

"M" CLUB BOYS. KEEP CROWD IN STEADY UPROAR

Minstrel Given Last Night In Two Parts; Chet Payne Interlocutor.

ANDERSON AND BIBLE GIVE DANCE OF HOUR

Bog Culvahouse Took Lead In Second Part Playing Professor Squeel.

Completely living up to the favorable publicity advanced for their minstrel, the "M" Club boys kept a large Milligan audience in a constant state of uproarious laughter as they presented jokes, songs, and dances in a rapid and professional manner.

The minstrel was divided into two parts, the first of which was patterned after the regular old style shows, with the end men and interlocutor keeping up a constant exchange of comment. End men were played by Roger Derthick, James Sanders, Edward Duggins, Hoyt Williams, Lawrence Stevens, Clarence Irvin, Edward Vogel, and Mervin McCloskey. The interlocutor, tuxedo and all, was played by Chester C. Payne, Jr. Supporting characters in the show were taken by Luke Gaffin, Orrin Ward, Milbert Bible, Berl Boe, and Ray Anderson.

Anderson and Bible provided one of the most amusing acts when the two presented a love song, "Let's Make Hay While The Sun Shines." Thunderous applause followed the act, and more merriment was created when Anderson dressed as a woman, re-entered in the midst of a mild stage of costume changing.

Many of the jokes rested on personal reference in a kind humorous way to some of the better known figures of the

UNICOI COUNTY MUSIC GROUP TO PLAY HERE

The Unicoi County band and orchestra of Erwin under the direction of Beatrice Rice will give a concert in the Milligan College auditorium Saturday evening March 24th at 8 o'clock.

The program will consist of numbers by the band and orchestra of special tap dances, acrobatic dances, saxophone solos and tuba solos. Miss Rice, who is connected with the music department of the Erwin High School has conducted the orchestra for quite some time, and as many will remember, she gave a similar concert here last year.

The band is in charge of Mr. Albert Price of Erwin and is composed of thirty pieces, while the orchestra has forty members. Admission to the program will be ten cents.

Percy Grant Elected Basketball Captain

Percy Grant, flashy Soddy guard, was elected captain of next year's basketball team at a banquet given the basketball squad by Coach Eyer last Tuesday. "Chet" Payne, lanky center, was made alternate captain.

Grant received most of his high school training at Soddy High School and held down a regular berth on Eyer's team last year when he played both guard and forward. This year he excelled both on offense and defense and ranked second in total points scored.

Payne, alternate captain, is a by-product of St. Louis County and received his preliminary training at Webster High before entering college. Last year as a freshman he played center on the first team and retained the position again this season.

Eighteen were present at the banquet including Coach Eyer, Grant, Payne, Ayers, Ralph and Phil Shelley, Culvahouse, Tidwell, Gilley, Powell, Hale, West, manager Carl Stevens, assistant manager Snowball Morris, Professor Charles E. Crouch, Professor Edward G. Lodter, and Jeff Roark. Letters were given to the first eight players listed.

The meal consisted of fruit cocktail, chicken, dressing, baked potatoes, carrots, gravy, coffee, and cake with whipped cream. Mrs. Eyer was in charge of the cooking operations, assisted by Mrs. Haemisch of Johnson City. "Personality" Keefauver acted as a waitress. After the meal, the boys indulged in a few games for recreation.

New Music Teacher Has Wide Experience and Is Person of a Great Many Interests

Miss Josephine Rhea Harris came to Milligan College less than two weeks ago to succeed Miss Adeline Howkinson, who resigned her position here to return to her home in Chicago because of the ill health of her parents. Miss Howkinson's splendid work will suffer no relapse under the direction of this accomplished, capable and efficient musician. Miss Harris—in her own words—has caught the torch from the preceding teacher and expects to carry on the work in a manner that will do justice to that of Miss Howkinson. So far she has proved her ability to do just that and more if there is an opportunity.

