THE BUFFALO

1924

Published by the
SENIOR CLASS OF MILLIGAN COLLEGE
Milligan College, : : : : Tenn.

Foreword

"The moving finger writes; and having writ moves on."

The Staff of the '24 Buffalo, however, does not predict the awful fate that follows the wanting balance. We merely record here the experiences, the joys, the successes, and the happiness of our sojourn in old Milligan and then pass on out,—out from these sacred, classic halls to meet the problems and tasks of life.

If, dear reader, while you peruse these pages at some future time, and feel the glow of pleasant memories, if there arises the old time love for your Alma Mater,—“reared against the sky,” and if you resolve, thenceforth, to renew your allegiance to her, then, and only then, shall the Buffalo of '24 deem itself worthy of being called a success.

In this volume, we have endeavored to record the spirit of college life; we have tried to breathe our profoundest appreciation to the honors of Milligan; and we have expressed our thanks to that host of business men who have come to our financial aid by means of advertising.

And now, reader, proceed to the pages that lie before you, and when you shall have come to THE END close your eyes and silently breathe a prayer for that institution to which we all owe so much.

THE COLLEGE

Early History of Milligan College

Milligan College had its beginning in the Yesterday. It was just at the close of the Civil War that Doctor Caswell Taylor's daughter, now Mrs. Jane Millard of Johnson City, taught school in the Old Buffalo log church where the present church now stands. The people became interested, and her brother Isaac Taylor, in 1867 or 1868 obtained a charter for a school to be known as Buffalo Institute, which he and the neighbors planned to build. W. G. Barker united with them and became the first teacher in the new building: then followed Professor Turner and later Professor Akard, who closed his work in the spring of 1875. Having learned of the situation, through J. D. Hamaker and Samuel Shelbourne, Prof. Josephus Hopwood decided to make investigations.

In August, 1875, he came to Johnson City, then a town of 1500 people. He was kindly entertained overnight in the home of W. C. Maupin and on the next morning heard him preach in the school house on Science Hill. The disciples had no house of worship and only a few members. On the following morning a party went to Buffalo Institute on a prospecting tour. The house was a two-story brick, 36x40, with two rooms. It was situated on one acre of land which had been donated by Joshua Williams. After looking over the building and grounds and getting together the Board of Trustees: W. G. Barker, C. C. Taylor, J. D. Price, Pickney Williams, Sam W. Hyder and others, the agreement was made. Prof. Hopwood was to pay interest on the debt of $1250.00 which was against the property.

It was on August 19th, the first anniversary of their marriage, that Mrs. Hopwood arrived from Kentucky to assist Prof. Hopwood in the work. They took board half a mile away with "Uncle Pickney" Williams, as he was affectionately called. This was an excellent family and made a most congenial home for Prof. and Mrs. Hopwood. When asked what board he would charge, the good man replied, "Well, I wouldn't charge you anything, but you know I've got eleven gals to shoe and I guess I'll have to charge you $2.00 a week."

The county had no money for public schools that year, nor the year following, so Prof. Hopwood set out to canvass the community for subscription students. School opened early in September, and both of these good souls entered with enthusiasm into the work. During the first quarter they found it necessary to live nearer to the school; hence, they leased a small two-room cottage and one acre of ground adjoining the school lot. Later this was bought from S. W. Hyder for $500.00, for a private home. Its immediate dooryard is now occupied by the large locust tree in front of Hardin Hall.

The first school-year was a very happy one. At the close of it a public examination was given and a rising young man named A. A. Taylor was chosen to make the literary address. Vacation was spent largely in canvassing for students. On Morgan, his blooded Kentucky horse, Prof. Hopwood travelled twenty to forty miles in every direction.

The problem of securing land adjoining the school was long and difficult of solution. Finally, a fair campus and playground were obtained. In the summer of 1878, Prof. Hopwood leased the entire property for twenty-one years. After the leases, putting up houses became an engrossing subject and a large dining-room and kitchen were added to the cottage, some other buildings brought up and attached to it, and a second story put over it all. Soon there were three sides of a square of buildings, double porches all around, and two good cisterns in the little green court. Up to this time they had carried water from the spring by the creek. Later at the southeast corner of the square a deep well of the finest water was dug. About sixty students was the capacity, but several neighbors opened their homes and took excellent care of a number of the boys and girls, year by year.

Plans were being laid for erecting larger school buildings. A small frame building was put up on the lower side of the yard for younger classes. In the summer of 1880, one hundred and fifty thousand hand-made brick were burned on the school grounds. At the same time a building, now the Hendrix home, was in the process of erection. This was to meet the demands for a girls' home.

After July the tenth, the men went to the woods, cut the logs, hauled them to the saw mills, sawed and seasoned the lumber, worked it all by hand, dug out the foundation, and had the building ready for Samuel Shelburne and family to occupy by the last of August.

In April, 1881, the corner stone of the new college building was laid. For this occasion Col. N. G. Taylor had been engaged to give the address, but was unable to come; so Prof. Hopwood addressed the students and friends, dedicating the building to the cause of Christian Education, and announcing the name, Milligan College. The summer's work on the college building was directed by Henry Crouch, the father of Will, Ed, and Adam, all of whom later became alumni of the college and who are now prominent in the affairs of life.

Thus, we have the brief history of the early days of Milligan College—a college that has grown and prospered with the passing years, sending forth men and women of true Christian character and noble ideals to bless the world.

MRS. H. J. DERTHICK, Dean of Women

The success and progress of Milligan College in all departments and in all phases of its many activities is due for the most part to the president who bears willingly and prayerfully and well the tremendous burden of raising funds for the support of the great work which he, though absent most of the time, directs and encourages so successfully. He is a man—a man among men—tried in the fires of criticism, but staunch and firm he stands, a true friend, a true man, a true American.

H. J. DERTHICK, President

President Dertthick could not have accomplished all that he has, were it not that he has associated with him a group of efficient officers and teachers—loyal men and women—who are pouring their souls ardently into every phase of the college life. Happy should be the heart of the boy or the girl into whose life there has come the joy of those who "know whom they have believed," and when these boys and girls go out from Milligan College, we feel that they have such firm faith and trust that "though they trip and fall, they shall not blind their souls with clay."

J. GOFF LONG, A. B.
McRoberts, Kentucky

President Athenian Literary Society, '24; Associate Editor of Buffalo, '24; Trident Staff, '24; Inter-Society Debate, '24; Inter-Collegiate Debate, '24.

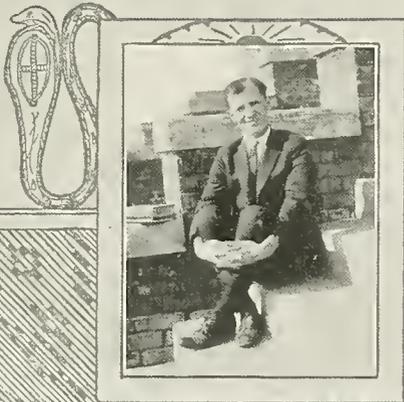

Many men can do things when kindly encouraged; few men can do things in spite of circumstances. That individual who gains a college education because he absolutely refuses to be conquered by circumstances is one for whom we all have the profoundest admiration.

An example of this type of man came to us last September as a former student of President Derthick, bringing with him a record of creditable achievements, among which was graduating from Hazel Green Academy (Ky.) with high honors. For several years he has held the principalship of the High School at McRoberts, Kentucky, and the fact that he is now on a leave of absence and will return to his employer in the fall is a certain indication of his real success as a teacher as well as his employer's high esteem for him.

During his academy days he not only won fame as a "star twirler" of the first order, but also carried away the laurels in oratory and debate. At Milligan the same energy, enthusiasm, and interest has made a real contribution to student life on the diamond, in the classroom, and on the platform.

Doubtless, one secret of Mr. Long's success is the inspiration received from the queenly lady who has been faithful at his side since a little while after his graduation from Hazel Green Academy, and from which institution she is also a graduate—Mrs. Long.

GERTRUDE ODOM, A. B.
Klondike, Tennessee

President of Student Council,
'24; Annual Staff, '24; Secretary to the President.

"So long as we love, we serve,
So long as we are loved by others,
I would almost say we are indispensable."

The rarest gifts of feminine charm, made the more beautiful because always so coy, demure, and reticent, amply adorn the figure and form which so familiarly moves in and out in Hardin Hall with subdued voice and apologetic step. 'Tis Gertrude.

"A violet by a mossy stone,
Half hidden from the eye,
Fair as a star, when only one,
Is shining in the sky."

There is sweetness in her seriousness; a joy in her sadness; an elegance in her simplicity; and even an amiableness in her gentle frown.

Gertrude is a Puritan princess; always perfectly and painfully correct; she thinks clearly; acts honestly; labors dutifully; to her friends ever true; to her ideals ever loyal.

Just as dreams grow holy when put into actions; just as the humblest work grows fair by starry dreaming; just so, all the beautiful idealism of the college girl and all the commonplace duties of a life of realities blend in the rhythm of a sweet personality and thus, Gertrude, our hearts, one and all, attend thee.

HELEN MITCHELL, A. B.
Embreeville, Tennessee

Editor-in-chief of Trident, '23-'24; Associate Editor of '24 Buffalo; Varsity Basketball, '22-'23-'24; Inter-collegiate Debate, '23-'24.

"How beautiful her youth! How bright it gleams
With its illusions, aspirations, dreams,
Book of beginnings; story without end,
Our Helen, a heroine, and wisdom, her friend."

Five happy, helpful, swiftly passing years, Helen Mitchell and Milligan College have walked hand in hand, together passing through the fires of tribulation and together upon the ashes of the old Milligan dreaming dreams. Dreams that have come true in the new Milligan, arising as if by magic out of the old; dreams that have come true in her own life's structure, in truth, honor, integrity, and literary achievements; building into her character strength and power for the conquests of life.

