c.
P.H. WELSHIMER MEMOR

Milligan College

A New Look

Changing Perspectives 4

Exploring Ideas 36  Academics

Expanding Possibilities 60 Sports

Combining Talents  Clubs

Changing Faces

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2011 with funding from LYRASIS Members and Sloan Foundation

a new look

Looking up from her makeup mirror, senior Kristie Rolape reflects on Milligan in the last year of the century. The 1999-2000 school year brought a totally New Look for the students and the campus. Milligan got a face lift with new landscaping, new paint jobs, and additions to athletic facilities. Students took on new perspectives with a near-record enrollment and more international students. Also, the campus expanded its horizons with the addition of new athletic teams and clubs. With the start of the new millennium, the possibilities were endless.

$M O V i N g$ $O n$

Life changes. We move on to newer, bigger, and better things. We moved from high school to college and are currently moving up the ladder to "complete adulthood" each year, trying to achieve that "sophisticated look". The one "look" that will never change is the kid in every one of us. We like to have fun as well as study, of course, whether its goofing around in the dorms with friends, hanging around campusplaying in or going to a game or to Sub 7 to play pool, listening to the great music and enjoying coffee at the Coffee House.

Our look on life seems to broaden as we meet new people and experience new things. This is what college is for. Each year is a new unique experience filled with lasting memories.

Both Milligan as well as the students are receiving " a new look" this year. Milligan has added many new looks to its campus as well as a new sports team. This is the first year for cross cotintry and the first year for the soccer team to play on the new soccer fields. The cafeteria got a makeover, the grounds were landscaped, the weight room was improved in the gym, and the Hyder auditorium added equipment, all to benefit our college life. "The goal is not only to make the campus look better, but to also help and improve the students daily life and activities," said junior Emily Luetscher.

One thing that remains constant here at Milligan is our spirit. Spirit is evident in the student body and daily activities such as chapels, convos, devotion groups, and vespers. School spirit is one thing, and we do always remain true to our school (Go Buffs!), but God's spirit is the important Spirit found in every one of us and our fellowship and friendship with each other in Christ.

As we change into the new millennium and leave the past in the dust, we are presented with new beginnings, yet cherish the precious memories of the past. Let the new beginnings inspire us to grow spiritually, mentally, and physically and achieve the plan God has laid out for our lives.

Sub 7 is the hot spot on Saturday night when bands play and coffee is served. Senior Phil Williams racks up the balls for a game of pool, as others sit around joining in conversations, card games, or singing along with the band.

Hanging around (literally) and having fun is what makes college life unique. Ryan Patton, J.D. Richards, Nick Sisson, and Luke Zimmerman are making a group effort to enjoy the swings by Hart Hall.
"Would you like that served with whip cream or without?" Alyson Waters and Sarah Patrick are taking charge of the coffee orders at Sub 7.

When your room is a mess and you can't find your desk-sit on the floor and get that last minute homework done.

Whether hanging out in dorm lobbies, singing in chapel, grooving at the fall formal, or jousting during Alumni Weekend, students found that campus life was filled with fun and ever-changing perspectives. Freshmen adjusted their view to move into the exciting world of college life, while upperclassmen found new experiences and more memories to be made.
"One of the first things I did," said freshman Amy Ewing, "was play capture the flag. It was a great way to get to know people and see the different parts of campus. The best part was tricking people into letting me put them in jail by convincing them I was on their team!"

Not all campus life revolved around activities, though. Many people found that the most satisfying way to spend their time outside the classroom was just hanging out with friends. "There's usually something to do on campus besides study," said Christy Paul. "Sub 7 was fun for just being with friends and relaxing. The bands and the atmosphere made a nice break from the week's activities."

Still more students spent their free time on the playing field. "Intramurals are a blast and a fun way to pass time on campus," said junior Ann Dee Rettig. "You get to spend time with friends and have a little competition."

Hugging after a victorious football game, Anna Farris and Heather Eckman show off one of the best parts of student life... friendship. Whether playing sports, hanging out at the SUB, walking to class, or just sitting in a dorm room, friends make the best times better. As roommates, Anna and Heather have built a special bond on and off the field.

Preparing for the annual freshmen dousing, Cassie Denton aims her super soaker. This student life tradition is one event that upperclassmen look forward to all summer. Freshmen are met with water balloons, water guns, and buckets of water leaving them fully prepared to soak up the Milligan College atmosphere.

Chatting on a Saturday night, Karen Thompson and Erin McRae enjoy the coffee house ambiance and twinkling lights of Sub 7. Many students found that this biweekly event was a good time to hang out with friends, drink coffee, and take in a variety of bands. Some featured artists included Katy Bowser, Seventh From Adam, Esther's Request, and others.

S

Take a group of nervous high sehool graduates, mix them together with an unfamiliar environment, add a pinch of salt and you have the recipe for Orientation Week '99 at Milligan College. This week, which began with an influx of young men and women eager to experience the fabled "college life," was a time of great transition and adjustment.

It must have been extremely entertaining to observe new freshmen attempting to get from point $A$ to point $B$ on an unfamiliar Milligan campus. To ease the confusion and to make the incoming students more at ease in their new environment, orientation groups were formed. These consisted of two upperclassmen, a young man and a young woman, and five to seven freshmen. These groups enabled students to recognize a few people in the sea of unfamiliar faces. Activities such as the pizza party on the Hardin Lawn or the Ice Cream Social in the Fieldhouse helped "break the ice" and make each freshman more comfortable. Group campus tours were also very important as they pointed out the locale and names of each of the buildings on campus.

As the week progressed, students began to settle in. Friendships were formed and adjustments made. Somehow, college life now seemed a little less imposing.
-Nathaniel Poling

Getting involved was on the top of the list on everyone's agenda. Freshmen, new students, and returning students packed into the Student Center to sign up for various clubs, organizations and volunteer programs.

Introductions were a main part of Orientation. Transfer students Stephanie and Jennifer Taber talk with Dr. Nix. The Welcoming Banquet brought all students together, helping "the getting to know you" part of the first week to flow more smoothly.

As a part of the matriculation tradition, all new students signed their names officially making them apart of the Milligan College student body.

Water, water everywhere! Upperclassmen had a welcoming, and controversial, surprise for the freshmen. Laura Reagan and Emily Fuller tried to keep dry from the water balloon and hose attacks awaiting them outside of humanities lecture. Some ran and got drenched, while others soaked up the cool water for the fun of it.
"Watch out, I am coming in for a landing!" Ryan Mitchell bounces back on a rubber band loaded with fun. This was one of many inflatable games that brightened the campus and was fun for kids of all ages.
"A stroll down memory lane" brings alumni and their families together as the past and the future walk hand-in-hand. Past and future alumni came together for entertaining music and an enjoyable lunch, held on Hardin lawn.

Who will fall over first? That is the question in this gladiator game, as the two young boys take a glimpse of all the fun Milligan has to offer.

$\operatorname{ReMeMbErInG}$ When

Not every college campus can boast of a rampaging buffalo or a sea-monster. During Alumni Weekend '99, held on October $22^{\text {nd }}$ and $23^{\text {rd }}$, however, Milligan College had the privilege of hosting both. Buffy, the Milligan mascot, was on the rampage throughout the day, handing out candy, cheering at the varsity women's soccer game, and posing for pictures. Both young and old were charmed by the "big furry buffalo."

The weather, though being cold and overcast, did little to dampen the buoyant atmosphere. Friends and alumni mingled or roamed campus, talking and reminiscing about old memories. A playground and "Cecil the inflatable sea-monster," kept toddlers and little children entertained.

Alumni Weekend would not be Alumni Weekend without good food. A big white tent was erected on Hardin Lawn and Milligan alumni were served a catered Firehouse BBQ dinner. All good things must sometime come to an end, however, and on Sunday, alumni and their families contentedly departed, as a weekend of fun, food, and fellowship drew to a close.
--Nathaniel Poling

Buffy the Buffalo, played by freshman Jenne Burgess, hands out candy during Alumni Weekend. Buffy made her presence known at games and special events all over campus throughout the weekend and year.

Alumni and students combine to play some football. The soccer fields and tennis courts were filled with eager players and cheerful onlookers.

LeAdInG Excellence

Founder's Daughter is a tradition to remember. This annual occurrence celebrates the establishment of Milligan College and its founders, the Hopwoods.

The Hopwoods' desire was to build a Christ centered school to prepare students for a lifetime of Christian service. Milligan's vision statement says that Milligan is a school "where Jesus Christ is exalted and excellence is the standard."

The Alumni Association sponsored the $48^{\text {th }}$ Founder's Daughter program in order to find an "official hostess for the college." Throughout the year the Founders Daughter welcomes visitors to the campus and is asked to speak at various college functions.

Each of the 11 senior women candidates was nominated by a club or organization because of their outstanding Christian service. Considerations included character, involvement at Milligan, and community service.

This year the student body selected Robin Soendlin as the 1999 Founder's Daughter and Whitney Rice was named alternate.
--Kelly Blockinger

Susan Conrad

Nancy Davison

Lisa Depler

Who needs men?! Dancing to a romantic tune, Mary Ellis and Hannah Eisaman showed their close friendship along with their pearly whites by practicing their ballroom skills together.

Mysteriously hiding behind their masks, Keri Anne Sherwood, Shannon Routzahn, Jamie McGrew, Nancy Davison, and Kellye Bumpus pose for their picture at the Masquerade Ball.

Having fun with friends, Bethany Black and Miranda McGraw goof off between songs. To keep with the masquerade theme, Black wore butterfly wings with her dress.

Experiencing the soulful sounds of Kevin Bobrow, Pam Manak grooves as she is serenaded, Kevin really knows the way to a girl's heart.

Shortly after classes, girls began to get ready while the guys worried about what color pants to wear. The big night of fun, excitement, and memories was creeping upon all the students. Last minute arrangements were finally behind everyone.

The theme of Fall Formal was Masquerade Ball. While entering the doors to the Fall Formal, Gina Wells and others from Social Affairs greeted the hidden faces behind masks.

The room was filled with music and yes, of course, there was movement; that is "rhythmic movement." The night was slowly passing while students had the time of their lives with friends and dates. Freshman Jenne Burgess said, "I had so much fun I almost broke my toe!"

The D.J. played a variety of music which sprang junior Ashlee Maddox and his date off their feet to swing dance. The night ended shortly after midnight. All the Cinderellas had to be taken to their dorms before they turned back into pumpkins with rugged college attire.
--Rhonda Deitz

"I'm too sexy for my shirt, so sexy that it hurts!" Tim Deyton gives a little interpretive dance to excited onlookers.

CeLeBrAtInG christmas

The Milligan College Christmas Dinners have become a tradition spanning three decades of history. The tradition of the Christmas Dinners began in the 1960 ss as a new type of entertainment and a new way to celebrate Christmas in Johnson City. From there it grew to an annual holiday event, which has lasted thirty-three years.
"The dinners celebrated the Christmas season in a unique way for this region," said director Dick Major. "They ushered in the season an for nearly twenty eight years remained the madrigal, or early English Renaissance style of event."

This year the Dinners went back to their madrigal roots, with traditional costumes and chamber style singing, after four years of change. The past two years were radio broadcasts set on Christmas Eve in the 1940's, while the two before that were a tribute to Tennessee's bicentennial.

The changes proved to be a wise choice, since all four nights of the show were sell out performances. Audiences responded to the traditional feast and the music of the madrigal singers, while also being entertained by the comic interludes by the players. This was also aided by the incorporation of the new strings program at Milligan headed by Kelley Brown as well as the quality of the madrigal singers, directed by Professor Wakefield.

Before they are put hard to work, Angela Brookshire, and Leigh Doty sit around and relax. They acted as the wenches who served the headtable in the 1999 Christmas Dinners.
"I think we've hit on something that is fairly unique," said Major. "We've added very colorful players, and the idea behind that is to add color and merriment and a sense of festivity to the overall look of the show."

One player, Holly O’Keefe, agrees with the assessment of the show. "The dinners turned out great," said O'Keefe. "We all made a great team and the audience was great too. The funniest thing that happened wa s when Tom and I went into the audience the first night to get people to sing 'Deck the Halls.' I asked a lady why she wasn't singing and she said she had laryngitis. I told her just to pretend."

Coming out from behind their masks, Holly O'Keefe, David Miller, and Shannon Blowers give a peek into their crazy harlequin characters. $n$ their brightly colored costumes and cheerful expressions they made the audience laugh by performing skits, acting, singing and dancing.

Showing off his king-like air, Mr. Wakefield the fun leader of the madrigal singers prepares for the show. Wakefield served as both musical director and a player in the Dinners.

Sitting around the table, Lindsey Holloway, Dave DiAngelis, Sherla Flora, and Robert Meier enjoy feasting and toasting to a good Christmas cheer. They were the royal chamber singers and traveling minstrels who entertained the audience of the Christmas dinners.

Students, faculty, and staff gather togethar Monday and Wednesday mornings to praise the Lord and hear His Word.

A view from a window helps us see the real significance of Seeger Chapel.

Ex-Sister Roberta, aka Prof. Bob Mahan, warns against the folly of pride during the SGA Convo. Bob and Bill, business professors, are well known for their off-thewall humor.

WoRsHiPiNg TOGeThEr

Wednesday. 11:10 a.m. Students rush from all ends of the campus. They rush toward the giant Celtic cross that overlooks the entire community from its position atop Seeger Chapel. In just five minutes Milligan's weekly chapel service will begin.
"Chapel is always an enlightening spiritual experience with a good amount of variety," commented junior Mike Girdwood.

This year's chapel services were somewhat different from those in years past. According to members of the chapel committee the goal was to make the services more inclusive of the whole campus community. "We wanted to get everyone involved in the servicefaculty, staff, and students," said junior Devon Hazelwood, a member of the chapel committee.

Students seemed to react well to the changes that were implemented. "Chapel has definitely been more interesting this year. The services seemed to be more integrated around a common theme," said junior Rich Voelz.

Chapel services were filled with a mixture of Scripture, music, preaching, and drama. Throughout the year various preachers graced the services with words of challenge and encouragement.

Mondays on campus were a little different. Instead of worship, the campus community gathered in Convocation to hear presentations on missions, business, campus life, and personal betterment.

An underlying purpose for both the chapel and convocation programs was to unite the individual members of the community into one body and one community.
--Wes Jamison

Sister Wilhemina, a.k.a. Dr. Bill Greer, composes himself after losing some of his padding across the stage during the SGA Convo. Bob and Bill livened up the presentation of the new SGA class officers and representatives with the aid of an overactive SurfWatch warning.

Swooning sweethearts

Sweetheart convo was a time of laughter, entertainment, and fun. The event was a lighthearted affair with students showcasing dancing, singing and acting skills. Who can ever forget the hilarious hosting by Dr. Evil and his archenemy Austin Powers? Or Andy Hull riding down the aisle on his tractor to the tune of, "She Thinks My Tractor's Sexy"?

However, for all the fun and laughs it was, some might say that things got a little too lighthearted and out of hand. According to freshman Charlie Kleine,
"The freshmen were good, but then things just went all downhill from there." Some students found the program totally tasteless and spoke up against some questionable material. Some asked the question, "How can we as Christians so easily accept such things as entertainment?"

Controversy aside, others took the program for what it was intended, simply entertainment. The amusing antics of the actors and actresses had much of the student body laughing and rolling in the aisles.
-Nathaniel Poling

Some 80s music and some 80s clothes are for sure a great way to make the audience laugh. Adam Kneisley and Kristen Kerkvliet knew nothing would stop them from dancing to the 80s song "Nothing's going to stop us now".
'MMM...Chocolate!' Think what was going through junior Jenny Lawyer's mind when Kyle Dincler went in for a kiss and Jenny ended up with a mouthfull of syrup!

'A scrub is a guy who can't get no love from me!' 'The scrub', Nevan Hooker, tries to win Chesa Gonzales' love by doing a lil' dance and getting down at the Sweetheart Convo.

SuRpRiSiNg FuN

Students patiently await for the day to come each spring when classes are canceled. Every morning they anxiously awake to check under their door for a letter from the Dean announcing Wonderful Wednesday. The dream day this year came on April 11, making the wonderful day Terrific Tuesday.

To begin this terrific day, students were greeted with leis in the cafeteria, known as the Cafe Kokomo for the day. Sponsored by Social Affairs 2000, all the events of the day were based on the theme, "Maui Wowee." Students replaced their classes for the day with competitions and other fun-filled events.

