MILLIGAN COLLEGE, TENN., SEPTEMBER 27, 1938.

NUMBER 1.

Annual Reception Is Big Affair At Hardin Hall

On Saturday night, September 10, Milligan College had its official opening when the faculty entertained with a reception for the students. The receiving line formed at 8 o'clock and the "Big Sisters" of the school brought their "Little Sister" down to be presented to the faculty. They were followed by the "Old Boys" with the "New Boys." In time everyone met everyone else.

Following the breaking up of the receiving line the group gathered in the chapel for the customary program which was opened by Billy Barnes of Knoxville playing "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" on the pipe organ. The program consisted of numbers by the faculty members and a group of selections by Mr. Barnes. Miss Kester gave two beautiful readings, "The Little Road," and "The Bumble Bee." Miss Yearly sang, "Fairy Children," "Canterbury Bells," "Blue Bells," and "Pool of Quietness." Miss Cantrell rendered by chance a one-

President Derthick Entertains Senior Boys with Dinner

On Friday, September 9, President Derthick was host to the boys of the Senior Class at a luncheon at the Governor Taylor Hotel in Elizabethton.

During the course of a very enjoyable meal President Derthick spoke on the relation of the Senior Class to Milligan College.

Among other things, he pointed out that the members of the class were semi-faculty members and his student council.

Following President Derthick's address, Prof. Cochrane and Dean Fyler made short speeches further impressing on the Seniors their responsibility in making this year a successful one. Then each senior was given opportunity to express his attitude on the policies and ideals of Milligan College.

The banquet was a very enjoyable one and the senior boys wish to express their appreciation.

MRS. KEYS GIVES ORGAN

Hundreds Throng To Hear Dedication

GEORGE W. KEYS

MRS. G. W. KEYS

With the largest crowd in the history of Milligan College present, the splendid pipe organ given to the college by Mrs. George Keys in loving memory of her husband was properly dedicated. So huge was the crowd that many were forced to remain on the campus outside of the auditorium to listen to the service. On the stage, fittingly decorated with baskets of flowers in memory of mother and husband of the benefactress, were seated Mrs. Keys, President Derthick, Dr. Rigell, Adam Bowman, Dr. Eyer and Professor Burns.

Brief talks were made by President Derthick of Milligan, Mr. Bowman, life-long friend and Counselor of the deceased, and Dr. Rigell of the Central Baptist church, his pastor, extolling Mr. Keys' interest during his lifetime in youth, art, music and in Milligan college in particular, and thanking Mrs. Keys for the great service rendered the college by the presentation of the Wurlitzer organ. Dr. Rigell then pronounced the dedication prayer.

After this short service, the overflowing audience was treated to a rare concert by Mr. Billy Barnes of Knoxville who has already attained a wide reputation

Convocation Sermon By President Derthick

What could be more challenging to a group of young people just entering a college year than to be met with the statement from their President—"I am going to call you a name!"

Following his usual custom at the opening of a college year, President H. J. Derthick delivered the convocation address on Sunday morning, September 11, to a large group of students and friends.

Speaking especially to the students President Derthick addressed them as Adventurers. He cited for their consideration a group of the outstanding adventurers of all times, chief among them being Paul, that most daring of Christians, whose courage, loyalty, and faith give us an example for today.

Columbus also was an adventurer who stands in the forefront of world history. President Derthick stressed the indomitable courage and set determination of Columbus as he is characterized in Miller's famous poem with the refrain, "Sail On, Sail On, Sail On!"

Students entering college for the first time are, in a real sense, adventurers into the unknown with the greatest opportunities and possibilities ahead of them. Students returning to their college work are continuing their great adventure.

The young people listening to this sermon were inspired by the lofty ideals set before them; they were honored by being classed with the group of great adventurers; they were moved to a determination to prove worthy of the trust and confidence expressed in giving them the name "Adventurers."

Mrs. Derthick Entertains Senior Girls With Theatre Party

On Tuesday night, September 20, Mrs. Derthick entertained the girls of the Senior Class with a theatre party in Elizabethton at the Bonnie Kate theatre where where Sonja Heine and Richard Green were being featured in "My Lucky Star."

After the show the group enjoyed sundaes and a friendly chat at Taylor's Drug Store before returning to Milligan.

Besides Senior girls, others included in the party were Mrs. Helen Nave, Mrs. Norma Derthick, and Mrs. Bowman.

Everyone expressed appreciation for a delightful time.

Ideals Of Publication

This publication endeavors to foster the ideals for which the student body is ever striving; namely, higher scholarship, cleaner sportsmanship, and finer comradeship. It endeavors to represent the school in all its aspects and to print, in an accurate and engaging way, everything of news interest concerning it.

GRATITUDE

To the Senior class I want to express my sincere appreciation for their selection of me as Editor of the STAMPEDE for this school year. Nothing makes a person happier than to receive the confidence and respect of his class together with the support of an enthusiastic student body and faculty. For all this I am very grateful.