Helen has ever exemplified the true spirit and ideals of Milligan. Very rare and precious elements were compounded in the forming of her character. We find her always genuine, modest, never careless nor idle, ever true, sweet, and efficient; excelling in all class-work and scholarship, strong in debate, prominent in literary society, faithful in spiritual activities, a star in athletics. She set for herself high standards in all phases of the college life, performing every duty with grace and dignity, contributing richly to every department. She has now attained the goal, and Milligan crowns her, not only with her collegiate honors, but with her love; and sends her forth to her life's career with the tenderest benediction.

NELLE HANNAH, A. B.
Johnson City, Tennessee

Buffalo Staff, '24; Trident Staff, '24; President Philomathean Literary Society, '24; Student Council, '22, '23; President Hobnobbers Club.

Johnson City is the proud metropolis from which hails our "Little Nell." She loves the Sunny South, she loves Sunny Tennessee, and she loves beautiful Johnson City; yet, her love for these is excelled by her love for her Alma Mater.

For a little while she ventured into other educational circles and Milligan was deprived of her gentleness and helpfulness, but fortune restored her to us and the classic Milligan hill again received the brightness and cheer of her scintillating presence.

Miss Nelle is one of our "A" students. If she ever gets a "B," it is when she has failed to work her combination of wit, wisdom, and work; of confidence, continuance, and charm upon her professor.

She impresses you with her sincerity and with her genuine and whole-hearted belief in Milligan. She believes in her policies and principles, and especially in that institution locally known as "conference," where she shines as one of the most brilliant of its fixed stars.

We are never left in doubt of her ability, although she never tries to impress us with her importance. We shall miss her happy interest in everything, and we predict for her an abundant success.

ELMER E. HODGES, B. S.
Jonesboro, Tennessee

Varsity Football, '20-'21-'22-'23; Captain Football, '23; Member of Student Council, '21-'22; Varsity Basketball, '21-'22-'23; President of Athenian Literary Society, '23; Annual Staff '24.

Elmer came to us four years ago from Boone's Creek, a vicinity made famous by Daniel Boone, his tree, and his "bar." Like this old pioneer, Elmer has overcome all difficulties in a quiet, unassuming, and forceful manner. He has made a record as a star athlete and clean player, both at football and basketball. As a public speaker, especially when talking of football, Elmer "struts his stuff." When not studying on some difficult lesson, he spends his time by making speeches.

Elmer has given his best to his Alma Mater in athletics, classroom work, and conference. Just a serious word about "Hedge" as he has lived among us would be fitting. He has always been loyal to Milligan in every sense of the word. Not only is he a great athlete and student, but he is one of the strongest and most forceful characters in school. Elmer's influence is like the undertow in a stream, powerful and compelling, yet causing not a ripple on the surface. Quiet, unassuming, he makes himself felt in all things pertaining to college life. May Milligan gain more like you, Elmer! We predict for you a great future; for as a boy acts in school, so does he in life.

WILLIAM E. HYDER, B. S.
Johnson City, Tennessee

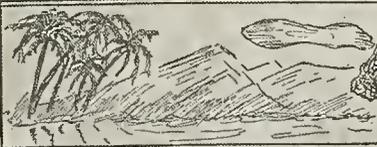

President of Senior Class;
American Literary Society;
Varsity Football, '21-'22-'23-'24;
Business Manager of Buffalo, '24;
Trident Staff, '24.

Several years ago there came into Milligan halls a young man familiarly and affectionately known as "Skinny" Hyder. With the exception of one year, Bill has been right here since his first coming; and during these years "Skinny" has creditably discharged every duty pertaining to the college, the major duties of the President and Dean possibly excepted. If a student's intrinsic business ability can be measured in terms of his versatility, and his proficiency in performing the many outside tasks which can be assigned by the authorities, we are safe in pronouncing Bill a genius in business. Recognizing this outstanding characteristic in Bill, the students have regularly made him business manager of all college publications.

The many duties required of him were insufficient to keep a chance arrow of the little blind god, Dan Cupid, from piercing his warm heart; although the object of his affection is his college senior by one short year, indications are that he is about to succumb to the wound inflicted by cupid two years ago. His recovery seems dangerously slow.

Dependability, earnestness, and loyalty have characterized "Skinny's" part in all activities. On the gridiron he distinguished himself as a guard and remained as firm as the rock of Gibraltar for four successive years. A practical, though very successful career is predicted for our genial good friend, William E. Hyder.

ALFRED KEEFAUVER, B.S.
Jonesboro, Tennessee

Buffalo Staff, '24; Varsity
Basketball, '24; Secretary of Senior Class.

Alfred Keefauver closes with his present senior year an honorable career of four years at Milligan College. Alfred was painfully conscious of himself when he arrived on the hill. But, as the years went on, he learned more and more the functions of the will and gained in self-esteem and mental poise and vigor.

He did not become afflicted with the almost fatal disease which attacks many sophomores, nor is he going out into the world like some seniors, to solve all of its vexing problems.

He has learned how to secure "conference" and to speak to a girl, sometimes, without blushing.

Alfred has always been one of our fastest "subs" in basketball, and a very useful pitcher for our baseball team. This year he will bear his equal share with "Wild Bill" and "Squatty Phil" on the mound.

Keefauver has many friends in Milligan who wish for him great success in his chosen career. He will always find a welcome when he returns to Milligan. Wherever Alfred goes, Milligan will have a friend and he will recommend her to young men and women everywhere by the high ideals he has always had and by the clean young manhood he will bestow upon the community that is so fortunate as to be selected for his future home.

L. BARTLETT
McCORMICK, B. S.
Algood, Tennessee

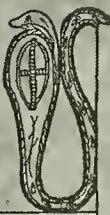

Varsity Football, '21-'22-'23;
Varsity Basketball, '22-'23-'24;
Varsity Baseball, '23-'24;
President of Student Council, '23;
Editor-in-Chief of '24 "Buffalo";
captain Varsity Basketball, '24.

One day in September, bright in the history of our school, three years ago, "Bartlett" arose from his home in Algood, courageously braved a journey over the Tennessee Central and pitched his tent in the promised land of Milligan. "Big Mac" immediately became famous on the football field, the basketball court, and at playing "Mutt and Jeff" on the triangle during the so-called conference. "Mac" has held office in all student organizations, but this year he has been unanimously elected as president of the "Ex-Courter's Club."

"Mac's" chief amusements are athletics, organic chemistry, reading the Johnson City Chronicle, and sleeping.

His presence will be missed sorely on the athletic field, where he is a three-letter man; in the classroom; and in the student body. No words are adequate to express appreciation for a man of his caliber.

"Big Mac" is a name exactly fitting the man. It is a term of endearment used by all who know him, both teachers and students. "Big Mac," big in body, big in brain, big in heart and above all, big in the business of being a man. His influence for good will be felt for years to come and the college has been bettered to a great extent by his life in it.

JOHN C. McKISSICK, B. S
Sweetwater, Texas

President American Literary Society, '24; Associate Editor of Buffalo, '24; Assistant Business Manager of Trident, '24; Inter-Society Orator.

Don Juan McKissick "breezed" in from the wilds of Texas last year and "stampeded the ranch" for a while.

He proved to be a gay Lothario with quite a romantic turn of mind, however, and a fair matadorina succeeded partially in taming his impetuous onrush.

Having practical and literary antecedents, however, he so charmed his fair captor that she rather delighted in exhibiting her trophy.

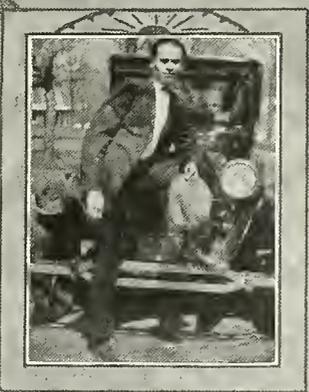

Don Juan romances in the liquid Castilian and prattles in the patois of the Mexican greaser.

After a varied career educationally and romantically, he became sufficiently civilized to become a grave and reverend senior.

Not content with his literary acquirements, he entered the ranks of the orator, and represented his society in this capacity. He took high place in the final and will, in the future, if he cares to try, astonish the natives in some outburst of eloquence.

We prophesy a successful termination of his plans in any line in which he may become interested. He will put through a complete and strenuous round-up.

If Aesculapius smiles upon him, we shall hear of successful "carvings" of his name upon the scroll of fame.

LUTHER M. FEATHERS,
B. S.
Watauga, Tennessee

President of American Literary Society; Varsity Football, '20-'21-'22-'23; Varsity Baseball, '21-'22-'23; Laboratory Assistant in Chemistry; Annual Staff, '24.

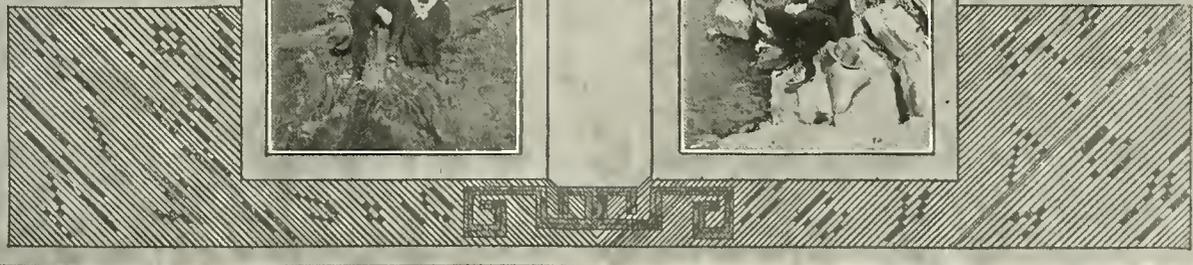

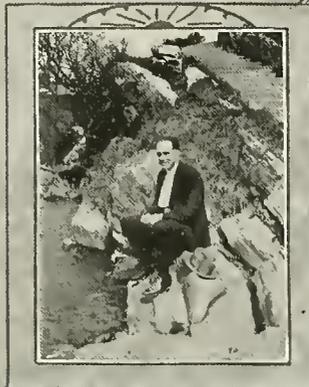

In the dark, dim, and distant past, Luke resigned as mayor of Turkey Town to come to Milligan. Although Turkeytown lost a great and valuable official, we gained a man:—one worthy of the name, in all respects. Luke has played all positions on the baseball team, all except three in football. In science he is a genius; in athletics, a star; in time of need a friend. In fact Luke is one of the most gracious and hearty fellows in his manner that we have at Milligan. One thing we do know, wherever Luke may roam, in whatever field of endeavor he may try his hand, his heart will be at Milligan.

