

OPENING OF 2ND SEMESTER DATES ON JANUARY 16TH

Classes Were Officially Resumed On Yesterday, Thursday the 17th.

The second semester officially opened on Registration Day, Wednesday, January 16. However, regular classes were not resumed until yesterday, Thursday the seventeenth.

The mid-year registration, as usual, was marked by less congestion and confusion than the registration at the opening of the school year, when the uninitiated Freshmen always have some difficulty in getting their directions straight.

A particularly time-saving proceeding last Wednesday was President Derthick's calling of a special meeting of all the boys, in which numerous incidentals were explained to all, thus making individual instruction unnecessary.

All those who failed to register Wednesday, and who have been tardy in the matter, should take special note of the fact that a fee will be charged for late registration, and that an excused absence will be given for every class missed beginning yesterday.

Although, as usual, several students will fail to continue their work the second semester, from all indications the total enrollment for the coming term will remain approximately the same as it has been. This is due to the fact that several new students are enrolled. Among these are Frank Thompson and Neill Colmery, both from Wilkesburg, Pennsylvania; and Curtis Robinson from Blackwater, Virginia.

First semester exams which began Thursday, January 10, and ended Tuesday, January 15, mark the end of all work on first semester courses. All first semester reports are due on Tuesday, January 22, at the latest.

Football Banquet Will Be Held On Thursday Evening, January 31st

The football banquet, in honor of Milligan's Smoky Mountain Champions is scheduled to be given on Thursday evening, January 31. It will be held in the college dining hall, and marks an additional feature in athletic reward at Milligan, no official banquet having been given here for a number of years.

Arrangements are being made with the dining hall department, by which practically all students will be able to attend.

In addition to having plenty of food, Coach Lacey is planning to obtain a number of notable speakers who will provide a valuable program. Captain Starling Wood will make a short talk, and probably some of the other players, especially the Seniors, will favor with a few words concerning the past season.

Coach Lacey is also planning to honor all letter men with a gold football sometime in the near future in token of their splendid record.

Forensics Arrange For Coming Debate Season

The Forensic Council, now that the second semester has begun, is making plans for, and arranging engagements for the approaching debate season.

At the present time, the girls have scheduled three debates and the boys too. The date for the girls' dual debate with Maryville which was formerly announced as to be held on March 8, has been changed, and will probably not take place until early in April.

An invitation to attend the Annual South Atlantic Forensic Tournament, which will be held at Hickory, North Carolina, on March 7, 8, and 9, has been received.

This tournament will include debates for both men and women, oratorical contests for men and women, and extemporaneous speaking for men and women. The debates will be on the Pi Kappa Delta question. Although not definitely known, it is thought that this tournament may be attended.

Also, an invitation has been received from the Arkansas Intercollegiate Forensic League to participate in the Mid-South Debate Tournament to be held at Conway, Arkansas, with Hendrix College and the Arkansas State Teachers College as hosts. This tournament will take place on February 15 and 16.

The trend this year in debating circles is clearly toward a more widespread interest in tournaments. Furthermore, tournaments are larger, local ones being made more general.

A change has taken place in the personnel of the boys' debating team, Joe Groom having taken the place of Jamie Tell Taylor as the partner of Arnold Albright. We regret the loss of Jamie Tell, who was one of the brightest prospects among the new members of the team.

With the passing of exams, debate work is being pursued in earnest, briefs being constructed and reading done.

Pre-Med Reorganizes For Second Semester

Upon the approach of the second semester, old officers of the Pre-Med Club made arrangements for a called meeting in order to elect new officers for the coming year. The following officers were chosen on the basis of interest and accomplishment in pre-medic work; Edward Lacey, president; Summers Jones, vice-president; Joseph John Groom, secretary-treasurer.

Plans are now under way for the annual Pre-Med Club banquet which will be held at the John Sevier Hotel in the very near-future. These plans are not as yet definitely formulated, but some idea of the entertainment has been worked out by master of ceremonies, Edward Lacey, and by chief-promoter, Groom.

The guest speaker of the evening will be Dr. Preas, well-known Johnson City dentist. Dr. Preas has appeared before the Pre-Med Club several times in the past, has always given valuable and interesting lectures, and has shown himself to be quite interested in Milligan pre-medic work.

New Musical Programs Are Being Considered

Plans are being made by the Music department for a varied and complete group of activities during the coming semester, although all of them haven't as yet assumed a definite character.

