall

As you enter the dorm you cannot help but notice the perfect calm that seems to penetrate every corner of the building. It is nearly 11 o'clock; everyone has been asleep for an hour or more. You unlock your door quietly to keep from disturbing your roommate. You know that, like you, he will be up at 5 AM to begin studying. These circumstances assure you of one thing — you are in the wrong dorm! Obviously this is not Webb Hall.

Actually it is closer to 2:30 AM. The side doors are locked; you have to climb in through the lobby window. As you leave the lobby you turn off the TV, because all of the stations are off the air. This wakes up everyone sleeping on the furniture, and they rebuke you. As you walk down the hall you pass a room filled with card players. They are lethargic and undernourished. The card game has been going on for three straight days. You notice one bit of graffiti marring the wall: "Welcome to the Executive Wing." It is a strange place, but you are home — Webb Hall.

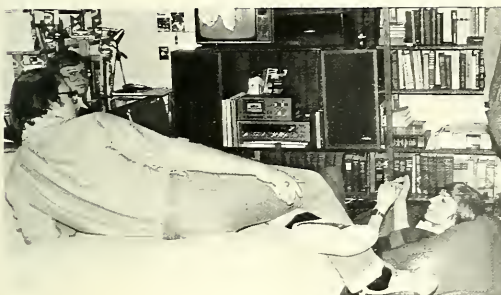

Nice tongue Bruce.

Halloween? No, Christmas. Ho, ho, ho!

Everything's cool in the lobby.

The Executive Wing's residents — who else?

Naval Academy(?)

Freshmen probably.

Sutton Hall

Busy is a good description of Sutton Hall during the 1977-78 school year. The year was highlighted by many activities.

Sutton, living up to its reputation as a close dorm, sponsored many activities that helped the girls work together. Two intramural football teams represented the dorm, both with winning records. The all-dorm parties gave all a chance to relax, laugh, eat, and enjoy each other's company. But the most important sharing experiences were the devotional times.

To round out the dorm programs, a fine dorm council planned activities that influenced those outside the dorm. The open houses were great successes. The Christmas party was great. Singing carols and "Santa's elves" and giving gifts were the highlights of the party. Other service projects included special gifts throughout the year to "friends" of the dorm.

As graduation time drew nearer, the farewell party honoring the seniors was held. May brought a wonderful, successful year for the girls of Sutton Hall to an end.

WHO'S WHO from Milligan

Fifteen Milligan seniors were named to WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES for 1977 this year. Students from more than 1,000 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and several foreign nations were also selected for the 1977 edition.

The Milligan students selected for WHO'S WHO were selected by the Milligan faculty. Criteria for selection included academic achievement, service to community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and future potential.

Julie Alexander, Kitty Becker, Charlene Britt, Cort Davisson.

Row 2 (l. to r.):

Eric Duggins, Rick Evanoff, Kim Frazier, Chris Harkey.

Row 3 (l. to r.):

Nancy Lauyer, Jeff McNabb, Rebecca Replogle, Barb Shoun.

Laurie Sutherland, Martie Williams, Jon Zeltman.

For the Senior Class of 1978 college is over. Four years of studying, learning, growing, and living are over. Four years at Milligan are over. Each of us in the Senior Class has his memories of all that was special, was painful, was being alive at Milligan for the past four years. Still, probably all of us are sad, in our own ways, to be leaving Milligan. Once it is over, it never quite seems to have been long enough. We will miss our friends, the professors, baseball and basketball games, vespers, studying dorm life, the stability and serenity of being a student at Milligan — everything that is Milligan. But, we do have our memories. And it is our prayer, as a class, that all the classes which follow ours will have as much fun and as many happy memories of Milligan to look back on as they graduate as we have been fortunate and blessed enough to have. May God bless us all and help us never to forget what we have had at Milligan.

Seeger Memorial Chapel

This section of the yearbook is designed to highlight some of the many activities which took place in the Seeger Memorial Chapel this year.

Seeger Chapel was officially dedicated on November 24, 1967, and has since then become easily recognized as the most impressive building on campus.

The Chapel serves Milligan in worship, instruction, lectures, concerts, and drama. This year was highlighted by the dramatic productions of "Camelot" and "The Fantastiks" and several special speakers and singing groups.

Seeger Chapel probably is the most functional of all buildings on campus, and it is certainly the most beautiful. We hope you enjoy the presentation, on the following pages, of what went on, more or less, in Seeger in 1978.

Camelot

The Milligan College production of the musical "Camelot" highlighted Alumni/Prospective Student's Weekend in the fall. The play ran over three nights — November 10, 11, 12 — and attracted large, enthusiastic and appreciative audiences each night.

Some of the Milligan "stars" included Paul Blowers as King Arthur, Julie Alexander as Guenevere, Jeff McNabb as Lancelot, Cort Davisson as Mordred, and Dennis Elkins as King Pellinore.

The play was directed by Dick Major and produced by Gary Richardson; and, with excellence of execution, following long weeks of practice, and just a bit of luck, all persons involved with "Camelot" combined to give three consecutive outstanding performances of this moving play.