Her work at present very definitely represents the program of Miss Howkinson with the exception of an addition of several voice students. The beauty and high quality of her own voice was evidenced in a program given by her last week at the regular chapel period in the auditorium.

Miss Harris graciously allowed a member of the staff an interview and revealed some facts concerning herself that will be interesting to the students, faculty, and administration.

Probably it is not known that Miss Harris is a native of the north. However she was not for long a northerner since she and her parents moved from their home in Pittsburg, Pa., when she

Debating Enters Period of Lull

Debating activities entered a period of decided lull after the Carson-Newman dual meet last Tuesday, no more debates being scheduled till March 23 when the girls enter a triangular contest with Emory and Teachers College.

In the dual debate last Tuesday, the negative was taken by Ben Wah Kail and Nellie Cox, and this team represented Milligan at Milligan. The Milligan affirmative team composed of "Sunshine" Williams and Francis Burke, visited Carson-Newman, accompanied by Miss Hannah Belcher, girls debate coach. The negative lost while the affirmative won.

On the preceding evening the Milligan boys bravely mustered their forces and with great gusto entered into a dual meet with the friendly rivals in Johnson City, Teachers College. Garcia Cantrell and Robert Phillips debated the negative at Teachers College; Byron Graybeal and Cecil James debated the affirmative side. Neither school emerged victorious since the affair was non-decision.

Exactly one week ago a girls' team and a boys' team embarked for Murphreesboro to debate Middle Tennessee Teachers. The girls debated there on Friday, March 9 and won, while the Milligan girls upholding the affirmative debated on Saturday at Milligan and also won.

The boys' team composed of Leeman and Donoho adequately, amply, and completely upheld the team's past record, and when the smoke of battle had been

EIGHT STUDENTS WILL REPRESENT FORENSIC GROUP

Two Debate Teams Have Not Been Selected By Advisory Committee.

DELAY CAUSED BY LATE SCHEDULING

Milligans Representatives Are Among 431 Already Registered.

Eight Milligan students will attend the convention of the National Forensic Council of Phi Kappa Delta to be held in Lexington the week beginning April first. They will return April 7th. Selection of debates to go to this convention has not been made so far by the faculty advisory committee. The committee will be in session regarding this question just as this paper goes to press, therefore it will be impossible to name the four debaters—two boys and two girls—who will have this honor. Others that have been selected for various other entries are Harriet Wells, Extemporaneous speaker; Ruth Walker, Orator; Marvin Lowe, Orator; and Phillips Shelley, President of Milligan Forensic Council, boys extemporaneous speaker.

Those selected to represent Milligan are among 431 already registered to be there as guest of Transylvania.

The cause for the delay in definite selection of debate representatives is due to Milligan's late scheduling of her inter-collegiate debates, which are not yet finished. Especially is this true of the girls teams, having two more scheduled debates. These representatives will win this trip through their ability for debating, concerning argumentation, delivery, and stage presence. It will not depend upon the number of debates won or lost throughout the season.

"PLAY NIGHT" WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

Although plans had been practically settled for the girls' annual party honoring the boys of the college, there has been a recent change of plans postponing the annual party and substituting a "play night" tomorrow evening in its place.

Several weeks ago the students were allowed to indulge in a great amount of gaitly growing out of one of these "play nights". It was even called by some a turning away from the traditions of the past. There really was no such radical change in the principles of the college, but there was an addition made to the social atmosphere around Milligan.

This social, similar to the original model, will consist of square dances, Virginia Reel, minuet, and perhaps an interesting but short program. If these entertainments continue to grow in popularity, it is the aim of the administration to make them a lasting part of the social life here.

This publication endeavors to foster the ideals for which the student body is ever striving; namely, higher scholarship, cleaner sportsmanship, and finer comradeship. It endeavors to represent the school in all its aspects and to print, in an accurate and engaging way, everything of news interest concerning it.