Perhaps most important is the consideration that is being given to the performance of an operetta, which, if materializing, will take place on the last night of the school year, May 18. The operetta under consideration is "Iolanthe" by Gilbert and Sullivan, whose works in light opera are very popular the world over. Old students will remember with pleasure the fine performance of the "Mikado" written by these same authors, given three years ago and exceptionally well received.

However, a number of programs have definitely been decided to be given. Among these are a student concert, a Spring Glee Club Concert, and a private concert to be given by Miss Marguaretta Wright, head of the Music Department.

A new feature is being prepared for the Spring Glee Club Concert. This is a sextette of ladies' voices. The members of the sextette are Ruth Walker, Beatrice Rice, Sunshine Williams, Miss Marguaretta Wright, Dorothy Bennett, and Elaine Turner. The last three composed the trio which met with such favorable reception at the Fall Glee Club Concert.

Special work is being planned for the choir this coming semester, a number of special hymns being prepared for the Sunday morning services. Also, a Sunday evening vesper service is being considered. The choir will welcome anyone who wishes to take part. Those interested in choir singing will please see Miss Wright who is conductor.

A vesper service, given over to the singing of old sacred choruses was held last Sunday evening, January 13, at the special desire and request of President Derthick.

Lawrence G. Derthick Gets State Position

Lawrence G. Derthick, principal of the high school at Clarksville, Tennessee, has recently been appointed to the position of assistant high school supervisor for East Tennessee by the State Department of Education. The position has not been retained during the past year due to shortage of funds at E. T. State Teachers College, but it is now being resumed.

Mr. Derthick is the son of President and Mrs. H. J. Derthick and received his A. B. degree in 1927. He continued his education at the University of Tennessee where he received his M. A. degree in 1930. He has also done graduate work in education at Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville.

Both the East Tennessee State Teachers College and State Department of Education. The position has not been re-taken by the high school supervisor, have selected Mr. Derthick as the best qualified man available from the standpoint of modern training and successful experience.

Mr. Derthick will assume his work at the State Teachers College on February first.

EACH SENIOR TO CONDUCT CHAPEL IN NEAR FUTURE

Procedure Will Continue For About Two Months As Present Plans Stand.

PROGRAMS SO FAR WELL - RECEIVED

C. Burdette, Iva Crabtree, Nell Hitt, and Cecil James To Appear Soon.

Beginning on Friday, January 5, a new procedure was added to Milligan life, that of having a Senior to conduct chapel every other day.

According to President Derthick, who was the promoter of the matter, this will be carried out until every member of the Senior Class has performed the duty, which means that it will continue for about two months.

President Derthick's decision to make the holding of chapel a part of every Senior's graduation work was brought about from two sources: one, a teacher and alumnus who stressed the need for public speaking experience on the part of all those graduating from college, especially the prospective teacher; and the other, a president of a college in Florida who said that he required Seniors to conduct chapel and had found it very valuable.

Thus far, the Senior chapel programs have been unusually well-received, the subjects discussed being those of importance, and the special musical numbers being an added chapel feature.

The Senior president, Milbert Bible, initiated the procedure by taking chapel on Friday, January 5. Starling Wood collaborated by reading the scripture. A duet was rendered by Ruth Walker and Beatrice Rice. Bible chose for his subject, "Leading Problems of Society", and gave a concise resume of vital questions which face our society. His observations on the race question, especially his comment, "Why should we look down on the negro? You know we didn't have much to do with it?" were outstanding.

Sunshine Williams followed on Monday, January 8, speaking on "The Rich Young Ruler." She emphasized the fact that there is something more in life than just wealth. Included in her program was a piano solo by Ruby Crawford.

Carl Stephens, in his chapel program this morning, answered the question, "What About Huey P. Long?" In brief, he sketched the life of the Louisiana Hitler, enumerated the things he has done for Louisiana, and reviewed the state legislature in action.

Next Monday, Carlyle Burdette will be the favored one, and will show how "Their Spirit Lives On!" This will deal with great men who have most influenced the world, with emphasis on those in medicine, government, and religion. Among these will be Pasteur, Washington, and Luther.

So far as is known at present, Iva Crabtree, Nell Hitt, and Cecil James will appear in the order named.

On Seniors Conducting Chapel

When President Derthick indicated some weeks ago that it was his plan to give every Senior the opportunity of conducting chapel, cries of despair, refusal, and non-cooperation were made by the majority of the members of the class.