Let us think seriously for a moment of the man who is leaving us and who will be so hard to replace. We are losing a perfect gentleman, a man who is destined to carve his name high up on the shaft of scientific achievement, a true, loyal and devoted friend to his fellows, to his faculty, and to his Alma Mater.

In his every day life he reminds us of a stanza of an old song.

If your life becomes a tangle,
Full of toil and care;
Smile a bit as you journey,
Others' burdens share.
You'll forget all your troubles,
Making their lives bright,
Skies will grow blue and sunny,
If your heart keeps right.

ROBERT TIPTON
ANDERSON, A. B.
Johnson City, Tennessee

Varsity Baseball, '21-'22-'23-'24; Varsity Basketball, '21-'23-'24; Captain Varsity Baseball, '23; Business Manager Baseball, '22; Student Council, '24; Business Manager Basketball, '21; Annual Staff, '24.

Robert Tipton Anderson, otherwise known as "John B." closes an honorable college career with the class of 1924. Always gentle, manly, and pleasant, he goes into the life of business which he has chosen with the love and respect of his teachers, the goodwill and goodwishes of the under-graduates, and the warm regard of every member of the senior class.

"Bob" has always been one of our stand-bys in baseball and we regret to lose him. His basketball career has not been as brilliant, until this year, when he saved the day for us on several occasions.

He was humorously referred to as "Roost" and the "Okolona Flash" during the basketball season.

He certainly did roost upon the perch of many an opponent and was wide-awake while doing so; and his flashes of furious offensive and defensive were by no means infrequent.

"John B." will be in business with Anderson Hardware Co., and Johnson City and Milligan will have another life-long friend in that firm.

Here's to John B.
And wishing that he
Will never grow less
Here's to our Bob.

HESTER L. MOREDOCK,
A. B.
Livingston, Tennessee

President of Philomathean
Literary Society, '24; Varsity Basketball, '22-'23-'24;
Annual Staff, '24.

Four things one must learn to do;
To think without confusion clearly,
To love his fellowmen sincerely,
To act from honest motives purely,
To trust in God and Heaven securely.

Hester Moredock hails from the little city of Livingston, bringing with her these qualities so characteristic. Her disposition, charming sincerity, tireless energy, and high ideals have made for her a permanent place in our hearts. Hester is the sort to whom comrades go for advice, and whose advice brings the needed results. Magnanimity and good sportsmanship combine to make Hester ready on every occasion. She is as true as the needle to the pole or the dial to the sun. By dint of patience and by instinctive service to others, Hester has come to be the veritable Florence Nightingale of Hardin Hall. No matter how late the hour nor how difficult the task, there is a way out of it if "Heck" is near. Her versatility enables her to do any task from patching up a love affair to bobbing hair.

An athlete from head to foot. When the girls don the "Orange and Black" for next season in basketball, somebody will say, "Where is dear old Heck?"

Hester is never idle; serves faithfully her kind; has her way with the waiters; is general "factotum" for the boys; and with it all is the angel of mercy on the classic hill.

Class History

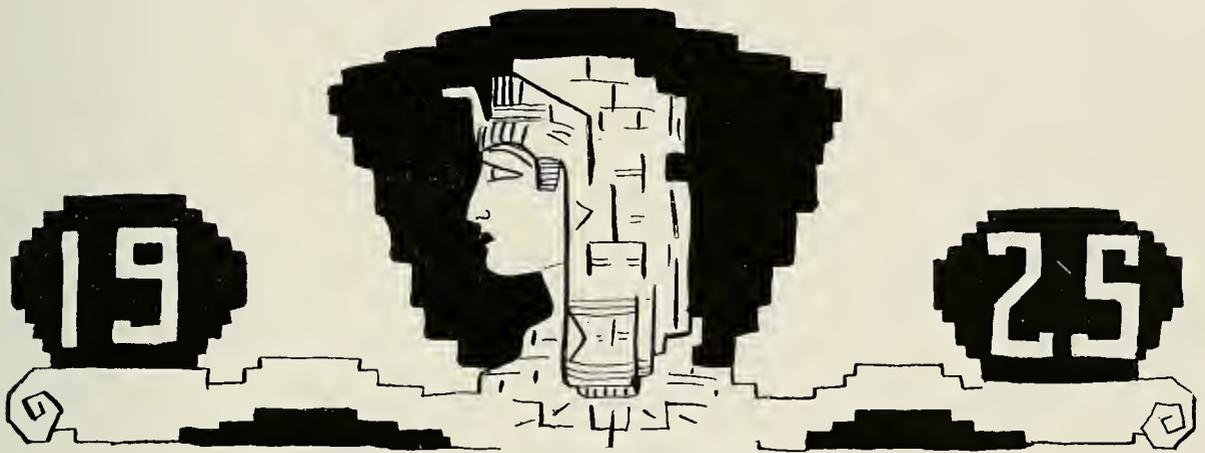

In accordance with the time-honored, new-old custom, we, the class of 1924, beg leave to put down in black and white some of the things we have done, the impressions we have received, and knowledge we have gained, during the four years we have dwelt within the walls of old Milligan; so that, in the years to come, if perhaps our children's children shall wend their way to this schoolhouse on the hill, they shall know that we have been here.

We do not claim to leave behind us a spectacular history. We do not say, "We came, we saw, we conquered." We only know that we have put into the four years our best efforts, always, though sometimes it has seemed to fall far short. We have wondered why we could not kick the football farther, pound the typewriter harder, run the race a little faster, and speak the speech a little better and without hesitation. But through it all we feel that we have received in equal measure just what we have put into the hours. At least, as we leave our college, we know that we shall feel stronger and safer because we can take with us some of the spirit of Milligan which has inspired us to learn our lessons while here, and which we are counting on to help us answer the greater riddles of life—out in the world.

Each class has its own personality. Some are mighty and some are weak; some are rich and some are poor. Our class of 1924 is not the largest, nor yet the smallest—yet, we shall never find another we would rather serve.

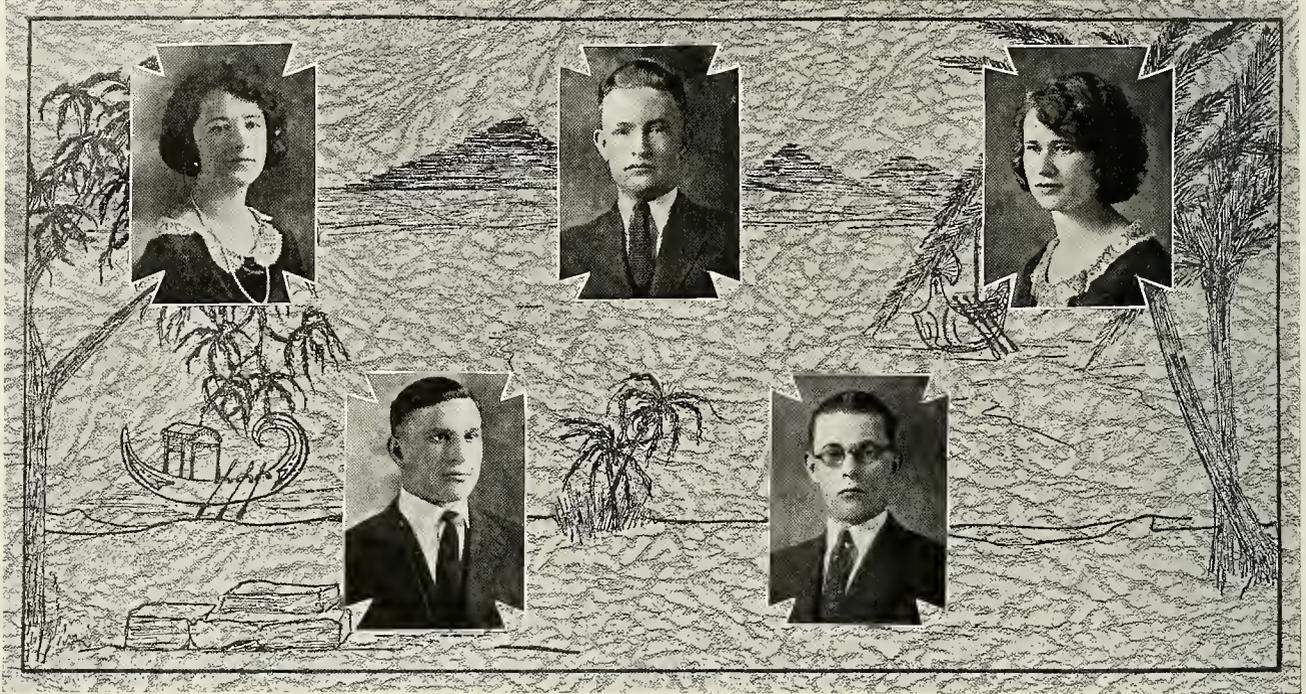

Our first impressions of Milligan draw away, and we scan them with curiosity, and wonder how we ever looked on these classrooms as places of dull care and dreaded lessons. For now, that we are about to depart, the mosaic of our recent years takes form and reveals to us a new, yet ever familiar, panorama of the life we have learned to know at old Milligan. There comes a horde of confusing impressions and sensations—not least among them, a sense of sadness at the parting—for, Milligan, we love you! "Oh, long will our hearts with memory be filled, For here have our doubtings and troubles been stilled. We can go from thy shadow to do what we will, But thy teachings and precepts will be with us still."