Spring Vacation Or Not?

At a slightly later date than this last year, school was dismissed to allow students and faculty to partake of the bliss of a spring vacation. This year students are wondering whether or not there will be such a period of relapse or not, and when it will occur if it does.

Opinion is somewhat divided in the minds of the students as to whether it would be advisable to have a few days intervening in the regular school year for such a vacation. Those who live at any great distance feel that they will have little chance of getting to their respective homes and do not wish to spend such a vacation merely waiting for it to close.

On the other hand, those who live within a hundred mile radius favor almost unanimously such an opportunity to build reserves against the ravishes of spring and the final quarter of work.

In our opinion, a few days vacation immediately after exams are over could be better than an Easter vacation, and would be more acceptable to the majority of the students than a holiday at any other time.

Almost everyone, faculty and students, suffers a marked let-down and a serious need of a little relief from studying after exams. We are firmly convinced that a spring holiday period of any length after exams, the longer the better, would be desirable and acceptable to the greater portion of both faculty and students. We add our voice to the plea for such a holiday.

A Coach Extraordinary

It is very often the case that when one works willingly and diligently in a quiet unassuming manner for long time and never demands attention, the unnoticed and accomplished goes practically unnoticed. We desire nothing of this nature to occur at Milligan. Therefore, here and now, we express to Miss Hannah Graham Belcher, English professor and girls' debate coach for the present season and several past seasons our deepest appreciation. Aside from these two major roles Miss Belcher is "timekeeper" at conference at which she is very efficient. She is very often the girls' chaperon on shopping tours in town. In fact, she is a splendid teacher and debate coach, an ideal "timekeeper," and an excellent chaperon.

Perhaps the greatest responsibility of all the faculty falls on the shoulders of this little hazel-eyed blond from Murfreesboro. She has charge of every freshman on the hill concerning his or her beginning training. She teaches one of the most fundamental subjects in the freshman course and one with which, for the most part, freshmen are only vaguely familiar. This ranks high among her greatest accomplishments, closely followed however by expert debate coaching.

Every member of our faculty deserves a word of appreciation, but we feel that Miss Belcher because of her enthusiastic participation in every phase of the school activities, deserves all and more than we can say.

Not that Miss Belcher's ability needs pointing out, but because she rather conceals it we wish to let her and others know that her work is not unseen, but very much appreciated.

WINCHELL MANNER

Something new in an estimation of college romance startled, astounded, and completely overwhelmed college readers two issues ago in the form of a stock market that consisted of the potentialities and listings of students.

This issue the editorial staff of this paper—which is mainly concerned with figuring new and better cracks for the Winchell Column—has compounded, tinkered, and experimented with all available grey cells till several new additions to the old inadequate market have been evolved. Included in the features in addition to the regular couples on the standard listings are a curb market, prospective mergers, and obsolete issues.

college, including Dr. Thompson, Professor Hyder, Professor Charles E. Crouch, and Dr. McCall.

Even a group of chorus girls made a dramatic appearance and kicked out on the stage for a short time, no two kicking a like at the same time, though little was detracted from the value of the dance because of this seeming inconsistency. The dancers were Clarence Witt, Starling Jackson Woods, Gene Sullivan, Boggess Culvahouse, and Carl Stevens.

The second part of the show concerned Professor Squeel's Radio School, Boggess Culvahouse playing the part of the school teacher. His students were Oilcan, Star Woods; Cream Puff, Carl Stevens; Ragwood, Clarence (Bust 'em) Irvin; Leakproof, Lawrence Stevens; Wotnot, Jeff Roark; Froglegs, Clarence Witt; Stovepipe, Gene Sullivan; Jamboree, Dick Ayers; Doughnut, James Sanders; and Blowout, Mervin McCloskey.

The second part ended as the professor's school was thrown in an uproar by the appearance of a ghost, and the entire minstrel was brought to a close by the grand finale.