I owe gratitude to the Senior Class also for their excellent selection of a Business Manager and a Circulation Manager and for allowing me the opportunity of selecting those with whom I wish to work in publishing the paper. Although the selection of the staff is not yet complete the ones I chose are as much a part of the staff as I am. They have the spirit we desire to create at Milligan and are outstanding in campus activities so that we may do justice to all departments of the school.

The STAMPEDE is a student publication and we want every student in school to contribute to it. The staff will appreciate your advice, your ideas and thoughts in poems, jokes, editorials, essays, news stories, or anything that will be of interest to the school. This year we hope to use a few snapshots in order to add interest to our paper. The staff will be glad to receive your work and use it if possible as well as to do the work ourselves.

Help us to make this year the best year for the STAMPEDE and for Milligan.

—The Editor

To Our Day Students

Milligan wishes especially to welcome her off campus students. You are as much a part of the school as the dormitory students and you should feel free to visit in the dormitories, make yourselves at home in the parlors, take active part in clubs and organizations, and be a part of the Milligan home.

To Our Freshmen

Welcome, friends! The faculty and upperclassmen are glad to have you. If, at any time, we can help you, feel free to call upon us. Upperclassmen consider it a privilege to be called upon by freshmen for aid or advice. Also, we shall appreciate advice from you that will help us to improve our home, for, after all, Milligan is a home for each and every one of her students.

We have a rather large "family" of Milligan students this year, so let us be happy in bearing each other's hardships and sharing each other's joys.

Perhaps it is hard for our new students to understand the regulations and policies of Milligan, but we feel sure that they will seek with an open mind to know the value of rules in a school crowded with students who are all seeking to adjust themselves to a new life. Policies are as valuable to new students of Milligan as daylight to a traveler. Milligan's policies guide the way for adjustment to a new life. Without those regulations, our students would be like travelers groping in the dark and only guessing at the best road to take them to success.

So WELCOME. New Students! We like you and we're sure you'll love Milligan, first, last, and always.

C. C. C. Students

Milligan College welcomes to her student body twenty young men from the C. C. C. camps in this area. Milligan is one of three or four colleges selected in Tennessee by the government in which to enroll young men of high rank from the various camps throughout the state. The young men who are enrolling in Milligan were chosen because of first and second ranking on the College Entrance Examination given them. They come to us recommended as men of fine character as well.

The men will attend classes on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday and will be fully accredited for all college work. Fifteen attended classes for the first time Tuesday, September 20 and it is expected that the remaining five will begin work within the next few days.

"Of The Hills"

I am the hills, that sigh with the weights of all pine trees upon their breasts.

I am of the hills, with deep blue shadows and exalted crests.

That reach up eagerly and drink of the rain and toss away the wind.

They speak to me, down from their lofty place, I am a friend.

Destroy the vision, some poor critics say, but they have never seen my stoic native heights,

Have never touched a cloud and felt its gentle coolness

Put from the valley lift their arms to narrow sights.

SENIOR PORTRAITS BY VIRGINIA SMITH

RALMOND PERKINS

Perkins attended the training school at Morehead State Teachers College, Morehead, Ky., and Science Hill High School in Johnson City. There he was a member of the French Club, High Y, and W and J Clubs.

Perkins entered Milligan in 1935. Part of the time he has been an off campus student; but he says he likes dormitory life much better.

At Milligan he has been one of the most outstanding members of the basket ball team. Last year he was alternate captain and all conference center. He is a member of the tennis team and has won the Smoky Mt. Conference high jump and placed in javelin throw and high hurdles. He became a member of the M Club during his Freshman year.

During his Junior year he was president of his class and also an attendant at the court in the May Festival when he crowned the King.

Last summer he was here on the campus helping to keep it beautiful.

He is now treasurer of the Glee Club, Vice-President of the Camera Club, Business Manager of the Stampede and one of our cheer leaders. He is now assistant in the physical educational department instructing tennis and bowling.

His hobbies include tennis and making candid camera shots.

Chemistry is Perkins' favorite subject and Biology is his major. He is interested in forestry and hopes to enter some phase of that field after graduation.

Perkins says about Milligan, "If I hadn't liked it, I would have been a student for only one year."

TORREY WOFFARD COPENHAVER

Torrey's home is in Johnson City where she attended Martha Wilder Grammar School, Junior High, then Science Hill High School.

While in high school she was a member of Literary Club, Girls J Club, Home Economics Club, and National Honor Society. She took an active part in tennis, track and basket ball, and studied dramatics for three years.

Torrey came to Milligan in 1934 but due to illness she missed the term between her Sophomore and Junior years. Until this year she has been a day student.

Acting as one of the assistants to the Physical Educational Director, she instructs in swimming and

The Pre-Medics

The premed'cal club held its initial meeting of the year last Monday night, but it was not until Thursday evening that officers for the present semester were elected.

