Miss Dimple Hart Sees Passion Play

Miss Dimple Hart, instructor in expression and Dramatic Art at Milligan College had the rare opportunity of seeing the historic Passion Play at Oberammergau during her travels last summer. She sailed on the S. S. Homeric from New York, July the third, and reached Cherbourg, France, July the tenth. While abroad she toured the following countries: France, Italy, Morocco, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland and England.

Dr. Escher is American Representative of Modern Language Association

Dr. Escher, professor of modern language was sent to Europe as delegate of the Modern Language Association of America. He attended a meeting of the German Philologists in Breslau, Silesia. In Paris he did some research work in libraries. While in Germany he went to Bayreuth to hear the Wagner Festival; to Munich to attend opera and plays of Schiller; and to Oberammergau to see the Passion Play. He visited relatives in Vienna, Austria; Iriesto, Italy; and Zurich, Switzerland.

President and Mrs. Derthick Make Second Tour of Europe

President and Mrs. Derthick made their second tour of Europe this past summer. They visited several European Universities. They were in Paris, France; Canterbury and Cambridge, England; and Munich and Oberammergau, Germany. They saw the Passion Play at Oberammergau.

Prof. Eyler Does Research Abroad

Professor Eyler has been away from the Milligan campus for the past year doing research work. His study was carried on in the Public Records Office and the British Museum in London and at the London Museum, and Victoria and Albert Museum where he had resource to the Dyce Collection. An interesting phase of his London work was conferences with Professor Allardyce Nicoll of the London University. Cambridge and Oxford Universities furnished excellent opportunities for study. Prof. Eyler did a great deal of his research work in the famous Bodleian Library at Oxford.

Before returning to America Professor and Mrs. Eyler traveled through England, Scotland, France, Switzerland and Italy and spent a short while in Germany.

ALMA MATER

In Tennessee's fair eastern mountains,
Reared against the sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater
As the years go by.

Forward ever be our watchword,
Conquer and prevail,
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Milligan, all hail.

Cherished by her sons and daughters,
Memories sweet shall throng
'Round our hearts, our Alma Mater,
As we sing this song.

Forward ever be our watchword,
Conquer and prevail,
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Milligan, all hail.

Convocation Service

The annual Convocation Service was held Sunday, September 14 in the College Chapel. All of the students and members of the faculty, as well as many of the college friends, came together to worship at this service. President Derthick, in keeping with his custom of previous years, delivered the sermon.

President Derthick was unusually forceful in his inspiring message. Throughout the sermon he emphasized the importance and need of the Church. He pointed out that the purpose of a Christian College is to train and prepare youth for service in a world which recognizes that mere wisdom, skill or ability is insufficient without the spirit of Christ.

The boys elected the following members of the Student Council: Senior members, Steve Lacey, President, Don Emerson, Sec'y, and Chester Brown; Junior members, John Dillon and Charles Starnes; Sophomore member, Bernard Randolph. This Council serves as a medium through which adjustments may be made between the students and the faculty. The Student Council wishes that all boys feel free to bring it their problems and assures them its earnest and sincere cooperation.

On Tuesday, September 30th, Dean and Mrs. Burns entertained the members of the Student Council at a dinner given at their home. The Council wishes publicly to thank Dean and Mrs. Burns for their kind and courteous reception.

The Outlook For The Coming Year

We have just returned from a flying visit to our many friends, who have through the years stood by us so loyally with their counsel and their money. We find all ready to begin the new year with added interest and enthusiasm, and even though the business depression has greatly affected their financial interests, they are unwilling to retrench but urge advancement.

The future looks brighter than ever. The Treasurer's report always shows a small balance at the close of each year. The student body is increasing in number, and at the same time we are maintaining the same high level of moral, intellectual and spiritual life.

Milligan students have always made good. They are filling places of responsibility in the pulpit, in the school room, in business, and thus have greatly enriched the spiritual, academic and business life of nearly every state in the nation.

Both faculty and students are ready to meet the friends of Milligan College, ready to match their devotion and sacrifice with an increased faithfulness and effort towards attaining the highest ideals of spiritual and intellectual development. We are a united family with one great common interest, the interest of the Kingdom of our God, and one great common purpose, the purpose to enrich every phase of the world's life. We are pledging each other to spend and be spent for God and the human race.

—President Derthick.