JUNIORS

*In human hearts what bolder thoughts can rise,
Than man's presumption on tomorrow's dawn!
When is tomorrow?—Young.*

Milligan College Library
Milligan College, Tennessee

NORAH BOONE
Erwin, Tennessee

President of Junior Class; Art Editor of Buffalo; Art Editor of Trident; Inter-Collegiate Debate. Scholarship, refinement, beauty, artistic taste—so rich in natural endowment; and yet, so unostentatious in it all.

WILLIAM BLEVINS
Crandull, Tennessee

American Literary Society. Bill has one of the most desirable characteristics that a man can possess. He attends to his business and permits others to attend to theirs in any way they desire.

CLARA CHISAM
Pikeville, Tennessee

Philomathean Literary Society; Joke Editor of Trident. For three years we have known the intellectual worth of Clara Chisam. She is, without doubt, one of our "A" students.

JOHN A. BROYLES, JR.
Johnson City, Tennessee

Treasurer of Junior Class; American Literary Society; Varsity Baseball, '23, '24; Manager-elect Football, '24. If there is an honest worker and a consistent Milliganite—and there are many—John is one of them.

OREL BEHER
Chicago, Illinois

WILLIAM FERGUSON
Erwin, Tennessee

American Literary Society; Varsity Baseball, '22, '23, '24.
He is called "Wild Bill" because he is so mild. His good-nature is proverbial. He is quite shy of the fair sex, but may recover.

ADA BESS HART
Pikeville, Tennessee

Philomathean Literary Society; Varsity Basketball, '23, '24; Manager Basketball, '23, '24.
There is only one Ada Bess. We do as she says, yet she is very dependable at the crucial moment.

JESSIE S. GARDNER
Star, Virginia

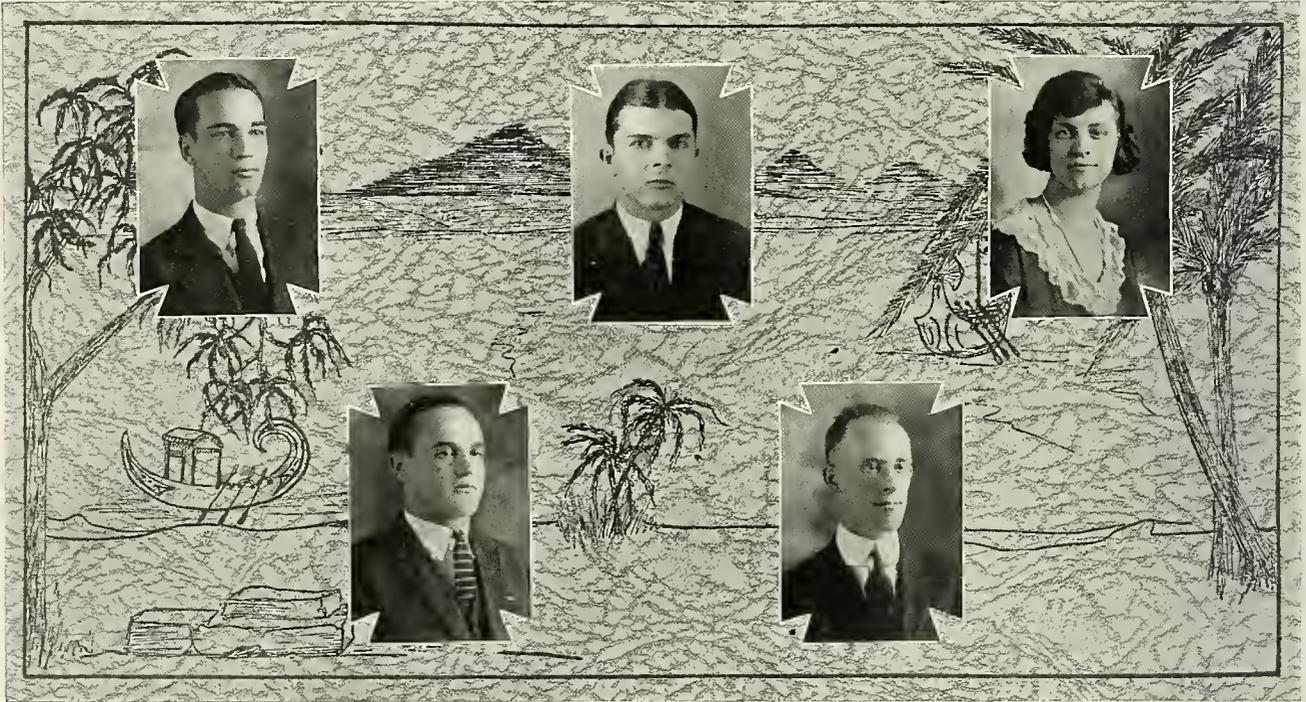

Philomathean Literary Society; Girls' Circle.
To know her is to love her. She never makes any noise, but her good deeds instil in us a love for her.

GEORGE W. HARDIN
Greenville, Tennessee

American Literary Society; Varsity Football, '21, '22, '23; Inter-Collegiate Debate, '23, '24; Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Representative, '23, '24.
The "Senator" has won honor in debate, oratory, and athletics. He is optimistic and industrious. His success is assured.

W. G. FERGUSON
White Plains, Georgia

American Literary Society; Ministerial Association; Religious Editor of Buffalo; Inter-Collegiate Debate, '24.
Grady has made good as a student at Milligan. Besides this, he is a star courter and a successful minister.

WILLIAM W. HILL, JR.
Harriman, Tennessee

American Literary Society; Inter-Collegiate Debate, '23, '24; Athletic Editor of Buffalo.

Bill is the professional "spoof" in the classrooms as well as at conference. He is the genial friend of all who have come in contact with him.

DENNIS J. KIMERY
Shelbyville, Tennessee

Athenian Literary Society; Varsity Football, '21; President of Latin Club.

Dennis is quiet, modest, and without affectation. He is a good student and a sportsman of the highest type.

RUTH HURT
Radford, Virginia

Philomathean Literary Society; Volunteer Band; Girls' Circle.

Ruth is as beautiful in character and as loyal to life's purposes as she who said, "Thy God shall be my God, and thy people my people."

WILLARD MILLSAPS
Soddy, Tennessee

American Literary Society; Varsity Baseball, '23, '24; Captain Baseball, '24; Varsity Basketball, '23, '24; Student Council, '24.

He says very little, but does much without noise. This is "Soddy." May Milligan have many like him to strengthen her classrooms and teams.

J. J. MUSICK
Milligan College, Tennessee

President of Ministerial Association; American Literary Society Inter-Collegiate Debate, '23.

"Music bath charms," and so has Musick. He is a good student, preaches acceptably, and roots for Milligan and the American Literary Society.

CHARLES CROUCH
Johnson City, Tennessee

American Literary Society; Varsity Football, '23; Volunteer Band.

Slow, but sure; well-balanced, but spasmodic at times, is "Box." He is very modest and given to poetry, especially in Spanish translations.

GRACE HART
Pikeville, Tennessee

Philomathean Literary Society.

Our regard for Grace is very genuine. She is a very satisfactory student. She always does her work well. "Nuff sed."

EDWIN G. CROUCH
Johnson City, Tennessee

Athenian Literary Society; Business Manager of Trident; Inter-Collegiate Debate.

Active, energetic, liked by all, and the friend of all, a great debater, and one who will be heard from in the days to come.

T. W. CASKEY, JR.
Wichita Falls, Texas

American Literary Society; Varsity Football, '23; Trident Staff.

"Skey" may make a hard-boiled bluff sometimes, but he is a very decent young man. His grit will put him through.

CHRYSTEINE SADLER
Silver Point, Tennessee

Philomathean Literary Society; Oratorical Contest; Buffalo Staff.

If it can be done, Chrysteine can do it. Ingenuity? Why, she says that she could start house-keeping on a manicure set. Her smiles and wit, charm and grit will take her wherever she chooses to go.

NORMA WALLACE
Iverness, Mississippi

Ossolian Literary Society.

Norma is an artist; also a good student. She comes from the Sunny South and scatters sunshine in her small corner.

RAMONA ROSS
Tullahoma, Tennessee

Ossolian Literary Society; Girls' Circle; President Volunteer Band, '23; Trident Staff.

To us Ramona is an impersonation of the finer qualities that enoble human life.