A total of $47.00 was realized from the production, enough to purchase the sweaters that the "M" club is awarding its two year letter men. Formerly part of this money was advanced by the school, but financial conditions are none too good even under the "new deal", and the "M" club financed it alone this year.

The actual directing was done largely by Miss Hart, dramatic teacher for regular college work. Musical numbers and accompaniment were done by Juliette Lodter.

Orrin H. Ward, president of the "M" club in discussing the performance after its presentation, had this to say, "On behalf of the "M" Club, I wish to thank the student body for supporting us as it did, though I believe we gave them all a show for their money. I also want to express thanks to Miss Hart and Juliette Lodter for helping to such a degree to make this program successful."

NO CONFERENCE BASEBALL FOR MILLIGAN IN '34

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love—and baseball."

For a while it was thought that the Buffs would play conference baseball this year, but recent developments indicate that no intercollegiate schedule will be arranged. However, it is expected that a number of games will be booked with nearby independent teams and perhaps Teachers College.

Little is known concerning the strength of the prospective team, but practice sessions, which will be inaugurated immediately following the spring football season, will give trainers a line on what they can expect from the material at hand. Burl Poe, freshman recruit, is reputedly a star slabster, but a fractured ankle, sustained in football last fall, has not healed sufficiently to enable him to perform up to par. Other prospects include Culvahouse, Roark, Grant, Payne, Thomposn, Kelly, Purcell, Johnson, L. Stephens, and Tidwell.

Where to find a capable catcher is the main task facing coaches of the team. Emory Johnson, first string back-stop last year, is lost to the team through graduation, and so far no one has turned up to take his place. Unless some outstanding performer is uncovered among the ranks of the freshmen, it is thought that Bog Culvahouse, veteran infielder, will be given a shot at the post.

Granting that Poe will recover sufficiently to take a regular turn on the mound, the pitching staff should be above the average. Payne and Stephens are creditable slab artists, and Roark can be called in from short stop in case of emergency.

KING'S

Fifteen Heed Call For Track Practice

March winds still howl, snow flurries still blow, but, judging from the restless activity of Milligan's track aspirants, spring is here.

Responding immediately to Coach Eyer's initial call for candidates, some fifteen huskies have been working with great gusto all this week, and prospects for a successful season appear exceedingly bright when it is considered that Milligan has not sponsored a track team in the last decade.

This year the team will probably not enter into the sport on a large scale because of the difficulties relative to arranging a schedule so late in the season, but it has been announced by authorities that the Buffs will be represented at the State meet in Knoxville, May 12. This event, according to the Knoxville Journal, will feature the leading track teams of Tennessee, with U. T.; Vanderbilt, University of Chattanooga, and Maryville leading the way.

The list of candidates to date includes: George Brown—mile, two mile, and discus throw; Conley—100 yard dash, 220 yard dash; Abbott—100 yard dash; Mas-sengill—pole vault, discus throw; Jones—shot put; Irvin—broad jump; Witt—broad jump, dashes; Perry—dashes; Vogel—pole vault, half mile, high jump; Tidwell—440 yard dash; Grubb—dashes, and Allan Duggins—dashes.

SPRING FOOTBALL TO BEGIN AFTER EXAMS

The familiar "Signals—hep" of the quarterback, the booming reverberation of toe meeting pik-skin, and the circus-barker orders of coaches and sideline experts, absent from the campus since November, will be heard in all their glory immediately following examinations, according to "Frisco" Lacey, Milligan's own football coach.

For a time it was feared that the allurements of Hollywood would prove too much for Lacey, but his return a few days ago has dispelled all doubts as to his ruggedness and general ability to "take it".

Concerning his plans for spring training Lacey had little to say other than to suggest that the grind would be of three weeks duration. "First we must develop a punter, a line that will stand up under conference opposition, and a backfield combination with some weight," explained Lacey. "The rest should be easy."

