BRIEFLYCOLLEGE BASKETBALL*Lamar hires Knight's son
Pal Knight is getting a fresh start at Lamar.

The son of Hall of Famer Bob Knight was introduced as the new coach of the Cardinals on Tuesday, less than a month after he was fired by Texas Tech.

The 40-year-old Knight replaces Steve Roccaforte, who was fired after going 76-78 in five years. The Cardinals finished 13-17 and 7-9 in the Southland Conference to tie for ninth place last season.

"I did get into this business, not for fame, not for fortune," Knight said. "I got in this business to start my own program, to run my own program, to build a program that people will be proud of, and I have an opportunity to do that here at Lamar."

NFLLeague, players prepare for court

The NFL lockout is about to head to court. With the lockout at three weeks and no end in sight, attorneys for the NFL and its locked-out players will go before a federal judge on Wednesday in the first round of their fight over the future of the $9 billion business — including the 2011 season.

The players — with stars like Tom Brady, Peyton Manning and Drew Brees among the plaintiffs and retirees and yet-to-play rookies joining them in support — are asking for an immediate end to the lockout on the basis of "irreparable harm" to their careers. The injunction request accompanies the antitrust lawsuit filed against the league after labor talks broke down on March 11.

AUTO RACINGStock cars to continue in Nashville

The State Fair Board has voted to continue stock car racing at the Nashville fair grounds. According to The Tennessean newspaper, the decision Tuesday came after months of debate about whether the property should host racing as it has since 1958.

Preservationists wanted to preserve the fairgrounds property but others, including Metro Nashville Mayor Karl Dean, believed the property should be developed.

The board voted to host seven races this year. There was weekly Saturday night racing at the track in past years. Still to be determined is what contractor will operate the 78-mile paved track.

COLLEGE BASEBALLBucs fall to Furman, 14-5

Paul Hollman tied the Atlantic Sun record for career home runs, but it wasn't enough for East Tennessee State in a 14-5 loss to Furman on Tuesday in Greenville, S.C.

Hollman, the lone Buccaneer with multiple hits, sent his 58th shot of the year over the fence in the seventh inning to tie the record. Belmont's Derek Wiley previously held the record after hitting 58 homers from 2006-09. Hollman was the only ETSU player with multiple hits, finishing the game 2-for-5 with two runs scored and three RBIs.

The Paladins had already gone up 14-1 before Hollman's homer, putting the game out of reach in the sixth with four runs on five hits and an ETSU error. Furman outlasted ETSU 13-8 in the game and had three players with three hits apiece.

ETSU freshman Clayton Freeman gave up seven runs on seven hits in 1 2/3 innings for his second loss of the season.

The Bucs, who fell to 16-9, play host to Appalachian State today at 7:05 p.m. at Cardinal Park.