Prospects For Most Successful Year

Milligan College began her fiftieth year on Tuesday, September 9th. The doors opened to the largest student body that has ever been enrolled at Milligan College. All available dormitory space was taken immediately and it was necessary for some of the students to make arrangements for rooming in the village homes.

This year promises to exceed in every respect work done in previous years. The students are seriously endeavoring to do commendable work and are exerting every effort to make their college experience worthwhile. The faculty is seeking to give the highest type of service to the students and is pledging its most loyal support to the administration.

The already efficient faculty has been very much strengthened by the addition of Dr. J. H. Edds, Professor of Psychology; Dr. W. M. McCall, Professor of Education; Mrs. Schoenberg, Assistant in German and Instructor in Voice; and Miss Edith Adams, Secretary to the President.

Faculty Reception

The Faculty Reception to the students and friends of the college was held on Friday night, September 12th. It was largely attended by the students, alumni and friends of Milligan College.

Milligan To Have a Band

Perhaps the newest organization on the Hill is that of the band. There has been some discussion of the possibilities for such an organization for quite a while and one day last week it began to result in a definite form. About twenty musicians met to see what could be effected. On Monday, September 22, the first practice was held. Out of the discord could be heard sounds foretelling a real band in the near future.

A band is needed to add pep and variety to the various college programs and activities. First in order of appearance is the football schedule. With some live martial music encouraging their efforts our football team should make a few extra touchdowns. Besides seeing our team fight its way to victory on the football field, what could be more thrilling than the rousing music of a lively band? Should it ever be possible for the school spirit and enthusiasm of Milligan to flicker, a good band would surely fan the sparks into flame again. We need it! We have it! Let's boost the band!

The Stampede Solicits Your Aid

The Staff of The Stampede is beginning this fall a work which, it is hoped, will prove a helpful element in the life of Milligan College. A newspaper on the campus is not a new thing, but it has been some time since there has been a regular news publication. We plan to make the resurrected STAMPEDE greater than it has ever been, but we cannot accomplish this purpose without the help of the students.

One thing that each of you can do is to give the paper your moral support. Talk it, back it, read it, spread it, buy it.

A greater help will be the contribution of news items, articles of all kinds, suggestions for improvements and helpful criticisms. We want this paper to belong to the students. We are merely the megaphone through which you are to broadcast your opinions and the college news. In order to help you do this we are placing a box in the Administration Building where you may place any opinions or news. The staff will consider carefully every contribution.

THE STAMPEDE is the mouthpiece for every person at Milligan College.

The Buffalo A Reality

A great many things often happen in one week. This has been proved at Milligan recently. For instance, not so long ago, we, the students of Milligan College, decided that because of the business depression we could not afford to have an annual this year. We felt that we could not pay the price. Exactly one week later we decided that we could not give up our "Buffalo"; that we must pay the price. Now, what happened in that space of seven days? Did business improve? Did the cost of publishing decrease? No; it was simply this: the school spirit was aroused; more work was done; one hundred and thirty under-graduates obligated themselves to buy a copy of our annual publication. To the under-graduates we offer congratulations. Unusual credit is due the class of '31 for bringing success out of impossibility. The Stampede staff is at their service and extends heartiest wishes for the best Buffalo in history.

Milligan The Beautiful

For years Milligan College has been called "Milligan the Beautiful" but never before has this title been so fitting as now. An untiring hand has been making the dream of a beautiful Milligan come true. Clay banks have been converted into flower beds; swamps have been turned into lily pools. No part of the campus has been neglected. Everywhere there are rhododendron, laurel, flowering peach, crepe myrtle, flaming azalea, dogwood, red-bud, abelia, hydrangea, clematis, spirea, holly, barberry, and indian current. There are many evergreens of various types and literally hundreds of roses. These flowers and shrubs are overshadowed by the stately old trees planted by students of former years. Milligan is a garden of flowers. The beauty of the place fills and thrills those who pass by. The words of the poet are indeed applicable: "A thing of beauty is a joy forever; its loveliness increases—it will never fade into nothingness." "Milligan the Beautiful" leaves upon the soul of everyone an impress that will last forever.

An Appreciation

Milligan College can never forget Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hardin, who for years labored together in much sacrifice of time and money for the welfare of the College. On many occasions, the College has expressed as much as words can express her debt to Mr. Hardin, who during the most trying years in the College's history, devoted time, energy and money that she might live, and give to worthy young men and young women the opportunity of a Christian education.