Advance indications are that Milligan will trot out its best team in years next fall. Mack Thompson and Orrin Ward are the only members of the squad lost by graduation, and a large influx of freshman talent from the surrounding high schools, along with the added experience of the 1933 performers, should insure the Buffs at least a fighting chance to go places.

Star Woods has been elected captain of the team, and Carl Stephens will serve as alternate captain.

ON THE SIDELINE S

THE STAMPEDE STAFF

Concerning Percy Grant

Another illustration of that never-say-die spirit which permeated Coach Eyer's cage champs this year, is personified in Captain Grant, plucky little guard.

Contracting a severe cold during the final stages of the campaign, Milligan's grinning, smiling replica of the proverbial "Happy Warrior", refused doggedly to go down, and instead imbued the entire team with his indomitable spirit.

As a result of his brilliant fight against odds, Grant had to stay in bed for two weeks, but during that time was comforted in the knowledge that he had played his part in bringing Milligan a sixth consecutive championship of the Smoky Mountain conference.

Our hat goes off to such an example of sportsmanship and team spirit. Grant's re-election as captain follows as a matter of course.

Baseball and Track?

It has been announced through various channels that Milligan will play intercollegiate baseball and track this spring, but, so far, no official confirmation of such has been forthcoming. Several students are eager to participate in each sport, and quite a few are capable performers, but until some definite news is assembled concerning the matter, this column announces a policy of "watchful waiting."

He Failed To Explain That

Turning from athletics to forensics we find the case of Garcia Cantrell and his partner in crime, Robert

Phillips, who contrived to debate against Teachers College the other evening before a capacity crowd of eleven people. "They began leaving after the first speaker got through," explains Garcia, "and when I got up to talk only 5 were left."

It will be noticed that Cantrell failed to explain what happened to the five rugged enough to last until his speech, but we're betting they remained until it was over—too exhausted to search for the exits.

That Odd Suit

A glance at the basketball pictures for this year and for the last two years discloses an unusual fact.

In 1932, the eleventh man on the squad in the person of Mervin McCloskey received an odd suit. The following year he did not make the squad and the suit went to Clarence Witt. This year the suit went to Hale, Witt not getting in, and it is our hope that said Mr. Hale will break the precedent and be on that picture when March rolls around in 1935.

Girls Continue Athletics Under Point System

Following the precedent set by several colleges over the country in inaugurating plans whereby girls may earn varsity letters without actually participating in intercollegiate sports, Milligan has instituted the point system, a plan by which girls are enabled to win letters without playing basketball, the only major sport offered here.

The point system embraces a program by which girls are allowed to figure in their own sports hobby—basketball, baseball, swimming, bowling, hiking, tennis, et cetera—and win letters according as their efficiency merits such.

In instituting the system here authorities have divided the entire group into two major outfits—the "Orange" and the "Black". Then, starting with these two divisions, teams have been organized to represent each large division in each sport recognized in the final tabulation of scores. Points are allowed both for team membership and individual ability.

The "Black" stalwarts, captained by "Sunshine" Williams, took the lead last week by trimming Bernice Carmack's "Orange" performers in a spirited basketball fracas. More cage contests will be staged in the near future, and then both groups will turn to baseball, tennis, hiking, and other spring sports.

The superiority of the new system over the old method of awarding varsity "M's" is self-evident when the injustice of depriving athletically-inclined girls of letters just because they don't excel in basketball is taken into consideration.

M Club Girls Give Take-off On Conference

One evening last week as the gentlemen from Hardin Hall slowly and gracefully filed into the girls' dormitory, there seemed somehow to be something unusual in the air. The boys took a hurried glance around the circle of beaming coeds who stood stiffly at attention, discovered no new face or figure that would immediately send palpitating shivers up and down their spines, and gracefully shifted from one foot to another while waiting for something—that indescribable something—to appear.

