

The Simple Art

R

I met a jolly chap to-day
As I came down the Great Highway.
He had a pack upon his back
That almost blocked the road.
Yet on he came beneath his load
Singing a roundelay.
"Aha!" I mused, "some peddler, he,
I wonder what his wares can be?"
As though he read my thoughts he stopped,
Left off his song, looked up and dropped
His pack, and thus saluted me:
"Now let us see," he said, said he,
"If you remember me."
His beard was like the polar snow,
His cheeks were ruddy as the glow
Of sunset in a winter sky.
At first I knew not what to say.
I looked him somewhere in the face,
I looked him in the eye,
Until there came the vaguest trace,
And then the perfect memory
Of fifty years ago to-day:
An old man and a tiny boy,
A tin horn and unbounded Joy!
But still it was beyond my ken
That he seemed younger now than then
By half a century.
"Your secret, Santa Clause," cried I;
"How do you Father Time defy?"
He laughed outright, "The Simple Art
OF KEEPING

CHRISTMAS IN THE HEART."

As I came down the Great Highway
I met the same old chap to-day
Who carries in his giant pack
Enough to break a Titan's back.
Yet on he strode beneath his load,
Singing his roundelay.
Now I declare I think his hair
Was whiter than a polar bear,
And yet his voice and what he sung
Were proof that Santa Claus was young.
I hailed him, "I demand the truth,—
Your secret of eternal youth."
"I told you once,— 'The Simple Art
Of keeping Christmas in the heart
'But Santa Clause, will you explain
Just how I can this art attain?"
"By trusting much to faith and love,
Believing, though you can not prove:
By giving more than you receive,

Mrs. Derthick's Letter To Local Alumni

R

My dear Former Student:

"Lo! Now is come our joyfulst feast
Let every man be jolly
Each room with ivy leaves is drest
And every post with holly
Now all the neighbors' chimneys smoke
As Christmas clocks are burning
Their ovens they with bak't meats choke
And all the spits are turning."

The thrill of Christmas is in the air; the jingle of the sleigh bells, the tread of the reindeer, the overflowing sleigh, all suggest that it is time to hang our stockings in the chimney corner. We have decided to put a Christmas dinner in yours, Friday night, December 16th, at 6:30 P. M. Dress in your "best bib and tucker". Bring your best disposition, your cheeriest smile, and enthusiasm for your Alma Mater and your college brothers and sisters. Bring your "better half", if you are fortunate enough to have one, (but leave your "filthy lucre" at home.)

It is to be a family affair, a reunion for former students and members of the alumni in this section. Set aside every other obligation or appointment. Call back old times. Re-live old scenes. Where better to do this than in Milligan college dining room in which memories of the past are imbedded in its walls, awaiting only such an occasion as this to come forth. Let's take every opportunity for mutual enjoyment, binding ourselves by closer ties of fellowship.

We are proud of our college sons and daughters and look forward to many parties and reunions together. We have common interests, common tastes and common faith. We hope to make this a real home coming. We have no business to transact. The gathering will be social in its nature with the thought only of planning for a larger and greater Milligan as the years go by. Those of you who have dined with us before know that the pieces of turkey will be counted, hence, be sure to let us know to save one for you. Place cards will be provided so that no one who has made reservation will be overlooked.

"At Christmas play and make good cheer
For Christmas comes but once a year."

Trusting that Dasher and Dancer, Prancer and Vixen, Comet and Cupid, Donner and Blitzen may bring their jovial driver safely to your chimney top and that he may be in a generous mood as he fills your stocking to overflowing, not only with gifts that represent silver and gold, but also with peace, happiness, good will and a desire to accept our dinner invitation, we are, with happy holiday greetings,

Cordially yours,
Mrs. H. J. Derthick

Alumni Dinners

Elsewhere in this edition will be found a letter written by Mrs. Derthick and addressed to all local alumni and their wives.

This is the second one of such meetings and we are glad to note that more of our alumni are becoming "Milligan Minded".

It is to be plainly understood that none of these meetings are being held for the purpose of seeking, begging or hinting for money. If by such meetings we can awaken old memories, and develop a wholesome fraternal spirit among the alumni we shall proclaim them a success.

We hope that the Alumni of Milligan College in every community will hold a dinner meet at least once each year. We shall be pleased to hear of any such meetings and we assure you that some representative of Milligan College will be present to bring you the greeting of your Alma Mater.

We wish that it were possible to bring the news of all meetings to the attention of our alumni everywhere. In September of this year we mailed more than six hundred copies of the Range and Stampede to alumni and former students. Out of this number seventy six subscriptions were received, a rather small per cent you see, receive the alumni news. To those who have subscribed we are pleased to announce that your paper will be mailed promptly each month. we shall be pleased to have any suggestions which you have to offer for publication in the Range.

In one of the issues during this year we shall list the name, address, and occupation of each graduate who returns the questionnaire which we sent out last year.

This will be an interesting and valuable number of the Range to keep for your personal use and satisfaction.

We have mailed the second questionnaire to all who did not return the first one. Many have failed to answer either of the letters, so it will be impossible to give a complete directory of the alumni.

Dear Mr. Long:

I only received one blank to fill in for the Alumni Association. I suppose it was because of a mistake in the address that I did not receive the other one.

I appreciate the football schedule and sticker even though I am not interested in football.

I shall be very glad to receive the first edition of the Alumni paper.