Director — Dick Major

Founder's Daughter 1977

On Friday evening, November 11, at 8:00 PM in Seeger Memorial Chapel the 1977 Founder's Daughter was presented to the audience prior to "Camelot." She was, Miss Julie Alexander from Kokomo, Indiana, sponsored by the Swim Club, and escorted by Bill McNett. Miss Nancy Lauyer was the runner-up, sponsored by the SGA, and escorted by Jeff Cassens.

Other girls who participated in the Founder's Daughter's competition and program this year were Kitty Becker, Pam Carrell, Judi Carrier, Carolyn Edgington, Marcia Fraser, Jill Healey, Carol Jackson, Pam Johnson, Pam Miller, Patty O'Connor, Becky Replogle, Jenny Robinson, Barbara Shoun, Donna Sipe, Jan Swan, Wendy Webb, Marla Wesner, Debbie Whitaker, and Martie Williams.

Runner-up: Miss Nancy
Lauyer

CONVOCAATION

This seemed to be the year of the night convo. On several occasions during the year morning convo was cancelled, and a nighttime version substituted for it. While perhaps an inconvenience to students wishing to study in the evenings, the night convos generally were especially worth attending.

Of course, Tuesday and Thursday morning convocations continued to be held with alarming regularity. But, they too had much to offer in the way of several talented speakers throughout the year. And, of course, attendance at all convos continued to be remarkably high.

COMMENCEMENT 1978

The ninety-eighth annual Commencement of Milligan College took place at three o'clock in the afternoon on May 21, 1978 in Seeger Memorial Chapel. One hundred forty-five seniors were graduated before a large crowd of well-wishers and relieved parents.

Dr. Dean Walker spoke at Baccalaureate and George Powell was the Commencement speaker. It was an eventful and memorable day for all of the seniors and their families.

MR. GENE COTTON & friends

On Wednesday night, May 3rd, in Seeger Chapel Mr. Gene Cotton (bedecked in Milligan T-shirt) gave a concert for his many, and more than appreciative, fans at Milligan.

Gene keeps getting more popular and well-known throughout the country each year, but he always seems to find his way back to Milligan — and we love it! Seeger was packed. Gene, as usual, gave an outstanding performance and afterwards talked to folks backstage. We wish him only the best for the future, because we know he wishes only the same for Milligan. Good luck, and thanks, Gene!

THE FANTASTIKS

In late February Milligan College presented "The Fantastiks" in Lower Seeger. The play is subtitled "A Parable about Love," and under the directorship of Dick Major three very moving performances were presented.

The cast included:

El Gallo — Garry Smith
Luisa — Cathy Pulliam
Matt — Jeff McNabb
Bellamy — Al White
Hucklebee — Dave Bickel
Henry — Dennis Elkins
Mortimer — John Sighting
Mute — Valerie Cook

THE SUTTON CAFE . . .

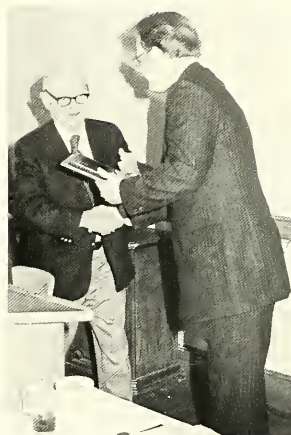

Sutton cafe — truly a dining experience. We mean it when we say it's a great place to eat. Why, they even serve food sometimes. Seriously, the food served in the Sutton cafe usually is very tasty, when there's enough to last through the meal hour that is. And all of this is not to mention that the glasses are sometimes clean, and that sometimes there actually is coke in the coke machine and orange juice in the orange juice machine. It's true, rarely has anyone left Sutton dining hall without having some comment to make about the meal: "Very tasty." "Delicious!" "What meal?" All kidding aside, the food really is awful. No, seriously, all kidding really aside, we're proud of all the folks who work so hard, to feed so many, each and every day during the school year. Our hats are off to you and our stomachs are singing — although perhaps a little off key now.

In the following pages we've tried to present some of the various activities hosted in the Sutton cafe during the year, besides just eating. Sutton cafe is undeniably a part of the Milligan tradition. Ask anyone: "Sure, part of the tradition — URP!"

The Madrigal Dinners

The Madrigal Dinner — Milligan's annual Yuletide celebration enters its eleventh year. It is a festive occasion, observing Christ's birth in the style of the sixteenth century. Reigning over the Sutton court this Christmas were King Garry Smith and Queen Becky Morrison. The colorfully clad members of their noble court included Julie Alexander, Pam Johnson, Mary Lou Layman, Cathy Pulliam, Pam Miller, Laurie Sutherland, Gene Estep, Dale Shreiner, Al White, Timothy Giese, Bob Keesee, and Steve Morton. In keeping with the atmosphere of Merrie Olde England, the court and guests were entertained during their meal by groups of strolling minstrels. Singing traditional carols of the season were Carol Hale, Phil Hills, Kelly Pratt, and Bill Wright. Lutanist Chris Harkey and the recorder consort composed of Beth Barchy, Chris McCall, Karen Shields, Cathy Stanton, and Loren Stuckenbruck provided the instrumental music for the evening. Delighting everyone from royalty to serving wench with his charming wit was court jester

Gary Richardson. In his elaborate costume, complete with bells, he follows the tradition of the Lord of Misrule. The menu itself has some traditional features. Such culinary delights as the wassail and the flaming plum pudding were born into the dining hall by litter bearers Tom Burnett and Greg Fleetwood. These special treats were greeted by a trumpet fanfare supplied by Jack Gray and Michael Rippy. Lord High Chamberlain Mark Reidel, along with the heralds, marked the courses of the program.