However, in considering the matter from President Derthick's viewpoint, which seems to be the only sane and intelligent one, it is obvious that the plan should be welcomed and undertaken with diligence and seriousness by each and every Senior.

The viewpoint above-mentioned is that since the great majority of Milligan graduates plan to become teachers, and since teachers are always being called upon either to give or to arrange public programs, they should be trained properly in their preparatory days. In other words a form of most valuable experience should be given, a form practical and needful, and yet so often neglected.

Too, a teacher above all others must be able to make fullest possible use of expression in its widest sense. Success in teaching depends on the ability of the teacher to make the student understand, or, in popular words, the teacher must "put it over". And if the teacher cannot do this, failure is the inevitable result.

Viewing the matter in this way, it is clear that every Senior should greet the conducting of chapel with pleasure, recognize it as an unquestionable privilege, and resolve to make the most of the opportunity.

What is Materialism?

Although the controversy over "materialism" and "spiritualism" has been raging for centuries, yet it seems that in the last few years, with the coming of the worst depression in history, the question has assumed unusual proportions. In various places—on the street, in the home, in the classroom, and more especially from the pulpit do we hear loud and vociferous discussions of the matter, and the usual conclusion, at least in the pulpit, is that we are going materialistic, that what we need is a return to the spiritual, which can only be achieved by studying and following the teachings as laid down in the Holy Scriptures.

But invariably do we find these "uplifting" outbursts failing even to define the terms. The speakers "preach" without actually knowing what they "preach" about. It is our purpose here to give an unusual conception of the matter, a conception which we feel that far too few persons realize.

It originates with one of the greatest of our modern philosophers and takes the following form: "that civilization is materialistic which is limited by matter; which is powerless against its material environment and fails to make the full use of human intelligence for the conquest of nature and for the improvement of the conditions of man," it logically following that "that civilization which makes the fullest possible use of human ingenuity and intelligence in search of truth in order to control nature and transform matter for the service of mankind is highly idealistic and spiritual."

Certainly this view will bear continued and reflective thought. From it we see first, that the modern scientific and mechanical civilization is highly spiritualistic, more so than any civilization of the past; secondly, similar to the former, that the most materialistic of all were the so-called "religious" civilizations of the Orient and of the Middle Ages; thirdly, that there is no true conflict but that the material and spiritual are but cooperative divisions of a greater whole, the spiritual denoting the end, the material providing the one and only means to that end.

We advocate to those who speak on this over-worked subject in the future to consider the above ideas seriously and open-mindedly before launching out to tear down everything material.

A BUFFALO HE(A)RD

WORDS WE OFTEN HEAR — (some of them too often)—Doc Eyler (scoffingly)—"That's a great contribution to human intelligence!"—President (with emphasis)—"It can be done!"—Prof. Burns (banging desk)—"Why? Why? I want to know why!"—Miss Wright (in her sweet manner)—"Aren't love songs beautiful?"—Professor Crouch (to his Bus. Ad. students)—"As I was saying, this Dizzy Dean....." Prof. Cochrane (knowingly)—"You boys can't fool me, I'm an old hand at this game."—Doc Todd (trying to look intelligent)—"All right, let's have a report." Mrs. Bowman (drawing)—"Just make me page after page."—Prof. Hyder (craftily)—"Does anyone want any help after class?"—Doc Willard (with his inimitable smile)—"You know, the girls seem so interested in German."—Prof. Carpenter (smackingly)—"Eyes to the front, please!"—Doc Thompson (jovially)—"Wal I declah Miss—I believe you're putting on weight."

Herr Vogel was a shining light in his farewell performance as leader of the Power House Ensemble. Yells he to Byrl Poe after the latter had introduced his girl friend, Helen Trantum, "What's the matter, didn't Toby come out tonight?" Came the remark, at Perry's reluctance to introduce his little friend, "Pee-Wee" Hennessee, "Crum wouldn't be ashamed of her!"

Hear Ye! If the sweet notes of a whip-poor-will float through the window at night, don't shoot! Its only McCloskey serenading.*

We nominate Kruckeberg as Milligan's representative at the Memorial Day Races at Indianapolis. He drives a car with a bang!

Ruby Crawford, moping about in despair, "Just think, I didn't appreciate him when I had him."

We are wondering where "Hold-the-Phone" Keller goes so dressed up every Saturday night?"