Since the home-going of Mr. Hardin, Mrs. Hardin has continued her loyalty and helpfulness. She took his place as a member of the Board of Trustees, often visited the College, encouraged students and faculty, and in every possible way advanced the interests of Christian education at Milligan. Her home-going last July has been a distinct loss to Milligan College. The Trustees, faculty and students will greatly miss her presence and her counsel. Milligan was a part of her life. Next to her home, family, and Church, Milligan occupied the largest place in her heart.

She was unable to overcome the great sorrow and the loss of her husband and ever looked forward to the time of reunion. Her love for Milligan and her interest in every activity will always be remembered.

The Faculty and students of Milligan College wish to express to her immediate family their sincere sympathy and say that the memory of both Mr. and Mrs. Hardin will always be cherished and deep gratitude be felt for their many deeds of sacrifice and devotion.

The entire student body of Milligan grieves at the death of Martin L. Pierce, Jr., on July 14th. Martin lived on this classic hill for four years, graduating with the class of '30 and he really lived here for Martin studied, played and courted in true Milligan style. As our cheer-leader last year he could not be excelled. Martin was a popular man on the campus. The Milligan friends and acquaintances of Martin extend their sympathy to his beloved ones, his mother, his father, his brother and his wife—our Helen—and pay a tribute to him who was such a live personality at Milligan.

Campus News

Mr. J. C. Penney and his sister-in-law, Miss Olga W. Authenrieth, spent the closing week of August with President Derthick. During the week Mr. Penney and President Derthick visited many of the mountain homes.

Mr. Basil Holt, an evangelist from South Africa, who is holding a revival meeting at the First Christian Church in Johnson City, came out to chapel and brought a very interesting message.

Many of the old students have been back for a visit at their college home: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rustemeyer, Miss Maggie Lollis, Miss Lanta Strunk, Miss Hazel Lusk, Miss Bernice Farmer, Miss Ruth Hyder and Mr. David Wheeler.

We were all delighted to have "Auntie Cosby" with us for several days.

Dean Burns had as his guests his sister, Mrs. Buchheim, from Sante

Anna, California, her husband and grandchild, little Billy.

Miss Nancy Cantrell, our field representative, is spending the opening weeks at Milligan helping the new girls to get acquainted.

College Students

Attend Revival At 1st Christian Church

The Milligan student body recently had the pleasure of attending the revival meeting which is being held at the First Christian Church in Johnson City. Mr. Basil Holt, a noted evangelist from South Africa, has charge of the meeting. He is being assisted by the Payne Sisters.

The student body very much appreciated the courtesy of the members of this church in sending out cars for transportation to the service.

Who's Who In

The Senior Class

In introducing the senior class of Milligan to the students, it seems best that we present in the first group the female of the species, since woman has come last ever since Adam fell asleep on that memorable day some ten thousands of years ago back in that beauty spot of ancient times, namely, the Garden of Eden.

There are several additions to our class of last year. Pauline Williams has returned to spread her sunshine and happiness around the campus.

Thelma Fogleman has also joined the classmates of her freshman year, and will no doubt use her talents along the musical line to make a more unified Milligan Spirit.

One of those of last year's Junior class who possesses the long sought for dignity of a senior, even though she does not show it, is Edith Woodard, swimming instructor and girls' life saver.

Of course we all know Newell Freeman because of her steady ways and dependability.

Galilee Phelps has joined the ranks of the seniors and will also be bidding farewell to Milligan at the end of this year.

Next let us introduce Hazel Nichols of whom it has been fitly said, "She adds beauty and gaiety to make Milligan a more attractive place."

We must not forget Carrie Dishner, known for her helpful and dependable work for Mrs. Derthick.

Irene Pace is only half here in spirit because of the absence of one stellar ex-Milligan athlete.

Then there is Charlotte Watson, a sassy miss from the wilds of Middle Tennessee.

Chastine Kirby contributes to Milligan's hope for a truly educated person, while Anna Ruth Honeycutt finds most of her happiness specializing in conference and bowling.

Finally, we present Irene Elder and Hazel Tallent, twins by choice and workers by nature. Here we have assembled beauty, brains, nonsense and a large desire for comradeship, truly a marvelous combination.

Now that we have come to the boys in the senior class, it has been suggested that we stop writing immediately, leaving the reputation of the class unspotted and without blemish. But for fear we might step on someone's toes and cause a few sore heads, we will give the boys a break this time and just mention them.

First of all we will recognize the clergy in its representative, Richard Gear, who has been hanging around conference lately hoping that his present business depression will soon be a thing of the past.