Awards Banquet

The Awards Banquet was held on Thursday evening, May 4, 1978, this year. It was the twenty-third or twenty-sixth or the fiftieth annual such banquet, depending on who you believed. But, at any rate, a delicious meal was served, and all those students who had received awards were recognized. Mr. Price was the emcee once again and some of those who won awards are recognized again below:

Sutton Cafe Presents:

HARVEY

Have you ever seen or spoken to a six foot rabbit? If his name was Harvey then the many people who attended Milligan's spring dinner theater presentation of Harvey on April 20, 21 and 22 in the Sutton Cafe could relate to your problem. The play was no less than a success, keeping with the Milligan stage tradition.

Our Ladies of the Cafe

These ladies are just a few of the many people who work long, hard hours each day to prepare the food served in the Sutton Cafe. In past yearbooks they have gone by too much unrecognized, though certainly not unappreciated. We would just like to take this chance to recognize and thank them for the fine job they do for us.

MR. SAM COMBS — director, Sutton Cafe

Sam's smiling face is familiar to everyone, and his supervision of daily food preparations is appreciated by us all. Keep up the good work Sam — we're eating!

AND IS IT GOOD?!

THE FIELDHOUSE

ANGLIN FIELD

TENNIS COURTS

Since these three areas are the main areas in which athletic events at Milligan take place, we have decided to make them — collectively — the section seemingly called year after year SPORTS.

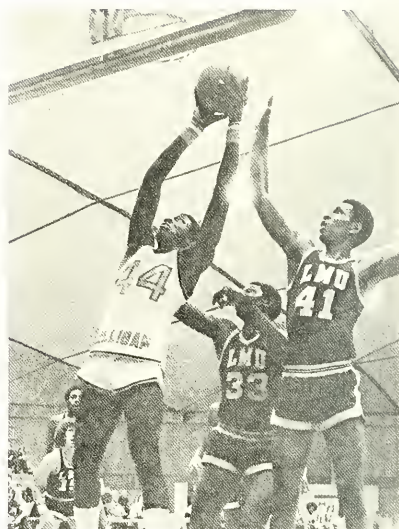

On the following pages you will find more or less complete coverage of all the intercollegiate athletics Milligan participates in, as they were participated in in 1978.

It was a good year for Sports at Milligan, even if the Fieldhouse did occasionally have its troubles staying “up” for all the big games.

Basketball 77-78

The Buffalos were again able to put together a winning team with a 19-13 record for the 1977-78 season. This was in spite of the many times misfortune overtook them: injuries claimed Marty Street and Mike Shepard for most of the season, and the wind claimed the fieldhouse roof during a January blizzard. But despite all, the Milligan basketball team did more than a fine job of providing Buff fans with competitive athletic entertainment throughout the long cold winter months. Oh, and of course, WAZOO lived on!

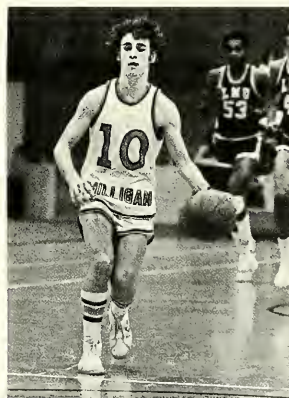

The 1977-78 Milligan College basketball team included (front l. to r.): Walter Bradley, Mike Shepard, Mike Allen, Dwight Frazier, William "Lew" Lewis, (back) asst. coach, Jim

Swim Club

The Milligan Swim Club "Water Buffaloes," under the leadership of co-captains Mark Webb and Tim Bumann, were off and stroking to a successful season . . . well, at least achievement wise. Included among the years activities were such events as the Stroke-a-thon and a brief competitive season. The Water Buff's first season was climaxed by a debut home upset victory over Ferrum College. The pioneering Swim Club has come a long way, and with enthusiasm high, you can expect many great seasons from Milligan swimmers.

Volleyball

A talented women's volleyball team this year compiled an eleven win and seven loss record, under the leadership of team captain Melody Neumeister.

Milligan hosted the Small College State Tournament this year, and finished fifth. The team also took third place in the Milligan Tournament.

During Fall Break the team toured Ohio and Kentucky, playing in eight games. And, to top off a fine season, Kim Deaton and Melody Neumeister were named to the All-tournament team at the State Tournament.

Baseball 1978 . . .

The 1978 Milligan Buffs baseball team played hard, played well, and played a long season — also a winning season.