Did Minnie have anything to do with Kay Burnette's decision to assume his residence on the campus?

A certain resident of the Brown House has become a "donor" of the institution. For further reference, see the head of the mathematics department (also manipulates the school finances).

Bob Hilsenbeck's new theme song: "Its Getting Vair and Varner."—And this brings us to "Cow-boy" Range's theme song last week as he lovingly fondled a pair of binoculars: "I'm Counting on You."

Now that the Seniors are having chapel, it isn't at all unusual to hear them "polishing up" on their outbursts in the Ad building. Especially do the "golden" notes of Red Burdette, resound noble from wall to wall.

Talk about contrast—well, the other night your writer walked into the chapel, and guess what he saw?—Clarence Witt going to town on a jazz piece, and "Warhorse" James sitting on the table on the platform, jiously reading the Bible.

AS EXAMS STARTED—

Says President, "Throw it at 'em!"

Say the Profs, "Just watch 'em jump!"

Says the Student, "Boy, did I shoot 'er!"

IN MEMORIAM: Newt Williams, Ed Vogel, Jamie Tell Taylor, Ralph Shelley, Bob Davis, and Joe Gilmer.

SCIENTIFIC MARVELS

Outstanding 1934 achievements in ten fields of science as selected by Science Service are:

1. Aeronautics—The application of aerodynamic advances to practical aircraft as demonstrated in the London-Melbourne and other flights.
2. Archaeology—The discovery of more evidences of Folsom man in America, indicating the peopling of the western world at an early date.
3. Astronomy—The interstellar spectrum absorption lines indicating material existing between the stars, the photoelectric detection of extreme ultraviolet solar radiation, and the casting of glass disks and the selection of a site for the 200-inch telescope.
4. Biology—The method for accurately locating the "genes", or hereity-determining units, in their places on or in hitherto unexamined structural subdivisions of chromosomes.
5. Chemistry—The discovery of triple-weight hydrogen in pure chemistry and the extraction of bromine from sea water commercially.
6. Engineering—The development of high speed rail transportation and the launching of the gigantic steamship "Queen Mary."
7. Geology—The new high estimate of the age of the earth, 1,725,000,000 years, established by Miss Edith Kroupa of the University of Vienna, using radioactive products in Canadian rock.
8. Medicine—The determination of the chemical formula for cortin, life-saving hormone of the adrenal gland cortex, and its preparation in pure crystalline form.
9. Physics—The production of artificial radioactivity by the Joliot's of Paris, giving promise of new atomic knowledge and new radiations for medicine and industry.
10. Psychology—Experimental evidence that learning known as the conditioned reflex is of two kinds, one of which can take place although the brain cortex is completely missing.

COACH EYLER IS CONSIDERED FOR U. T. POSITION

Britton's Appointment As U. T. Football Mentor Paves Way for Eyer.

During the past two weeks, rumors of Dr. Eyer's departure from the Milligan campus have flown thick and fast. The source lies in the reorganization of the coaching staff at the University of Tennessee.

Tennessee has eyed Eyer for the past six years as a probable successor to Britton as basketball coach and now that Coach Britton has been selected as head football coach at the state university, the path is open to Eyer for a formal consideration for the post.

Dr. Eyer has been questioned informally regarding the post and has indicated his willingness to discuss terms when the university approaches him with a contract to coach the Vols cage team. A formal announcement of his acceptance or rejection will be issued at the next meeting of the athletic council, the council having taken no action on the basketball coaching position in its meeting on January 12.

Dr. Eyer's only formal statement on the matter was that he would "gladly talk with the university authorities." If he goes to Knoxville, Eyer indicated that he would want a place on the faculty of the English department, for the teaching of English is his first love and coaching his sideline interest. U. T. alumni seem to think that the strings can be pulled to place him on the faculty.

The university is planning an expansion of the sports program, and is in the market for a coach of basketball who can really produce the goods. It is only logical that they should turn their eyes to Eyer, for his record at Milligan and his position on the National Rules Committee stamp him as an authority on basketball.

If he should be selected as cage mentor at U. T., the stage would be set for basketball success at the state institution. With plenty of athletic scholarships available, Eyer would have unlimited material with which to work. The present Vol squad is composed almost entirely of sophomores who are playing pretty good basketball. It is a great opportunity for him and one which he deserves.