Howard Johnson became President, without dissenting vote, while Gabriela and Mullins were elected to the offices of Vice-president and Secretary-treasurer respectively.

Among the business problems coming before the club was the probability of the honor of affiliating with the National Premedical Society of America. Professor Cochrane gave the needed information on this question meanwhile, he is sending away for more definite information concerning the requirements necessary for getting a chapter at Milligan. All members desire the affiliation and are looking forward to the gaining of the chapter with considerable interest.

Throughout the year the Pre-medics have very busy Monday night meetings. Some of them are often stormy sessions, as the U. S. Senate and House have when a measure is being put through, but most of the meetings are occupied with talks from local Doctors, the occasional viewing of an autopsy or operation in town; once a year a great, glorious banquet is held, representing a delightful social affair.

There have been many inquiries and calls as to the requirements for joining the club and the time of the year is approaching when new members will be allowed to enter. Freshmen are not considered until after they have spent a semester at Milligan. Feel free to talk with any member of the club. He shall be glad to give you any information you desire in regard to becoming a member.

Sunday Vespers

A new note was added to the Christian atmosphere of Milligan when on Sunday afternoon, September 18, at four o'clock, a vesper service was held in the college chapel. With Professor Lotter at the organ, the musical program consisted of the following selections:

- Ave, Maris StellaGreig
- Truamerei Schumann
- Hymns of Nuns Tefebure-Wety
- Serenade Schubert
- Abide With Me—
- Now the Day is Over—

A BUFFALO HE(A)RD

The old buffalo is listening again this year with an ear for gossip. Everyone is free to contribute to this column. We all like a little clean humor. If the joke's on you, show the world you can take it, and give the Buffalo some of your own ideas that will spring a joke on someone else.

If you can lose your head when all about you are losing theirs—then it's a cinch you won't know what it's all about.

We wonder why "Cowboy" blushes when people call him Dimples?

Who is this "handsome" Junior that Julia Smythe is falling for?

Believe it or not. Red Mason left the table the other day when there were still some mashed potatoes left in the bowl.

Who is the only pebble on the beach?

We wonder why Hope Burton missed "Skull Practice" the other night.

What is that "hard boiled" head waiter so sentimental about?

All work and no pay makes "Jack" and plenty of it.

We wonder who Hurley was thinking about when he poured vinegar instead of cream into his coffee. Maybe it was one of the girls he was sitting by at the football game the other night.

We wonder if cups for horsemanship give people the right to be stuck up?—A hint to the wise is sufficient.

It seems that a certain "plump" blonde freshman in the dish-room is about to despair of inspiring her boss to serenade her with "Rosalie."

Quite a few of the girls are getting anxious for W. A. White to make up his mind as to just what one of them he is going to shower with his affections and butterscotch pies this year.

Look out you other Milligan boys! Feminine hearts are fluttering and their voices humming—"There's something about a soldier."

We wonder if Dorothy Heaberlin Freshman has finally grasped the idea that Ritchie is the campus' worst woman hater.

Johnnie Marie Averitte seems to be having trouble convincing "Feeder" Fair that her interest is still centered in him alone.

Fernie Wheeler is bearing up bravely under her injuries—especially when Steve Shelton is around. But be careful Fernie—there's likely to be an epidemic of knee injuries.

The old girls of the college envy those who are now receiving their Chemistry Lab instructions from that silver-tongued orator, Rudolph Ambrose Dralle.

We notice that John Fugate has managed to be seated near Miss England again this year. We heard he was fond of her.

Carsie Hyder seems to have carried her unsolved conference-problems over from last year, since we've noticed both "Beetle" Williams and Elmer Stahman accompanying her around the campus.

We see that Bill Pike is Mill-ing around the campus these days.

We wonder if being under blonde pressure all last year is what has made Fred Dellinger an easy prey for scheming blondes this year.

Isn't it a shame that Roan Mountain hasn't sent down another gifted young man to brighten Reba Durrett's soph year.

It is reported that "Bob" Rice was so dressed up last Sunday that nobody recognized him.

Prof. Cochrane: This exam will be conducted on the honor system. Please take seats three apart and in alternate rows.

Attention Hitler: War doesn't decide who's right—only who's left.

He sat upon the sofa and said to the parlor light either you or I, old fellow, will be turned down tonight.

Varnell: Why the black crepe on the door, is your roommate dead?

Howard Johnson: That's not crepe, that's my towel.

Prize fillys of the reception: Margaret Steele, Marie Jenkins, Eleanor Vogel, Jennie Smith, "Sunshine."

Catty remark overheard at reception "That dress makes her look like grandma. Almost as good as Walter Winchell's."

It seems that Dean Eyler's new baby has given him valuable lessons that he teaches to the American Lit Class about pronunciation.

Some of the Freshmen boys wore helmets to their first "Skull Practice." And Sybil Frye wants to know how often the football boys have "head-bumping contests."