All at once with a rush and a shrill cry of the chase, Sunshine Williams emerged from nowhere to rush captivately after the tall, dark haired, extremely handsome Tidwell. Beatrice Rice dived in no uncertain way to claim "Doc" Willard, while at the same time Nellie Cox appeared crazily garbed with a basket under her arm trying to convince innocent freshman boys—to buy a bottle of "sody poppy", even though the "sody" bottles were empty.

The anxiety about what was taking place was dispelled with the appearance of these girls, as it became more than evident that the higher ups of the girls "M" club were indulging in a favorite Milligan sport—initiations.

Five members of the basketball squad, Ruby "Take a chance" Keefauver, Delma Huddleston, Beatrice Rice, Garnet "Roger" Williams, and Ruth Qualls and the manager, Nellie Cox, were inducted last Wednesday into the club.

Throughout the week mild explosions of dress and speech in dining hall and on the campus clearly indicated that the initiation of the lucky girls who had been voted letters was still in progress.

Wednesday evening the fair maidens appeared garbed in evening dresses with set requirements to acquire a new crop of dates for the occasion.

All initiation plans were under the direction of the girls' "M" club, of which Esther Taylor is president. At a meeting held Wednesday, the girls of the club voted to elect Miss Hannah Belcher faculty adviser, but final action has not been taken in this matter.

MINISTERIAL NEWS

PAUL CARPENTER
DOROTHY NEISER

We had a most delightful service last Sunday afternoon at the Hopwoods. We only stayed about twenty minutes, but had a most wonderful fellowship. Bro. Hopwood prayed and quoted scripture and we sang several songs, among which George Norton sang, "Have Thine Own Way Lord." They seemed to greatly enjoy the service. We want to go back as frequently as we can for we believe it is rendering a service to a most Godly couple.

Last Monday evening at our regular meeting we were glad to have Mrs. Burke as our guest. It was a great pleasure to have her with us. Fort Fowler, a member of our group, is back with us again safe and sound. We greatly rejoice at his safe return and we are all hoping and praying that James Donoho may be restored to health to carry on his work as a Christian gentleman.

Our group is growing spiritually. There are 15 minute prayer meetings every morning in both of the dormitories.

Another zero hour culminating nine weeks more of concerted battles between faculty and students will arrive promptly at 11:30 A. M. tomorrow morning when students having a first hour class on Tuesday can solemnly and with or without preparation walk into their respective class rooms to fire the first shot in the third great battle of exams for the 1933-1934 school year.

Classes meet regularly on Saturday up till fourth hour, that class being in session for one half hour only. All college bills must be taken care of—payment made in business parley—before exams may be taken.

According to an announcement from the registrars office, no new classes will be offered for the final nine week period. There will be no change in those now listed.

MUSICAL PRESENTED IN COLLEGE CHAPEL

Milligan College enjoyed a musical program given in the chapel on Sunday March 11 at 4:00 p. m. The numbers were well received by an appreciative audience made up of students, faculty and visitors.

Miss Doris Tatum of Johnson City rendered several harp selections and was assisted by Georgia Mae Hyder, violinist. The ensemble was composed of the Misses Doris Taylor, Georgia Mae Hyder, Beatrice Rice, Dorothy Wohr, Juliette Lodter and the Messers Howard Williams, Clarence Witt, and Mrs. William Bowman.

The program consisted of three numbers, Chanson Indue, Sailors Son, and Iris, by Aliene Hyder; several selections by Dorothy Wohr, and the numbers by the ensemble.

These are proving to be a wonderful blessing to our spiritual lives. They help us to start the day off in the right way. We are glad to have the occasional visitors who come in.

God is richly blessing our group this year. All our programs are spirit-filled. Those who bring the messages and lead the meetings, do so from the bottom of their hearts. We cordially invite any who are interested to come and be with us in these services every Monday night.