There is another angle from which we must view the situation, and that is Dr. Eyer's love for Milligan. He has been connected with the school for the past ten years, and has assumed a definite place in the Milligan program. Upon coming to Milligan College, Dr. Eyer took over the coaching reins when things were at a low ebb. After two years in which he installed his system, Eyer-coached teams began in deal misfortune for their conference rivals. Seven years ago the Buffaloes were tied for the championship, and for the past six years, they have held the championship undisputed.

Also, Eyer's teams have gone outside the conference to defeat other teams, and in 1933 the Buffs handed a terrific 44-26 drubbing to the U. T. Vols. Eyer's success at Milligan has been due largely to his ability to recognize material and to develop it to fit his system, for Milligan with its strict scholastic requirements, has never been a home for tramp athletes.

Milligan has a colorful basketball program for next week. Monday night the L. M. U. Railsplitters wrangle with our Buffaloes in the Cheek Gymnasium. Having seen L. M. U. in action, I think almost anything may happen. The Railsplitters have an unorthodox system of play which makes the points. In Stookesbury and Livesay, they have a real pair of aces.

Thursday night provides probably the biggest attraction of the season when the House of David professionals visit us. The "Bearded Beauties" boast a colorful team, one which was able to win 103 out of 120 contests in 24 states last winter.

There is no college team in the state that can down the Barber Cheaters. The Buffaloes are not expecting to win, but the absence of strong opposition will only add to the show.

Friday night the Buffaloes go to Emory and Henry to meet "Houdini" Roberts and his mates. Lest you forget — the Buffaloes downed Emory-Henry 44-40 in 1932 and Roberts was there then.

A week from tomorrow night we play hosts to Appalachian, and if advance dope is correct, the Boone Teachers will be in the thick of the Smoky championship fight.

I see by the papers that Maryville is thinking as to how they would like to stage a tournament to decide the Smoky Mountain Championship. They also add the idea that the Maryville gym is ideally fitted for this. Why not a neutral gymnasium?

Such a move on the part of the conference would be unwise, for the present percentage system is far more practical and based on reason. Maryville shouldn't start worrying so early, for the Buffaloes haven't sewed up the championship by far.

One of the problems to come up before the next meeting of the rules committee will be that of the center tap. The West Coast Conference has already abandoned it. Big Ten Teams have not fallen in line with the idea, for with their six-foot-seven centers they have a decided advantage.

Pete Barry, who has performed for twenty-four campaigns, is the only member of the original Celtics still in the game. Despite his age, he occasionally slips under for a fast crip.

Grant, in his four seasons of play, finally gets to make a trip (Cullowhee) on which he spends the night off the campus. The Buffaloes certainly deserve a chance to display their wares in foreign climes.

Out Teachers College way they are comparing the play of Massengill to that of Dean Bailey. The similarity is conspicuous by its absence—Massengill contributed only four points in the L. M. U. game.

Buffalettes Open New Season With Victory

The Buffalettes opened their initial season by defeating the Bristol Independents 28 to 11 on the local court, Saturday, January 12. The Bristol team, coached by Mary Beasley was composed of outstanding players of the section, but due to lack of practice, their teamwork was ragged. Mabel Dyer, a former Milligan star, was numbered among those composing the Bristol squad.

The Buffalettes displayed good teamwork with Orr at center functioning unusually well. Crabtree, former guard, who has been shifted to center was unable to play due to an injured knee.

The definite schedule as to dates has not been arranged but the Buffalettes are to play Appalachian Teachers, Hiwassee, Lees-McRae, L. M. U., and perhaps one or two independent teams.

Among other girls' sports we find that swimming is again possible as the swimming pool will be fully ready for use in the very near future. Plans are under way for a swimming meet between the two teams, the Orange, and the Black. Practice will be arranged so that anyone who wishes to enter may do so, providing they have the number of hours required in order to participate.

Bristol Independents	Milligan
C Smith	Orr
F Rush	Walker
F Harrison	Huddleston
G Griswold	Qualls
G Snodgrass	Brown

Buffaloes Overcome King Tornado To Take Second Smoky Mountain Win

The Buffaloes journeyed to King College Tuesday night and reduced the King Tornado to a breeze by a 49-42 win. This was the Buffaloes' second conference victory, the Cullowhee Catamounts being taken into camp 38-29 on January seventh.