DeWitt seems to favor blondes instead of being "Foxy" this year.

Does anyone know whether Hugh Cline got any relief after he saw the nurse the other night

We wonder if it would cramp Gillenwater's style if he buttoned his shirt and wore a tie to Conference.

And by the way, it takes a Bright boy to be named after Artemus, the roaming goddess of wild nature.

It seems that the gym is well guarded—at least during Conference.

Wonder why Sid Davis thought the final score was 12 to 0 at the end of the game Saturday night.

And did it ever occur to you that Little Auditor will always be a Painter, even after he gets his D.

Two New Faculty Members

The new students of Milligan are finding a common tie of fellowship binding them to at least two members of the Milligan College faculty, who themselves are "Freshmen." Both the old students and the other faculty members extend a cordial welcome to these new staff members.

Dr. Harold G. McCurdy, head of the Psychology Department, fills the place left vacant by the resignation of Dr. Crudden who has gone into research work. Dr. McCurdy is a "Tar Heel" and proud of the fact—his home being in Salisbury, North Carolina. Both his undergraduate and his graduate work were done at Duke University. Dr. McCurdy taught for a short time in High Point College, also in North Carolina, before coming to Milligan.

Dr. McCurdy is a person of varied interests. Nature study, with particular attention to birds and plants occupies much of his time. He enjoys reading and is quite talented at drawing. Strange as it may seem to some of us Dr. McCurdy likes to translate Latin and Greek poems. Incidentally, Greek was his major as an undergraduate. His Ph. D. was taken in Psychology. However not only does Dr. McCurdy translate poems—he writes poetry as well. In sports, Dr. McCurdy is fond of tennis, swimming and golf.

An even more recent addition to the faculty is Dr. David K. McCarroll, whose home is in Hickory, Pennsylvania, in the Pittsburgh area. His undergraduate work was done at Washington and Jefferson College, at Washington, Penn. He as well as Dr. McCurdy did his graduate work at Duke University.

Before coming to Milligan, Dr. McCarroll worked for the National government in the archives at Washington for a year. Prior to that time he taught History for one semester at the University of Tennessee. He has also taught at Duke University and at Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh.

Dr. McCarroll is thirty-one years of age, and is as yet unmarried. It is rumored about the campus, however, that he plans to change his marital status before the end of this year. Questioned as to his hobbies, Dr. Carroll confessed to an especial liking for building models—such as steel locomotives from metals. He also spends much time in reading and writing. He is planning to do some research and creative work while at Milligan.

Athletic Spirit

It is sometimes considered merely a matter of form when, at the opening of a new year, coaches and managers report "a greatly improved spirit among the football team." However, the spirit displayed by the team this year is in such a marked degree superior to that of former years that the entire school is taking notice and the expressions concerning the better attitude, organization, and spirit of the team come from sincere appreciation.

That football demands teamwork and even men acting as one is a statement made so often it is becoming trite. In spite of this and regardless of the splendid group of men on last year's squad and the sportsmanship shown by them, the boys were playing individually, without the splendid united purpose that carries all before it. Such is not the case this year. Each man is thinking, not of himself, but of the team and how much the play is going to help all and how far the whole team is going this year.

Of special interest is the part played by the freshmen group in maintaining this new football spirit. Heretofore, the freshmen boys have seemed indifferent to the welfare of the team and the necessity for a team spirit. The new boys of '38, however, seem to have the spirit a team ought to have.

So, you foot ball men, the school is watching you and we're proud of what we see. We're standing in the sidelines yelling: "Yay, Buffaloes, Sav. Buffaloes, We're betting on you."

Banner Enrollment for 1938

Milligan College is trying to burst her shell. If she gains any more it will be necessary for her to enlarge the walls or split them. As Prof Cochrane says, "Milligan needs rubber buildings so they will stretch." Literally speaking, the dormitories, both the boys' and girls' are overflowing. More than three hundred and fifteen hungry minds are enrolled. This is a banner year.

Generally speaking, as a group increases in personage, it diminishes in spirit. But Milligan again proves that she is exceptional. Never before in the history of the school has there been a finer, more adaptable student body. In the classrooms, the dormitories, and on the athletic field, sportsmanship and keen application is the motto of each individual. That is not as unusual as it sounds when one considers the fact that each student tries to live by the Christian Code. President Derthick is greatly responsible for this spirit. His example is an inspiration to everyone on the campus. Both he and Mrs. Derthick do everything in their powers to make every boy and girl enrolled at Milligan feel that they have found a Christian home.

The Stampede Welcomes The Range

The STAMPEDE, speaking for the student body as a whole, welcomes the new alumni publication, "The Buffalo Range," the first issue of which is appearing with the STAMPEDE, the student paper.

