

Party For All Saturday Night

"The darkest hour is just before the dawn." Thus speaks an old English proverb which has its analogue in every language. Poets have paraphrased it, historians have sought to test its truth, yet, it remains a popular statement of a hope based on physical facts.

All Milliganites, perhaps, will experience these basic elements during this week. Examinations come—well, consult your schedule—but the dawn is yet to break. Saturday night, January 22, all Milligan students will entertain and be entertained at a relaxation party in the gymnasium. Plans for the evening's entertainment are indefinite as we go to press. Listen for special announcements this week and plan to be there.

These campus parties always promote better college spirit. Some of them become a very important part of Milligan life. They are remembered years after students leave Milligan. Every student is always cordially invited to attend, and certainly those who may fail to be at a school party fail to get the whole of college life.

Dr. Cooke To Hold Revival

President Derthick has recently announced that the annual revival at Milligan College, which will come about the first two weeks of March, will be held this year by Dr. Harry R. Cooke.

Dr. Cooke is pastor of the First Christian Church in Knoxville. For several years past, he has come to Milligan for the spring revival, being so popular with both students and faculty that they want him to return each year.

Dr. Cooke is intensely interested in young people and their problems, and is consequently a great favorite with all of them.—

Masque Club Revises Rules

New rules for admission to the Masque, the senior organization of the Dramatic Club, were made at a meeting of the club on January 10. Rules regarding actors remain the same, except that one clause was added. The following are the rules governing the admission of actors to the Masque: (1) One year of resident membership in the Dramatic Club, the workshop of the Masque; (2) One leading role in a Masque open program or three minor roles in a Masque open program; (3) An actor must have made a definite contribution to dramatics on the Milligan College campus. The candidate for membership must show interest, cooperation, enthusiasm, stage presence, and promptness.

The technical departments shall

Drama Will Be Presented

"A Case of Suspension," will be presented as the next try-out for play for the Dramatic Club early in the second semester. The play is under the direction of Miss Estelle Elliot.

"A Case of Suspension" is characterized by its appeal to the college student in that its basic purpose is to entertain; in some respects it is a direct satire on certain college regulations and the primness of college officials.

The balanced cast is composed of: Dorothy, vivacious college girl, Will Cooper Smith; Alice, exuberant college girl, Virginia Kiser; Mildred, a campus butterfly, Martha Milligan; Harold, undergraduate, Bob Rice; Tom, undergraduate, Milburn Heaton; Jack, undergraduate, Vince Tate; Miss Ophelia Jenkins, nosey matron, Juanita Jones; Prof. Emilus Edgerton, psychology professor, unselected; Kathleen, Irish maid, Lucille Berry; Jonas, janitor, Tim O'Neil.

Students Will Honor Kiwanians

Friday evening a student group representing the Speech and Music departments entertained at the Kiwanis Club of Elizabethton. The Milligan program was under the direction of Misses Dorothy Kester and Frances Yearly.

"A Dear Little Wife," an oriental one-act play, by Gerald Dunn was presented. The cast included Florence Potter, Edward Vogel, and Harry Easterly.

The girls' trio, composed of Minnie Burns, Rachel Roberts, and Dorothy Fox, sang "Rain" (Curran), and "Morning" (Oley Speaks).

Pre-Med Club Hears Dr. Lacey

Monday night, January 10, Dr. W. L. Lacy gave a short, informal address before the Pre-Med Club. Dr. Lacy is a representative of the American Red Cross and has charge of First Aid Education among non-medical people. For the past week he has been conducting classes in first aid in Johnson City. In his address Dr. Lacy pointed out that it is not the person who desires money, prestige, or to give his services to humanity who will make a success as a physician but one who is studying medicine because he likes to study medicine better than anything else. Wednesday, January 12, Dr. Lacy spoke in Chapel. This time he gave account of the work done by the American Red Cross in the prevention of accidents. He pointed out that every year more than 100,000 what to do in cases of accidents, and that two-thirds of these accidents are avoidable. Especially Taking advantage of a complete reversal of form, the Milligan College hardwood performers stomped their way to a 45-28 victory over the favored Wasps from Emory and Henry.

Only once did the visitors show any offensive that threatened to equal that of the Buffs. In the opening period the Emory cagers managed to stay on even terms with the home team. But from then on, it was a matter of time before the Buffs could be stopped.