From the opening whistle to the finish, it was a grand battle. King caged a bucket to take a 2-0 lead, but Milligan soon leaped out in front, the score at the intermission being 29-20 for the Buffs.

Milligan's defense was somewhat impaired by the injury of Grant, all-conference guard, who was able to play only the few minutes. Tidwell, shaking off his guard and dropping his crips with ease, led the scoring with 22 points. Ragsdale came through with 10 points. It was the brilliant display of teamwork which enabled the Buffs to win. Culvahouse, Ayers, Bolling, Grant, and Albright all contributing their share to the victory.

Compton, "Shorty" Pettigrew, and Esser performed best for King. Certainly the Tornado is no longer the doormat for the other teams in the conference.

The lineup:

Milligan	King
F Boiling (3)	Compton (13)
F Culvahouse (6)	Goforth (5)
C Tidwell (22)	Pettigrew (10)
G Grant (c) (4)	Fogarty (5)
G Ayers (2)	Esser (9)

Subs: Milligan: Ragsdale (10) and Albright (2). King: Hammerston, Miller, and Farmwalt.

BUFFALOES PLAY CATAMOUNTS IN IMPORTANT GAME

To Battle New Members of Conference Tonight; Hard Game Expected.

The Buffaloes departed this afternoon on a trip to Cullowhee which will have important bearing on their chances to cop the championship for the seventh consecutive year.

Having seen the Catamounts in action, Milligan supporters have an idea of what to expect. The Catamounts are the baby member of the conference, and nothing would suit them better than to down the champion Buffs. The Catamounts showed their ability when they held the Buffs to a 38-29 victory, which Milligan was fortunate to win. They also dropped a pair of games to the Buccaneers, 40-37 and 44-39, which they might have won had they only received a few breaks.

The Buffaloes face reorganization since the departure of Ralph Shelley. The loss of Shelley was a tough blow for the team; but Bolling, a freshman forward with worlds of natural ability, is filling this gap successfully. Ragsdale has proved himself a capable substitute. The other starters, Culvahouse, Tidwell, Grant, and Ayers seem to have hit their championship stride, and the Catamounts are anticipating trouble in stopping this crew. Milligan's defense, which was somewhat porous in the King game, should be strengthened by the return of Grant to good health.

This trip marks the second game on the road for the Buffaloes; and if they are successful, Coach Eyer thinks hopes for the championship will be brighter. Eyer is taking Grant, Ayres, Tidwell, Culvahouse, Bolling, Ragsdale, Shelton, Albright, Gilley, Kellar, and Mgr. Farmer on the trip.

Buffs Down Pioneers Last Night, 32 to 20

The Buffaloes downed the Tusculum Pioneers last night, 32-20, for their third conference win as against no defeats. The game was a typical Tusculum game, both teams mingling plenty of football with their cage work. The Pioneers presented a good passing attack, but their shooting was off form.

Kmetz counted a free throw to open the scoring, but Tidwell promptly dropped in a cup to make the score 2-1. The Buffs then ran up a total of 11 points before the Pioneers counted again. At the intermission the Buffs led 16-5.

The entire team played good ball despite the absence of Captain Grant, and the minor injury of Albright.

Kmetz and Scerbak were best for Tusculum.

The lineup:

Milligan	Tusculum
Bolling (4)	Kmetz (7)
	Forward
Culvahouse (6)	Scerbak (8)
	Forward
Tidwell (13)	Yelinek (2)
	Center
Albright (3)	Beck
	Guard
Ayers (5)	Francisco (3)
	Guard

Subs for Milligan: Ragsdale (1), Kellar, Gilley, and Shelton. For Tusculum: Fitch and Henslee.

SOCIETY NEWS ABOUT MILLIGAN STUDENTS

By Yetiva Varner

An event which created an unusually high degree of interest in the circles of the upper classmen was the marriage of Miss Josephine Yeiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Yeiser of Waynesboro, Tennessee, to Mr. Bruce Thompson of Burnsville, North Carolina. The marriage ceremony took place on Christmas Eve, December 24, 1934, at the home of the bride's parents. The bridal pair were accompanied by Mr. Mac Thompson, brother of the groom and assistant football coach at Milligan last fall, and by Miss Marjorie Badgett, a former Milligan student whose home is in Alamo, Tenn.