In the rush of our college living we do not take time to stop and truly realize what a wonderful Christ we really have. He is one who understands our every act and knows our every need. He is the one tempted in all points like as WE are but without sin. He is our example for Christian living. What a wonderful privilege is ours of being able to go to Him at any time in prayer, for prayer is the slender nerve that moves the muscles of omnipotence. It is our only way of talking with God—our only communication with the Divine outside of the Word of Life. Let us let Him talk to us through His Word. Oh that we may become richer in faith and deeper in our prayer lives.

SOCIETY NEWS ABOUT MILLIGAN STUDENTS

By Ben Wah Kail

Debate activities and trips for the various teams here and there seem to be the extent of Milligan's social "goings-on". Almost every team, both boy and girl, have enjoyed at least one trip. The affirmative team of Donoho and Leeman have made trips to Carson-Newman and Murfreesboro. On the Murfreesboro trip the boys were accompanied by the girls negative team who debated Teachers College there on Friday night. On this trip the girls were entertained in the home of Miss Hannah Graham Belcher, whiel the boys were guests of the Teachers College.

The girls affirmative team composed of Burk and Williams made two trips also—the first to Maryville and the last to Carson-Newman. The negative team, of Nellie Cox and Ben Wah Kail had a trip to Tusculum in addition to Murfreesboro.

Graybeal-James, a team of changing ideas as to the sides of the question which they wish to debate, have debated four times and have made trips to King, Tusculum, and Maryville. Mr. Tom Barnard accompanied the boys' team on its trip to Maryville.

Miss Mary Brown visited her home at Euchee, Tennessee from Friday of last week until Monday of this week.

Miss Elsie Price who underwent an operation for appendicitic a few days ago has been removed from the hospital in Johnson City to her home in Erwin. According to a card read at the girls' prayer meeting, Elsie expects to return to school very shortly.

Dr. Webb, president of Washington, College, was a speaker on the chapel program Thursday morning of this week. His description of the work being carried on at Washington College, now doing only high school work, was greatly enjoyed by the student body, as was evidenced by their response to his ready wit.

LULL IN DEBATE

whisked from the judge's eyes, the boys had lost again. At Milligan, Cantrell and Phillips overpowered the affirmative attacks and came through with a victory.

Previously, on Monday, March 5th, the boys had engaged in a triangular debate with Carson-Newman and Maryville. At Milligan Maryville's affirmative team won from Carson-Newman. At Carson-Newman, Leeman and Donoho carried on by losing to Maryville; while James and Graybeal had the misfortune to lose to Carson-Newman at Maryville.

The first triangular debate of the year took place on March 3 with Maryville and Tusculum, and was engaged in by the girls of the three schools. Milligan defeated Tusculum, but lost to Maryville. Tusculum defeated Maryville at Milligan.

career her interests have varied and strayed into fields very different in many respects to the one in which she is now engaged. However her major interests have always centered around music. Some of the projects that she has undertaken in some cases, such as swimming, golf, and newspaper writing been only for temporary enjoyment. She did say that her ambition at one time was to become the world's champion woman golfer, and at another time she expected to win the world's record at swimming, but was forced to give this up because of her inability to dive. Her newspaper work included four years of active work as a member of the staff of the Cumberland University student publication.

As for her two other interest—dramatics and law—she has considered seriously at one time or another making each of these her professional career. The desire for stage work grew vague with the prospect of a career in the legal profession. But with all this versatility of nature her love for music, both vocal and instrumental, remains constant.

Now for her personal likes and dislikes. As for pets she confines herself to animals of a canine nature, but shows some interest in goldfish. In dealing with this subject of dogs she wants it clearly and distinctly understood that she limits her admiration to English Bulldogs. Concerning goldfish—well, goldfish are goldfish.

She adds as an after thought, and perhaps for encouragement to her students, that she has no temper or temperament in spite of the red hair.

Her review of plans for glee club seemed to culminate in plans for the operetta, on which work will begin soon. An order has been placed for copies already.