FRANCIS DERTHICK
Milligan College, Tennessee

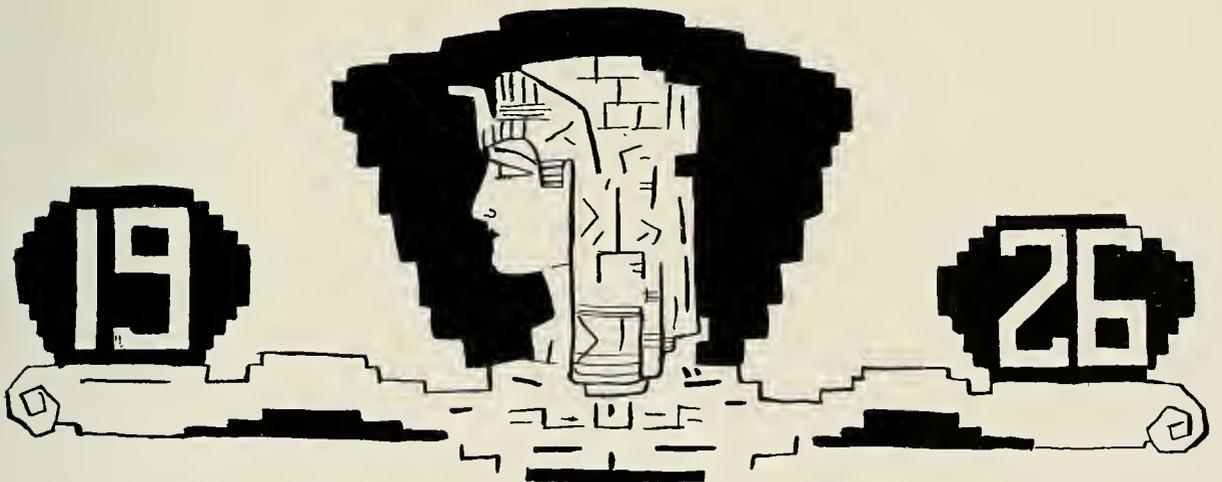

Manager Basketball, '22, '24; American Literary Society.

Francis has a knack of making friends and he stands by them. He was our efficient basketball manager for this year.

WILLIAM ZEIGLER
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

American Literary Society; Varsity Football, Basketball, and Baseball.

"Zig" came to us from Pennsylvania. He is a silent man, but a clean and great athlete. His educated toe is wonderful.

Our Heritage And Our Responsibility

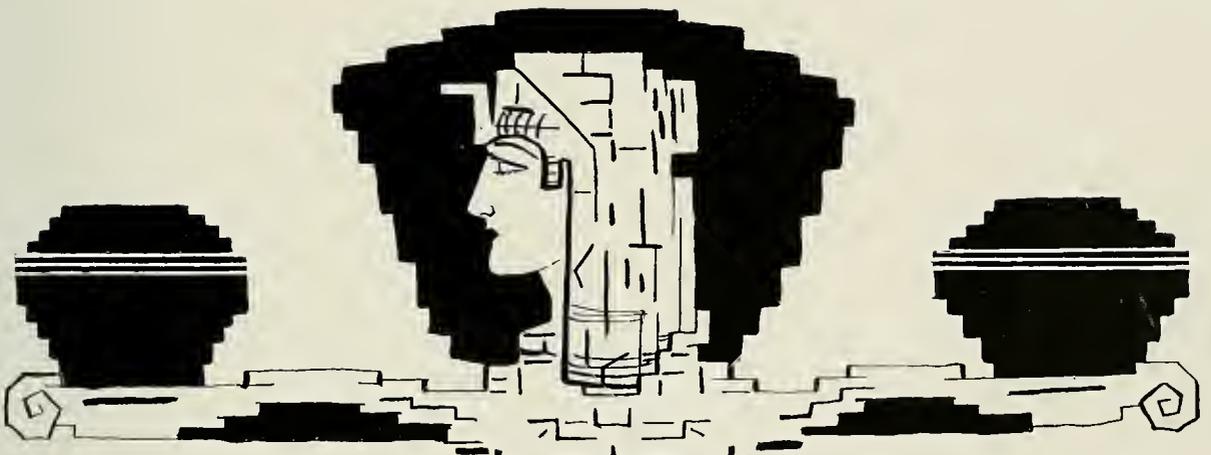

The past history of Milligan College is immense. It is firmly founded upon principles that shall last throughout the ages. This foundation, like all foundations for magnificent structures, has been concealed, more or less, from the eyes of the world. It has been an unpretentious, strong and solid piece of workmanship. The men and the women who have struggled and sacrificed in laying this foundation; those who by the sweat of the brow and by the fatigue of the brain, have planned wisely and have builded well the solid groundwork of Milligan College; those men and those women have done the first and most important work, in order that the great structure might stand even after they have "passed to where beyond these voices there is peace."

But the past history of Milligan College is only the firm foundation for the magnificent structure that may now be seen to tower unto the heights. There are going into this building every day the strength and the life of those who are toiling night and day, that there may be a building made, not by hands, but by the very souls of the builders. And now the structure begins to "loom in the sun and the stars, and has a soul." The work of the novice clad in green and the work of the seer clad in black enter into the structure and make it great. Their souls form a part of the soul of the ascending building. We now resolve to build well the part that is assigned to us.

But the present magnificent structure, built upon the great foundation of the past, is only the ground floor of a more stately mansion to be erected as the endless ages roll. The work, the life, and the soul of every man and of every woman who has toiled on this sacred hill, have become a part of the great soul of the future of Milligan College and this soul will grow from greatness unto greatness, and this building will become a super-structure. The past of Milligan College is immense; the present is magnificent; the future is sublime.

ORGANIZATIONS

Out of the hearts of nations rolled the burden of the Bible old.—Emerson.

The Ministerial Association

Milligan's Ministerial Association has a host of hallowed memories of great men of God who have passed through Milligan halls and are today penciling the horizon of fame with lives of Christian service. These lives of yesterday lend a charm to the present and give added courage to the younger ministers in preparation. Milligan College has always stood out as a strong Christian College that has offered abundant opportunities and excellent training to the men who desired above all things to preach the Gospel.

Among those in the past who have availed themselves of these opportunities have been such men as W. H. Book, B. A. Abbot, A. A. Ferguson, F. F. Bullard, W. J. Shelburne, Geo. P. Rutledge, R. E. Elmore, W. P. Crouch, and scores of other men who have helped to shape the destiny of the religious world. The spirit that moved these men still remains at Milligan; the purposes, too, that burned in their hearts, still burn in the hearts of those who are here now—that purpose is to preach the Gospel and by so doing take the world for Christ.

The members of the Association come from all parts of the country and bring with them their respective contributions to the Association and also to the churches which they serve. By association with others in a common cause, each young minister receives the benefit of all ideas that are suggested. In the regular weekly meetings the various active ministers give reports from their respective fields and offer helpful suggestions. The Association owes a great debt of love and gratitude to Professor A. I. Myhr who has so kindly and sympathetically sponsored and fathered this organization. Mention should also be made of the addresses brought by various members of the faculty.

J. J. Musick, the most experienced of the young ministers, has charge of the Second Christian Church of Johnson City. He has been there only a short time, but is organizing the work and moving it forward with new life and vigor. Brother Musick has great plans for this church.

J. C. Cutrell preaches for the church at Newport. This work has been started only a short time, but the vigor and push of Bro. Cutrell have combined to put the work in fine condition. He expects to remain at Newport next summer.

W. G. Ferguson has been for two years at Cleveland where he has done a constructive work. Brothers Gouge, Johnston, and Tarvin are preaching for a number of places around Milligan.

The Association plans to try to enlarge itself from the ranks of the present students and also from others who may be induced to come to Milligan. Our ambition is to be worthy of the record left us by those who have gone before.

J. J. MUSICK

A man who stands well with his fellows physically, intellectually, and spiritually. He is one of the most promising preachers that has ever passed through the halls of Milligan. His kindness, his happy disposition, his devotion to duty, and above all, his love for the old Gospel, mark him as an outstanding preacher, and leader among men.

ARCHIE GRAY

They tell us that the far North breeds mild, sober men, but men of action just the same. In Mr. Gray, we have a striking example of this. While quiet and steady, he is a man who lives by his convictions and does things.

CHARLES CUTRELL

A man of unbounded energy and enthusiasm, with great ability to make friends and to make things go. He has a strong, rugged personality and a generous spirit. Mr. Cutrell desires above all things else to see the church progressive and practical. His high ideals and broad-mindedness will help to reach that goal.

JOE SUGGS

Joe is different—he is unique. There is no one quite like "our Joe," and we are proud of him. Loving all and loved by all in return, he is one of the most congenial fellows on the hill. The greatest nirth-maker of Milligan and a real asset to the school.

W. G. FERGUSON

Aggressive, progressive, expressive, kind-hearted and friendly is Grady, one of the most likeable fellows on Milligan hill. He is a great candidate for the ministry. When known today he is known forever, because Grady is always the same. He will make his way up to the apex of success.

E. E. EWING

He is quiet, cheerful, agreeable, and friendly. Brother Ewing has taught us the great lesson of patience and perseverance; for he battles away, never loses any time, is always on the job. He is as steady as a clock and as sturdy as an oak. We believe that he will make an untiring servant for God in whatever field he may labor.

M. G. TARVIN

A kinder, truer, more sympathetic spirit could not be found than that which burns within the heart of Brother Tarvin. He is open-minded, open-hearted, and open-handed. His wit, his love for humanity, his readiness to serve, and his devotion to truth, guarantee for him a large place in the Master's service.

GLEN EARL PRYOR

"Pet" is one of the best looking young men in the ministerial association and is just as good as he looks. He is the possessor of rare good judgment. With this and with his youth and ability to work, we may well expect him to achieve great things for Christ and the Church.

JOHN W. GOUGE

Brother Gouge is a new recruit to the Milligan Association, but has already proven his loyalty and faithfulness to the cause. He is a hard worker and a persevering student of God's word. He has our good wishes and God-speed.

THOMAS KEGLEY

In "Tommy" we have a quiet, unassuming fellow. And when we think of him, let us do so in the light of that old proverb—"Actions speak louder than words." Tom is ever there with a helping hand and his worth is ineffable.

CHARLES W. JOHNSTON

Charles is in the ministry because he believes in it. He tells every one about it and means just what he says. He is a temperamental, rushing, brushing, commanding, and very happy fellow. To use his own words he is not a "long-faced, bewhiskered, joy-killing reformer," but he is one who believes and preaches that the Gospel of Jesus Christ is a man's Gospel, a practical Gospel, and a Gospel of Love.