Until last year, there was no organization of the Alumni of Milligan College. Last year an active association, with Professor J. Goff Long as secretary, was formed. Effort was made to get intouch with every former student. In the spring two alumni editions of the Stampede were printed and these were distributed among the former students of Milligan, who then expressed their desire for a separate alumni paper for this year.

The STAMPEDE congratulates Professor Long and his co-workers on the name selected for the new publication, and on the effort they are putting forth to publish an interesting, up-to-the-minute, readable paper. The STAMPEDE wishes to express its desire to cooperate in every way with the Range, and its staff is ready to serve the new paper at any time.

Milligan Looks Abroad

Three members of the faculty Miss England, Miss Kester and Professor Lodter visited European countries this summer.

Miss Kester sailed June 29 on the Normandie. The voyage lasted four and one-half days. During her four days in Paris she visited the Louvre, Paris Opera, Palace of Versailles and the Folies Bergere.

From Paris she went to Nice and Monte Carlo and the Italian Riviera and then to Rome, where she saw the Coliseum, the Forum, the great churches, and the Vatican which contains art—statuary and paintings.

She visited Florence and Venice; in Milan she visited the Gothic Cathedral and saw the painting of the Last Supper. After she had crossed the Swiss Alps and visited Germany, she sailed by steamer down the Rhine and visited Bingen and Cologne.

At Brussels in Belgium she saw the lace factories and remains of the war ruins.

During a motor trip through Holland she stopped at the Hague where she visited the International Peace Palace. After crossing the English Channel by steamer, she spent one and one-half weeks in London. Later she visited Stratford-on-Avon and in Scotland stopped at Edinburg and Glasgow. In Edinburg she saw Princess St. and Holyground House; in Glasgow, the Empire Exposition.

August 21 found her at home again in New York City.

Professor Lodter sailed July 13 on the "Normandie" and made a tour of France from Paris to the Mediterranean. He visited many famous places of France history and literature.

Just before arriving in Paris he visited the old French abbey, Mont. St. Michel. He spent one week in Paris, took a trip through the Alps, visited Monte Carlo and Nice. During the last week of his sojourn in Europe he visited relatives at Strasbourg on the Franco-German frontier.

He arrived in New York on August 29, just in time for a short stay at his own home before returning to Milligan.

Miss England sailed June 29 on the "Cameronia." There were twenty in the party in which she traveled. During her stay in Europe she visited Scotland, England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, and France. She returned on the Voderdam and arrived in New York on August 23 after a delightful vacation abroad.

BUFFALOES TRAMPLE HIWASSEE

Milligan Stampeds
Hiwassee 27 - 0

Coach Lacey's Milligan Buffaloes inaugurated the 1938 football season by taking a 27-0 victory from a fighting but out-classed Hiwassee team. Milligan received the opening kick-off and began a march toward the goal which was interrupted by a penalty, forcing Milligan to kick. The Hiwassee safety fumbled and Capt. Range recovered on the 25 yard line. From here Burton and Howington alternated in carrying the ball with Burton finally taking it across. Howington converted on a line plunge. Milligan scored again about the middle of the second quarter with Peace putting the ball in position and Howington scoring. Noel converted from placement and the half ended with the score 14-0.

Early in the third quarter, Webb broke loose on a reverse for a 68 yard touchdown jaunt. In the latter part of the third quarter Pike, who did some real blocking during the entire game, and Burton placed the ball in scoring position and Howington plunged across for the final count. Howington passed to McClellan for extra point.

Girl's 'M' Club

Becoming a member of the "M" Club is a great desire of many of the Milligan girls. It is a club in which a spirit of cooperation and sportsmanship is shown.

The members of this club are those who have acquired an M through hard but satisfactory work in basketball.

There are also those members of the Girl's "M" Club who act as cheer leaders for the basket ball and football teams.

This year we have seven members of the "M" Club back who play basketball and we are looking forward to having several more members added to our club.

The Girl's "M" Club is one of the best examples of Milligan womanhood. Its aim is the promotion of friendly feeling and good fellowship.

OUR CAPTAINS

"COWBOY" RANGE

Captain "Cowboy" Range was born in Johnson City, Tennessee on December 23, 1914 and there he received his early training and education. He finished high school in 1933 and worked the following year. Then he enrolled at Milligan and after two years he again stayed out in order to work. Last year he was one of the outstanding players on the team and very popular with the boys. This spring he hopes to achieve his A. B. degree and then enter the coaching profession. "Cowboy" likes to dance and is fond of travel. He is majoring in economics.

"RED" LAWS

Captain James "Red" Laws, hails from Elizabethton, Tennessee. He was born there on August 13, 1914 and has spent all his life in and around this city. He attended grammar school and high school there, achieving a fine record of athletic and academic achievements. Finishing there in 1934, he enrolled at Milligan the same fall. He is majoring in economics and is planning to take graduate work in this subject at some university. "Red" is a great lover and if you ask him about it he won't deny the accusation. He likes to dance, play bridge, and study military activities.