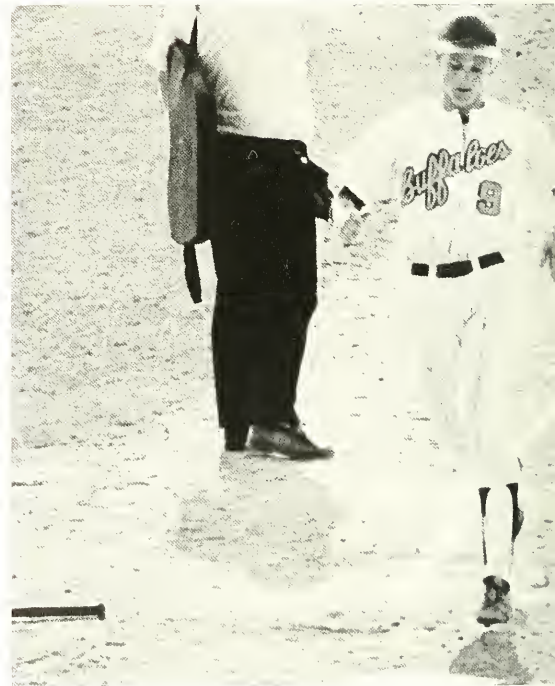

Under the leadership of Coach Harold Stout, the Buffs baseball team has over the past several years become a power to be reckoned with both in the VSAC and nationally. This year was no exception, as the Buffs came within a run of defeating powerful David Lipscomb College in the District 24 playoff.

A strong team will be returning next season and Coach Stout and all Buff baseball fans can look forward to another successful winning season no doubt.

Women's Softball

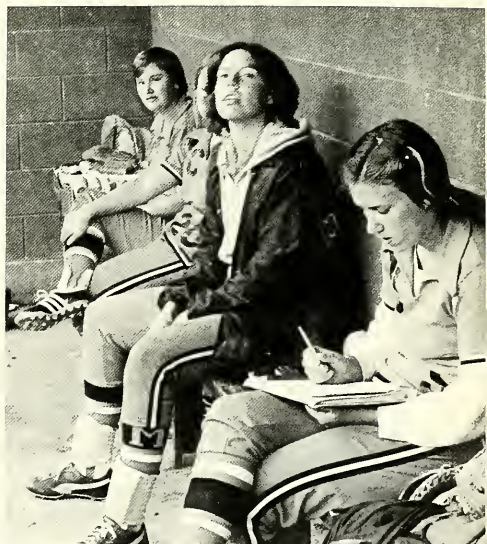

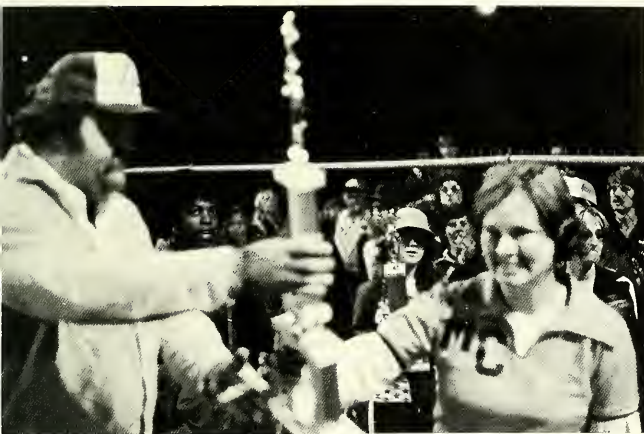

The Women's Softball team stampeded to a successful season in 1978. The girls were truly dedicated this year, even playing a game on Wonderful Wednesday.

Under the leadership of Coach Pat Bonner, the women's softball team is notorious for winning tournaments and hence trophies for the College. They continued this winning tradition this season — winning several games — and even more trophies.

Next year promises to be even better with all but two players returning to the team. Congratulations girls, and keep those trophies coming.

Track

Under the leadership of Coach Lee Morrow, who spent many hours preparing for this first season, the Track Team sported a season record of 6-5.

The team was co-captained by Joey Potter, Ken DeLong, and Cort Mills, and was highlighted by performances of Denny McNew and Gerald Randolph who qualified for National competition in the high jump. School records were set by Ken DeLong, Mike Fuller, and Denny McNew. Following are the members of the 77-78 Track Team:

Soccer

Milligan's first soccer team met with initial, yet limited, success in the fall season, sporting a 2-5-1 record. The team, coached by Mike Thomas, played matches against several East Tennessee clubs. After the Carson-Newman tournament, forward Kim Frazier was named Milligan's most valuable player. The spring season saw matches with many new American faces in the line-up, adding to the prospects of the next fall season when the international players return.

Men's Tennis

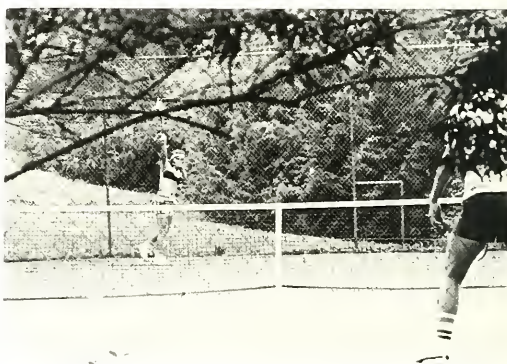

Men's tennis this year was highlighted by a lack of highlights, unless you consider injuries, which plagued the team all year, to be highlights.