ROY DRUDGE

Roy is a quiet, studious, droll, conscientious, helpful, thoughtful and unpretentious friend. He is seldom seen and hardly known, but is the possessor of those valuable characteristics that enable him to make an indelible impression upon the minds of those who do know him. The ministry needs men like Roy.

WALTER LOVELESS

Walter is a new addition to the ministerial department, but he is proving his value to the association. Full of life and laughter; congenial and helpful, optimistic and aggressive; he is destined to win a large place for himself, and render valiant service to the Master.

EDDIE MOSELY

Eddie is a man who is not ashamed to preach the Gospel. He preaches the whole truth and is continuously practising what he preaches. In his school work, his recreation, and his play, he puts his all, and that is just his aspiration in regard to the ministry. We predict for him a great power in the Master's cause.

Athletics

Athletics is finding a new place in our educational values; and sportsmanship is fast coming to signify all that is noble, brave, and chivalrous in young life. Both the major and the minor sports of modern college organization are indispensable; their intrinsic values, as is often thought, are not to be appraised so much in terms of a strong and sound physique, as in terms of a keen intellect and in terms of a fine spiritual attainment—commonly called morale.

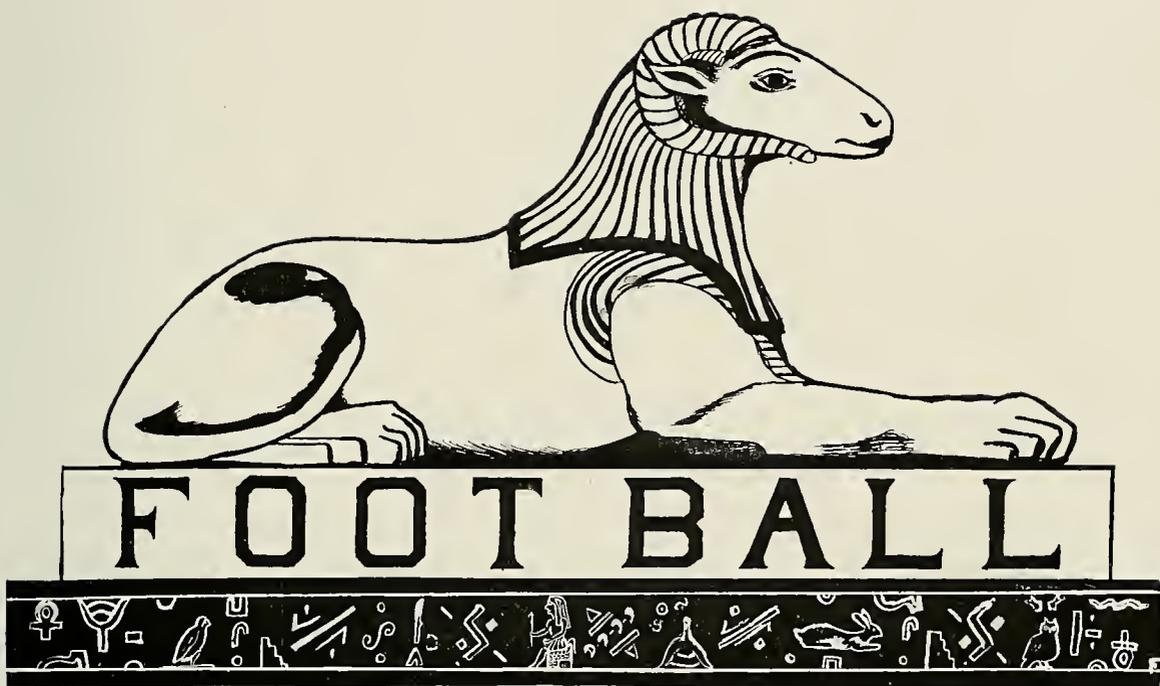

With a keen appreciation of all these qualities, and the part each plays in building a sturdy and symmetrical character, Milligan College organizes and executes a clean and vigorous athletic program from year to year.

The latest contribution to the Milligan plant, as well as to the fineness of the Milligan spirit, is a commodious gymnasium, ample in the variety of its departments and adequate in all its appointments to its high mission—literally a temple dedicated to the making of men—an institution within itself for character-building. From the point of view of the development of the entire body, this new institution makes its greatest contribution.

Beher, Manager Football	Hodges, Captain	Derthick, Manager Basketball
Hart, Manager	Blevins, Manager	Millsaps, Captain
	McCormick, Captain	Payne, Captain

O, it is excellent to have a giant strength; but it is tyrannous to use it like a giant.—Shakespeare.

BARTLETT McCORMICK

The opposition tried Big Mac's tackle on several occasions, but each time they found it as secure as the Rock of Gibraltar. He was a terror in breaking up plays and dreaded by all opponents. It was McCormick that recovered a blocked punt against Emory, winning the game. Milligan will lose a fine sport and a hard player when Mac leaves this spring.

ELMER HODGES

Captain Elmer Hodges led Milligan's football team thru the best season in the history of the school. Elmer was always in the thickest of the battle, playing the position of left guard where he was a shining star. Milligan's captain never knew the meaning of the word quit and always had his men on their toes. He graduates this spring, leaving behind him a very bright football record.

LUTHER FEATHERS

When Coach Wicker needed a tackle he turned to Feathers; when he needed a center he turned to Feathers; when he needed a backfieldman he turned to Feathers; and he was never disappointed, for Luke was able to deliver the goods. He graduates this spring and Milligan thereby loses her most versatile player.

SILAS ANDERSON

Si will probably make a great singer some day, but at present his voice is needed on the football field for calling signals. He used his head on every play and seldom did he do the wrong thing. Anderson is fast, a good passer, and a fair dropkicker. He was a great asset to the team despite an injury which hurt his playing.

FOREST LITTLE

"Private" Little, our captain-elect for '24, distinguished himself on the gridiron last season by earning the name of being Milligan's best linesman. The blonde giant ripped the opposing lines to shreds and made many tackles back of the line of scrimmage. His fighting spirit and grim determination instilled the fight into the rest of the men and made life miserable for the opposition.

EVERETT BEASLEY

As a forward passer he has no equal in college circles. He can also boot that old ball for fifty yards at critical times. That's not all Beaz can do, for every team dreads to see him carry the ball. He could hit the line, run the ends, and fight like a tiger. A mighty valuable man was Everett.

LESLIE HART

"Cotton Top" surely strutted his stuff when he ran with the ball. A hard man to stop at any time, and one dangerous at all times. Less could hit the line, run the ends, and fling a mean pass. He was a mighty good man to have in the back-field and was one of the stars of the Milligan eleven.

T. W. CASKEY

The best defensive back on the squad. That is a lot to say, but nevertheless, it is true. "Skey" was not fast but he could hit the line like a pile-driver. He was forced to warm the bench most of the season, but when he got his chance he surely did make good. His great work on the defense stopped Lenoir.

WILLIAM ZIEGLER

He followed his interference with uncanny skill and picked his hole in the line with undue accuracy. Zig ripped the opposing lines to shreds and always made his gains. The longer he ran the better he was. His trusty toe sent the oval through the uprights from the 35 yard line almost every time. Zig was there with the goods on all occasions.

DALE ALEXANDER

"Daddy" brought the fans to their feet on many occasions, when he leaped high into the air and brought the old pig-skin down for a gain, or when he dumped the interference and caught the runner for a loss. He was always on the job and few gains were ever registered around his wing.

GEORGE HARDIN

The surest tackler on the field is what the boys thought about "Senator." It was almost impossible to get by Hardin on the gridiron. George not only used his physical alertness on the football field, but also that mental alertness that ranks him so high among the debaters; and these two combined to make him one of Milligan's best men.

CHARLES CROUCH

A fighter from the word "go" until the game ended. He was one of the mainstays of the Milligan line. An injured leg handicapped Charlie part of the season, but he always delivered the goods when called upon. His ability to get his nose in the dirt stopped the opponent's center rushes. He has several "Paynes," but the worst one was not caused by football.

BERT WADDELL

"My, what a tackle!" "Who blocked that punt?" "Who opened that hole for Beasley?" These were the comments from the side lines as Bert performed his duties on the football field. Bert played his first year under the Orange and Black standard and shone brilliantly in all the contests. "The hardest tackler on the field," is what all the backs said of him.

JOE McCORMICK

Heavy, fast and aggressive, Joe was one of the best ends yet produced at Milligan. Seldom did the opposition circle his wing for gains. His tackling was hard and sure. His size enabled him to be of great value on and off tackle play when he had to handle the opposing tackle. Joe was mighty handy in all the games.

PHILIP SAWYER

"Squatty" famous for his deeds in the past, turned in one of his best seasons in football. He was hard to get by on the defense and always opened a gap in the opposing line on the offense. Sawyer earns letters in all three sports and is considered the best all-round athlete on the hill. Few gains are made over "Squatty" in football.

ALVIN DEAVERS

Fortune never smiled on this lad from the Lone Star state. He was hitting his best stride when he broke his ankle at King College. "Tuff" was always in the game fighting, and his stellar playing in several games ranked him with the best of Milligan's linemen. He suffered other injuries during the season that handicapped his playing.

HOWARD VADEN

When the line was going bad Coach Wicker turned to "Goog." When one of the tackles was injured it was up to "Goog" to take his place. He filled in capably at both tackle and guard. "Goog" was in there fighting all the time and never whined about injuries or anything else, but always did his best, which happened to be too much for his opponents.

WILLIAM HYDER

Nothing spectacular about "Skinny's" playing, but the opposing backs found it mighty hard to gain over him. He is not fast on the field, but he always gets in the way of the man carrying the ball, if it is close to his position. Skinny makes the fourth lineman to graduate this spring. His years of service will leave with us pleasant memories.