COACHING STAFF

Milligan is looking forward to one of her greatest years in sports. Whatever success she may have depends largely on the type of coaches that have charge of the players. The coaching staff of the football team consists of Head Coach Steve Lacey and his able assistant, Star Woods.

Coach Lacey is thought to be the youngest college coach in the South. He was born at Fordtown, Tennessee in 1909 and attended school at Holston Institute where he graduated in 1927. From there he came to Milligan. During his

Milligan Freshmen Lose to Elizabethton

The Milligan "Rats" lost their annual tussle with Elizabethton's strong eleven, on Thursday night by the score of 19 to 2. Despite the defeat several of Milligan's players showed potential power by their performance. Seaton, a former Hilltopper, and W. Arnold looked good in the line. Captain "Shokey" Williams and Evans showed promise of future worth by their work in the backfield.

Lineups for the teams were as follows:

Milligan	Elizabethton
W. Arnold	L. E. W. Maup'n
Cure	L. T. Chambers
Fox	L. G. Elliott

'M' Club Boys Organize

The Boy's "M" Club met Thursday, September 15, and elected the following officers for the first semester:

Sam Lawson—President.
Kenneth Noel—Vice-President.
John Fugate — Secretary and Treasurer.

Earl Ritchie—Sergeant-at-arms.
The club has the largest organization this year that it has ever had, and is one of the strongest organizations on the "Hill."

For the benefit of the freshmen and those upperclassmen who are still green around the edges—the "M" Club was organized for those lettermen who are anxious to uphold the true meaning and standards symbolized by Milligan's "M". It is a great honor to belong to the "M" Club and the entire student body wishes it the best year it has ever had.

Our Glee Club Singers

The Glee club is off to a good start this year with about sixty-five students attending the first meeting of the club. Of this number only about half were members last year and it is expected that among the new ones there will be much talent that will strengthen particularly the male section of the group.

Officers for the first semester who were elected at the initial meeting are:

- Howard Johnson President
- Carsie Hyder Vice-President
- Minnie Burns Secretary
- Raymond Perkins Treasurer

Miss Yearley outlined plans for this school year which include a Christmas program, a light opera to be given in the spring of the year and participation on the All-College Program at the Teachers' College.

This year there will be, in addition to the regular girls' trio and mixed quartet, a male quartet, a mixed quartet of Freshmen and another girls' trio. The work of these groups should add much to the enjoyment of all this college year.

Class Recital

Miss Frances L. Yearley presented a group of students of last year in a class recital Wednesday afternoon, September 21 in honor of the new students. The recital was the first given so far this year. Subsequent recitals of like nature will be given every few weeks during the college year.

- The program was as follows:
- Ariana's Dance Grieg
 - Romance La Forge

Milligan Honored With Alpha Psi Omega Chapter

The Eta Lambda cast, local chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity was off to an early start this year when it held its first meeting of the current school year Thursday evening, September 8, with four charter members present; namely, Dorothy Kester, Florence Potter, Estella Elliott, and Abraham Gabriele. Sub-director; and Miss Elliott. Secretary-treasurer. Miss Kester is faculty adviser.

The cast outlined a number of plans for the school's dramatic program, the major one for the present time being to re-organize the dramatic club and to sponsor a program in order to improve its financial status.

A slate of officers for the dramatic club was drawn up by the Eta Lambda cast to be voted upon by the members of the dramatic club. This slate of officers was presented to the club Friday evening, Sept. 9 and the following people were selected as officers: President—Nora Kennedy, Vice-Pres.—Bill Owen, Secretary—Rose Tilford, Treasurer—Mary Louise Johnston.

At this meeting the members of Alpha Psi Omega presided and were presented to the dramatic club members and candidates by Miss Dorothy Kester, who gave an explanation of the honorary fraternity. A copy of the original charter of the Eta Lambda cast of Alpha Psi Omega was shown to the group.

Dramatic Club Officers Elected

On September 9, 1938 Miss Dorothy Kester, Head of the Department of Speech, called a meeting of the Dramatic Club of Milligan College. All new students looking forward to dramatics on the campus were invited.

Introductory to the business session, Miss Kester gave instructions to the guests concerning "try-outs," by which method the nominating committee selects members for the Dramatic Club. These prospective members then adjourned.

Presiding over the election of officers for the club were the officers of the Alpha Psi Omega: Florence Potter, President; Abe Gabrielle, Vice-president; Estelle Elliot, Sec.-Treas. Two nominees for each office were presented by the Alpha Psi Omega.

The members of the Dramatic Club voiced their approval of these nominees by refusing to make further nominations. Votes were cast by secret ballot and the following were elected as officers for the year: President, Nora Kennedy; Vice-President Bill Owens; Secretary, Rose Tilford; Treasurer, Mary Louise Johnston.