Maui's beach was full of volleyball competitions, hula hoop contests, wet-n-wild twister, and a crazy egg toss. To get the students surfin' to the music the Beach Boys played in the background, and to keep everyone from getting too hot in the sun, snow-cones were served.

As students moved down Sutton Hill on the hill race, scuba divers were all around for the Scuba Steve Hollywood.

On the library lawn students got to witness the other side of their professors as they took on different roles to play Hollywood Squares. Here students got to test their professors' knowledge against their own. Another event where students got to challenge themselves against the professors was the dunk tank. Here many professors and administrators were victim to the cold water of the tank and their students' awesome throws.

Other competitions such as tug-ofwar, relay races, and the crocodile mile obstacle course through Buffalo Creek took place throughout the day. Entertaining the students while they enjoyed a maui luau feast for dinner were jello wrestling and a chance to surf the waterslide. Some even lost their dinner as they competed in the "who can drink a gallon of milk the fastest" competition. Many prizes were given out throughout the day, thanks to many local sponsors.

To end this Terrific Tuesday, students watched Snow Day at the drive-in movie, reminding the students that they just had their own Snow Day of no classes without the snow and with lots of fun!
--Kelly Blockinger

These girls show off their strength as they tug and tug and tug, trying to make the other team fall into the pile of slop. There weren't really any victories in the tug-ofwar games, for no one was willing to brave the slop.

LoNg-LaStIng MEMORIES

As the night full of memory's promise descended on Meadowview Convention Center in Kingsport, an enthusiastic bunch of well-attired Milligan students looked forward to what lay ahead. As ehicken Parmesan gave way to chocolate eake bathed in fudge sauce, students listened to stories and advice shared by professors Charlene Kiser and Bob Mahan. Bob's lovely fiance Ann presented the Senior Superlatives, including "most likely to become a televangelist" and "elass clown."

Soon the ballroom swelled with the sounds of Sir Mix a-Lot and N'Sync. For many of the students, the portion of the evening after dinner was time to cut loose and show off their moves. Junior Jason Evans best expressed the electric feeling in the air, "My favorite part of the evening was making a grand entrance and getting down with my bad (not morally bad) self and with my Christian brothers and sisters."

All would agree that a good time was had by all. Junior Lisa Hendrix said, "For me the junior and senior banquet will mean three things-canteloupe, clogging, and Guns n' Roses."

Perhaps senior Justin Ronatlo said it best: "The junior and senior banquet was great...I wish I would have gone."
By Todd Edmondson and Robin Soendlin

Many superlatives were presented to the seniors to either predict their futures or nominate them for awards like this one. Showing off their comical headband award, seniors Kristie Rolape and Jonathan Kliewer won class clown.

Many of the students cut loose on the dance floor. Keri Anne Sherwood, Brad Warfield, Shannon Routzahn, and Kim Dyer show off their dance skills at their Senior Banquet.

"Let the party and the disco begin!" Showing off their manly hairs, Lee Blackburn and Jason Evans make a grand entrance to the banquet.

The Junior/Senior Banquet is a time to dress up, have fun, and make another important memory with friends. Kelli Sams, Emily Luetscher, and Kim Becker show off their smiles along with their friendship.

Man on the floor! Oh, no, it's just President Clinton. Hart Hall residents Jen Buell and Gina Wells greet the dorm's famous visitor with a little peck on the cheek.
P.J. Time! Some of 2nd floor Hart's residents gather to show off their fun flannels. Kim, Jen, Katie, Molly, Emily, Gina, Alina, and Meridith share close friendships and fun times in the dorm.

Gathering in the lobby for a group shot, Hart Hall residents show their true colors. The dorm came together for fun events like pizza and movie nights, or in small groups to go out and have fun.

LoviNg LiFe HaRt Hall

For the residents of Hart Hall, the dorm is more than just a place to live. "Hart is like a big family where you can go to anybody for anything," said Resident Assistant Alina Best. "The doors are always open."

Hart has become a place of rest, stress, and fun for those who live there. "You either love the dorms or hate them, but everyone has to live there once," said freshman Jill Jacob. "Regardless of your feelings toward the dorm, you will always have memories of it. My best memory is being serenaded by the guys out side my window before they got taken away by security."

For others, the best part of dorm life is making friends and sharing life with all the other girls. "I like the privacy and the quietness of the dorm," said Ashley Greer. "But you really get to know the people around you really well."
"I feel like I can go to any door on the short hall and find one of my best friends," said Erin Jones.

Whether just hanging out in their rooms, watching a favorite TV show in the lobby, or eating pizza at an all dorm party, the residents of Hart Hall found that the dorm held a special place in all of their hearts.
-Kristen Speak

Excited by their care package, Katie Fay and Misty Fry hold up their latest mail from home. Residents shared not only life on campus, but memories and food from home.

Taking time out from studying to enjoy the beautiful spring weather, Christy Paul, Amanda Kershner, and Tara Marasco rest on Hart lawn. Sunny days meant time to get outside and play on the lawn or study in the great outdoors.

PuRsuiNg FrEeDoM

$$
\begin{gathered} \text { Keciley, quillen, } \mathcal{G} \\
\text { A-fRame } \end{gathered}
$$

Every year, privileged upperclassmen are allowed to move out of Webb Hall and into more refined living quarters.

This year the Kegley and Quillen dorms were joined by the A-Frame.

Kegley and Quillen came with more creature comforts like central air and optional cable, but A-Frame certainly had its own perks as well.

It allowed for a more personal touch in decor, as came originally unfurnished. A-Frame also came with kitchens

Who will win the game of Nintendo? All eyes remain glued to the TV as the competition continues.

Enjoying a moment outside, proud Kegley residents pose by their sign. On a nice day, the guys of Kegley can be caught out on the porch complete with their lobby furniture.
installed both upstairs and downstairs, allowing the students to live off the meal plan and cook for themselves.

All three dorms were more private than Webb, lending themselves to better studying environments, but there never was a lack of good times to be had.

Wonderful memories were made of late night video game binges, dozens of pranks, and random trips to scavenge food from all manner of eateries (especially Taco Bell).
-Adam Johnson

Need a buzz? Due to a bet over Nintendo superiority, Russ Hertzog gets a haircut he will never forget. Adam Johnson seems to be enjoying that a little too much!

Ohhh yeah! Showing off his dancing skills, Phil Rutledge entertains everyone with a little MC Hammer action.

Acting cool for the camera, the Quillen guys gather in their lobby. The lobby is a popular hangout for all and is always full of people studying, playing games, or just chatting.

It's birthday time! Sutton's fun loving residents Katie Lloyd, Courtney Syber, and Carlie Fowler huffed and puffed and filled the room with a colorful and exciting surprise.

It's a bird, it's a plane, no it's Sutton Super Hero to the rescue. Devon Hazelwood can't leap tall buildings in a single bound, but she did rescue the hall with laughter.

Squeezing in students, RDs, and the dorm mascot, Sutton residents pause for a group picture. The girls gather together monthly for a "girls night out," devotions, and other fun activities.

Exuding Energy Sutton Hall

1999-2000 was a great year for the girls who lived in Sutton Hall. First of all, the hard work of the Residence Directors and RAs, then the participation of the girls in all the activities, such as Road Rules, Halloween, the Christmas party, and the other interesting and fun activities.

Furthermore, the Sutton girls had so much energy. If someone walks by the halls at anytime one could certainly see their enthusiasm. In one hand the girls, and in the other hand the Residence Directors and RAs made of this period a great one, full of happiness, love, and enthusiasm.

The girls had four wonderful Residence Directors this year, Gina and Lee, then Ronda and Corey. Moreover they had four sweet RAs: Jenny, Emily, Robin, and Lindsey. They put a lot of effort to make Sutton a nice place to live as a community.
-Diana Marti

Skating the night away, Sutton residents are caught on film at one of their famous girls' nights out. Other fun activities have included camping and scavenger hunts.

Black tank tops are required to live on third floor Sutton. Showing off their matching duds, Karren Fahrnbach and Jennifer Soucie are ready for a fun filled night of studying.

WiLd

Life

At Milligan we strive for "Excellence and Exaltation." At Webb Hall we strive for "Clutter and Caution!" It is no surprise to find loud music, garbage, a permeating odor, and evidence of pranks. Webb Hall can definitely be characterized as a bio-dome of excitement. With its own running water (which tastes of minerals), showers (which turn cold at the flush of any toilet in the hall), mildew (welcome and growing in every crevice), sounds (both human and technological), scent (well that implies that it's good...no!), and numerous ill-tamed testosterone-flaring students, there is never a dull moment!

Despite the harsh conditions associated with Webb Hall, students have a very enjoyable experience in the dorm setting. Close friendships are easily formed with those around you (though all friendly ties are thrown off when in the laundry room!)

It is inevitable to escape the ever present existence of competition in Webb Hall. Students here are bound to compete over every imaginable topic: who can play their music loudest; whose room has the most garbage and smells the worst; who can leave their clothes in the dryer the longest; and so on! Sports are bound to be the most competitive. I very seriously doubt, however, that the architects of Webb Hall planned on having sports games such as golf, soccer, football, and frizz played in the five foot wide hallway. Obviously the students think otherwise.

It goes without saying that Webb Hall not only houses students but also provides hours of activities and competitions; notice studying is not mentioned since that could not occur in Webb Hall...successfully! This is most likely going to be one of the most memorable moments in each students' college life!
--Ryan Patton

The television is always blaring in the lobby of Webb Hall with some sport, action, or comedy. These guys David Harris and Andy must have been watching a comedy with the smiles on their faces!

Music is heard throughout the hallways. Sometimes it's radio, sometimes it's special--that's when it's live! Guitar is Kipp Dincler's choice in music making.

What's for dinner? Williams residents Mara Milano, Pam Manak, Rachel Miller, and Nancy Davison show off their cooking skills and matching aprons.

Peace be with you! Showing off their hippy greeting Rena Ball, Jennifer Chadwell, Sara White, Laura Myers, and Season Cox relax in the lobby.

Hanging out in their comfy, state-of-the-art dorm, Williams residents chill out with friends. The upperclass dorm houses twenty-four ladies in six suites.

SharIng  InDePeNdEnce

 Willlams & Míligan suitesTo those who have never ventured into Williams Hall, it may be depicted as the hush quiet, no fun, all study dorm. But...if you dare open the front doors to Williams you might get a shocking surprise. Six suites composed of 24 ambitious and determined women who are ready to graduate comprise Williams Hall.

Now don't be mistaken, studying does take place in Williams, but do know the word fun still exists in most of the Williams residents' vocabulary!

According to senior Rena Ball, "You're more independent in Williams, and it is more like living on your own, in comparison to the underclassmen dormitories."

As Senior Sarah Grooms pondered back on her four year experience at Milligan, she said her senior year in Williams is one she will never forget. "As we embark on this new adventure into the real world after graduation," said Grooms, "I will never forget my friends in Williams who have helped me grow so much."

Across the way, Married Student Apartments saw A New Look this year. The first apartment building was converted to suites for four single students in each apartment. This provided more on-campus housing for upperclassmen. Both MSA and Williams provide a sense of independence and preparation for the real world after graduation.
--Natalie Alund

Gathering around the table for another great meal, Sharla Flora, Nancy Davison, Shannon Routzahn, and Mara Milano enjoy quality time together. The freedom to cook is another luxury that Williams offers residents.

MSA residents are eager to taste the flavor of summer as they pause on the steps of the apartments. Fun get togethers like cookouts reminded residents that apartments can be just as close and fun as life in the dorms.

Winter formal

Hart Hall sponsored Milligan's 2000 Winter Formal, held at 8:00 PM on March 4 at the Culp Center at ETSU. Tickets went on sale that week in the cafeteria for five dollars each. "Spring Break in The Sand" was the theme of the evening, with colorful decorations abounding.

The majority of the decorations were made of brightly-colored balloons. "The decorations were awesome. I really liked the balloon fish," freshman Lauren Webb said. A few balloon fish swam in for the evening, made of long balloons with round balloons inside, seemingly floating in the air. Another popular decoration included palm trees made entirely of round and long balloons.

Local businesses donated prizes and gift certificates to give away throughout the evening. Many students were the "Welcome to the tropics! Care to join me for a dance in the sand?" Sophomore Tom Wyles helps setup the tropical evening. fortunate recipients of these free bonuses. These give-aways provided short breaks during the dance and an atmosphere of hopeful expectation.

Freshman Lauren Webb said, "I was glad that my boyfriend had a chance to hang out with my friends here." Many students invited their significant other to join them for a fun-filled evening of dancing.

Senior Lizzie (Lukens) Conrad said, "It didn't seem as if many people were there. It would have been nice to have more people." Approximately 60 people, most of whom were girls, came to the dance. Despite the small turnout, freshman Annie Eckstrom said, "It was a lot of fun and I hope there are more like it in the future."
--Jennifer Soucie

"Put your hands up in the air!" Sophomore Chris Egar and freshman Ally Welch dance the night away.

Experiencing a little piece of history, members of the Humanities tour pause in the hall of mirrors at Versailles Palace. Students were given the opportunity to apply their knowledge outside the classroom on the tour. They visited historical sites, like Versailles, where the Treaty of Versailles was signed.
Preparing for another semester, a student waits to purchase books. The beginning of the year proved to be a time of $n$ e w attitudes and new stress for all.

Catching last minute study time before class, members of the adult education program review outside. On warm d a y s students found the $g r e a t$ outdoors a place to relax while studying.

by Christan McKay

Milligan academics seemed to be a constant topic of conversation in student circles. Whether in the classroom, at the lunch table, on the lawn, or in a dorm room, students found themselves always exploring ideas. Freshmen learned to adapt to the different atmosphere and changing expectations, while upperclassmen faced the challenge of more in-depth and difficult courses. "There is way more reading and homework in college than in high school," said Renee Cakebread. "It wasn't that hard to adjust to college academics if you were challenged in high school," said freshman Emily Fuller. "On the other hand, it was hard to adapt to the grading styles of different professors in the same subject, like humanities."

Students didn't just leave learning in the classroom. Besides long hours of study many expanded their knowledge by taking a trip or working on a production. The Humanities Tour and ecology trip as well as theatre productions inspired students to get out of their comfort zones and explore their areas of academic interest. One student, Kari Kitts, used her acting knowledge to help with the fall theatre production of Steel Magnolias. "Working on the play was a tremendous experience," said Kari. "As a theatre major, working behind the scenes gave me knew incite. I really appreciate the people who work on costumes now."

Trexating Mbroad

Humanitiesstudentsgeta taste of the world

Last summer a group of about fifty Milligan students and faculty, as well as other chaperones got to take a new look at the world by traveling to Europe on the Humanities tour. The twenty-eight day trip covered several European countries including England, France, Holland, Italy, Belgium, and Germany. For many travelers, it was not only a fun and educational journey, but also a religious experience. "This trip was also a great religious experience for me," said Scott Linn. "Through the wonderful creations of man, I can see how great God really is."

Some of the more serious highlights of the trip included Dachau work camp in Germany, as well as the home of Anne Frank. "To think of what fear that poor family lived in just because they were Jews is an outrage," said Gabe Goulds. "Although the Frank's story is sad it gives me feelings of courage."
Other students recalled the beauty of well-known artifacts and buildings such as Notre Dame cathedral, the Globe Theater, Arena Chapel, or the British Muscum. "We went to the impressive British Museum... a massive building that houses art and artifacts form ancient China, Egypt, and Greece, not to mention others," said Sean Mitchell.

Probably the best memories were made just goofing off with friends. "At Versailles Trent put on his hat backward with one of his eyes pulled up weird and talked to strangers," said Meredith Orrell. "It was funny.

No matter what the best memory was all scemed to share the same sentiment. "I had the trip of a lifetime," said Goulds. "I don't think anything compares to the things I have seen, the places I have been, and the friends I have made.'

Are these Swiss guys not cool? A trip to the Swiss Alps revealed that the Ricola men do indeed exist.

Rilifificooolaaaa!!

Way to go guys! Show those Greeks how Americans do it. Greece had an overload of stud power when these guys came to town.

The twelve creek gods?!

Wow! So that's what it really looks like!

Restoration goes on in the background while students explore the wonders of Greece. A stop in Greece really brought freshman humanities into perspective for students on the tour.

Memorable Quotes from the Humanities Tour

"Words can't describe the feeling of standing in the Sistine Chapel. As I stood there I took a deep, inhaled breath remembering the movie Good Will Hunting. In the film Robin Williams asks the younger Matt Damon did he know what it smells like in the Sistine Chapel. I do!" --Derek Sharpe
"We just visited Heidelberg Castle. Big time views from everywhere. I saw the biggest keg in the world. I'm telling you you could throw a party every night for 5 years straight and still not run out." --Nathan Jenkins

How cute!