Football

The team was fortunate to have a man of the type of Hodges at the helm; his fighting spirit and great leadership was one of the main factors in Milligan's success on the football field. The team was handicapped throughout the season on account of injuries, but the men never lost hope and this one fact is a good reason why Milligan was successful. Coach Wicker prepared his men in a skillful manner and trained them to the finest point. The team was in great shape for the opening struggle at Bluefield, but injuries during this game, and the practices that followed, put the squad in the worst condition possible for the game with Milligan's ancient rival, Maryville College. Deaver, substitute guard, broke a leg at King College. This weakened the reserve material of the Buffaloes' first line of defense. Despite these handicaps this was the most successful season ever enjoyed by a Milligan football team. The five victories were Tusculum, Athens, Emory and Henry, Bluefield College, and Lenoir College. The Orange and Black Warriors fell victims to the superior prowess of King College, Carson-Newman College, and Maryville College.

The first game of the season was with Bluefield College of Bluefield, West Virginia, which was won by the Milliganites by the score of 35 to 0. The game was Milligan's from the start and the outcome was just a matter of how many points the Buffaloes could score. Zeigler and Hart ripped Bluefield's line into shreds while Beasley skirted the ends for gain after gain. The team displayed a nifty brand of ball for the first game of the season.

Milligan was forced to bite the dust in the second encounter of the season which was played at Wilder Park against the strong Garnet team of Maryville College. The score of this brilliant struggle was Maryville 14; Milligan 3. The contest was a hard-fought affair with both teams uncorking a brilliant brand of football. Zeigler and Beasley were terrors on the offense and Maryville was powerless when it came to stopping these two lads. Zig's trusty toe sent the oval between the uprights from the 30 yard line for Milligan's lone marker.

Carson-Newman was the next foe Milligan encountered on the football field and the Jefferson City gang walked over Milligan to the tune of 46 to 0. This game was played at Jefferson City and the Milligan team was seriously crippled. McCormick, Captain Hodges, and J. McCormick were all out of the line-up. The crippled Buffaloes fought gamely throughout the fray and held the great Parson machine at bay until the last quarter when they were battered into submission.

King College's famous "Mountain Tornado" swept over the Orange wave of Milligan on Tenneva Field in Bristol like a Texas cyclone, and sent the Buffaloes reeling down in defeat by the score of 40 to 0. Milligan fought with all her power, but the mighty team of King was just a little too much for her. Orr and Sharpe plowed the Milligan line for consistent gains. Zeigler's attempted drop kick from the 20 yard line was the closest the Buffaloes came to scoring.

Tusculum College was the next team the Buffaloes forced to drink the bitter cup of defeat, when the Milligan team ran rough-shod over them at Tusculum by the score of 46 to 7. The Orange and Black crew displayed a brilliant brand of football in the first two periods but weakened in the second two sessions and Tusculum was allowed to score.

Emory and Henry's famous Wasps went down in glorious defeat at Wilder Park in Johnson City on Thanksgiving Day, when Bartlett McCormick scooped up a blocked punt and raced for a touchdown giving Milligan the game 7 to 6. This game was the most spectacular battle of the season and was replete with brilliant plays from start to finish.

BASKET BALL

*Then let the mind some relaxation take,
To come back to the task with fresher heed.—Phoedrus.*

ROBERT ANDERSON

Granting you that Dempsey is some fighter, don't forget that "Roost" is one more scrapper, himself. More than once it has been his fighting that turned the tide of battle our way. Bob is some guard, whether running or stationary.

WILLARD MILLSAPS

And speaking of running guards, "Sap" will do pretty well. He started the season in grand style, but an injury to his knee caused his withdrawal. But just the same, we all know that "Sap" has the real ability and the fighting spirit.

PHILIP SAWYER

Of "Squatty," captain-elect, little need be said. Phil is there as his past record shows. We can always count on a real defense if "Squatty" is holding down the stationary guard position.

LESLIE PAYNE

With the greatest swiftness he does his stuff. Cool, calm and accurate is "Less." We must confess that he is liked immensely and that his goals are stellar features. There are none who can outplay "Less."

WILLIAM ZEIGLER

Shut your eyes and you can plainly see Zeigler "zig-zagging" down the floor with the ball. Never a man played on Milligan's basketball team who could dribble the ball as "Zig." Accurate shooting is also in his catalog of basketball.

BARTLETT McCORMICK

"Big Mac"—about as big as they make them, too—was captain of the team this year. You should see "Big Mac" on the court, a tower of strength, with a suppleness permitting him to move with greatest ease. He jumps,—then just a touch and the ball is in the basket.

RAY GALLOWAY

There's an old saying—"Dynamite comes in small packages." Consider Ray and agree. Tho only a Freshman, he earned a berth on the squad in grand style.

ALFRED KEEFAUVER

Who is he? Oh, he's that forward with the uncanny eye for the basket and the never-say-die spirit. Alf's alright and we will certainly miss his services next year.

DALE ALEXANDER

When it comes to a long sweet forward or center, how about Alex? He played a wonderful game for the Orange and Black, but he was kept from his best by an old football injury.

HAZEL PAYNE

Captain "Hay" Payne is the backbone of Milligan's basketball team. She possesses that eternal indomitable spirit that never gives up—never quits. Her spectacular shooting won many games. Here's to the future of Captain Payne.

HELEN MITCHELL

Our good old standby and determinedly consistent forward, Helen, always played a great game. She is one of the charter members of the Milligan team. We regret that this bright star will shine no more in Milligan's constellation.

HESTER MOREDOCK

"Heck" is our happy, snappy, scrappy guard. She is quick and always on the job to break up a brilliant play of the opposition. "Heck" never acknowledges defeat, even though the score be against her. We regret that she must leave us this year, but we will always remember her as a true fighter for her team.

GLADYS PAYNE

"Glad" Payne, our brilliant center, came to us last September and hurled herself into basketball circles. She distinguished herself by her whirlwind playing at center. She always puts it over and brings honor to herself and to her colors.

LOUISE TURNER

Our own little "Pee-wee" from Knoxville certainly knocks her opponents in the game. She plays forward and is as quick as lightning and very accurate at shooting. "Pee-wee" loves to play the game. She will make a great player someday.

ADA BESS HART

Ada, our faithful guard, is a good sport on the basketball court and elsewhere. She was manager for the last season and displayed great ability both as manager and player. She always played a hard game and enjoyed the fight to the utmost. It was always her desire to bring honor to the Orange and Black.

ANNA LOUISE LACY

Our own "Sparkplug" was a superb guard. She played basketball as she did everything else—in a happy, care-free way; but always with determination and grit. She will be a great asset to the team in the years of her stay in Milligan.

RUTH HURT

Ruth always played a hard game. She played as center and showed marked ability in that position. She always tried to back the team to the limit and to bring victory to old Milligan. We predict for her a very bright future on the basketball court.

Gymnasium

The senior class of 1923-24 will remember with pride and pleasure to have watched with eager interest the erection of the splendid new gymnasium which now constitutes an important part of the equipment of our Alma Mater.

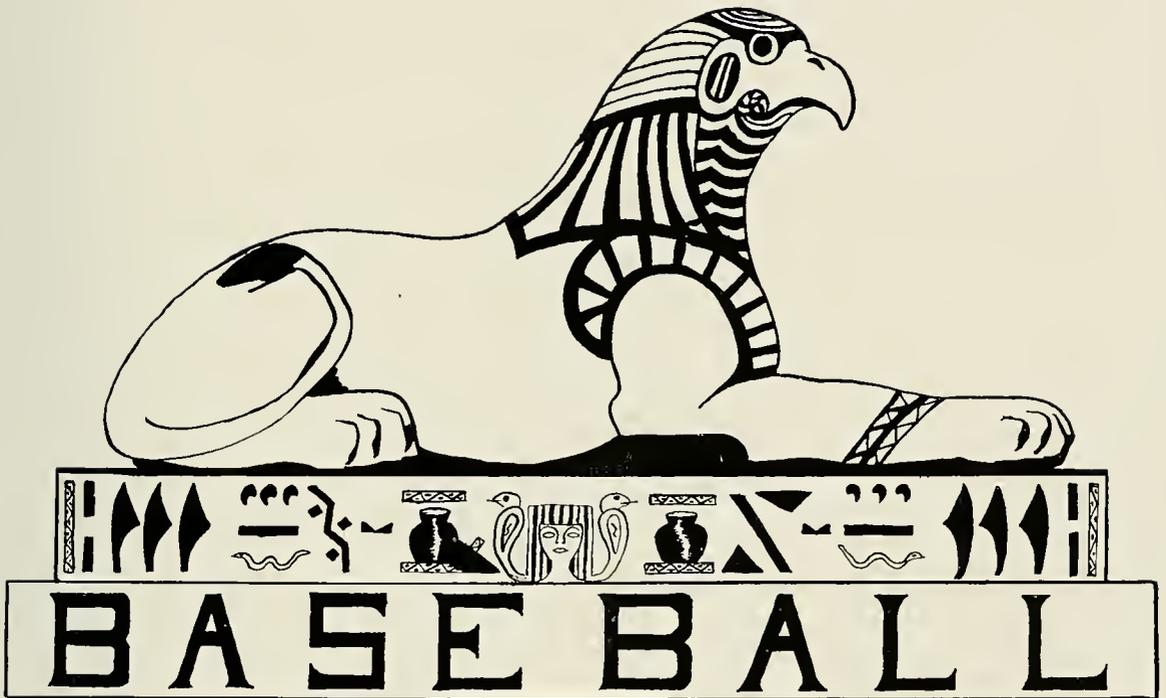

In point of the enlargement of the physical plant, as well as the enrichment of the entire college life, the erection of this building constitutes the outstanding event of the year in the growth of our beloved Milligan College.

