

Milligan announces new faculty and staff members for spring

MILLIGAN COLLEGE, Tenn. (Jan. 18, 2017)—Milligan College welcomes several new faculty and staff members to start the spring 2017 semester. New faculty include:

Dr. Tara Cosco will serve as associate professor of education. Previously, Cosco taught at Glenville State College in Glenville, West Virginia, as associate professor of special education since 2008. She earned a Master of Education in special education from West Virginia University in Morgantown, West Virginia, and her Doctor of Education in technology and e-learning from Northcentral University in Prescott Valley, Arizona. For more information about Tara Cosco click here.

Dr. Angela Hilton-Prillhart, associate professor of education, has been appointed chair of the Area of Education upon Dr. Lyn Howell's retirement at the end of the fall 2016 semester. Hilton-Prillhart has served on Milligan's faculty since 2011. For more information about Angela Hilton-Prillhart click here.

Rachel Jones, a 2011 alumna, will begin as instructor of social work at Milligan in the spring. Jones is an alumna of Milligan and also holds a Master of Social Work from the University of Kentucky. She completed a two-year term of service in the Philippines with the Peace Corps this fall. For more information about Rachel Jones click here.

Dr. Gary S. Selby joins the faculty ranks at Emmanuel Christian Seminary at Milligan serving as professor of ministerial formation. Previously, he taught at Pepperdine University as the Carl P. Miller Chair of Communication and director of the university's Center for Faith and Learning where he developed the COMMUNITAS Early Career Pastoral Leadership Program. Selby holds a Doctor of Philosophy in public communication from the University of Maryland and a Master of Theology from Harding University Graduate School of Religion. For more information about Gary Selby click here.

New staff include:

David Knechtel will serve as clinical coordinator for Milligan's new Master of Science in Physician Assistant Studies (M.S.P.A.S.) Program, launching January 2018. He holds a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in health science and an M.S.P.A.S. degree from Duquesne University.

Robbyn Maylott joins Milligan's staff as personnel director with over 25 years of experience in the human resources area. She has a Professional in Human Resources (P.H.R.) certification and a Master of Arts in organizational management.

Lois Oiler serves as accounting manager and comes to Milligan with over 20 years of experience in nonprofit and college accounting. She graduated Milligan in 1992 with a B.S. in accounting.

###

MILLIGAN COLLEGE is a Christian liberal arts college in Northeast Tennessee whose vision is to change lives and shape culture through a commitment to servant leadership. The college offers more than 100 majors, minors, pre-professional degrees and concentrations in a variety of fields, along with graduate and adult degree completion programs. To learn more about Milligan College, visit www.milligan.edu or call 800-262-8337.