How many clowns do you think can fit inside? The Humanities tour provided studnets with the chance to go to Europe and see the cultures they had learned about for the past two years.

We made it!

We climbed all the way up here just to take this picture so we could say we climed all the way up here. Climbing became the only way to travel as students traveled mountainous Greece.

Yeah Baby, Yeah!

The first stop on the tour was London, England. Students saw many sites includingBuckingham Palace and the Globe Theatre. "We went to the Globe Theatre for Shakespeare's Julius Caesar. As groundlings, we stood during the acts and sat during 5 minute interludes. All in all, it was an excellent portrayal," said Erin Jones.

Is this line moving?

Students on the science trip stand in a breadline with statues at the F.D.R. Memorial.

We're bushed!

Freshmen Robin Bolt, Julie Bostrom, Dave "Fudge" Gibbons, Ryan Starr, Aaron Littell, and John Lawson take a breather on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial.

Dollook shorter?

Standing in front of the Washington Monument, freshmen Dave "Fudge" Gibbons, Aaron Littell, John Lawson, and Jennifer Burgess seem shorter than when they left Milligan.

Whereare thesandwiches?

Freshmen Dave "Fudge" Gibbons, Aaron Littell, and John Lawson take the subway to their next stop of the trip. Disappointingly no sub sandwiches were served in this subway.

Day Tripoing Science classes go to washington $D C$

The annual science trip to Washington, D.C. was begun by Dr. Diane Junker when she was a student at Milligan in the late 1970s.

This year, she, along with Dr. Wallace, Dr. Nix, and Dr. Shirley, loaded two school vans with students and luggage and headed off to our nation's capitol.

They slept at Central Christian Church in Springfield, Virginia, and rode the Metrorail into Downtown D.C. every day. Students were on their own for activities, as long as they met back at the designated time.

Some students planned their days, going to places like the FBI building, the Capitol, and the Holocaust Museum. Others walked around the parks and fed the ducks. One student even played football with a group of Marines on the lawn between the Smithsonian museums.

The trip was very relaxing for students and professors alike. At night back at the church, Dr. Wallace started a rousing game of "Oh Phooey," while others relaxed after a hard day of being tourists. A few students tried to study, but they usually didn't get very far.

The trip was a good learning experience for everyone. Some of the students had never been to D.C., so they got to see sites that they had only read about in their history books.

Since they were on their own, the students had to learn how to navigate a huge city's complicated transportation system on their own.

But most importantly, they had the time of their lives.

Ineed a break!

These science trippers pause at a fountain near the Lincoln Memorial.

Pleying Hroubd

'SteelMagnolias'opens theatreseason

On October 15-16, and 2023, six women from Milligan's theatre department transformed themselves into the sarcastic vet lovable characters of Steel Magnolias.

Written by Robert Harlin, Steel Magnolias is the story of six southern women dealing with life and death in a small town.

Shelby, played by Jennifer Williams, is a headstrong diabetic preparing for marriage and starting a family. M'Lynn, her mother, played by Jessica Hopper, tries to support her daughter while acting in her best interests.
"It was amazing the way the cast and crew all pulled together to pull off a really great show," said Jessica. " I think it was an honor to work with such a talented cast. I was thrilled to be a part of it."

Other crazy characters included Jeanette Knight as Truvy the sarcastic beauty shop owner, Kristie Rolape as Anelle, a worker in the shop , Moly Tatum as Clairee, the former mayor's wife, and Liegh Doty as Ouiser, the cynical, old southern woman.
Besides the actresses, many others worked on creating the set, designing costumes, and perfecting lights and sound.
"It was a good play," said director Richard Major. "These young women did a nice job playing these roles. I felt like this is a play I've wanted to do and I had a group of people I could do it with."

What is going on here?!

The cast of Steel Magnolias runs through one of fifteen rehearsals before the big night. "It's the persistence and tenacity of these actresses that allowed this to happen," said Major.

Ouch! That must have hurth

Tatum, as Clairee, pulls a face as Williams, as Shelby, tells of being on dialysis for her diabetes.

Just a trim today.

Beautyshop owner Truvy, played by Jeanette Knight, gives Shelby, aka Jennifer Williams, a haircut and some advice. Beauty parlor gossip turned to heartfelt advice in Milligan's production of Steel Magnolias.

TheCast ofSteel Magnolias

Shelby $\qquad$ JenniferWilliams
M'Lynn,Shelby's mother. Jessica Hopper

Truvy, beautyshop owner Jeanette Knight

Anelle, worker at the shop
.Kristie Rolape
Clairee, former mayor's wife.
.MollyTatum
Ouiser, southern lady
Leigh Doty

Oh, you poor dear

Williams shares her problems as Knight, Rolape and Tatum give advice and sympathy. The actresses really got into their roles as members of a small town community. "Our director really poured a lot of great information into us," said Hopper.

What have youdone to yournails?

Williams, as Shelby, gets her nails done by Knight, as Truvy. Come to Truvy's beautyshop and get your hair done, your nails done, and some down-home advice from anyone and everyone.

Ahh, younglove!

Hero, Kellye Bumpus, and Claudio, Dave Miller, gaze into each other's eyes as Hero's proud father Leonato, played by Dr. Jack Knowles, looks on.

We are lookin' good!

These attractive guys, Dogberry and the watchmen, were played by Ben Lee, Jason Evens, Todd Edmondson, Jeremy Russell, and Shane Smith.

Guess who!

The villains of the play Don John, Borachio, and Conrad were played by Alan Handman, Philip Brown, and Dan Drage respectively.

Oh, my love!

Beatrice, Kristie Rolape, and Benedick, Lee Blackburn, confess their love for each other after being manipulated by their friends and family.

Doing 'Nothing

Spring play brings

The Milligan theatre department's rendition of William Shakespeare's comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing," directed and produced by Richard Major, was well directed, performed, and put together.

The costumes were colorful and elegant, and the set worked well for the play, especially in the limited space. Costumes were designed by Karen Brewster while the scenic design was done by Andria Smith.
All of the players did a wonderful job in portraying their roles.
The villains of the play, Don John, played by Alan Handman, Borachio, played by Phillip Brown, and Conrade, played by Dan Drage, did a great job in their despicable characters. Their maniacal laughter and grotesque masks added to the believability of their roles. They even managed to get some laughs despite their less than loveable personas.

One of the highlights of the production was Dogberry, played by Benjamin Lee, and his fellow watchmen. The other members of his crew included Jason Evans in the role of Verges, and Todd Edmondson, Jeremy Russell and Shane Smith. The audience could not keep from laughing when these five were on stage. Between the mixed up speeches, hilarious movements and stuttering watchmen, the audience was rolling with laughter.One noteworthy individual performance was by humanities professor Jack Knowles who played Leonato. One of the best scenes included Claudio, Don Pedro and Leonato as they tried to convince Benedick that Beatrice loved him. Knowles caught several laughs as he fell to the ground and illustrated his points with wild gestures.

Humanities to life

Lee Blackburn, playing the proud Benedick, also displayed talent. His animated face and vocal inflection provided entertainment and made the performance fun to watch.
Beatrice came alive through the person of Kristie Rolape. Her dramatic range emerged as she played both comic parts and lament-filled scenes with seeming ease.

Letme tell you...

Beatrice, played by Kristie Rolape, unknowingly bad mouths Benedick, played by Lee Blackburn, to himself. How these two kept from killing each other after they were married is still a mystery.

Actiog

Students show off their talents in One-Act Plays

Students decided to act out by showing off their talents in the one-act plays.

2000 marked the $14^{\text {th }}$ Annual Festival of One Acts and a new addition, the Annual Film Festival. The plays and films were all written, produced, directed, and performed by Milligan students.

Presented to the crowded audience on the nights of April 26 and 27 were the nine one act plays.

The plays included The Actor`s Nightmare, directed by Tom Goodlet; Moments, written by Howard Miller and directed by Jeanette Knight; Where Have All the Lightning Bugs Gone?, written by Lois E. Catron and directed by Kristie Rolape; The Cowboy, the Indian, and the Fervent Feminist, written by Murray Schisgal and directed by Josh Brown; Hello Out There, written by William Saroyen and directed by Phillip Brown;

The Innkeeper's Daughter, directed by Lizzie Lukens Conrad; Webbed Feet, written and directed by Kristen Faust; The Universal Language, directed by Keri Anne Sherwood; and Sure Thing, written by David Ives and directed by Leigh Doty.

April 28 was the long awaited premiere of short films and the crowd was overflowing with support.

The four short films included: Buffalo Creek, written and directed by Shannon Blowers; The Mitty Complex, directed by John Mann; Del Soul, written by Ashley Maddox and directed by Jeff Codey; and Shadows, written and directed by Chad Garrison.

The hard work and time spent by the writers, directors, stage managers, and actors was obvious by the applause that filled the theatre and the encore performance held the next week.

Nice outit!

Not every man's mid-life crisis includes a cowboy, an Indian, and a fervent feminist. Nope, just in the play written by Murray Schisgal and directed by Josh Brown.

Pick me, pick me!!

The play Sure Thing was written by David Ives and directed by Leigh Doty. The actors were Rebecca Gootee as Betty and Ben Lee as Bill.

This cannot be happening!

The cast from The Actor's Nightmare may have dressed funny, but we have all had dreams like that. The Actor's Nightmare was directed by Tom Goodlet.

How sweet

The actors of Webbed Feet, Kathleen Pohl as the princess, Brian West as the frog, and Bobby Boomer as Prince Charming, enjoy the spring sunshine at a park. Webbed Feet was written and directed by Kristen Faust.

Litte "Rabbit" Foo Foo

Molly Tatum sings her own version of "Little Bunny Foo Foo" on the bus during the Choir trip. What better way for a choir to kill time than by singing.

All Aboard!

Concert Choir members load up the bus as they prepare to start a week of touring and singing. The choir went to Chicago, Illinois and stayed with churches along the way.

What is that sound?

Bethany Black, director John Wakefield and Ross Bader sing an impromptu "Eulogy for a Hoosier" to Kent Petit on the bus. Music should be not only educational but fun too.

Milligan Concert Choir, directed by John Wakefield, assisted by graduate student Lisa Hollis, and accompanied by Ross Bader, is a vocal group consisting of a variety of people, voices, and talents. They are a four-part harmony group of about 30 students. They perform different kinds of music including gospel, Medieval Latin, hymns, and Christmas carols. They work hard preparing themselves to present performances with great sound, rhythm, and tone.

They sing throughout the area at local churches and neighboring schools.

During Spring Break they traveled around Kentucky, Indiana, and Illinois on a 10 day tour. On tour they visited Indianapolis and spent two days in wonderful Chicago.

This year's group was a very young group consisting of many freshmen. So be looking for a lot of good things from the group in the next few years.

They are led by the two seniors, Rob Meyer and Sabrina Hess. Within the group, they have several elected offices including president Rob Meyer, secretary Bethany Black, treasurer Ben Horjus, disciplenarian Chris Reed, social chair Sabrina Hess, devotional chair Josh Lewis, and publicity chair Kelly Clark.

Smile!

Concert Choir gets together for one last group shot during their trip. The last stop was a church in London, Kentucky.

He's the MAN!

Director of Concert Choir is John Wakefield. He is also known simply as "The Man".

Mouthiilg gig campus music groups bring out hidden talents

Milligan was blessed during the 1999-2000 school year with four instrumental ensembles, influencing the lives of musically-talented students. The Milligan Singers, directed by Carlene Eastridge; the Keyboard Ensemble, directed by Tom Stampfli; the Flute Choir, conducted by Jan Hinman; and the Chamber Orchestra, conducted by Kellie Brown, all made their presences known across campus.

Christy Lewis, a freshman member of the Keyboard Ensemble and the Milligan Singers, said, "Instrumental ensembles require group unity because without one person there would not be music."

Contrary to popular belief, involvement in the ensembles is not limited to music majors. "I have the opportunity to be in the Flute Choir, even though I'm not a music major," said junior Michelle Boggess. The Flute Choir was a new group on campus for the spring 2000 semester.
"I'm excited to see something other than vocal or piano here at Milligan," said sophomore Amanda Daugherty.

These informal groups provide a time for members to grow and share together. Andrea Cooper, a freshman in the Milligan Singers, said, "I enjoy it because we can share what is going on in our lives and we pray with each other every week." Freshman Catherine Bailey said, "Mrs. Eastridge cares about each of us personally and she has a good heart."

The Keyboard Ensemble was invited to play at the National Association of Music Teachers Convention in Minneapolis in March. "We imitate orchestral and band sounds. We're directed as an orchestra would be. Each person stands as a section," said Keyboard Ensemble freshman member Jason Reed.

Many Milligan students are blessed with music ability and are given an opportunity to express these God-given talents through these important groups.

KEYBOARD ENSEMBLE

CHAMBER ORCHESTRA

HANDBELLS

MILLIGAN SINGERS

TMaking Apt

students find ways to express themselves

I'm so happy!

Beatrice (senior Kristie Rolape), and Hero (senior Kellye Bumpus), celebrate the announcement of Hero's engagement to her love Claudio.

Cute Couple

In the spring play, senior Kellye Bumpus and sophomore David Miller played the almost tragic couple, Hero and Claudio.

The Much Ado Cast

There was always something to do for the cast of Much Ado About Nothing, even if it was just posing for publicity pictures.

Is this on the test?

During The Universal Language, one of many student-written and directed one act plays, the language of love is defined.

Hwarding  Excebləсе Milligan honors students for achievements

More than 50 awards and scholarships were presented to Milligan students at the annual Awards Convocation ceremony on April 26. The following awards and scholarships recognized students for their academic performance and leadership:

Performing And Visual Arts Outstanding Scholarship: Kristin Colson Music Educators National Conference Student Chapter
Award: Sabrina Hess
Chamber Orchestra Award: Julie Wallace
Concert Choir Award: Rob Meier
Music Outstanding Student Scholarship: Kristofer Reed
WUMC-FM 90.5 Christian Music/
Radio Leadership Award: Chris Booth
Outstanding Communications Broadcasting Student Award: Tom Goodlet and Jeff Cooley Outstanding Broadcast
Communications Student
Technical Assistance Award: Chris Booth
Stampede Writing Award: Krishana Kraft
Outstanding Communications Student Award: Lisa Depler
Communications Outstanding Student Scholarship: Regina Holtman
English Award: Lee Blackburn, Todd Edmonson and Leslie Hamilton
Humanities Award: Regina Holtman Humane Learning Outstanding Student Scholarship: Jason Evans
German Award: Natalya Klinova
Greek Award: Jason Evans
French Award: Michelle Warren Spanish Award: Kristen Smalley Biblical Learning Outstanding Student Scholarship: Kevin Bobrow
Social Learning Outstanding Student Scholarship: Sara Curtis
Computer lnformation Systems Award: Benjamin James Davison
Adult Learner of the Year Award: Teresa A. Carter
Wall Street Journal Award: Denise Siebe
Proffessional Learning (Business) Outstanding Student Scholarship: Shelly Coe

Scientific Learning Outstanding Student Scholarship: Jason Mackey Outstanding Biology Student Award: Karen Thompson
American Chemical Society Award: Hugh Hopper
Lone L. Sisk Award: Jeremy Epling Outstanding Mathematics Major Award: Donald Onyango
Academic Excellence in Nursing Award: Rebecca L. Britton Recognition of Nursing Honor Socicty Inductecs: Rebecea L. Britton, Amy E. Robinson, Doris F. Schlenk, Mary Sue Brooks, Dayla Griner Hurley, Camelia Roman Professional Learning (Nursing) Outstanding Student Scholarship: Mary Sue Brooks
Human Performance and Exercise Science Award: Melonie B. Hazelwood Elementary Student Teaching Award: Christy Nelson and Robin Soendlin
Sccondary Student Teaching Award: Sara Matney and Susan King
Elementary Intern Award: Kelly Rector
Secondary lntern Award: Patrick Heintz
Paul Clark Award (Best All-Around): Amy Rollins
Delta Kappa Gamma Ontstanding Teaching Award (Best AllAround): Nikki Blevins
Professional Learning (Education) Outstanding Student Scholarship: Melanie Banta
Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges: Kristin Joy Ahlgrim, Paul Ryan Bader, Jacob Matthias Blosser, Lesa D. Duncan, Kimberly Tucker Dyer, Emily Anne Helphinstine, Hugh David Hopper, George John Keralis, Donald Christopher Onyango, Kristie Ann Rolape, Robin Ruth Soendlin, and Karen Janeece Thompson
Chick-Fil-A Service Recognition Awards: Jill Bumpus and Dr. Rubye Beck
Student Leadership Award: Ryan Bader
Faculty Appreciation Award: Professor Jeff Miller
Ivor Jones Outstanding Senior Award: Ryan Bader

Oh my gosh!