Captain Mike Kidd found these obstacles too difficult to overcome and struggled with the team to a 3-13 record. The team, however, did have its moments, such as the come-from-behind revenge win over Maryville College.

Looking forward to next year, Coach Duard Walker looks for improvement with several players returning and several promising new recruits.

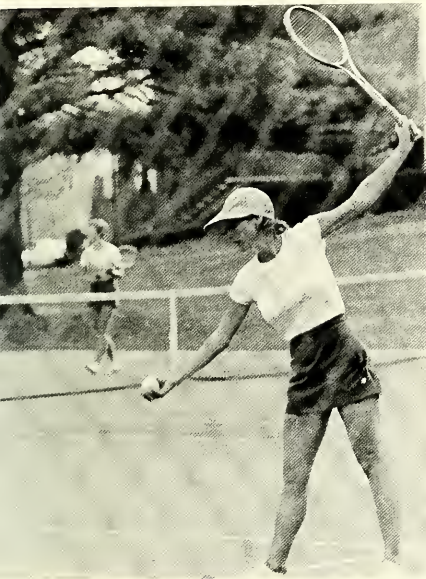

L. to R. Jack Grey, Johnny Adams, Mike Kidd, Tim Smith, Richard DeVault, John Sighting.

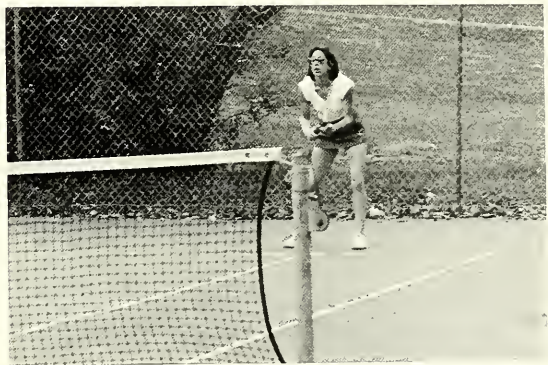

Women's Tennis

The Women's Tennis team, with the fine coaching of Coach Myra and under the divine guidance of Ms. Susan Robertson, struggled through a successful season.

If the men's season was highlighted by a lack of highlights, then so, probably, was the women's season — but at least they looked a lot better trying. Yes, the beautiful women of the women's tennis team played admirably this year, and they can expect an even more exciting season next year.

WONDERFUL WEDNESDAY!

Wonderful Wednesday lived at Milligan this spring! And everyone loved it! The Student Union Board began planning this most wonderful of Wonderful Wednesdays back before Christmas, and their efforts culminated beautifully on a bright, warm April Wednesday morning.

Classes were officially dismissed for the day by Dean Oosting at a special Southern Breakfast, and the schedule of events for the day was announced by Barbie Sproule. Creek cleaning, fountain cleaning, and softball highlighted the morning. And in the afternoon Almost Anything that Could Go went. A steak dinner and a 3-D movie topped off what truly was a WONDERFUL WEDNESDAY! in the evening.

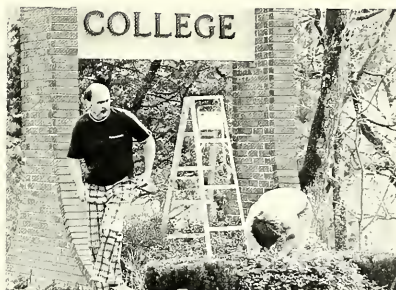

Uncle Wiggy's Creek Party

Mr. Eugene Wigginton, and friends, cleaned Buffalo creek up during the morning. Wiggy also "cleaned" the sign (see below). At any rate, Wiggy's Creek Party was a huge success. Everyone pitched in and cleared the creek of debris and policed the grounds around the creek. In the afternoon a tug-o-war took place at, and in, the creek, and it was generally agreed that Mr. Eugene Wigginton — capable supervisor — and friends had done a fine job of improving the appearance of the creek.

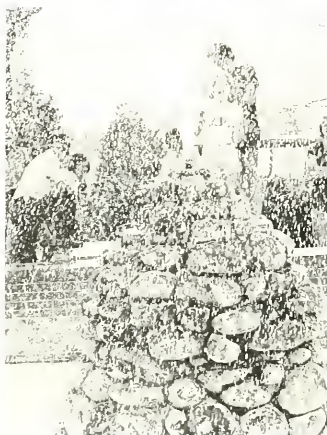

Wiggy in Action

We offer here an interesting series of pictures of Uncle Wiggy. At left, he appears to begin to work, below he appears to make a break for it when he thinks no one's watching, at right, he's next seen at . . . capable supervisor?!