Perkins, six feet, four inch center and Varnell, scrapping forward, led the Eylermen's offensive. These boys hit the basket with incessant rapidity and only the final whistle stopped them.

Although Barker scored ten points, it doesn't indicate the effective and outstanding defense played by Captain MacLean of the Buffs. The Buff Captain was everywhere at once and he well deserved the tremendous ovation given him when he left the game via the foul route.

The game was hard fought and Buffalettes Stampede V.I.

The Buffalettes, paced by Orr and Jones, defeated the lassies of Virginia Intermont at Bristol 47-13.

Because of the one-sided score Coach Lacey was permitted to use his reserves frequently and the game turned out to be an experiment.

Miss Jones and Miss Orr led the offensive of the Milligan girls and the small score of the V. I. quintet can be attributed to the fine defensive play of Misses Garrison and Fritz.

Milligan Representatives Visit Virginia

During the Christmas Holidays I spoke to several friends who saw the Milligan boys beat the Norton Kiwanians, December 16, at Norton. They told me that the basketball team did more to advertise Milligan in Southwest Virginia than anything else could have done.

I told them the prophecy here was the same—that if we beat Norton, we would receive good publicity in Virginia.

Immediately I was told that wasn't the point. One said, "I don't mean that. We forgot about basketball and watched the Milligan boys greet former students and graduates. They took time to shake hands, and to speak words of greeting to our friends. That makes us Milligan's friends. Of course the victory did help.

The same person said the whole crowd was speaking of Milligan's spirit of friendliness. They quit watching the warm up practice and watched the performance so common in greeting friends at Milligan—hand shakes, smiles, and words of greeting.

Such is a grand compliment to any group of Milligan representatives. We are proud of you, Buffaloes. You showed Southwest Virginia the spirit of Milligan as well as your basketball. Keep it up wherever you go.

"Behave Yourself"

If you are in the throes of a romance, don't make him or her conspicuous by too much constant attention around school. It's likely to be rather amusing to unsympathetic observers.

(From "Behave Yourself," Allen and Briggs)

"I will go anywhere, provided that it be forward." (David Livingston)

"Taking Blinders Off Love"

In the December issue of the American Magazine is an article with the above title by Jerome Beatty. Every student interested in the trend of modern practical education should read the full article. The subject can be only touched upon here.

A letter from a young man in a highly accredited university of the South came to the editor of American. He desired information on love and marriage, but did not know where to find it.

"We want to learn about love—what is wrong, and what is right; how we are to live the sexual side of our lives . . ."

"Instead of being educated in courtship and marriage, we must find out for ourselves from experience, too often beginning in ignorance and ending in divorce. It's the one thing that young people of today are interested in . . ."

Today, out of 672 colleges and universities in the U. S. more than 200 have courses on preparation for marriage. This is the most rapidly spreading subject in the field of education.

But, twelve years ago there were only 22 such college courses and most of them had taken only a few steps beyond the story of bees and flowers. Today, in classrooms are discussed such subjects as Petting, Problems of Courtship, Choosing a Mate, The Technique of Birth Control, The Honeymoon, Martial Adjustment. . . ."

The new generation of open-minded youth is ready to stand on its own feet. Girls' schools have stressed most that marriage is the most important thing in life. So why be silly about it? Secrecy has never helped the case, but certainly education can.

Why do parents try to beat around facts? "To parents who believe you are playing with fire when you let boys know that even some of the nicest girls rather enjoy a good-night kiss, they (professors) bluntly reply that boys found that out long ago." A lady college professor says, "Honest education, truth-telling without exaggeration is the only help we can offer."

The idea has been that it is all right to teach us about the breeding of cattle or the best way to keep piggies happy, but never mention intelligent information concerning fatherhood and motherhood.

But we are leavng such antiquated ideas. We are grasping for those important realities that make life better.

JAMES HALE

Ten years ago, Lois and Hazel Hale from Erwin, Tennessee, graduated from Milligan College. Since then there have been two other members of the same family to attend Milligan. James Hale, a member of our present Senior Class, is one of them. He graduated from Unicoi County High School in '34 and entered Milligan the following term. He has continued since he first entered college to be the serious-minded, hard-working student that he was in high school. Already the results of this concentrated effort are plain to see, even though he has, by no means, completed his formal education.

Hale is president of the Pre-Med Club and a member of the Masque and Dramatic Club.