Professor Phil Roberson presents senior Robin Soendlin with the Elementary Student Teaching Award for the spring semester.

I love you, Man!

Junior Jason Evans receives a hug as well as the Greek Award from Dr. Lee Magness.

It's pretty!

Tim Burchfield owner of the local Chick-fil-a gives senior Jill Bumpus the Chick-fil-a Service Recognition Award. Bumpus was also honored with a scholarship named for her.

Gan I sit down yet?!

Sue Skidmore and Karen Thompson pass out certificates to all 12 recipients of the Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges Award.

Ugh Oh! Only one plaque!

Both seniors Vanessa Click and Kristie Rolape recieve the Fine Arts Award from Professor Richard Major.

We did it!

Kirsten Mead Blackburn gives a grateful hug to her husband, Lee, as graduates file out of Seeger Chapel after commencement is over.

Class of 2000

The Class of 2000 is all smiles after Friday's graduation practice. Only 48 hours stood between them and their diplomas!

A real diploma!

Dan Corizzo holds on tight to the diploma he has just been handed. The diploma represents four years of hard work and a bright future of success.

Goodbye, Hello

graduation brings tears of joy and sadness

The Class of 2000 crossed the stage in Seeger Chapel on May 7 to become Milligan's first graduating class of the new millennium. The 159 graduates included 59 bachelor of arts, 89 bachelor of science, eight bachelor of science in nursing, two master of education degrees and one associate's degree.

Graduation speaker Gene Wigginton of Standard Publishing challenged the graduates with the awesome responsibility and opportunity as Christian leaders to transform culture from the inside out.

The Class of 2000 represented 20 states and five foreign countries, including Guatemala, Rwanda, Jamaica, Kenya and India. Thirty-seven students graduated with honors and 23 were accepted to graduate school.

The seniors' last week at Milligan was spent with lastminute studying for exams, finishing term papers and projects, packing up dorm rooms, making arrangements for graduation, and considering the big question of "what next?".

Some seniors were preparing to start full-time jobs, some were looking forward to their wedding date, and many others were moving on to graduate school.

And all of the seniors were learning how to say a temporary "goodbye" to friends and faculty and the place that had been their home for four...or five years.

Master'stoo!

President Don Jeanes congratulates Elizabeth Schneider after she receives her Master of Education degree.

Almost time

Seniors listen intently to the commencement address that challenges them to be transform culture from the inside out. They will soon discover that this is what their four years at Milligan were all about.

All Smiles

Nancy Davison and Lisa Depler are all smiles as they prepare to enter Seeger Chapel and receive their diplomas. Graduation day was a happy, yet sad day for the graduates as they had to say goodbye to the best of friends.

You did it!

Jeanette Knight receives a hug of congratulations from professor Lee Magness. The faculty are always glad to see the success of their students.

Take the picture!

Senior Damond Davis poses for his fan club as President Jeanes presents his diploma. Proud parents, friends and family members filled Seeger Chapel to overflowing capacity.

Commissioned

For senior Brian Letendre, commencement marked not only his graduation from college, but his commissioning as an officer in the U.S. Marine Corps. His father and a Marine captain assisted with his pinning ceremony.

Expanding Possibilities

by Christan McKay

With the addition of a new cross country team, a club track team, new players, and new coaches, Milligan athletes found themselves with expanding possibilities for the new season. "Hopefully indoor track will become an official sport next year," said freshman Ryan Star. "The main thing is to become more like the other sports," said Jennifer Taylor, the new cheerleading coach. "We worked out and conditioned through running and going to the weight room. We are also going to offer a scholarship, which is new this year. We wanted to gain respect and let the girls have more of a leadership role among their peers." In addition to new coaches and players, many athletes began to enjoy new facilities, such as a new soccer field and lights for other fields.

Swinging the bat to connect for a perfect line drive, Evan Patrick practices his form. The Milligan Baseball team overcame adversity to turn in a great season , as they were coached by their fourth coach in three years.

Tipping the ball in for another two points, Damond Davis flies above his opponent. The Mens' Basketball Team came into the season geared up to be great competitors, as they were the defending TVAC champions.

Grooving to the music during one of their performances, the Pom Squad dances for the crowd. The group got a new look, with new and improved uniforms, but still kept the crowd on the edge of their seats with classic songs and dances.
"At the end of the season we c a mac together as a team proved

Reaching for the save, Cindy Lee stretches all out to make sure her opponents do not score.

| 4 | 1 |
| ---: | ---: |
| 6 | 1 |
| 14 | 0 |
| 10 | 0 |
| 12 | 2 |
| 7 | 0 |
| 7 | 2 |

King College Covenant Berea Montreat
Lee College
Bryan College
Piedmont

Kickip

The Varsity Lady Buffs opened up their season with a great start. Milligan signed two top performers from the 1999 Women's World Cup tournament. Nigerians Mercy Akide and Florence Omagbemi played a big role on the team. With their experience and dedication, they were able to lead the team to sweep the conference $7-0$. The team captured their second TVAC championship in just the third year of the program and finished with a #11 national ranking.

The J.V. Lady Buffs were young, but their commitment and efforts showed that they were true athletes. "I have found that participating in Milligan's J.V. soccer is so mentally strengthening," said Freshman Amanda Denman.

Both teams look forward to another successful season in 2000.

Lady Buffs Varsity Back Row: Coach Edith, Coach Hans, Salem Woody, Casey Lawhon, Jessica Griffith, Florence Omagbemi, Heather Eckman, Mercy Akide, Nicole Jamison, Jillian Schweizer, Tera Downey, Coach Garvilla, Coach Shirley. Front Row: Bethany Hefty, Erica dePaula, Leah Burger, Courtney Siber, Abby Armstrong, Kristen Long, Cindy Lee, Katie Huntsinger, Sarah Guetzloe, Elizabeth Cirillo.
Lady Buffs J.V. Back Row: Coach Edith, Adele Gordinier, Emily Luetscher, Brooke Gover, Anna Farris, Amy Hulcher, Amanda Denman. Front Row: Monica Poparad, Rebecca Gootee, Kat Pohl, Kathryn Lloyd, Adrienne Duncan.

Kickin’ up

The men's soccer team claimed the college's first ever TVAC title in the program's 22-year history. They appeared in the two finals of the TVAC Tournament and Region 12 tournament. All of the team was outstanding with their leadership and dedication.

Seniors Donald Onyango and Derek Sharpe were named NAIA All-Americans and received All-Conference team honors.

The J.V. Men had a tough start out in the season. With many young players the team still managed to stay confident and managed to keep their hopes up for the rest of the season.

Mens Varsity Soccer Back Row: Coach Drew, Coach Tim, Dee Polk, Eric Eckman, Hristu Chepa, Dean Yasko, Stephen Sharpe, Trevin Nairne, Derek Sharpe, Phillip Brock, Phillip Brown, Dalan Telles, Bryan Browning Coach Garvilla, Coach Hans, Coach Shirley. Front Row: David Brown, Fabian Baker, Pedro Figueira, Jose Juan Micheo, Donald Onyango, Paddy Sweeney, Andy Shoots, Matt Thomas, JD Richards, Jonathan Brown, Cori Hynek, Bryan Dewhurst, Michael Amare, Victor Sanchez.

Mens J.V. Soccer Back Row: Coach Hans, Bill Hauck, Luke Zimmerman, Ben Nelson, Dan Corizzo, Kenneth Ellis, Ryan Patton, Dr. Montgomery, Emily Luetscher. Front Row: Steven Clem, Charlie Klein, Paul Hobbs, JoseJuan Micheo, Bobby Boomer, David Gibbons, Adam Hayes.

Managing to sweep away the soccer ball as his opponent tries to attack, Fabian Baker succeeds .

Members of the soccer team helped at the Coalition for Kids. This was a great way to tell kids about leadership and discipline.

"This year's teams did a great job! They put a lot of team work and dedication into each game."
-Buffy

ScoreBoard

Varsity Buffs Opp

Cumberland College Montreat College Lee College
Dominican College Covenant College Bluefield College Georgetown College

| 2 | 0 |
| :---: | :---: |
| 3 | 1 |
| 2 | 1 |
| 8 | 0 |
| 3 | 0 |
| 11 | 0 |
| 2 | 1 |

"We had a really good season and built up a good base for next season. And almost everyone had a personal record!
-Melanie Lorenz
The cross country team takes a moment out of their time to pray. Being a Christian school, Milligan emphasized both performance and God's mercy.

ScoreBoand
Men Women

1st 1st
1st 1st
3rd 5th
2nd 2nd
6th 3rd
Starr 59th
2nd 3rd

Creeper Trail
Run for Coal
Mars Hill Inv.
TVAC Regional NAIA National Lees-McRae

Bumbing

After a 16-year hiatus, cross country came back this year since so many students were interested in the club sport last year. This meant that the team really had to pump up the speed and that they did. Coach Chris Layne helped team members build leadership as well as speed. Both teams finished second in the TVAC. The men finished sixth in the region and the women finished third.

Freshman Ryan Starr added to the success and leadership of the team by qualifying for the NAIA National Championship where he finished $59^{\text {th }}$ out of 236 runners.

Starr and freshmen Nathan Harris, Angela McGraw and Melanie Lorenz earned All-Conference honors. McGraw, Lorenz and Starr were also named to the All-Regional Team.

By Rhonda Deitz

Women's Cross Country Back Row: Tara Marasco, Andrew Parker, Nathan Harris, Ryan Starr, Terance Gadsden, Whayne Rouse, Melanie Lorenz, Coach Chris Layne. Front Row: Bethany Haynes, Jennifer Thomas, Sarah Timbrook, Emily Helphinstine, Misty Fry, Angela McGraw, Jennifer Hyder, Crystal Burgess.

Run Baby Run. Cheers from the crowd are heard for the Milligan Cross Country team. Their spirit helped encourage their friands to the finish line.

Milligan

 Sports
stalos

Hit it, hit it, over! As Lesa Duncan hits the volley ball over the net, she realizes that the Lady Buffs are in the lead.

She's got all the right moves. Not allowing her opponents to take the lead, Molly Stacks makes the team a winner.

"We had a really good season and we worked hard. I am looking forward to a great season next year."
-Christina Medlin

.

This year's Lady Buffs faced many challenges since they were a young team. With 11 underclassmen, the team did a great job, going 21-18 on the season and finishing fourth in the TVAC. The Lady Buffs made their goals attainable during each game and all throughout the season as well. The team stuck together during each game and practiced long hours to gain structure and leadership.

Seniors Lesa Duncan and Sarah Grooms led the team both on and off the court. The team expects to do even better next season since they will have more experience as college players. Coach Debbie Cutshall remarked that she is pleased with the young team's performance and is excited about the future for the Lady Buffs.

By Rhonda Deitz

Volleyball Back Row: Renee Posey, Christina Medlin, Lesa Duncan, Melanie Reed, Heather May, Rebecca Gilbert, Wendy Weaver, Heather Lanning, Cori Bray. Front Row: Assistant- Jana Hackler, Coach Debbie Cutshall, Rebecca Ruby, Cassie Denton, Moliy Stacks, Sarah Grooms, Melody Black.

We are the champions! As the team gets together after a win, they congratulate everyone. Great team work and practice always makes a match go well.

Determination

The Milligan College Lady Buffs were a force to be reckoned with during the 1999-2000 season. Going 26-8, and eventually reaching the NAIA Division II Nationals, they consistently defeated their opponents, including a dominating 100-62 win over Blucfield College. Unfortunately, Womens' Basketball Row 1:Coach Grindstaff, P. Robb, M. Potter, A. Manuel, A. Moody, A. Allen. Row 2: Coach Aubrey, A. Hammonds, N. Jessen, K. Kerkvliet, B. Sells, A. McCall, J. Della Valle, V. Conkin, Coach Aubrey.

Taking time to enjoy the spotlight, senior Becky Sells smiles for a photo with Coach Aubrey. Becky became known this year for breaking the NAIA all-time career rebounding record.
the Lady Buffs were unable to overcome Midland Lutheran College in the first round of the Nationals, which were held in Sioux City, Iowa. Senior Becky Sells led the team in scoring during this successful year and was a big part of the Lady Buffs' offense.
-Nathaniel Poling

Throwing it up for the free throu Melissa Potter gives it her all. It wa leaders like Potter that helped th girls reach the national tournamen

ateve the 2000e  Shooting

The Milligan College men's basketball team had an outstanding 1999-2000 season, posting a 21-12 overall record.

It was a thrilling season, with highlights including a triple overtime loss to King College as well as a stunning 98-62 rout of Crown College.

Caleb Gilmer, Gabe Goulds, and Nathan Jenkins, who averaged $14.2,12.2$, and 11.8 points per game respectively, fueled the Buffs' offense and were an important reason for the Buffs' winning season.
-Nathaniel Poling

Going up for the block, sophomore Derick Dyer soars up to his opponent. This 6'1" guard is a returning letterman for the Buffs.
"Two, two, we want two!" Tapping in the shot for another score, junior guard Nathan Jenkins outruns and outdoes the foe.

sone

On the floor, yelling with the crowd, and entertaining at halftime, these hard working girls added flavor and fun to Buffs basketball. They were the Milligan college cheerleaders and Pom Squad.

This year the cheerleaders had a new experience by bringing back former Milligan student Jennifer Taylor as the new coach. "The school knew I had a good background in cheerleading and they wanted to change the program here," said Taylor. Along with a new coach, the seven girls added new cheers and jumps to make their cheering more exciting.

During half time, however, it was the Pom Squad that took center stage. The ten girls entertained the crowd with dances they choreographed for each occasion. Some of the favorites were, Rocky Top, a disco medley, and of course, Brittney Spears.

All dressed up and ready to cheer, Laura Danhauer and Tish Bertoli get pumped up before the game. This year, the squad expanded its number to seven and could be seen on the sidelines for most boys basketball games.

Smiling for a group shot before the game, the 2000 Pom Squad gets ready to rock. The girls performed at 6 basketball games this year including family weekend and other events.

Getting ready to perform their famous disco routine, the Pom Squad takes the floor. The squad not only performed to popular songs of today, but also expanded their horizons to include oldies and country music.

Buffy the Buffalo gets into the spirit of basketball season by joining the Milligan cheerleaders! Buffy was all decked out for this game with her orange and black Poms.

Competiog

Whether on the soccer field, playing football, dribbling down the basketball court, or hitting a homer in baseball, several Milligan students had one thing in common. No they were not here on a full ride athletic scholarship...they were playing for the love of the game and just for the fun of it. They were playing intramurals.

For many students the chance to be out on the field and compete with their friends, or play a sport that was not offered formally at Milligan, was enough reason to put in hours of long practice and games. For others the motivation was to stay in shape in the offseason.

No matter what the motivation, fun was had by all... and there was a little bit of dirt too.

Girls' Champion Football Team, The U-Uglies

Boys' Champion Football Team, The Crazed Dogs

Girls' Second Place Football Team, The Rough Riders

Grabbing the hike on the championship game, the Rough Riders compete for the title with the U-Uglies.
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Girls' } & \text { Intramural } \\ \text { Basketball, The } 24 \text { K's }\end{array}$

Boys' Third Place
Football Team, The Game Cocks

Boys' Second Place Football Team, The Mafia

Following through to tap in the shot, Cassie Denton makes the point. Tennis took hours of practice but brought the reward of a winning season for the girls.

Keeping her eye on the ball, senior Beth Bader goes in for the kill. Beth was a returning singles player who made a finals appearance at #5 singles in the 1999 season.

Superior

SWinging

The women's tennis team had a very successful season. The overall spirit of the team, as well as their willingness to work hard opened the door for the winning season. With their power to dominate the courts, they only had one defeat the entire season.

The team claimed the TVAC Championship and advanced to the NAIA National Championship in Louisville, Ky.

The team had the advantage of six returning members and two very skillful new members. A team with a great deal of experience, they came together with the direction of the coaches to be a great competitor in the TVAC.
-Kristen Speak

> 1999-2000 Women's Tennis Team: Assistant Coach Gina Adams, Annie Eckstrom, Diana Marti, Cori Bray, Vanessa Click, Renee Posey, Dorothy Richey, Cassie Denton, Beth Bader, Jenny Lawyer, Coach Marvin Glover.
"We had a really great team throughout the lineup and had a great season," said Annie Eckstrom.