Speaking in this line reminds us that we have W. C. Hale, Roy Irvin, and Charles Rees in our midst, busily peddling Dan Cupid's wares. Here's hoping they don't meet any sales resistance.

Chet Brown, that meek little fellow from Euchee, next draws our attention and will continue to draw it on the football field this year.

Howard McCorkle and Bill Bowman are next in line, and they too will be seen in action under the floodlights of Anglin Field this season for the last time.

Don Emerson (you will recognize him by his melodious soprano voice) is our vice-president, and it is needless to say that we would be much poorer without his wit and humor.

Speaking of voices reminds us that we have a potential opera singer in our midst, none other than Fordtown's favorite son, Steve Lacy.

That huge hulk of a man with "flighty" ideas is none other than Bob Adkisson whose heaven consists of a land full of airplanes, bugs, and baked beans—and a fireside at conference.

Out of the west comes young Loch-invor in the "heartless" person of Jordan Crouch and good authorities in-

Buffaloes Defeat Tenn. Wesleyan 19-7

Prospects For Successful Football Season

On a sunny September afternoon, Coach J. G. McMurray issued his first call for candidates for the 1930 Buffalo Team. Forty men reported, of whom fifteen were members of last year's conference championship eleven. With these experienced players as a nucleus, Coach McMurray expects to build up another great team.

On the whole, the prospects of another great team are very bright indeed. Milligan's three All Conference men, Ex-Capt. Chet Brown, Bill Bowman, and Lew Taylor, are in the best of condition and will be main stays in the line and the backfield. The other members of last year's grid machine are sure to give an account of themselves ere the Turkey Day fray at Tusculum is ended.

The Milligan Buffaloes should have the best backfield of any college in the conference as it remains intact from last year. The return of Campbell makes it even stronger. The following men compose the backfield: Taylor and H. Millsaps, fullbacks; Capt. Irvin, Campbell, Milhorn, McCorkle, C. Millsaps, and Gouge, halfbacks; and Edwards and Baker, quarterbacks. Of the new men in the backfield, Culvahouse seems outstanding.

In the line, every position is filled except the one at center. Snodgrass and Stanfield did not return and thus that place is vacant. Coach McMurray has shifted Solomon from guard to center and it seems that he has made a very wise selection because Solomon is going good at his new position. Kilday and Williams will act as reserve centers. There are numerous candidates out for the two guard positions. Lacy, B. Thompson, and Lollis are looking good, and of the new men, M. Thompson and Harrison will get in some games before the season is finished. Chet and Frank Brown will hold down the tackle berths in their usual efficient way. McMurray will hold Randolph, Roark, Trantum, and Sexton in reserve. Bill Bowman, Morley, Stewart, Lane and Gilley should be able to take care of the outposts in a very capable fashion. Those men not mentioned will form a reserve strength that will be valuable to the team and to the Buffalo team in years to come. It is truly said that no team is stronger than its reserve strength.

Coach J. G. McMurray, former Maryville star, begins his second year as the Buffalo Mentor. Last year, his first year as a college coach, he tutored the Buffaloes to their first Smoky Mountain Conference Championship. He has brought Milligan athletics to a high plane of sportsmanship of which Milligan is justly proud. He is a true Christian gentleman and Milligan is very fortunate in having such a leader of men at the head of her athletic department.

When a man was elected to lead the Buffaloes a better man could not have been selected than Capt. Elect Roy Irvin. He is one of the best halfbacks and one of the cleanest sports that has ever played on a Milligan Eleven. His prowess as a player and his never-say-die spirit will prove a great inspiration to the team and a victorious season should cap the climax. Joe Keefauver will manage the team.

Milligan Buffaloes Win First Game of Season

The Stamping Buffaloes rose in herd form last Saturday and trampled the Wesleyan Bulldogs under foot to the score of 19-7. On the battle-scarred field at Athens the Orange and Black team avenged a defeat that the Bulldogs handed them some years back. The Bulldogs had a good team but it was just another case of too much Milligan. Milligan scored all her points in the first half, while Wesleyan scored in the last quarter. The first score came as a result of an intercepted pass and a series of line plays. Campbell carried the ball over and Edwards kicked goal. The second touchdown was the most spectacular play of the game. Morley, right end, intercepted a pass and stepped down the field sixty-five yards to cross the goal line. Pass for extra point not good. The last score came as a result of forward passes and line bucks. Campbell went over and the extra point was not made. Wesleyan scored when Harvey went around end for twenty yards. Allan kicked goal.