Mr. Nelson's Fountain Party

While Uncle Wiggy and friends were playing in the creek, Mr. Nelson and co-horts were cleaning up the fountain in front of Hardin. They also painted it later, and cleaned up the grounds around the fountain. By late afternoon the paint had dried and the fountain was turned on and Dean Oosting was thrown in. He was rescued; however, his dunking seems to have set a precedent — for at last count 67 other people have since gone for more or less involuntary swims in the Hardin fountain. Thanks alot Mr. Nelson!

Faculty/Student Softball Battle

After much pre-game bravado, the faculty softball team was forced to eat their baseball gloves — in other words, they lost, in a big way, to a highly talented student team. Oh well, they were good sports, and they do show promise. Maybe next year . . . but we doubt it!

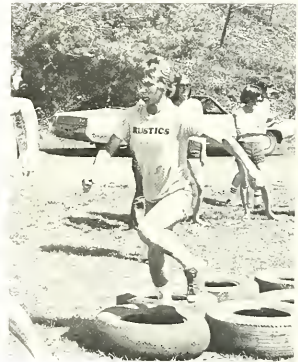

And then There Was LUNCH!

Almost Any-

This was probably the most popular activity of the day. It was undoubtedly the most bizarre. Teams of three men and three women, representing various clubs, dorms, etc., competed against one another over an obstacle course, in a bat race, a syrup race, and in a ferocious tug-o-war. The winners were from Hardin Hilton and the runners-up were sponsored by Delta Kappa. At times it was hilarious, at other times embarrassing, at all times FUN!!!

VARIOUS BUILDINGS AND OTHER PLACES AROUND CAMPUS

The SUB

The SUB is a great place to get together with people, to talk and laugh and eat and carry on. The Student Union Building, under the guidance of Mr. Bill Woolard, had another successful year this year serving the students of Milligan. The SUB carried a complete line of books, food, paper, clothing, crayons, deodorant, get-well cards, and assorted shampoos — everything the college student could possibly need, at prices that . . . well, at least the stuff was over there.

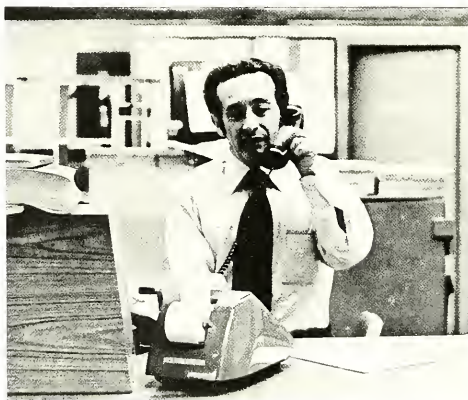

The Post Office

Once again this year the Milligan Post Office served as a vital link for the students to the outside world. It has been estimated that over 150,000 visits were made to the Post Office this year by Milligan students alone — of these, most, of course, were made by homesick freshmen.

Mr. Mascola, our Postmaster, and his capable staff did their best not to disappoint anyone too many times. Their courteous assistance and prompt attention to the dispatching of the mail has been greatly appreciated by the Milligan community.

The Library

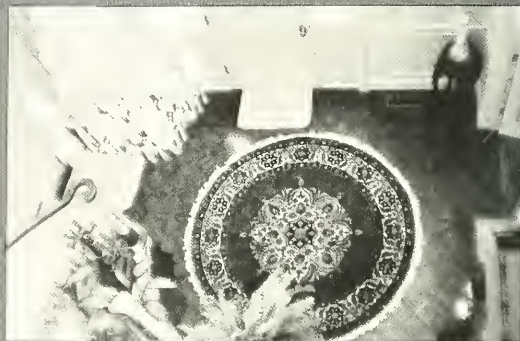

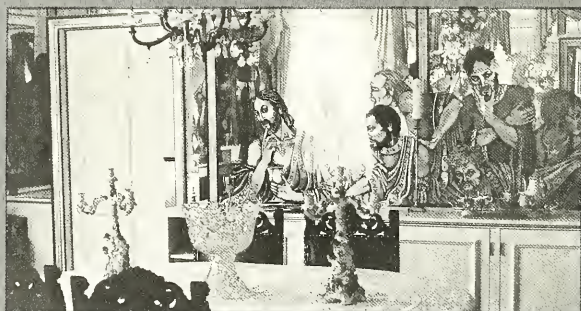

Contrary to popular opinion, some studying was done in the library this year. But, fortunately, more talking and visiting took place than studying, or at least enough to keep everyone who "studies" at the library happy. And there were a couple of nights — due to night convos — that were actually quiet.

The library continued to expand its periodicals listing and acquire new books, under the directorship of Mr. John Neth. Marie Garrett, assistant librarian, and Betty Garst, secretary to Mr. Neth, also worked hard to keep the library functioning smoothly.

The President's House

The most recent addition to the collection of buildings on Milligan's campus is the President's House. Within this lovely brick home are many valuable furnishings, which have been donated to the school. The Milligan students look forward to the annual tours of the home, for it is truly beautiful and not nearly as frightening as, say, the Haunted House.