$\bigcirc+9{ }^{\circ} \mathrm{O}$

219

The men's tennis team had a learning season this year. They were a young team made up of six freshmen and only three returning players. The team used this season to mature and develop their talent on the court. The team's good attitude and previously acquired skills allowed them to make the most of the season.

Joe Westerman said, " We may not have the best record, but we are learning a lot and having a good time."

With the strong work ethic the team has used this season as a stepping block for the seasons of the next few years.

1999-2000 Men' s Tennis Team: Coach Duard Walker, Jeff Cruz, Jeremy Epling, Justin HensIsy, Tommy Gjerde, Joe Westerman. Not pictured: Josejuan Micheo.

Following through on the serve, freshman Tommy Gjerde hits an ace against his opponent. Tommy is a first year team member who made three regional appearances in high school.

Taking a defensive stance, Jeremy Epling prepares to receive the serve. Jeremy was a senior and a third year tennis player at Milligan.

Looking eagerly at his foe, Josejuan Micheo prepares to return the shot. Josejuan was a second year tennis player who also was a member of the Buffs Soccer Team.

Golf M. Hull, J. Hensley, J. Boyd, A. Hull, B. Tatum, B. Stewart, T. Munsley.

OVEE  Practicing

The Milligan College Buffs golf team anticipated a big season. Despite the young team, consisting of six freshmen and one junior, the team was able to accomplish many goals and place well in many matches.

As the only returning player, junior Andy Hull served as a leader to the team, with support from Jesse Boyd, Jeremy Hensley, Mike Hull, Todd Munsey, Blake Stewart and Ben Tatum.

Highlights of the season included a third place finish at the Pikeville Spring Invitational, a win against UVA-Wise with a four man score of 319 , and a second place finish in the TVAC Championship held in Kingsport, Tennessee.

Heights  New  Hitti̊geg

The Lady Buffs, under head coach Wes Holly, were a relatively young squad and had a decent 2000 season despite many injuries.
"Overall, I'm pretty proud of all the girls because we came together despite all the injuries and the fact that we're a young team," says sophomore Lori

Swinging the bat to practice her form, one of the Lady Buffs gives it her best effort in practice. Whether in practice or a game, the girls gave it their all to make it a great season.

Baimbridge. Next year, the team will be more experienced and hopes to have a more successful season.

Highlights included winning three out of five games in the Cumberland Classic as well as a 14-o win over Montreat and a $12-0$ win over Bluefield.
-Nathaniel Poling

1999-2000 Softball Team. Row 1: Dawn Loeser, Alyson Bowman, Jennifer Trumpower, Rebecca Dawson, Andrea Henriott, Vera Conkin. Row 2: Coach Wes Holly, Lori Baimbridge, Lauren Keister, Kristi Rose, Ashley Fine, Carissa Ellis, Valerie Kite, Sarah Steele.

Squinting from the sun, Kristi Rose eyes the pitcher and steps up to the plate. Kristi ls a senlor nursing major from Erwin, Tennessee.

Squatting down to keep her eye on the ball, catcher Rebecca Dawson grabs one from the strike zone. Rebecca is a freshman team member, who also plays club ball for the Greenville Stars.

 Tepriffic

Theowing

Under first-year head coach Danny Clark, the Milligan College Buffs had a good season, with an 11-7 TVAC record. For the first time in eight years, the team advanced to the regionals.

Things look even better for next year and the Buffs look forward to a very successful 2001 season.
"This year was a start to turning this program around into a top-notch TVAC contender," said freshman Jeremy Christian. Let's go Buffs!
-Nathaniel Poling

Taking a moment to rest and observe the game Milligan's baseball team leans against the fence.

1999-2000 Baseball Team (numerical order): Bobby Phillips, Matt Trivett, Jeremy Hollowell, Josh Ramsey, Chuck Arnold, Danny Breece, Richard Benjamin, Trent Davis, David Hilton, Matt Simmons, Harlie Shrader, Tom Clement, Jeremy Christian, Mike Rea, Jeff Cooley, John Rice, Ryan Fulcher, Ben Berry, J.P. Nix, Rob Maynard, Mike Combs, Josh Porter, Chris Booth, Scott Shealy, Richard Markland, Dustin Barrett, Jonah Price, Brad Zachritz,Rob Verigan, Travis Mitchum, Chad Booth, Justin Camblin. Neils Camp, Brian LeHeup, Andrew Meredith, Evan Patrick, Josh Richie, Jason Spradling, Aaron Thomas, Coach Danny Clark, Assistant Coach Ray Smith.

Experiencing

$G^{00^{2}}$  Spiritual Life Missions Club

For many students on Milligan's campus, God's plan means a deeper emphasis on spirituality, whether on campus, in the community, or on the mission field. These students were able to share their common experiences and calls in several organizations at Milligan.

Missions Club was a popular group for missions majors as well as students from missionary backgrounds. It gave students an opportunity to fellowship, listen to speakers, and meet in an informal atmosphere. One objective was to pray for missions around the world.
The Association of Christian Ministries also gave students a chance to meet and discuss issues related to the ministry. Some of their activities included dinner at the homes of faculty members.

Other opportunities included short term mission trips, such as those to Mexico and Arizona, Cranks Creek, as well as Spiritual Renewal Week activities, weekly vespers, discipleship groups and Bible studies.

Looking off into the distance, a little girl listens to a Bible story during the Arizona Mission trip. The trip was organized through Crossroads Missions and took place over Spring Break.

Combining

by Christan McKay

Whether planning an event, working hard to complete a deadline, or watching the finished product be enjoyed, the club members at Milligan were always combining talents to get the job done. Students put in long hours to make Milligan fun and exciting, while making a difference on campus and in the community. Many clubs, such as Concert Council, Social Affairs, and the Dorm Councils worked to bring in great bands and plan social activities. "Being on Dorm Council gave me a chance to get more involved in the Milligan community," said freshman Kristen Speak. "I felt like if people had fun I did my job." Other clubs like Stampede, Buffalo, and WUMC provided information and entertainment for students and faculty. Still others, like Missions Club, Rotaract, and Milligan Students For Life ventured out to share their views and provide service for others. "I think service is an important part of Christianity," said Jill Bumpus, part of the Volunteer Action staff at Milligan, as well as a planning member of the Cranks Creek trip. "Some of us do it only when it is convenient, but we need to do it more in order to live out our faith." No matter what the event or project, the clubs at Milligan made campus a little better place to be.

Taking a Big Step into the

with SGA

The Student Government Association this year was dedicated to setting the standard of excellence. The group as a whole came together very quickly to work on such projects as the Sub 7 bill, the Cranks Creek Bill, and many others.

There were concerns brought to the group about a variety of topics. The group worked in smaller committees to work through these student concerns. The worries of Surfwatch and the way the program worked was just one of the concerns that these committees worked through and reported to the whole organization.

Some of the fun activities that were planned came during Spirit Week. During this week, students could eat faculty homemade desserts, come and pray together, or slide down a large water slide just to name a few of the fun activities.

Throughout the year different guest speakers came to the SGA meeting to catch us up on important plans and to get feedback from the students. President Jeanes, Dean Fox, Dean Matson, and Dave Taylor are some of the visitors that provided information to the SGA this year.

The SGA went through many changes this year and has become a stronger force in helping the students that each member of SGA represents.

By Jason Harvill

SGA members join together for a peaceful day without stress, meetings, or planning. Everyone enjoyed themselves for a cookout and hayride.

Nice outfits guys. These two unknown men dress up for the SGA's Theme Night. And oh, what a night.

Hanging out for a night of fun at the SGA's Fall Formal, members Leah Worrell, DeMarco Kidd, Julie Baucus, and Karen Thompson gather for a pose. This was another unforgettable night sponsored by the SGA.

Hey, who are the rebels? In their 80s-looking outfits for the SGA theme night, Jon Powell, Kevin Bobrow, and Nevan Hooker wear what they wish was still in style.

Enjoying the times of fellowship with the children, John Hammon bonds with a boy from the American Indian Reservation in Arizona.

Jenny Burgess was thankful for the time they spent sharing their faith with the young girls and boys on the Arizona Mission Trip.

(Photos by Krishana Kraft)

There's always room for Jello! Taking advantage of Social Affairs' creative games, Kat Pohl shows off her wrestling skills, Jello-style.

Cutting loose with Social Affairs.
Maui Wowwee! Pausing to enjoy all her hard work, Social Affairs student leader Gina Wells takes time out of the events of Terriffic Tuesday for a photo with Kristen Speak.

Making Milligan's Fun!!  Social Affairs

No student can deny the thrill of Terrific Tuesday, known most years as Wonderful Wednesday. Getting out of class to play games, dunk teachers, and eat great food on the lawn are just a few of the thrills. And who can forget the Jello wrestling?! Then there's the sweetheart convo, complete with Dr. Evil and Austin Powers. Plus the Fall Formal masquerade ball. All of this was made possible by Social Affairs.

Social Affairs is an SGA organization that planned many activities on campus throughout the year. They were led by junior Gina Wells and consisted of several students on campus who helped by making signs, forming committees, and working at events such as Terrific Tuesday.

Despite the hurricane that put a damper on the Social Affairs beach trip, the group was able to successfully plan events and help keep students and faculty involved on campus. The hours of hard work and planning paid off when events went off without a hitch. They really did make Milligan's campus a fun place to be.

Is that Pamela Anderson? No, it's just professor Bob Mahan! Bob, who is engaged to be married, experiences Milligan tradition firsthand when he's "creeked" on Terrific Tuesday.

Expressing

Buffalo and Stampede

Whether picking up a newspaper after chapel to find out the latest happenings or flipping through a yearbook to remember all the fond memories of college, Milligan's Publications make a difference in the lives of students.

Behind the scenes students interested injournalism, photography, or computers, or just those who wanted to become involved, wrote stories, took photos, and investigated leads. The final product was a result of hours of hard work and dedication. Often members would pull "all nighters" just to reach a deadline. The result was something that all could be proud of.

TheStampedestaffincluded: Krishana

Kraft, Editor-in-Chief; Stephanie Mitchum, Managing Editor; Natalie Alund, Assistant Editor; Regina Holtman, Assistant Editor; Kevin Poorman, Web Administrator; Jill Jacob, photographer; Lisa Danner, Business Manager; and Professor Jim Dahlman, Faculty Advisor, as well as members of Reporting classes and other students.

The Buffalo Staff included: Christan McKay, Editor-In-Chief, Clubs, and Sports; Kelly Blockinger, Student Life and photographer; Erica Yonkey, People and Academics; Robin Bolt, Business Manager; and Lee Fierbaugh, faculty advisor. They would also like to specially thank Jill Jacob for her photography work.

Stampede Staff Front Row: M. Lorenz, P. Brown, K. Kraft. Back Row: M. Fry, L. Danner, N. Alund, J. Dahlman, G. Wells, S. Mitchum.

Want to know the latest news? Grab a Stampede! One student takes this advice by picking up the latest copy of the campus newspaper after chapel.

Buffalo Editorial Staff C. McKay, E. Yonkey, and K. Blockinger.
Working diligently to make a deadline, Buffalo Editor Christan McKay checks spreads for any mistakes. Since the staff was small, Buffalo's editors and volunteers took on extra work to finish the book.

Singing for the cause, one band member of Quest expresses his thoughts through music at the Rock For Life event sponsored by Milligan Students For Life. Other bands at the event included Ashfield, Bicycle Grindstone, and Buckledown.

Holding the banner for life, members of Milligan Students For Life show their support by posing with their large sign at the March for Life in Washington D.C.

Pausing to reflect on a job well done, members of Rotaract take advantage of a photo opportunity with President Jeans after an event held at his home.

Making  Rotaract Service Clubs

Many Milligan students went outside the boundaries of campus and made a difference in the community and the world. These people used their talents in such service clubs as Rotaract, Milligan Students For Life, and Service Seekers.

Rotaract is a service organization where students learned to develop their leadership skills while serving in the community. They were led my junior Maia Hitchner.

Milligan Students For Life is a pro-life group led by Christi Paul. They participated in the March For Life in Washington D.C., as well as organizing a talent show and Rock For Life to raise awareness of the abortion issue. "Babies can't fight for their life," said Paul. "We feel like there needs to be someone out there fighting for them, since about 4,000 babies are dying each day. We are fighting for life whether it be a grown adult or a baby."

Service Seekers is an organization open to all Milligan students interested in getting out of their comfort zone and into the community. Their activities included volunteering in local venues such as a retirement home.

All students could also find opportunities for service in the Volunteer Action Center located in the SUB that provided information about various local charities. One organizer of the Volunteer Action Center was even honored this year for outstanding service. Jill Bumpus had a local service award named in her honor.

Standing up for the rights of human life was the goal of Milligan Students for Life. The group traveled to Washington D.C. to participate in the March for Life where they were joined by people of all ages from around the country in standing up for life.

TalkingOver  WUMC

For one group of students on campus a good time means talking, playing tunes, and giving news and sports updates. No this isn't just a strange dorm room ritual, but the radio station WUMC.

Broadcasting at 90.5 MHz, WUMC i.e. "The Rock," provides Milligan and the surrounding community with great programs, talk shows, and all types of music, ranging from CCM to country to alternative. According to WUMC, "College radio never sounded this great."

The station provides a place for broadcasting students and others to learn the ins and outs of the radio business, including "on the air" training and behind the scenes production work. Several students produced their own shows. Among the favorites was the comedy hour, featuring Mr. Zero Tolerance and frequent visits from Richard Simmons. Another memorable show featured "Barf Night," one participants and listeners would not soon forget.

WUMC was managed by Chris Booth, with Dan Carpenter scrving as Program Manager and Greg Ritter as Production Manager. Shows were produced by Milligan students.

Spinning another tune for the listening audience, senior manager Greg Ritter adjusts the pots for a better sound. Running a station takes not only hard work and dedication, but also a sense of great music and a fun personality.

Observing the production of a radio program, Tom Goodlet experiences first hand what it takes to put together your own radio show.

Going Beyond

Educational & Service Clubs

For those students who simply could not get enough learning inside the classroom, Milligan provided several opportunities in the form of educational clubs. Whether interested in psychology, German, French, Spanish, teaching, medicine, government, human performance and exercise science, or nursing, students could find a club to call their own on campus.

Many clubs took trips, such as to Washington D.C., met at the homes of professors, or even showed their enthusiasm by singing in the cafeteria. Other favorite activities included taking in a movie and eating pizza.

No matter where or what the meeting consisted of participants were given the opportunity to discuss and learn about the discipline that interested them most. camera, the 19992000 Admissons Ambassadors hang out and take a break.

Volunteer Action Center Staff: Anna Johnson, Erin McRae, Jill Bumpus. The VAC helped match up students with service opportunities that often involved their educational area. Some math and English majors tutored local elementary children. Others volunteered to help the homeless or visit with the elderly at retirement homes.

Service Seekers sit on the Sutton couch before heading out to visit the elderly.

Fun and Fellowship

 Reformation Tour
(Above) Sitting around the grave of Alexander Campbell, members of the Reformation Tour show enthusiasm for their new-found class knowledge.
(Right) Presenting an offering of a small flower to the grave of Barton W. Stone, Brad Warfield really gets into the Reformation Class Tour.

Changing

by Christan McKay

With the influx of new freshmen and transfer students, as well as the record number of international students Milligan's campus was filled with ever changing faces. Students had personalities as unique as could be. Many found that spending time using their creative side in art or participating in a play or music group was rewarding. Others used their special take on life to volunteer and give something back to the community. Still others found it rewarding to sit outside and enjoy the nature that God created. No matter how different the people, they all found ways to come together. Black history month activities became a new way of discovering heritage and sharing culture across previous boundaries. One highlight included a convocation presented by a stomp group. Students also enjoyed just being together as a part of the Milligan community. Whether hanging out at Sub 7 or enjoying the Midnight Breakfast or Wonderful Wednesday activities, people turned their diverse ways of thinking into on campus spirit and one body in Christ.

Protecting their new little friend from the blowup dragon, Rebekah Tilley and Nancy Davidson enjoy the Alumni Weekend festivities. Activities like this gave students and opportunity to have fun an use their skills in planning and helping others.

Writing down the incites she gained, freshman Rachel Hatfield experiences the excitement of Spiritual Renewal Week. Most Milligan students enjoyed activities like Spiritual Renewal Week because it gave them an opportunity to renew and reaffirm their faith in God.