The young couple have taken up their residence at Embreeville, Tenn., where Mr. Thompson has business interests. Mrs. Thompson will be remembered as a student here for two years, being a member of the present Senior Class, the class of '35. She was especially noted as a "very regular conference partaker." Mr. Thompson was a member of the graduating class of '33 and was one of the outstanding members of the football team. He received the degree of B. S. in Commerce.

A number of Milligan co-eds, showing their loyal support and keen interest in the basketball team, made a rather hazardous trip to King College last Tuesday night through the snow and rain. President and Mrs. Derthick, equally interested, made the trip possible by furnishing the means of transportation. However, the thrilling game more than compensated for any dangers undergone on the way.

The leaving of Miss Anita Hicks at the end of the first semester, due to the illness of her mother, occasioned sorrow on the part of many of the inmates of Hardin Hall, and of one certain young gentleman at Pardee Hall. Miss Hicks returned to her home in Bruceton, Tenn.

President and Mrs. H. J. Derthick returned last Tuesday from Knoxville, after having a short visit with their son, Mr. Roger Derthick, who is a graduate student at the University of Tennessee.

Miss Ben Wah Kail has been confined to her room for over a week suffering from a good old-fashioned case of influenza.

Mr. Kay Burnette, after blessing Milligan with his presence for three and one-half years, has suddenly announced his plans to assume a position of assistant manager in the King Department Store at Johnson City. We are wishing Kay the greatest of success in the business world.

We are all glad to welcome Crystal Carr back in school after a week of illness.

Miss Dorothy Bennett had the pleasure of being the guest of the Automobile Association at its monthly meeting and banquet last Monday at the Spinning Wheel Tea Room in Johnson City.

Miss Pauline Stegall of Kingston, Tennessee, arrived today for a week-end visit with her friend, Miss Sadie Louise Lacey. Miss Lacey and Miss Stegall were roommates at Bryan University.

Mr. Paul Carpenter of Buchanan, Michigan, returned last week to visit old friends and also to attend the wedding of his brother, Mr. J. Walter Carpenter, Jr., and Miss Lucy Sells. While here, Paul was also the special guest of Miss Dorothy Neiser.

MINISTERIAL NEWS

There is a phase of the ministerial student's duties which is not generally known in its fullness by the members of the student body. This duty, which is really not a duty at all but an experience of immense spiritual value and pleasure, consists of a student visiting a rural community during a week-end, preaching two or three sermons—Saturday evening and Sunday—and visiting several homes in the village.

These visits, contrary to popular opinion, are the most important features of ministerial work. They afford excel-

Several new students have entered Milligan at the opening of the second semester. Among these are Frank LeRoy Thompson of Wilkinsburg, Pennsylvania; Neill Colmery, also of Wilkinsburg; and Curtis Eugene Robinson, of Blackwater, Virginia.

Starling Wood spent his Christmas vacation with Mervin McCloskey at the latter's home at Edinburg, Illinois. On the way back to school they paid a visit to Eugene Sullivan of Union City, Tennessee, a former Milligan student. Also, Star made a short and fleeting visit to Miss Betty Cox, of Rockwood, Tenn.

Miss Mary Brown visited with Miss Alice Early at Erwin last Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. McCall, and Dr. Todd were guests at the dining hall for lunch on Registration Day, Wednesday, January 16.

lent opportunities for the minister to create in the various homes a definite spiritual atmosphere. And this is precisely what ministerial students of Milligan College are attempting to accomplish.

After a preaching service, on Saturday evening, a number of invitations, generally from the church members, are extended to the student to remain overnight in their homes and the student, naturally, accepts one of the invitations.

Usually, the family group gathers around the fire-place to chat and to discuss religious questions and problems. The interchange of ideas is of great value to all concerned. By these discussions, the way is opened for some to confess their allegiance to the King of Kings if they have not already received Him into their hearts as Saviour, Master, Friend. Before retiring for the evening, the minister conducts family worship, and if it is entered into with sincerity, the Master is present according to His promise.

At times, in the homes which the student visits, there are some who may be ill, physically and mentally. Here is a chance for the minister to comfort, to encourage, to bring Jesus close, that those who are afflicted might touch the hem of His garment and be strengthened or made whole again.

Thus, the week-end preaching trips are filled with rich experiences of countless worth.

EYLER CONSIDERED FOR U. T. POSITION

In his work as professor of English and as Dean, Dr. Eyer has proved equally successful. He has won for himself a place in the heart of every Milligan student, and should be decided to take this upward step, he has the best wishes of every Milligan supporter.