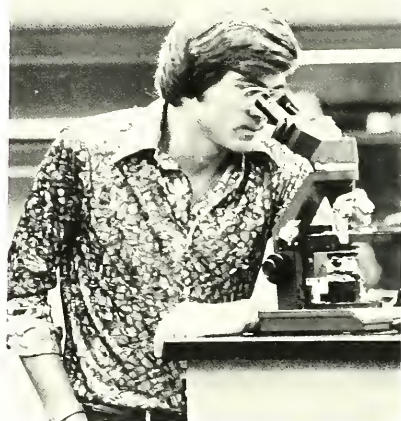

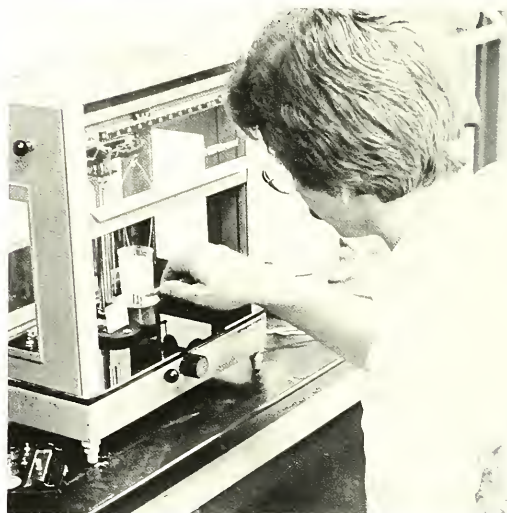

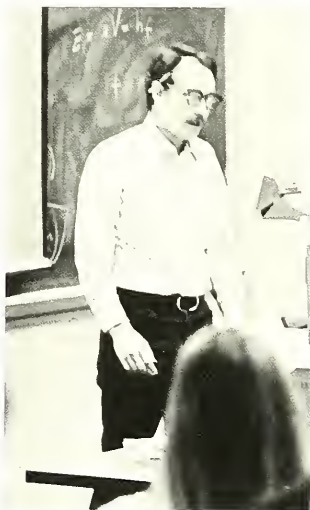

THE HAUNTED HOUSE

Delta Kappa's Haunted House was again the most popular building on campus during the last of October. The girls and other clubs, dorms and classes sponsoring rooms did an excellent job of scaring and frightening any and everyone who ventured into the house. As you can see, Bob Manuel was so horrified he rushed straight back to his room to write a letter home about all that he had seen, which wasn't much since he kept his eyes closed most of the way through!

Science Building

The Science Building, beyond the usual microscopes, chemistry lab, and physical science, is also the home of such campus wonders as Ed Howze's serpentarium, the Chief of Staph and his mad microbes, Dr. Gee's tennis clinic, not to mention Prof Sisk, thus making it one of the more popular buildings on campus (although not always by choice . . .).

Hyder

Hyder, home of humanities lecture and other various entertainment. This year The Most Bizarre Entertainment in Hyder Award goes to "Milligan's Gong Show" — a real gong of a show. There was a Jolly Juggler; a man, saw, and son act; a ventriloquist; etc.

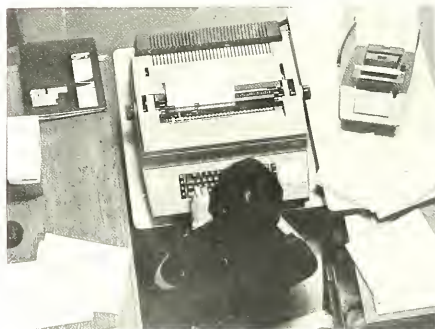

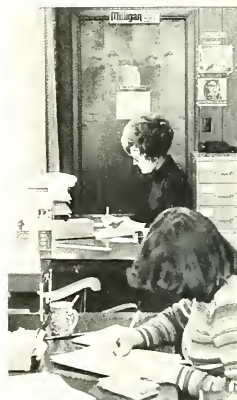

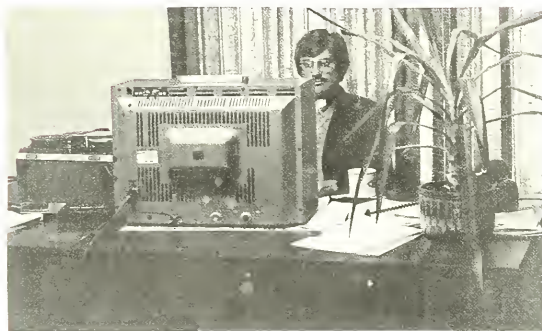

The Most Boring Entertainment in Hyder Award for this year goes to the Senior Test, held on April 1 at eight in the morning, which alot of seniors are still convinced was a poorly executed April Fool's joke.

Who knows what will happen in Hyder next year? Humanities lecture, for one thing. Oh well.

Hospitality House

The Hospitality House is the local information center concerning campus affairs for visitors. Included in the building are such offices as the Director of Development, Office of Student Enlistment, Director of Alumni Affairs, Director of Church Relations, Director of Communications, and Director of Directors . . . is that right? Anyway, they are there if you need them.