Showing their outrageous and fun personalities freshmen Melanie Banta and Kristen Speak take time out from studying to try out some new fuzzy hunting hats at Wal-Mart. Wal-Mart was definitely a favorite hangout for students.

SENIORS

Class of a new millennium

Sister Wilhemina, aka Bill Greer, introduces senior class male representatives Nick Tule and Phil Williams during the SGA Convocation at the beginning of the year. Class officers are elected by the students and introduced by Bill and Bob in a unique way. Students never know what to expect each year.

Jacob Blosser

English/History Lisbon, OH

Christopher Booth
Communications
Rural Hall, NC

Joshua Brown

Youth Ministry
Murfreesboro, TN

James Buchanan

Human Performance &
Exercise Science
Greeneville, TN

Jill Bumpus

Communications
West Union, IL

Kellye Bumpus

Fine Arts
Sebastian, FL

Cynthia Bye
Nursing Normal, IL
Tere Byrd English
Erwin, TN
Amy Campbell
Early Childhood Education
Elizabethton, TN

Derrick Cerwinsky

Math
West Liberty, OH
Jennifer Chadwell
Psychology
Oliver Springs, TN
Vanessa Click
Fine Arts
Greenfield, IN

Susan Conrad
Psychology
Corydan, IN

Jeffrey Cooley

Communications
Fresno, CA

Brian Cooper

Accounting
Mason, OH

Timothy Davis

Business Administration
Indianapolis, IN

Benjamin Davison

Computer Information Systems
Las Vegas, NV
Nancy Davison
Early Childhood Education/
Elementary Education
Tigard, OR

Lisa Depler

Communications
Longmont, CO

Carrie Doty

Fine Arts
Milwaukie, OR

Vicki Douglas

Elementary Education
Kingsport, TN

John Dunbar

Bible/Ministry/
Computer Information Systems Limestone, TN

Lesa Duncan
English/History
Albion, IL
Eric Dunne
Communications
Glenshaw, PA

Kimberly Dyer

Humanities/Sociology Florence, OR

Todd Edmondson

English/Humanities Louisville, KY

Kenneth Ellis
Math
Guatemala City, Guatemala

Jason Evans

English/Humanities
Springfield, OH

Sharla Flora

Family Ministry Xenia, OH

Bethany Francis

Psychology/Youth Ministry Pleasantville, PA

Kristin Heyne

Psychology
Louisville, KY

Stephen Hill

Bible/Ministry
Palm Harbor, FL

Hugh Hopper

Math/Chemistry Anderson, IN

Jessica Hopper

Elementary Education Johnson City, TN

Kendra Hughes

Human Performance & Exercisc Science Roan Mountain, TN

Cameron Hyder

Business Administration Elizabethton, TN

Hollic Irvin

Communications
Lock Haven, PA

Melissa Isaacs

Nursing
Newland, NC

Willian Isaacs

English
Elizabethton, TN

George Keralis

Accounting/Business Administration Moscow, Russia

Susan King

English
Cleves, OH

Christina Kleine

Early Childhood Education/
Elementary Education
Hamilton, OH

Elizabeth Lukens  Bible/Ministry  Canton, OH

Pamela-Ann Manak

Biology
Medina, OH

John Mann

Communications
Waynesboro, PA

Rebecea Marr

Early Childhood Education Johnson City, TN

Tony Marr

Commmications
Las Vegas, NV

Kevin Mata

Business Administration
Oro Valley, AZ.

Stephanic McDavid

History
Kingsport, TN

Robert Meier

Music Ministry/Youth Ministry Morristown, TN

Josejuan Micheo

Math
Guatemala City, Guatemala
Mara Milano
Elementary Education
Clearwater, FL

Rachel Miller

Biology
Safety Harbor, FL

Cathryn Milligan

Early Childhood Education/
Elementary Education
Church Hill, TN

Marie Minani

Business Administration
Kingsport, TN

Sean Mitchell

Communications
Colorado Springs, CO

Stephanic Mitchum

Communications
Kansas City, MO

Randal Mullings

Psychology
Ocho Rios, Jamaica
Laurel Myers
Early Childhood Education/
Elementary Education
Wyomissing, PA

Zachary Nelson
Communications
LaGrange, KY

Donald Onyango

Math
Nairobi, Kenya

Gregory Pas

Bible/Ministry
Clearwater, FL

Jason Payton

Humanities
Florence, OR

Mandy Pfeifer

Communications
Washington Court House, OH

Suzanne Prichard

Accounting
Milligan College, TN

Tana Reaves

Humanities
Ten Mile, TN

Whitney Rice

Accounting
Elizabethton, TN

Amy Robinson

Nursing
Elizabethton, TN

Kristie Rolape

Fine Arts
Herrin, IL

Kristi Rose

Nursing
Erwin, TN

Shannon Routzahn

Fine Arts
Jacksonville, FL

Carrie Rowland

Psychology
Indianapolis, IN

Jerenty Russell

Communications
Wytheville, VA

Heather Scates

Human Performance &
Exercise Science
Seymour, TN

Siena Schmitz

Accounting/Business Administration Hamilton, IL

Marilyn Schulte

Elementary Education
Russiaville, IN

Jo Seay

Business Administration/History Piqua, OH

Becky Sells

Special Education
Piney Flats, TN

Keri Sherwood

Fine Arts
Johnson City, TN

Denise Siebe

Business Administration Fort Myers, FL

Jonathon Siebe

History
Evansville, IN

Kristen Simpson

Health Care Administration
Kingsport, TN

Karen Smith

Early Childhood Education/
Elementary Education
Greeneville, TN

Shane Smith

Bible/Ministry/Communications Mt. Vernon, IL

Robin Soendlin

Early Childhood Education/
Elementary Education
Indianapolis, IN

Courtney Steever

Communications Cincinnati, OH

Myca Verwys

Elementary Education
Elizabethton, TN

Bradley Warfield

Bible/Ministry
Lexington, KY

Sara White

Biology
Mason, IL

Philip Williams

Biology
Indianapolis, IN

Kari Witcher

Psychology
Bristol, TN

Leah Worrell

Elementary Education
Knightstown, IN

Byron Wright

Computer Science/Business Administration
Florence, OR

Heather Young

Early Childhood Education/
Elementary Education
Libby, MT

The girls of Williams Hall gather beside the fire truck after Nancy Davison set off the fire alarm with bug spray. Williams is an upperclassmen dorm with kitchens and living rooms for those who are fortunate enough to get in.

Isn't this just adorable? Seniors Rachel Miller and Nancy Davison sort and fold clothes for a service project. As the first "College of Promise" in Tennessee, Milligan is very interested in service to the community.

Moving up in the world! Senior John Mann picks up his date, freshman Melanie Lorenz, before the annual Junior/Senior Banquet.

Welcome to Milligan College! Seniors George Keralis and Karen Thompson greet new students at orientation. Keralis and Thompson both served as SGA leaders in 1999-2000.

Would you like fries with that? Senior Russell Hertzog waits to take your order at the Grill in the Sub. The Grill is the oncampus alternative to the cafeteria and a popular place to study.

Seniors Dan Drage and Kimberly Dyer relax and have some hula-hooping fun at the Terrific Tuesday festivities.

At the Volunteer Fair, senior Ryan Bader recruits fellow students a to join Cross Roads, a campus service club that specializes in community involvement.

Well-known actresses seniors Kristie Rolape and Vanessa Click show off their evening attire before the Junior/Senior Banquet.

JUNIORS

Just

 one more yearHey Baby!! Junior class male representative Ryan Mitchell gives ex-Sister Roberta, aka Bob Mahan, an affectionate hug as Bob introduces other SGA class officers. Bill Greer and Bob Mahan would do just about anything for a laugh including dressing as nuns and warning students of the evils of ETSU pride.

Michelle Boggess Christopher Brandow Mashanda Brown Jennifer Buell Daniel Carpenter

Hannah Eisaman Jeremy Epling Kristen Faust Christina Fitsimmons Joel Furches

Chad Garrison Michael Girdwood Danielle Gudmestad Jared Gullett Stephanie Hart

Sarah Hatfield
William Hauck
Deven Hazelwood
Malonie Hazelwood Bethany Hefty

Emily Henderson Lisa Hendrix Elizabeth Hewett Maia Hitchner Erin Hogshead

Emily Homrich Jason Housewright Tammy Hufford Andrew Hull Dayla Hurley

Nicole Jamison
Wesley Jamison Charles Jenkins Adam Johnson Erin Jones

Amanda Kershner Kerri Klem Benjamin Kneisley Rachel Knowels Krishana Kraft

Sadie Rogers Camelia Roman Jessica Russell Philip Rutledge Kelli Sams

Rachel Shannon Derek Sharpe Stephen Sharpe Nicholas Sisson Molly Stacks

Laura Sutton

Anne Swanson Patrick Sweeney Jennifer Taber Stephanie Taber

Matthew Trivett
Harriet Tweed
Richard Voelz.
Corey Webb
Gina Wells

Katie Werking Rachel White Mekey Wilmoth Erica Wyse

Some courses require more guts than brains. Some require both. Junior Jenny Lawyer works on a dissection for one of her advanced biology courses.

Junior Jenny Peterson, sophomore Nathan Peltman and junior Jason Evans enjoy a break from classes for the Hawaiianthemed Terrific Tuesday.

SOPHOMORES Getting closer by the year

The girls of second floor Sutton Hall, mostly sophomores, strike a pose together in the upper lobby. Dorm life allowed students to bond with other students and to get close to people they otherwise might not have met.

Kevin Bobrow Chad Booth Jeffrey Bowers Katherine Bray Angela Brookshire

Amanda Carter Jeremy Christian Kendra Click Jennifer Conner Daniel Dabney

Laura Danhauer
Amanda Daugherty Brian Davis Ginger Dillon Erin Dunham

Angela Dymacek Heather Eckman Christopher Eger Mary Ellis Anna Farris

Misty Fry
Courtney Gardner
Mark Garland
Rebecea Gilbert
Rebecea Gootee

Adele Gordinier Phillip Greene Ashley Greer Sarah Guetzloe John Hackett

Megan Hackler
Bethany Haynes Jaelynn Heffren Christina Hensley Elizabeth Hewett

David Hilton Lindsey Holloway Regina Holtman Nevan Hooker Julie Hubbard

Heather Mathews Alison Matney David Mayer Rachel McCurry Miranda McGrain

Daniel McMahan Layla Miller Travis Mitchum Portia Morrison Timothy Morton

Drane Parker
Sarah Patrick Nathaneal Pelton Jennifer Peterson Kent Pettit

Kevin Poorman Renee Posey Melissa Potter Jonathan Powell Abbie Price-Schmidt

Jeremiah Richards
Elizabeth Robertson
Rebecea Ruby
Sarah Sidell
Nathan Siegele

Sarah Small
Kristin Smalley
Jennifer Stewart
Andrew Stoots
Molly Tatum

Dalan Telles
Jennifer Thomas
Sarah Timbrook
Richard Voclz
Jeremy Walker

Eryn Weeks
Davis Weir
Gina Wells
Sarah Whetzel
Rachel White

Sheri Wilcox Thomas Wiles Mekey Wilmoth Salem Woody Eriea Wyse

Amber Ybarra Regina Holtman

Sophomores Jennifer Thomas and Sarah Timbrook scoop up some ice cream to top the delicious cobbler in Lower Seeger during the faculty dessert night. The dessert night has become an annual tradition.

Sophomore  Aaron

 Johnston receives some important information from junior Jenny Lawyer during registration in Derthick Hall.Sophomore Lindsey Holloway sorts food with some friends during a service project at the Manna House in Johnson City.

Pick a card, any card. Sophomore Nevan Hooker, the campus magician, is called upon to entertain the crowd at Alumni Weekend with a few card and magic tricks.

FRESHMEN

Just the beginning

At SGA Convocation the freshmen class officers are introduced by Bill Greer, a.k.a. Sister Wilhemina. Freshman class officers introduced at convocation were expresident Brian Talty, president David Harris, male representative Jason Harville, female representative Sarah Hugunin, and female representative Liz Hamilton.

Cassandra Burton
Renee Cakebread Justin Camblin Amy Chizmar Steven Clem

Daniel Clemens
Andrea Cooper
Jesse Cox
Jeffrey Cruz
Meraluna Dapanas

Rebecca Dawson Rhonda Deitz Amanda Denman David DiAngelis Amanda Diefendorf

Kipp Dincler Amanda Dove Eric Dunlap
Crystal Dye
Derrick Dye

Annie Eckstrom
Carissa Ellis
Cassandra Ensminger
Amy Ewing
Kerren Fahrnbach

Christianne Fife
Kimberly Fisher
Carla Fowler
Emily Fuller
Terence Gadsden

David Gibbons
Brooke Gover
Ellen Grant
Jessica Griffith
Karen Guyer

Carric Hall Autumn Hamby John Hammon Amanda Hammons Louesa Hampton

John Lawson Dana Leathers Brian LeHeup Christy Lewis Joshua Lewis

Aaron Littell Kathryn Lloyd Melanie Lorenz Marie Martino Melissa Matney

Ann McCall
Gregory McFall Angela McGraw Christan McKay Christina Medlin

Erin Mohler Daniel Monroe Joseph Mullins Lymn Murray Katherine Nice

Holly O'Keefe Mason Osbourne Evan Patrick Ryan Patton Elizabeth Pearson

Kathleen Pohl Nathaniel Poling Laura Reagan Jason Reed Melanie Reed

Joseph Westerman
Megan Wyse
Shara Yancey
Erica Yonkey
Luke Zimmerman

Sometimes you just have to sit back and relax in the sun. Freshmen Greg McFall, Christina Medlin, Beth Ross, and Steven Clem take their studying outside on a beautiful, sunny day. The real question was whether or not any studying got done with all that laughter going on.

I'm so sleepy! Freshmen Ben Strobl, Alison Waters, and Dave DiAngelis chill out on the couch in Sutton Lobby. Dorm lobbies are the only part of the dorm that members of the opposite gender are allowed in unless it is an open house dorm night. This made the lobbies a popular hangout spot and study area.

Out in the hallway of third floor Sutton, freshman Angela McGraw seeks some peace and quiet to study. When roommates got too loud or went to bed and wanted quiet, hallways became the alternative of choice for students wanting to get away without going far.

Student by day, lounge singer by night Freshman Joshua Lewis sings and plays a little song on the piano in Sutton Lobby. Even though the piano was badly out of tune, students enjoyed showing off their skills by tickling the ivories.

And you thought choir trips in high school were bad! Freshman Matthew Joseph finds out the hard way what happens when you have bored choir members, funny glasses and a camera on the same bus: Goofy pictures of people sleeping!

You can dress them up but you can't take them out! Freshmen Rhonda Deitz, Kelly Blockinger, Tiffany Kisner, Missy Matney, Crystal Dye, and Erica Yonkey show off their formal wear at the Holiday Inn before entering the dance. Fall Formal is the first dance for the freshmen and they go all out to make it an event they will never forget.

Many of the freshmen girls of third floor Sutton get together to throw a birthday party. Birthdays away from home for the first time can be rough, but having so many friends near to celebrate with helps.

BAMA  Business Administration Major for Adults

EPSILON '98: (From Front to Back) Jon Anderson, Cheryl Ratliff, Sheila Woods, Travis Long, John Sarver, Michelle Ryans, Tina Cline, Sherry Howell, Chandrea Shell, Melissa Eason, Tabetha Church, Anita McDavid, Terry Haverty, Jane Collins, Scott Allen, Jeff Dotson, Kathy Barnes.

ALPHA '99: (From Front to Back) Jamie Gibson, Vilma Fair, Pat Chandler, Billy Jones, Michelle Bullock, Rose Mary Corbett, Della Flanary, Spring Poore, Chrystal McAmis, Tiger Brooks, Susie Wright, Jeremel Boston, Oscar Henson, Brad McMurray, Sandy Laws, Kristi Hicks, Theresa Hagler, Tracee Johnson, Mark Dunn, Julie Burleson.

BETA 2000: (From Front to Back) Rick Peters, Rebecca Richards, Cindy Humphrey, Brian Davis, Eddie Brittain, Tom Hurt, Joe Rutherford, Cyndy Garland, Fredna Lawson, Gary Martin, Parrish Bright, Gina Shepherd, Donna Caraway, Betty Folkner, Dawn Warren, Richard Hyland, Melinda Gentry.

FACULTY

Here for you

Coach Duard Walker and Dr. John Simonsen wait for their advisees during the ice cream social that took place during Orientation Week. In addition to teaching, Milligan faculty members are advisors, mentors and friends to students.