Congratulatory speeches were made by each of the presiding officers of the Alpha Psi Omega who respectively submitted their chairs to the incoming officers of the Dramatic Club.

Majestic Entertains Freshmen

On Tuesday night, September 6, the Majestic Theatre in Johnson City, was host to the Freshmen class of Milligan College. The group met anxiously at Hardin Hall where taxis awaited to take them into town.

"Spawn of the North," featuring Dorothy Lamour, Henry FONDA, and George Raft, gave a vivid picture of icebergs and the northern fishing territory.

Members of the Freshmen class extend hearty appreciation to the Majestic for an enjoyable evening.

both in this country and abroad. Mr. Barnes program was varied enough to suit all; it included numbers religious, classical, and semi-classical. His interpretations were artistic, to say the least, and brought out all the antarcacies of tone and shading the instrument is capable of. The college hopes that ere long it may once more enlist the services of this talented young musician.

Following is the program rendered: Suite Gothique—Beethoven. Beautiful Blue Danube—Strauss, Ave Maria—Schubert, La Paloma—Yrodier, Waltz in D Flat Major—Chopin, Fountain in the Moonlight — Felix. London—Ferry Air—Old Irish Melody, Abide With Me—Hymn tune, Carry Me Back to O'd Virginia—Rland, Prelude and Fugue in G Major — Bach, Sanctus (Messe Solenneley—Gounod, Lead Kindly Light—West.

Junior Class Organizes

The Junior class met last week and elected their officers for this year. Besides electing officers for the class, the associate editor and associate business manager of the STAMPEDE were elected. The following officers were elected.

President—Sidney Davis.

Vice-President — Thomas Fraser.

Secretary-treasurer — Gertrude Garrison.

Associate editor of STAMPEDE — Mary Louisa Johnston.

Associate business manager of STAMPEDE—Carsie Hyder.

It was suggested and approved that the members of the class be given a little more time to think on the matter of who should be elected as associate officers of the "Buffalo," since these officers require a great deal of responsibility.

At a later meeting of the class, Abe Gabriele was elected to hold the responsible position of Associate Editor of the BUFFALO and Boyd Ray was elected Associate Business Manager.

M. DuBont Addresses Chapel

The entire school was delighted at having as chapel speaker Monday morning Mr. Dubont of Louisiana.

Mr. Dubont is a missionary of French Arcadian descent. His interesting talk on the French Arcadian people gave a realistic picture of their ideals, and environment, and showed the relation of religion to their everyday life.

Printing Press Installed

Through the kind gift of Mr. F. W. Palmer, president of the Kingsport Press, a complete printing press with book-binding equipment has been installed in the ground floor of the J. O. Cheek Activity Building. The press is fully equipped to do all the college printing of newspapers, annuals, catalogues, etc., as well as to do a thorough job of binding. All worn volumes in the library can now be rebound.

Archie W. Gray, graduate of Milligan in the class of 1927, will have charge of the printing department and Steve Morton will be in charge of the book binding department.

All the labor will be done by the students of Milligan College. This will be the first unit in vocational training.

CHEERS !

Cheers for everybody, but for our fine football team especially. We have more mouths with which to cheer than ever before, and, fortunately, we also have fine peppy jitterbugs to lead our cheers. The best of several candidates were selected to assist Eleanor Vogel and Johnny Marie Averitte in the all important task of bringing that Milligan spirit out in the form of organized noise. The ones selected were Katie Hawkins, Burl Peery, and Ray (Perk) Perkins.

We have excellent leaders and a large student body. We have no alibi if we do not have the best cheering section in the conference this year. A good cheering section gives a team a greater desire to win. Cooperate with our cheer leaders and let the team know you're behind them.

The Return Of The Graduate

Youth without beauty is lost. Keats' avowal, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever" rings in their ears as the students of today look at the campus of Milligan College. Carelessly they boast that their campus is the most beautiful in the conference. Yet the pride they feel is on the moment only, for they do not see, or compare the campus twenty-five years ago with what lies before them now.

Attend to the visit of a graduate. As he stands on the steps of Hardin Hall the buildings may look the same—bricks and mortar stand unmoved. But beyond that he scans the beauty of the campus.

He remembers the bare grounds of the campus as they were years before when Milligan was his home. With faint hopes he had watched the planting of the first scrawny shrubs which dotted the clay soil. He derived some consolation, for the Conference couples of the future would be grateful. Then he was graduated, leaving the buildings of Milligan rearing desolately out the stark earth. He had not been able to foresee the end, so small was the beginning.

Today he wanders across the velvet covering of the smooth-cut grass and stops amid green things growing. A strange song bursts forth and he turns in the direction of the administration building.

Almost stealthily, for fear of scaring the beautiful songster, he nears the pond, built from large old pebbles. A school of goldfish scatters and darts to corners and crevices as his shadow falls on the water. In the center of the pond, moss-covered stones, piled one upon another, invite the birds of the air to drink and linger in the cool water, for it is flowing from the top and running languidly down the stones into the pond. The graduate searches the watery mirror for an answer to the change. He finds none; life is like that. There reflects only the leaves of the trees towering near-by.