We feel that this issue of the "Buffalo" is hardly complete without a description of this newest part of our college program. The entire outlay is strictly modern and is planned with a view to utility. The building comprises a basketball court of maximum dimensions, adequately lighted, and splendidly equipped. This court is surrounded on three sides by a spectators' gallery with a maximum seating capacity of 900 people. Seated at any point in this gallery one has an unobstructed view of the playing floor. The fourth side of the large court is utilized for the installation of various sorts of gymnastic equipment, including chest-developers, rope-ladders, parallel-bars, and other fixtures too numerous to mention.

One of the most beautiful, as well as interesting features of the gymnasium, is the natatorium.

Not alone the swimming pool, but the entire room is surfaced with beautiful mosaic tile with artistic figures shown in the combings and border designs. The natatorium proper is of standard dimensions and is provided with alley lines and all necessary markings for water feats. This pool is kept filled with beautiful blue spring water, kept fresh and pure by frequent changes and kept at the proper temperature by a separate water heater. The natatorium is used on alternate days by the men and the women of the college.

The building further comprises a pair of new Brunswick Bowling Alleys installed with all the latest advantages. On the same floor are large and airy locker-rooms for both men and women. To this may be added other conveniences such as the lecture-room, rest-room, storage-room, drying-rooms, etc. In addition to the above, the large building comprises suites of living quarters, conveniently arranged, and provided with all modern comforts together with a dormitory department. The living quarters are intended for the accommodation of members of the faculty, including the Physical Director, and the dormitory department is intended to care for the over-flow from the boys' dormitory.

ALFRED KEEFAUVER

Alf is on our pitching staff, and to watch him in action one can hardly realize how Milligan is able to hold such a twirler. He leaves us this year, and Milligan will miss him.

WILLARD MILLSAPS

"Sap" is the best shortstop Milligan has ever possessed. He has the art of picking the ball off the ground and throwing it to first all in the same movement. For those who love the game, it is really a treat to watch him in action.

WILLIAM FERGUSON

Bill also strengthens our twirling staff. He has always carried a horse shoe in his back pocket—or somewhere; for a defeat with Bill in the box is rare. He gets many a hit, also, and can supply in the outfield.

ROBERT ANDERSON

Without Bob it would be almost impossible for Milligan to carry on baseball. He has, in the past and is, at present, giving his old fighting spirit to the squad. He efficiently holds down sack number two.

BRODIE THOMPSON

The least but the loudest player on the team is "Shorty." He has the honor of being the first man to cross home plate for a score this season. Watch Brodie make a name for himself.

SILAS ANDERSON

Si captures the ball even if he is compelled to drop to the ground to accomplish the task. His brilliant record as an athlete does not fall down when it comes to baseball.

CARLOS SPRINGFIELD

"Spring Soddy" is in love with the national game. He plays the game with all the pepper that is in him. Most of the time he catches; sometimes he plays in the field; but regardless of his position he is always on his toes.

WILLIAM ZEIGLER

Look on the football field; there you see "Zig." Look on the basketball court; lo! there is "Zig" again. Now turn your eyes to the baseball diamond and there is "Zig" doing his bit to raise the stand of Milligan's athletics.

CHESTER BLEVINS

"Chesterfield" holds down a dual position on our baseball team. He has proven himself a good player as well as an efficient manager. He is very active in all he undertakes, but his best is shown in baseball.

JOHN A. BROYLES

When the ball is knocked anywhere in John's reach, then kiss the ball goodbye, for John only drops one ball a season. He is also rather handy with the bat. He smacks the apple on the nose for several sacks each game.

DALE ALEXANDER

"Daddy" came to us from Tusculum, where he was rated as a star in baseball. He carries the same title here, for he is truly a star. His long legs and arms make him capable of holding down the initial sack as none other could do.

BARTLETT McCORMICK

"Big Mac" leaves us this year, to our sorrow. He has shown good stuff on the baseball field, for he catches and throws the ball with the greatest ease. He wields a wicked bat. What more could we expect one baseball man to do?

Baseball

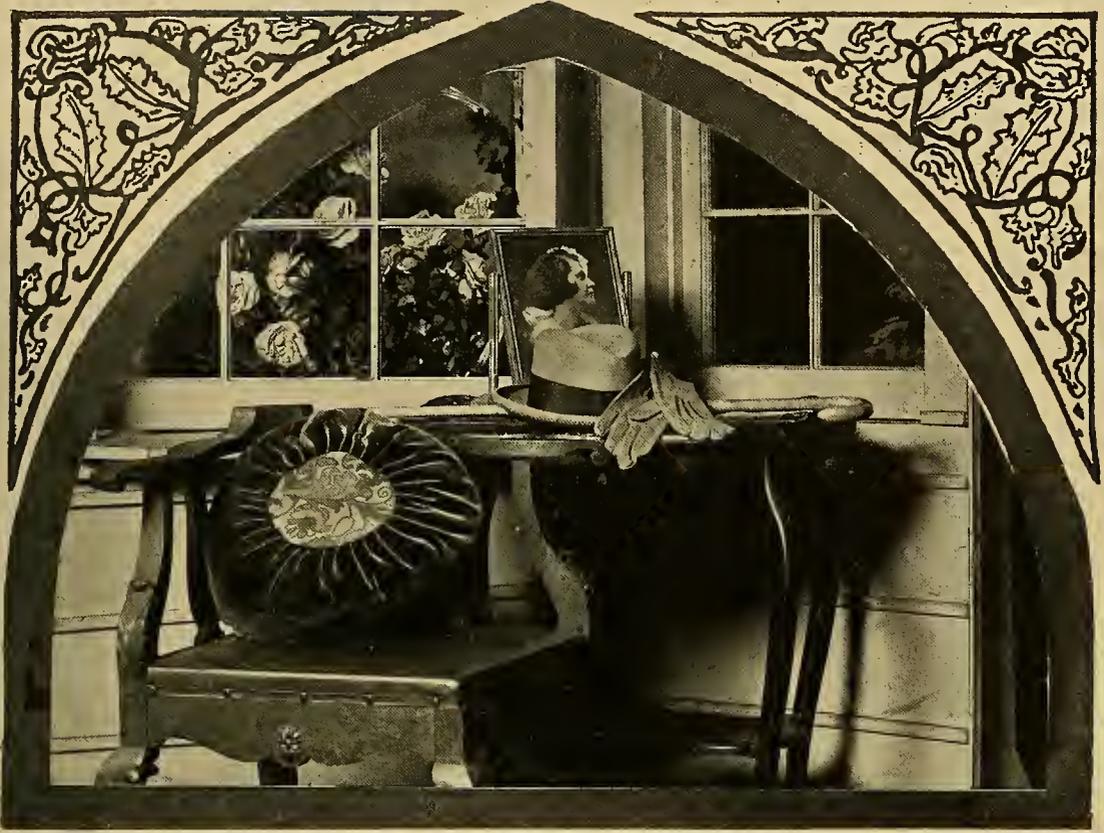

Milligan's baseball season opened with cold rainy days. Our team suffered a loss of several old men. These are the chief reasons for the great handicap that gripped Milligan during the first period of the short college season.

There remained only "Wild Bill" Ferguson, of the magnificent pitching staff that hurled Milligan to the championship of the Appalachian Conference last year. Shepherd, Proffit, and Beasley were lost. Coach Wicker found himself face to face with the difficult proposition of developing pitchers to fill these men's shoes. This was a job that only a genius could accomplish in the short period of a college season. Turning from this handicap, Milligan found that Alfred Love, her crack third baseman, and McReynolds, second baseman, had failed to return. These two men left a wide gap in the infield. Coach found only inexperienced men to plug these holes. Hartsell, the best outfielder in college, also failed to return. So practice started with bad weather and inexperienced players in many positions.

During this bad weather our first three games fell due, and as a consequence, were lost by small margins. But, like a baby learns to crawl and then walk, Milligan's team forged to the front. The sunny days gave Coach Wicker a chance to work his men. The wide gaps in the infield began to narrow down, and before the next game fell due the team was running like a well-oiled machine. Since whipping the men into shape, Mr. Wicker has been able to capture eight straight games and there is a bright prospect for the remaining games of the season. Considering all things, Milligan has made a splendid baseball record this year.

HARDWARE

For a generation this house, through its predecessors and present managements, has been serving the public with quality goods at satisfying prices and with courteous fair dealing.

During the later years our Sporting Goods and Athletic Department has been developed and has been received in the same enthusiastic manner as our general lines of hardware. Schools and colleges through this section have adopted our athletic supplies exclusively, and in acknowledgement of the supremacy of our equipment, Milligan College, consistent users of our supplies for years, used only such equipment as could be bought here, in furnishing their new modern gymnasium throughout.

Whether for use on the gridiron, diamond, track, or in the gym, we have a complete line of the BEST from which to select.

Making Shopping a Real Pleasure

The selling method in one store may be different from that in another. Both stores may aim high and with good intent.

Naturally the method that better conserves and sustains the interests of the public is the one that will endure.

To serve the people well is, we believe to serve them alike every business day in the year.

In this store, you find the same unusual money-saving opportunities today, as were here in the yesterday.

This, with new goods arriving almost continuously, makes shopping here a real pleasure.

Here are two sets of figures which tell a pathetic story to John, don't you think so?

1917	$550.00	In Bus. College
1916	$500.00	Entered Bus. College
1918	550.00	$1,000.00
1919	575.00	$1,500.00
1920	600.00	$1,500.00
1921	625.00	1,750.00
1922	625.00	1,750.00
1923	675.00	2,000.00

$4,725.00 $9,550.00

In other words $9,550.00—$4,725.00 equal $4,825.00 that John has paid in eight years for lack of training. $603.00 per year. CAN YOU AFFORD TO PAY THIS PRICE FOR NOT BEING TRAINED?

What does the future hold in store for you? We can fit you for life's greater works by properly training you. Come in and let us talk it over.