John Paul Abner
Associate Prof of Occupational Therapy
Gina Adams Dir of Sports
Marketing and Summer Programs/ Assistant Women's Tennis Coach
Robert Allen
Dir of Church Relations
Margaret Anthony
Adjunct Prof of Art and Communications
Richard Aubrey Dir and Associate Prof of Teacher Education/
Women's Basketball Coach
Nancy Beverly Dir of Financial Aid
Patty Bowyer-Johnson Asst. Prof of Occupational Therapy/
OTAdmissionsCoordinator
Linda Boyer Teacher Education Field Coordinator/Asst. Prof of Education Kay Broeder Fieldwork
Coordinator/Asst. Prof of Occupational Therapy
Betty Carter Office Manager, Admissions

Carolyn Carter
Prof of Computer Science
Ruth Cook Associate Prof of English and Humanities
Ruth Cullop Secretary, Occupational Therapy
Carol Curtis
Assistant for Gift Management

Jim Dahlman

Associate Prof of Communications

Gloria Daniels

Secretary; Financial Aid
Tim Dillon Associate Prof of History and Humanities
Linda Doan Associate Prof of Human Performance and Exercise Science
Joy Drinnon Assistant Prof of

Psychology

Ann Easter Administrative Assistant ta V P for Student Development

Carlene Eastridge

Assistant Prof of Music
Craig Farmer
Associate Prof of History and Humanities Lee Fierbaugh
Dir of Public Relations
Nathan Flora
Campus Minister
Mark Fox V P for Student Development

Ron Garland Dir of Student Accounts
Carolyn Gentry Administrative Assistant to the $V P$ for Business and Finance
Marvin Glover Associate Prof of Mathematics/Women's Tennis Coach Jan Goodsell Assistant for Development and Church Relations
Bill Greer Kegley Assistant Prof of Economics and Business/Chair, Area of Professional Learning

Shannon Hatcher Admissions Counselor
Dennis Helsabeek Associate Prof of History
Susan Higgins Prof of Sociologrand Missions
Joy Hurley Financial did Loan Clerk/Business office Receptionist Michael Johnson vp for Enrollment Management

Patrick Karinki Assistant Prof of Teacher Education Diane Keasling Assistant Din of Financial Aid
Karen Kelly Associate Prof of Biology
Philip Kenneson Associate Prof of Thoelogy and Philosophy Sonya Kennet Computer Services Support Manager

Phyllis King Assistant Prof of Nursing
Charlene Kiser Assistant Prof of Humanities
Jack Knowles Chair, Area of Humane Learning/Prof of English/Dir of Humanities
Linda Lawson Personnel Director
Gary Leek Assistant Prof of Biology

June Leonard Library
Technical Serrice Manager
Patricia Magness Prof of Humanities and English
Richard Major Chair, Area Performing, Vistual and Communicative Arts/Prof of Theatre
Mark Matson Academic Dean and Assistant Prof of Bille
Gail McDonald Fieldhouse

Naney McKee Reference Librarian
Jeff Miller Assistant Prof of Bible Bruce Montgomery Chair, Communications/Assistant Prof of Conmunications/Campus Minister Carol Montgomery Accounts Receivable Receptionist/ Technician
Norma Morrison Prof of Education

James Nix Prof of Chemistry Todd Norris vp for Institutional Advancement Mary Ann Owens Assistant for Institutional Adrancement Corey Paulson Admissions Counselor/Residence Hall Director, Sutton and Williams Halls
Carolyn Payton Admissions Counselor

Joseph Wise bir of Development Carolyn Woolard Associate Prof of French and Spanish

Sophomore Humanities professor Terry Dibble meets with other faculty and staff on Hardin Lawn before the school year officially gets underway. Humanities is required of all Milligan students before graduation.

Dennis Helsabeck, a freshman Humanities professor, relaxes before the real work must begin. Students started arriving August 20 but a professor's work is never done.

Carolyn Woolard, professor of French and Spanish, talks with parents at the annual icecream social. During orientation week an icecream social is held so students and parents can meet the faculty before classes start the next week.

Senior George Keralis and College President Don Jeanes go over last minute details before the annual Freshmen Banquet. Freshmen Banquet is rumored to be the best meal you will ever get in the cafeteria that you don't have to pay extra for.

Physical Plant worker Jose Gonzales rides a John Deere tractor/lawnmower in front of Sutton Hall, keeping the lawn beautifully green and neatly trimmed. First impressions are important, so Milligan College puts their best foot forward by having a neat and clean campus.

Communications professor Alex Wainer prepares for class in his office in Paxon Communication Building. The Comm. Building was open to all students but communications majors could be found there at all hours in the darkroom, computer lab, or in the recording studios.

"A WORLD WITHOUT CHILDREN IS A WORLD without newness, regeneration, color, andvigor."

- Dr. James Dobson

Sean,
Thank you for the "newness, regeneration, color, and vigor" you have brought to our lives. We praise God forblessing us, and pray for His richest blessings on you as you enter this next chapter of life. Congratulations on your graduation!

We love you,Mom and Dad Lindsey and Carley

Stephanie A. Mitchum,
Move over Katie Couric! Samantha- oops, Stephanie is about to hit the journalism world!
We're proud of you, Sister S.
Love,
Mom, Dad, Aaron, and M.E.

Congratulations
Shannon!
We're so proud of you.
Love,
Mom, Dad, and Carrie

Hollie,
May all of your dreams and goals come true. we love you and are very proud of you. Congratulations!

Love,
Mom, Don, Gram, Pap, and your brothers and sisters

A basketball demon Plus a great daughter too Ready for any challenge It's what makes you-you Little girl in dresses

My how you've grown And now you're a woman Nobody knows where time's gone Understand we hope you get
Every dream or wish Love you forever,

Mom, Dad, Kevin, Mike, and Mitch

Leah,
You've made us so proud!! You've grown in wisdom and faith. Now meet those challenges head on and make a difference in the lives you touch!!

Courtney

> God is able to do abundantly beyond all that you askor think. Go for it!
> We love you and are so proud of you.

Dad, Mom, Lucas, and Zachary

Dear Kimberly,

You are an expression of God's love and joy to our family.Just being around you lifts our spirits. You are a true blessing and a continual joy to our hearts.

Congratulations--
Woo Hoo!!!

We love you! Mom, Dad, and Jenni

Kellye,
Thank you for bringing so much joy into my life. I am so proud of you.

I love you. Mom

Blackburn, Kirstin 56, 111
Blackburn, Lee 44, 53, 56, 111 Blankenbecler, Alicia
Blevins, Jacqueline Blevins, Selina
Blockinger, Kelly 99, 139
Blosser, Nick 115
Blowers, Shannon 127
Bobrow, Brian 139
Bobrow, Kevin 12, 93, 133
Bodell, Kurt 21, 139
Boggess, Michelle 127
Bolt, Robin 40, 139
Boomer, Bobby 47, 64, 139
Boomer, Kelly 139
Booth, Chad 89, 133
Booth, Christopher 89, 102, 112 Boston, Jeremel 146
Bostrom, Julie 40, 139
Bowers, Jeffrey 133
Bowman, Alyson 86, 139
Bowman, Renee 147
Boyd, Jesse
Brandon, Heather 139
Brandow, Christopher 127
Brandt, Stephen
Bray, Katherine 71, 81, 133
Breece, Daniel 89
Bright, Parrish 147
Brittain, Eddie 147
Britton, Rebecca
Brock, Phillip 54
Brodfuehrer, Jennifer
Brooks, Mary
Brooks, Thomas 146
Brookshire, Angela 14, 133
Brown, Jonathan 64, 133
Brown, Joshua 46, 112
Brown, Mashanda 128
Brown, Phillip 44. 64, 98
Brown, Walter Browning, Bryan 64
Broyles, Mark
Broyles, Ricky
Broyles, Steve Buchanan, James 75, 112
Buck, Marsha
Buell, Jennifer 24, 127
Buffington, Laura Bullock, Nichelle 146

Bumpus, Jill 105, 112
Bumpus, Kellye 10, 12, 44, 1 Burd, Mary
Burgess, Crystal 67
Burgess, Jennifer 40, 139
Burleson, Julie 146
Burton, Cassandra 139
Bush, Sara 133
Bye, Cynthia 112
Byrd, Tere 112

C

Cakebread, Renee 139
Callahan, Tara 133
Camblin, Justi 89, 139
Camp, Neils 89
Campbell, Amy 112
Campbell, Lala
Campbell, Nikki
Caraway, Donna 147
Carpenter, Daniel 102, 127
Carpenter, Gerald 75
Carson, Hannah 133
Carter, Amanda 91, 133
Carter, Stacy
Carter, Teresa 147
Cauthen, Henry
Cauthen, Sarah
Cerwinsky, Derrick 112
Chadwell, Jennifer 32, 112
Chandler, Patricia 146
Chizmar, Amy 139
Christian, Jeremy 89, 133
Christian, Tracilyn 147
Christian, Wesley Church, Tabetha 146
Cirillo, Elizabeth 63
Claiborne, Melissa
Clark, Kelly 127
Clem, Dana 127
Clem, Steven 64, 139, 144
Clemens, Daniel 139
Clement, Barbara
Clement, Thomas 89
Clendenen, Jaclyn
Click, Kendra 133
Click, Vanessa 81, 112, 122
Cline, Tina 146
Closson, Mark 112
Coe, Shelly 127

Coleman, Jeffrey Collins, Jane 146
Colson, Kristin 127
Combs, Michael 89
Conkin, Vera 72, 86
Conner, Elizabeth 127
Conner, Jennifer 133
Conrad, Elizabeth
Conrad, Michael 113
Conrad, Susan Cook, Kenneth Cook, Sandra
Cooley, Jeffrey89, 113
Cooper, Andrea 139
Cooper, Brian 113
Cooper, Paula
Corbett, Rose Mary 146
Corizzo, Daniel 56, 64, 113
Cox, Carolyn 147
Cox, Jesse 139
Cox, Season 32, 113
Crismond, Denise 127
Cruz, Jeffrey 83, 134
Curtis, Sara 127
Cutsinger, Seth 127

D

Dabney, Daniel 16, 133
Danhauer, Laura 76, 134
Dapanas, Meraluna 139
Daugherty, Amanda 134
Davidson, Gary
Davis, Brian 134
Davis, Brian 147
Davis, Damond 59, 61, 75, 113
Davis, Derrick Davis, Helen Davis, Ruth
Davis, Timothy 113
Davis, Trent 89, 127
Davison, Benjamin 58
Davison, Nancy 10, 12, 32, 109, 113
Dawson, Rebecca 86, 87, 140
Deboard, Amber
Deitz, Rhonda 90, 140
DellaValle, Jolie 72
Dembowczyk, Ed Denman, Ámanda 63, 140
Denton, Cassie 6,71, 80, 81, 127
DePaula, Ericka 63
Depler, Lisa 10, 58, 98, 114
Dewhurst, Bryan 64 Deyton, Timothy 13, 30 DiAngelis, David 15, 140, 144 Diefendorf, Amanda 140 Dillon, Ginger 134 Dincler, Kipp 30, 140 Dincler, Kyle 18, 137
Ditto, Pam 147
Dobson, David
Dodd, Andrew
Dorsey, James
Dotson, Jeffrey 146
Dotterer, Jesse
Doty, Carrie 14, 47, 114
Douglas, Vicki 114

Dove, Amanda 140
Downey, Tera 63, 127
Downing, Sarah
Drage, Daniel 44, 53
Dunbar, John 114
Duncan, Lesa 71, 114
Dunham, Erin 134
Dunlap, Eric 21, 140
Dunn, Marie 146
Dunn, Robert
Dunn Peters, Anne
Dunne, Eric 114
Dye, Crystal 140
Dye, Derrick 140
Dyer, Derek 75
Dyer, Kimberly 114
Dymacek, Angela 127, 134

E

Eason, Melissa 146
Easter, Jason 127
Eberle, Deborah Eckman, Erik 64
Eckman, Heather 4, 63, 134
Eckstrom, Annie 81, 140
Edmondson, Katie
Edmondson, Todd 114
Eger, Christopher 34, 134
Eisaman, Hannah 12, 127
Ellis, Carissa 86, 140
Ellis, Kenneth 21, 64, 114
Ellis, Mary 12, 134
Ensminger, Cassandra 140
Epling, Jeremy 83, 127
Evans, Jason 44, 53, 114
Everhart, Jennifer
Ewing, Amy 140

F

Fahrnbach, Kerren 29, 140
Fair, Vilma 146
Farmer, Thomas
Farr, Nicholas
Farris, Anna 4, 63, 134
Farthing, Melissa
Faust, Kristen 127
Fay, Katie 25
Fellers, Angela
Fife, Christianne 140
Figueira, Pedro 64
Fine, Ashley 86
Fistimons, Christina 127
Flanary, Della 146
Fletcher, Chadwick
Flora, Sharla 15, 33, 114
Fisher, Kimberly 140
Folkner, Betty 147
Foltz, Tracy
Fowler, Carla 28, 140
Francis, Bethany 114
Frank, Alesia
French, Michael
Fry, Misty 25, 67, 98, 134
Fukushima, Minoru
Fulcher, Ryan 89
Fuller, Emily 7, 140
Furches, Joel 127

G
Gadsden, Terence 66, 67, 140
Gardenhour, Christopher Gardner, Courtney 134
Garland, Cyndy 134, 147
Garland, Kelli
Garland, Mark
Garling, Alison
Garrison, Chad 128
Gaskins, Leslie 115
Gentry, Melinda 147
Gibbons, David 40, 64, 140
Gibson, Jamie 146
Gibson, Terrica
Gilbert, Carla
Gilbert, Rebecca 71, 134
Gilmer, John 75
Gilmore, Randall
Gilreath Haverty, Terry
Girdwood, Michael 128
Giturwa, Daniel
Gjerde, Tom 83, 84
Gladson, Chris 147
Gonzales, Chesa 19
Goodlet Jr., Thomas 47, 103, 115
Goodpasture, Willard
Gootee, Rebecca 47, 63, 134
Gordinier, Adele 63, 134
Gould, Patrick
Goulds, Gabriel 75
Gover, Brooke 65, 140
Gowan, Kelli 115
Grant, Ellen 140
Greene, Heather
Greene, Melissa 147
Greene, Phillip 134
Greer, Ashley 134
Gregory, April
Griffith, Jessica 63, 140
Grooms, Sarah 71, 115
Gudmestad, Danielle 128
Guest, Kimberly
Guetzloe, Sarah 62, 63, 134
Guimond, Angelia 147
Guinn, Lisa
Gullett, Jared 128
Guyer, Karen 140

H

Hackett, John 134
Hackler, Megan 71, 134
Hagler, Theresa 146
Hall, Allison
Hall, Carrie 140
Hall, Darlene 147
Hall, Walter
Hamby, Autumn 140
Hamilton, Elizabeth
Hamilton, Leslie 115
Hamlin, Jennifer
Hammon, John 95, 140
Hammons, Amanda 72, 140
Hampton, Lonesa
Hanson, Trina
Harbin, Jefferson

Hardin, Patrick 115
Hardison, Jessica 141
Harkleroad, Heather
Harper, Kevin 75
Harr, Jason
Harris, Carmen
Harris, David 30, 141
Harris, James
Harris, Rebecca 141
Hart, Stephanie 21, 128
Harville, Jason 141
Hatcher, Donna
Hatfield, Rachel 109, 141
Hatfield, Sarah 128
Hauck, William 31, 64, 128
Haverty, Terry 146
Havola, Evangeline
Hayes, Adam 64, 141
Haynes, Bethany 21, 67, 134
Hazelwood, Deven 28, 128
Hazelwood, Melonie 128
Hedrick, Jessica 141
Hedyspeth, Elizabeth 115
Heffren, Jaclynn 134
Hefty, Bethany 63, 128
Heim, Michael Heintz, Patrick
Helphinstine, Emily 11, 67, 115
Henderson, Emilyı28
Henderson, Susan 141
Hendrix, Lisa 128
Henriott, Andrea 86, 141
Henry, Deane
Henry, Nathan 141
Hensley, Christina 134
Hensley, Jeremy Hensley, Justin 83
Hensley, Shannon
Hensley, Toney
Henson, Oscar 146
Hermansson, Tim
Hertzog, Russell 27, 115, 122
Heslop, Timothy 115
Hess, Jessica
Hess, Sabrina 115
Hewett, Elizabeth 128, 134
Heyne, Kristin 116
Hicks, John Hicks, Kristie 146
Hill, Roger Hill, Stephen 116
Hilton, David 89, 134
Hinkle, Nicholas 75
Hitchner, Maia 128
Hobbs, Paul 64, 141
Hoese, Terry
Hogshead, Erin 128
Holbrook, Grayson
Holloway, Lindsey 15, 134, 137
Hollowell, Jeremy 89
Holtman, Regina 98, 134
Holyfield, Patricia Homrich, Emily 128
Hooker. Nevan 19, 93, 134
Hopper, Hugh 116
Hopper, Jessica 116