Milligan was the most consistent ground gainer although Wesleyan made sixteen first downs to Milligan's five. Taylor, Campbell, Capt. Irvin, Edwards, McCorkle, and Milhorn proved to be too much for the Bulldogs. They blocked, punted, passed, and bucked the line in a notable fashion. Solomon played a great game in the line for Milligan. Morley, Brown Brothers, Lacy, and Bowman also played well for the Buffaloes. Harvey, Pope, Smith and Wilson played best for Wesleyan.

The Overflow

On account of the large number of girls at Milligan this year it was necessary for some of the upper classwomen to move to the dormitory space in the gymnasium. These rooms are located on third floor of the Cheek Activity Building and have been occupied by the men of the college for the past few years.

The place has certainly been one of physical exercise since the girls moved over. Of course everything had to be retouched—to humor a woman's whim—so the girls have been busy with paint and varnish, and broom and mop. Now the apartment is fast becoming a real home for the girls.

Innovation In Physical Education Department

Point System Inaugurated For Girls Of Milligan

In conformity with a practice rapidly spreading among colleges Milligan is instituting the "point system" as a means of earning the college letter and monogram. This means that if a girl is unable to make the varsity basketball team and yet is proficient in other lines of physical activity she may still wear the coveted M.

There are five fields of endeavor in which points may count toward the required number to be won. These fields are: athletics, activities and organizations, scholarship, sportsmanship and breaking school records. Six hundred and fifty points are required for the letter and three hundred for the monogram. There are limitation as to the number of points that may be won in the various fields.

Athletics includes work in swimming, diving, life-saving, tennis, basketball, hiking, track, stunts and posture and health.

In the field of activities and organizations points may be won in leadership through the holding of various offices and in participation.

In putting the "point system" into practice the girls of the college will be divided into two teams, the orange and the black, which compete against each other throughout the year for the largest aggregate number of points. Various intermural contests, such as tennis and basketball tournaments and swimming meets, will be held at seasonable times.

The object of this plan is not only to open up new means of securing an M, but also to create a greater interest in extra-curricular activities and to strengthen the membership of the M Club.

The system is fully outlined and explained in a printed booklet which will be ready for distribution in a few days.

Buffaloes Defeat Biltmore In Aerial Attack, 38-0

On Friday Night, October 3rd the Buffaloes unleashed an aerial attack that completely routed the Biltmore College team of Biltmore, N. C. The visitors were outclassed from the very beginning to the end of the third period when Coach McMurray sent in his substitutes. On the kick-off, Milligan kicked to Biltmore. Tarheels juggled the ball and since it was a free ball the Buffaloes recovered. It was on the twenty yard line and the Buffaloes should have scored but they were just too eager to carry it across. But soon they brought the ball to the eighteen yard line and after a series of line bucks, Taylor carried it over for the first marker of the game. Edwards kicked goal. Then the Buffaloes began to gather momentum and taking to the air scored almost at will. Four of the six touchdowns were scored by the air route. Taylor bucked the line for two touchdowns. Then he took one of Edwards' passes for his other marker. The other three touchdowns were made by Morley, McCorkle, and Baker. The passes of Edwards and Taylor proved very effective and paved the way for the scoring of the Buffaloes. One of the most effective plays the Buffaloes had was the old play of one man slipping over to the sidelines and going down and catching a long pass from a backfield. In Friday night's conflict it proved very effective.

The Orange and Black team could not brush Biltmore's forward wall for any great gains for the visitors' line held like a stone wall at times. But it seemed that a pass bewildered them and almost every Milligan pass was completed. Biltmore had a great team and advanced the ball only to lose it on fumbles.

Milligan's backfield combination of Edwards, Capt. Irvin, Campbell, and Taylor was plenty good. Milhorn, Baker, and McCorkle were also in on the slaughter. In the line, Brown Brothers, Bowman, Lollis, Morley, and Solomon played great defensive work. In fact, the whole Milligan team played in a great fashion. Dickerson, Roma, Peterson, and Messenheimer starred for the visitors. Dickerson was one of the best ball carriers that a visiting team has produced on Anglin Field in many a day.

It would not be amiss to say a word of commendation of the student body. They produced the best cheering that has been heard on Anglin Field for many years. The college band was at its best and helped carry the boys to victory.