President Derthick Returns From Extensive Trip

President H. J. Derthick left Milligan College Friday, November 4, on a quite lengthy trip on which he was gone ten days. The first stop the President made on his trip was in Gate City, Virginia where he addressed a convention of around four hundred teachers from southwestern Virginia. The President, who spoke on the subject, "I Magnify my Office", says: "I was conscious of the fact that I was standing before the consecrated leadership of social, civic, and home life of all the people of that section." President Derthick says of Mr. L. F. Addington, principle of the high school in Wise, Virginia and president of the Conference: "He is a great friend of Milligan College as are all principals and leading teachers of southwestern Virginia. Milligan is proud of the fact that she has about forty-five students from this section."

From Gate City the president motored to Chattanooga where he called upon several very intimate friends and from here he continued to Fayetteville, Tennessee. In Fayetteville he met Miss Nancy Cantrell, the attractive and accomplished field representative of Milligan College. After turning the car over to her for her use in her search for prospective students of the best talent and finest character for the college, the president proceeded to Pulaski, from which he took the train for Louisville.

After interviewing a few friends of the college at Louisville, the president pushed on to Redington, Indiana, the home of Dorothy and Edwin Fox. Visiting their parents, President Derthick "found a most cordial welcome and a delightful christian home." "Out of such homes as that of Mr. and Mrs. Fox", the president declared, "We find the consecrated leadership for church and school life." In Redington the president also had the pleasure of preaching in the church of which Mr. Walter Carpenter, Jr. is pastor.

Leaving Redington, President Derthick proceeded to Chicago where he was greatly sorrowed to hear of the death of Mrs. Fred A. Poor. "Milligan College has suffered a distinct loss" he said, for although Mrs. Poor had never had the pleasure of visiting us, she loved the college." After seeing a number of friends in Chicago, the president took the train for Toledo, where he interviewed Mr. John Biggers president of the Libby-Owen-Ford Glassworks, one of the largest factories in the world.

From Toledo President Derthick went to Detroit for an interview with Mr. H. B. Earhart, Chairman of the Milligan College Advisory Council of Detroit. "Mr. Earhart is a great hearted philanthropist," said the president. "Few friends are as vitally interested in the welfare of the college as he is." In Detroit he also called upon Mr. S. F. Crapo, another generous friend of Milligan, who plans to visit the college in December just before the holidays. One of the disappointments, however, of his trip to Detroit was the fact that Dr. James S. Thomas could not meet with him as had been originally planned. Dr. Thomas, who is described by the President as one of the "most versatile and interesting speakers in America", will deliver three addresses at Milligan the week-end of December 3. While in Detroit, the President also called upon Mr. J. B. Schlottman, another generous friend of the college.

The next stop in the President's search of new friends for Milligan College was Cleveland. From here he went to Alliance, Ohio, where he delivered a message in response to the request of Dr. McCallom, the pastor of the Christian Church there. President Derthick found the organization of the services here very interesting, there being a separate preaching service and Sunday School for adults, young people, and children under the age of sixteen.

From here he went to Canton, Ohio where he visited Dr. Welshimer, the father of Miss

Bits of Milligan History

The old Buffalo Institute was chartered December 10, 1866. That such an institution existed prior to that date is conclusively proved by old receipts which have recently been found among the papers of Mrs. McCowan of Johnson City.

A copy of the receipt is as follows:

George Taylor Williams,
Tuition	$7.50
Rhode J. Williams,
Tuition	$7.50
Ida Anderson,
Tuition	$3.50
Total	$18.50

Received of G. D. and S. W. Williams:

9 bu. oats at .50	$4.50
Cash	$1.37

Total $5.87

Tuition fees in full $18.50

Less credit $5.87

Balance to be paid $12 67

W. G. Barker.

The date of May 28, 1866 is evidence that such an institution existed before the granting of a charter. Since the receipt was dated in May 1866 for tuition for that year, it is very likely that the school was in existence during the school year 1865-66.

Christian Education, Hope of World

Helen Welshimer, the well known author and speaker. Dr. Welshimer, who has very strong ties binding him to Milligan College, since he and President Derthick were classmates and graduated together, is the pastor of the First Christian Church of Canton. This church has the largest Sunday School class in the world.

On Monday morning, after two or three important calls, President Derthick turned his steps toward home, arriving at Milligan College on Tuesday, November 12.

 Forgiving base ingratitude,
 The insult and the angry mood,—
 Forgetting all the hurt and wrong."
 And then he raised his blithesome song,

 How can one practice such an art?"
 His mellow voice was trembling now,
 "By keeping Christmas in the heart!"

students all the day.

11. What kind of a looking place is Milligan.

When you get off at the little station in the woods, nearly three-fourths of a mile from the College, it is a bleak prospect. But come up Buffalo Creek and stand on the College hill, look up the valley on to the mountains and the scene is beautiful--always to be remembered. The College building and the Girls' Home are both on this hill.

12. How do you come to Milligan?

Come to Bristol from the east, to Morristown from the south or west, thence from each place to Johnson City, thence on the Narrow Gauge three and one-third miles to Milligan. By notifying us you can be met at Johnson City.

13. Do young men have any sports?

They have excellent grounds for baseball and other games, but they do not play football.

14. What else?

They have mountains to climb, caves to explore, gorges to see, whirling gliding water courses to follow; and all nature declares the place healthful and beautiful.

15. How are new students received?

With the kindness of well-bred people from the first, by both teachers and older students.

16. To whom shall I go when I arrive there?

Always go direct to the President of the school or to one of the Faculty. It is the business, duty, and pleasure of the teachers to help students in selecting studies, homes and associates.