Horjus, Benjamin 141
Horn-Keen, Crystal
Hornsby, Jennie
Hoss, Loren
Housewright, Jason 128
Howard, Andrew 141
Howard, James 75
Howell, Sherry 146
Hubbard, Julie 134
Huddleston, Adrienne
Huff, James
Hufford, Tammy 128
Hughes, Kendra 116
Hugunin, Sarah 141
Hulcher, Amy 63, 135
Hull, Andrew 18, 31, 128
Hull, Michael 141
Humphrey, Cindy 147
Humphreys, Angela 135
Huntsinger, Katie 63
Hurley, Darren 141
Hurley, Dayla 128
Hurt, Thomas 147
Hyder, Cameron
Hyder, Jennifer 67, 116, 141
Hyland, Richard 147
Hynek, Cory 64, 135

I

Irvin, Hollie 116
Isaacs, Melissa 116
Isaacs, William 116

J

Jackson, Amanda
Jacob, Jillian
Jamison, Nicole
Jamison, Wesley
Jenkins, Charles Jenkins, Lesley
Jensen, Carl 147
Jessen, Nicole 63, 128
Johnson, Adam 128
Johnson, Anna 105
Johnson, Tracee 146
Johnston, Aaron 16, 135, 137
Jones, Anthony 141
Jones, Anthony
Jones, Billy 146
Jones, Erin 128
Joseph, Matthew
Joyce, Nikki 147
Juhl, Meggan 141
Jurgens, Elizabeth 135

K

Kain, Randall
Kariuki, Daniel
Kegley, Melissa
Keister, Lauren 86, 135
Kellar, Carrie
Kelly, Patrick
Keralis, George 116, 122
Kerkvliet, Kristin 18, 72, 141
Kershner, Amanda 25, 128
Kidd, De'Marco 93

Kiker, Christy
Kile, Esther 83
King, Ethan
King, Susan 116
King, William 141
Kisner, Tiffany 141
Kite, Valerie 141
Kitts, Kari 141
Kleine, Charles 31, 64, 141
Kleine, Christina 116
Klem, Kerri 128
Kliewer, Jonathan 117
Klinova, Natalya 135
Kneisley, Adam 18, 141
Kneisley, Benjamin 128
Knight, Jeanette 43, 58, 117
Knowles, Rachel 128
Kohlman, Stephen 117
Koone, Cynthia
Koontz, Jeremy Koritz, Karle
Kraft, Krishana 98, 128

L

Lambert, Misty 117
Lane, Janelle 117
Lanning, Heather 71, 141
Lawhon, Casey 63
Laws, Sandra 146
Lawson, Fredna 147
Lawson, Jennifer
Lawson, John 40, 142
Lawson, Randy
Lawton, Kristy
Lawyer, Jennifer 18, 81, 129, 137
Leathers, Dana 142
Lee, Cindy 62, 63
Lee, Jason 135
Leeman, G.
LeHeup, Brian 89, 142
Letendre, Brian 59, 117
Lewis, Christy 142
Lewis, Joshua 142, 145
Lindsay, Jan 147
Linkhart, Rebecca 129
Linn, Scott 129
Lippard, Jared 129
Littell, Aaron 40, 142
Lively, Tara 129
Lloyd, Kathryn 28, 63, 142
Loeser, Dawn 8, 86, 129
Long, Anthony Long, Jeffrey 74, 75
Long, Kristen 63
Long, Travis 146
Lorenz, Melanie 65, 67,98, 122, 142
Louks, Machelle 135
Lovell, Suzanne Loving, Remetha
Luetscher, Emily 63, 64
Lukens, Elizabeth 117
Luttrell, Katharine Lyons,Tina

M

Mabry, Lisa

Mackey, Jason 129
Maddox, Winston Ashley 129
Manak, Pamela-Ann 11, 12, 32, 117
Manam, Ramadevi
Mangrum, Rebecca
Mann, John 117, 122
Mansfield, Joy 117
Manuel, April 72
Marasco, Tara 25, 67, 129
Markland, Richard 89
Marr, Rebecca 117
Marr, Tony 117
Marsh, Stephen
Marti, Diana 81, 135
Martin, Ann
Martin, Gary 147
Martin, Travis
Martino, Marie 142
Mata, Kevin 118
Mathews, Heather 135
Matney, Alison 135
Matney, Melissa 142
Matson, Joy
Mayer, David 135
Maynard, Robert 89
McAmis, Chrystal 146
McCall, Ann 72, 142
McCormick, Debra
McCurry, Rachel 135
McDavid, Anita 146
McDavid, Stephanie 118
McDermott, Donna
McFall, Gregory 142, 144
McGhee, Darcy
McGowan, Doug
McGrain, Miranda 135
McGraw, Angela 12, 67, 142
McGrew, Jamie 12
McInturf, Colleen 129
McKay, Christan 99, 142
McKinney, Christy
McMahan, Daniel 135
McMurray, Brad 146
McNett, Adam
McRae, Erin 5, 105, 129
McWilliams, Rachel 129
Meade, Aliesa
Medlin, Christina 70, 71, 142
Mefford, Joseph
Meier, Robert 15, 128
Meredith, Andrew 89
Messina, Catherine
Micheo, Josejuan 64, 84, 118
Milano, Mara 32, 118
Miller, David 15, 44, 52
Miller, Layla 135
Miller, Rachel 2, 118, 122
Milligan, Cathryn 118 Million, Marci
Minani, Marie 118
Mitchell, Ryan 8, 126
Mitchell, Sean 118, 129
Mitchum, Stephanie 11, 98, 118
Mitchum, Travis 89, 135
Mohler, Erin 142
Monroe, Daniel 142

Montgomery, Andrew
Moody, Amy 21, 72, 129
Morrison, Portia 135
Morton, Timothy 21, 135
Moseley, Monica
Moulder, Nathan Moya, Amelia
Mullings, Randal 118
Mullins, Joseph 142
Munsey, Joshua
Murray, Mary 142
Myers, Laurel 11, 32, 118

N

Nairne, Trevin 64
Nave, Daniel
Nelson, Benjamin 64
Nelson, Zachary119
Nice, Katherine 142
Nickels, Johnathan
Nix, Joe 89
Norman, Monnica 129
Nunley, Heather

0

Ogg, Catherine
O'Keefe, Holly 15, 142
Omagbemi, Florence 63
Onyango, Donald 64, 119
Orender, Susan
Orr, Krista
Orrell, Meredith 129
Osbourne, Mason 142
Owston, Timothy

$\mathbf{P}$

Parker, Drane 31, 135
Parsons, Candice
Pas, Gregory 119
Patrick, Evan 60, 89, 142
Patrick, Sarah 3, 135
Patterson, Donna
Patton, Ryan 3, 31, 64, 142
Paul, Christina 25, 129
Payne, Nikki
Payton, Jason 119
Peal, Robert
Pearson, Elizabeth 142
Pelton, Nathanael 135
Peppers, Nicky
Perkins, Cynthia
Peters, Richard 147
Peterson, Jennifer 135
Pettit, Kent 135
Pfeifer, Mandy
Phillippe, Crystal
Phillips, Bobby 89, 129
Pierce, Emily
Pierce, Philip
Pohl, Kathleen 21, 47, 63, 142
Poling, Nathaniel 142
Polk, Dempsey 64, 129
Poole, Sara
Poore, Spring 146
Poorman, Kevin 135
Poparad, Monica 63

Porter, Joshua 89
Posey, Renee 71, 81, 135
Potter, Melissa 72, 135
Potter, Susan
Powell, Jonathan 93, 135
Powers, Melissa
Prather, Heather
Preston, Melissa
Price, Jonah 89
Price-Schmidt, Abbie 135
Prichard, Suzanne 119

R

Rainey, James 129
Ramos, Melissa
Ramsey, Joshua 89
Raper, Robin
Rappe, Aislynn 129
Ratliff, Cheryl 146
Ratliff, William 75
Reagan, Laura 7, 142
Reaves, Tana 119
Rector, Kelly
Reed, Jason 142
Reed, Jordan
Reed, Kevin
Reed, Kristofer
Reed, Melanie 71, 142
Rettig, Ann 129
Reynolds, Thomas 129
Rhea, John 89
Rice, John 89
Rice, Witney 119
Rich, Jennifer
Richards, Jeremiah 3, 64, 136
Richards, Rebecca 147
Richardson, Anthony
Richie, Joshua 89
Riddle, Richard
Ritchey, Dorothy 81
Ritter, Gregory 103
Robb, Patricia 72, 143
Robbins, Faith 143
Robinette, Quentin 147
Robinson, Amy 119
Robinson, Christina 143
Robinson, Selena 143
Roehrig, Megan
Rogers, Sadie 129
Rolape, Kristie 1, 43, 44, 52, 119, 112
Rollins, Amy
Roman, Camelia 129
Ronallo, Justin Rose, Frances 143
Rose, Kristi 86, 119
Ross, Elizabeth 143, 144
Rouse, Whayne 67
Routzahn, Shannon 12, 33, 119
Ruble, Amanda 143
Ruby, Rebecca 16, 71, 136
Russell, Jeremy 44, 75, 120, 129
Rutherford, Joseph 147
Rutledge, Philip 27, 129
Ryans, Dawn 146
Ryans, Justin

S

Sackett, John Samaritoni, Adam 143
Sample, Tiffany 143
Sams, Kelli 129
Sanchez, Victor 64
Sarver, John 146
Scates, Heather 126
Schlenk, Doris Schmitz, Siena 11, 120
Schneider, Elizabeth 57
Schneider, James 75, 143
Schulte, Marilyn 120
Schulze, Belinda 143
Schweizer, Jillian 63
Seay, Jo 120
Sells, Becky 72, 120
Sexton, Stephen
Shannon, Rachel 130
Sharpe, Derek 21, 64, 130
Sharpe, Stephen 31, 64, 130
Shealy, Stephen 89
Shell, Chandrea 146
Shelton, Kimberly
Shepherd, Gina 147
Shepherd, Matthew Shepherd, Natalie Sherwood, Keri 12, 120
Shoemaker, Jared
Shoffner, Wendy Short, Daniel
Shrader, Harlie 89
Shuffler, Lanna
Siber, Courtney 28, 63
Sidell, Sarah 136
Siebe, Denise 120
Siebe, Jonathon 120
Siegele, Nathan 136
Simmons, Matthew 89
Simpson, Kristen 120
Sizemore, Angela
Small, Sarah 136
Smalley, Kristin 136
Smith, Brandon
Smith, Charles
Smith, Karen 120
Smith, Karrie
Smith, Shane 44, 121
Soendlin, Robin 11, 121
Soucie, Jennifer 29, 35, 143
Speak, Kristen 109, 143
Spradling, Jason 89
Stacks, Molly 71, 130
Staggs, Thomas 143
Stallard, Sandra
Starr, Ryan 40, 66, 67, 143
Steele, Sarah 86
Steever, Courtney 121
Steffey, Stanton 147
Stewart, Amy 121
Stewart, Blake
Stinson, Devon 143
Stipe, Rodrick
Stokes, Kathryn 121
Stoots, Andrew 136
Stout, Carrie

Stout-Reed, Alicia Street, Jennifer Street, Liza
Strobl, Benjamin 143, 144
Strong-Fellers, Jeannie 147
Sullivan, Christopher 143
Sutton, Laura 130
Swanson, Anne 130
Swartz, Megan Sweeney, Justin Sweeney, Patrick 64, 130
Swiney, Benjamin

T

Taber, Jennifer 7, 130
Taber, Stephanie 7, 130
Talty, Brian 143
Tatum, Benjamin
Tatum, Molly42, 48, 136
Taylor, Bart 143
Taylor, Jason
Taylor, Jennifer
Taylor, Rebecca Telles, Dalan 64, 136
Tencza, Kenneth 143
Testa, Jennifer 67,136
Thomas, Aaron 89
Thomas, Jennifer 67, 136
Thomas, Matthew 64
Thompson, Karen 5, 83, 121, 122
Thompson, Michael Thornton, Brady121
Tilley, Rebekah 109, 121
Timbrook, Sarah 67, 136
Tomeo, Christopher
Trivett, Jenny
Trivett, Matthew 31, 89, 130
Trogden, Adrianne
Trompower, Jennifer 86, 143
Trowbridge, Katherine 143
Troyer, Stephanie 143
Tule, Nicholas 110, 121
Turner, Angela
Tweed, Harriet 130
Tybor, Stephanie

U

Ulm, Josh 143
Underwood, Amanda
Utley, Teresa

V

Vaughn, Sherielyn
Verigan, Robert 89
Verwys, Myca 121
Vestal, Donita 147
Voelz, Richard 130, 136

W

Wagner, Douglas Wagner, Tammy
Walker, Jeremy 136
Walker, Stacey
Wallace, Juli
Walton, Paulette
Ward, Susan

Ward, Tanya
Warfield, Bradley 121, 106
Warren, Dawn 147
Waters, Virginia 3, 143, 144
Watkins, Kimberly
Weaver, John
Weaver, Wendy 7, 21, 143
Webb, Corey 130
Webb, Lauren 143
Weeks, Eryn 136
Weir, David 135
Welch, Allyn 34, 143
Wells, Gina 24, 130
Werking, Katie 130
Westerman, Joseph 83, 144
Whetsell, William Whetzel, Sarah 136
Whitaker, Jerry White, Brenda White, Rachel 130
White, Sara 32, 121
Whitmarsh, Jennifer
Wilcox, Sheri 136
Wiles V, Thomas 34, 136
Williams, Dustin
Williams, Heather
Williams, Jennifer 43
Williams, Mary
Williams, Paulette
Williams, Philip 2, 110, 122
Wilmoth, Mekey 130
Wirt, William 147
Wise, Karen
Witcher, Karri 122
Woods, Sheila 146
Woody, Salem 63, 136
Worrell, Leah 43
Wright, Byron 122
Wright, Susie 146
Wyse, Erica 130
Wyse, Megan 144

Y

Yancey, Shara 144
Yasko, Tommy Ybarra, Amber 136
Yeary, Tammy Yeatts, Rachel Yonkey, Erica 99, 144
Young, Heather 121

Z

Zachritz, Bradford 89
Zimmerman, Joselyn 21
Zimmerman, Luke 3, 64, 144

Standing tall near the entrance to Milligan, the Milligan College sign is a reminder of the spirit of the school. For some it stood for leaving home and being on their own, for others it was a good education, and for others it meant a chance to do God's work with godly people.

Listening to the music at SUB 7, freshmen Melanie Banta, Andrea Cooper, and Emily Fuller drink coffee and enjoy the new taste of college life. The community feeling brought about by events such as SUB 7 helped make Milligan a united body.

Pausing for a moment of reflection on the beach in Greece, members of the 1999 Humanities Tour enjoy a moment of peace out of their busy schedule. Many students chose to pack up their bags and a good attitude to experience the culture they had read about in their Humanities courses.

spirit of a college

Showing support for the Buffs basketball teams, rowdy fans shout and cheer in the stands. Throughout the year which was complete with controversy and community spirit, new faces and new ideas, the sense of Milligan College spirit endured. The college may have had A New Look, but the Christian values behind the institution remained constant. Seniors moved on to new ventures while underclassmen found their place on campus. The 1999-2000 school year truly proved to be a year to remember.

Colophon

The 2000 BUFFALO was published by the BUFFALO Yearbook Staff at Milligan College in Milligan College, Tennessee and printed by Herff Jones Yearbooks in Montgomery, Alabama. Press run was 750 copies.

The cover featured a black matte base material with black silkscreen and a silver foil applied. The theme, "A New Look" was chosen by the staff after much consideration. Endsheets were designed using black ink on a white VibraColor stock. An 80 lb. Bordeaux Special gloss paper stock was used throughout the book. A Georgia font was selected for body copy and captions used Arial. Headline fonts and point sizes varied from section to section.

OFFICE REF LD3311.A47
M5627
Milligan College
Buffalo
Milligan College.
P.H. WELSHIMER MEMORIAL LIBRARY milligan college, TN