He turns from the silent fish and steps adventurously down the shady walks. Birds twitter, so eager is he that he strolls under a bridal arch, scarcely noticing gay couples thereabout. Wandering around the graveled roads hemmed in by umbrella trees, he paces over the amphitheatre. He muses that the fans had stood on the blank hill-side and watched the football battles on the miniature plain below. Today he moves with light footfalls down the quaint stone steps.

Over that hard plain field with surging memories of victories, glories, and defeats—he marches toward what promises to be another fish pool. In it, however, are not fish, but lilies as white and pure and stately as only lilies can be.

He looks beyond on the willows as they bend their boughs and seem to command the wandering youth to stay in quiet reverie beneath their shade at the water's brink. Truly the graduate would pause and in the flowing stream leave his memories of that bare campus he had known. He would erect his life anew to fit the handiwork of God and man.

Faintly he hears the works of one who strives so carefully to understand the beauty of the earth, "a little short of Paradise." And resting against the trunk of a willow tree, he rests in dreams, knowing that the spirit of the evergreens, the pride of the spruce, magnolia and maple whisper of nature—lift upward with a joy forever.

The Sophomore class held a meeting September 19 for the purpose of electing officers. Looking toward a year of accomplishment and realizing the need of capable officers in order to attain this, several members of the class presented their views, which were the result of much thought and consideration. Oris Hyder, president of the class last year, presided at the meeting until the new president was chosen. There were put before the class at last three nominees for each office. The vote was taken by a show of hands and the following were elected:

President—Steve Shelton.

Vice-President—Oris Hyder.

Secretary - Treasurer — Reable Griffith.

Associate Editor Stampede—Nera Kennedy.

Camera Club Plans to Re-Organize

During the past week there have been many inquiries about the re-organization of the Camera Club. Camera fans on the campus remember with pride the helpful instructions and advice derived from the club under the sponsorship of Dr. Crudden last year. The club plans to re-organize as soon as possible and will be under the leadership of its capable President, Webb D. Shuman, until a new sponsor and new officers are elected.

Membership is open to everyone who is interested in taking good pictures as well as to those who wish to learn the more advanced methods of developing and printing pictures.

Editor of 'Cleveland Plain Dealer' Addresses Chapel

Last Wednesday morning we had as our chapel speaker Mr. Everest Derthick of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Derthick, is editor of the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER. His talk on newspaper work was enjoyed not only by students of journalism but also by the entire audience. He gave many valuable tips and practical advice to both men and women seeking newspaper work. Altogether the chapel service was a very valuable and entertaining as only the publisher of a large daily paper can make it.

act drama, "Two Slatterns and a King." Mr. Barnes repertoire consisted of popular and semi-classical music.

After the program the group scattered, some to stroll in the triangle, some to watch and listen to Mr. Barnes play request numbers, and some to chat with friends in the parlors of Hardin Hall. The evening's entertainment was closed with the serving of punch. Dr. McCurdy, being initiated as the only new faculty member, presided at the punch bowl. He was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Toby Nave.

Several off campus guests added to the spirit of the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. McCowan were out from Johnson City. Among the alumni present were: Miss Grace Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Poe, and Mr. and Mrs. George Norton. Mrs. Evler's sister was with her, and Miss Minnie Burns brought her house guest from Bristol with her.

Everyone expressed their appreciation for an enjoyable evening.

Milligan - Hiwassee

The fourth quarter was featured by the stubborn defense of the Milligan reserves. Although Hiwassee threatened several times they were unable to hit pay dirt. Outstanding play for the fourth quarter was Linebaugh's 30 yard run before the Hiwassee safety pulled him down.

The defensive work of the entire Milligan line was outstanding but the passing attack was not clicking.

Friday night the Buffaloes tangle with Tennessee Wesleyan Bulldogs at Athens.

time here, he achieved an outstanding record. He made All-Conference team in both football and basketball and also excelled in baseball. His spirit and good work was also apparent in the classroom and in all school activities. He majored in English and gained his A. B. degree in 1931. Then he entered the coaching profession the following fall at Piney Flats Va. In 1933 he came back to Milligan as Head Coach where he was to gain recognition for his well-coached teams.

Assistant Coach Star Woods was born in St. Charles, Va., in the year 1912. At an early age his family moved to Big Stone Gap, Va., and it was there that he received his grade and high school education. In 1931 he enrolled at Milligan where he achieved great success as a debator, scholar and athlete. He had the honor of being the captain of the championship team of 1934. After leaving Milligan in the spring of 1935, he coached at Coeburn, Virginia and after a year there he returned to Milligan to serve in his present capacity.

With two men of such character in charge of the squad the football outlook as concerns this school appears very bright.