Hopwood Church

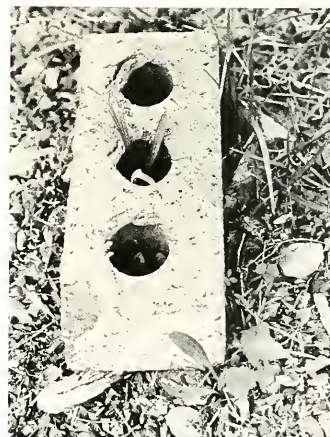

Hopwood Church is another building on campus well known by Milligan students, whether it be by acquaintance through the church services, the various activities that take place there, such as the coffeehouse, the classes that meet there, or even Orvel Crowder. Whatever your association, Hopwood is definitely a building on campus involved in our student life . . . "you know?"

Administration Building

For all those of you who wondered what actually was going on in the Administration Building all this time this year, we hope the pictures on this page will help answer your questions. Apparently, the place was finally trying to make something of itself. And, although we didn't get to move back in before classes were out for the summer, the brand new, renovated Ad. Building will be waiting for us in the fall.

So, now everyone will have to start trying to remember room numbers again rather than "which building's basement is Humanities section in?"

THE WATERFALL

Waterfall,
Carrying the gray sleet
Of the earth
Across this heaven of land
Through the winter
To wherever the sea is,
You break the creek's storm
Into colorless endless
Steadily falling
Rainbows.
I could watch your work,
You shatter storms, all
Winter.

ADVERTISEMENTS

We hope that you will look at the advertising section which follows. The people and business who bought ads have shown a concern and an interest in Milligan, and that's not to mention that their purchase of ads has made it possible to have an even better yearbook.

So, please look at the ads (we've got pictures of Milligan people mixed in with them too) and patronize our yearbook advertisers' places of business.

Milligan 1978 . . .

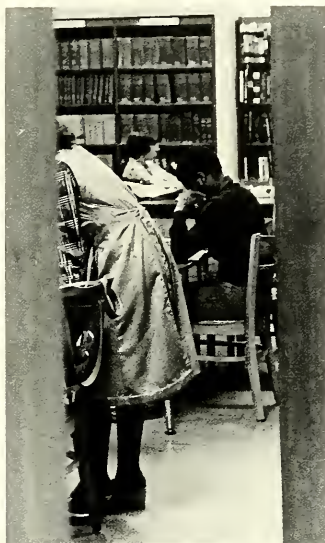

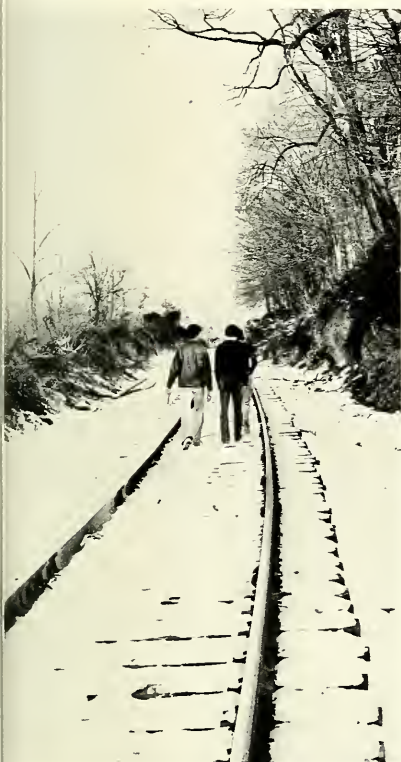

Milligan 1978 . . .

Milligan 1978 . . .

In no time
Times are gone.
Times are gone and a few
Memories whispering
In our minds
Is all that
We have left.
Your smile
And my smile
And our walks
Our talks
Are gone.
Memories
Photographs.
The times are gone.
Forever ours.

This is the end of the 1978 BUFFALO, and I really hope you each found something in it to enjoy remembering. Putting it together was fun for me, and I think (I hope) the staff had a good time, too. At any rate, our work is now your yearbook from Milligan for 1978. We couldn't capture everything, of course, but we hope we captured most of it — we hope you can use the book in the future to remember what Milligan was like in 1978, what we were like.

A lot of people helped out with the yearbook throughout the year; and I appreciate every minute that everyone worked, but there are a few people, who without, this yearbook simply would not be, that I want especially to recognize and thank. Steve Adams did an excellent job coordinating and/or corralling our photographers; Jan Swan worked a miracle, I think, with the Class section, and Kitty Becker did the same with Clubs, and so did Marcia Fraser with Faculty; Wendy Webb (with help from Cort and Bill) got all the ads sold, which I more than greatly appreciate; Ann Stanley, who is inheriting my job, did a little of everything and an awful lot of most things (especially darkroom work!); Mark Webb, roommate and cohort, contributed creative genius throughout it all, and a surprising amount of work in a surprising number of areas; and, of course, last but not least, that wild man Enefiok Eshiet of Nigeria provided me with an endless flow of Nigerian humor and insight and, even more, a great deal of friendship, for which I can never thank him enough.

By the time you all have seen this yearbook I'll be gone — graduated — perhaps fortunately. No, seriously, I really hope the book is everything you wanted it to be. I hope you enjoy it, and I hope it brings back many memories in the future of what it was like to be a part of Milligan in 1978.