As for his particular "likes," Hale is very unusual; he likes spinach. Otherwise, he is like the average college boy, especially in that he is fond of ball games.

Hale will receive his B. S. degree in the spring. Next year he will attend Vanderbilt, where he intends to study medicine.

"The only catch to being a Senior," Hale says, "is that you will soon be leaving Milligan, an leaving Milligan will be like leaving home."

ROSA GRAY

Rosa Gray came to Milligan from St. Paul, Virginia, where she had made an outstanding record in high school. She entered Milligan's Freshman class in '32 and was for three years an honor student. At the conclusion of her Junior year, she accepted a teaching position, but has returned to join the graduating class of '38.

Miss Gray is particularly proud of her family and her home. She is interested in religious work and painting. She studied painting in oils in grammar school and has taken short courses in art at Stonewall Jackson College and Emory and Henry College. She taught oils and drawing for two years.

Besides painting, Rosa has other particular "likes," as, making friends, reading Poe, baking

Alumni and Former Students

By Carsie Hyder

The Alumni Association

An organization has recently been formed at Milligan which should be of interest to all who have ever attended school here, even for only a few weeks. This is the Alumni Association. Although there had been a need for such an organization for some time, there has been no active association.

Several weeks ago President Derthick appointed Prof. J. G. Long, assistant professor of English, secretary of the Alumni Association. At present he is the only officer. Prof. Long is an Alumnus of Milligan College, having graduated in 1924. Because of his interest in both present and former students, and the welfare of Milligan he should make an excellent secretary of the Alumni Association.

One purpose of the organization is to locate all graduates and former students. Fifteen hundred letters have already been sent out. Of this number about seven hundred have been answered. These letters contain questions about the permanent address, occupation, family and success of the person. Effort is being made to locate those who have not answered the letters.

Plans are being made for an Alumni Day in the spring. This will be an annual occasion, and it should create great interest. It should be great fun returning to see the old Alma Mater and the classmates you used to have.

Mrs. Boyd Visits Campus

Mrs. Boyd, wife of Dr. W. B. Boyd, is visiting the Milligan College campus as a special guest. Dr. Boyd was Dean of Men at Milligan for about fifteen years, but is now located in Nashville where he is Director of the Advertising Division of the State. During the latter part of this month, Dr. Boyd will be making a tour of East Tennessee, and will spend a few days at Milligan, at which time he will no doubt give

A BUFFALO HEARD

Ho-Hum! Christmas holidays are already a dimly remembered oasis in the desert of college exams—a hazy dream in the swirl of study, study, study. But the wise old Buffalo is still watching the side-lights of campus life—the amusing, human incidents occurring here and there: at conference, in the dormitories, the gym, the Ad building, and the dining hall.

The students are bemoaning the fact that Santa Claus did not bring Prof. Crudden and Ralph Yates a comb for Christmas.

The girls on the west end of the gym are wondering if it is Janette Breeding or Dr. Eyer who is entertaining them with the French-harp.

Wonder what W. A. White thinks about the new Whinrey and Frazier romance?

Wonder if Eleanor Vogel is taking as good care of "her Billy" as Will Cooper did?

And speaking of Will Cooper—Have you heard this one (it actually happened!):

Prof. Cochrane: And when they performed a post-mortem on the poor man they found a million liver-flukes . . .

Will Cooper: Good Heavens! Did he die?

Why does Rachel Roberts go around holding out her left hand?

It seems that "Tater" Fox is developing a deep interest in a certain red-headed visitor from Teachers'.

The Book of Revelations

Dorys Lambert is fond of zippers.

Freddie Davidson looks lonely.

Gwen Mathes is in the Bak-er-ing business.

Sears is exceptionally fond of Lizzie.

Pettit is also wearing a diamond on the left hand.

Bill Pike is proud of his dimples.

Rumor has it that the Hennessee-Akers love affair has suffered another break-up.

Milburn Heaton has been reading Emily Post lately.

J. "Romero" Woods and "Handsome" Charles Duggins are still visiting the twins in Johnson City.

Reba Durnett is exceptionally fond of her new place in the dining hall.

A certain cocky Senior boy refused to sit at Miss Brown's table.

Trevor McClean is looking even more melancholy than usual these days.

Virginia Lee Fritts is Perk-in' up!

If Alma Petit is wearing a diamond from a home town lover, why does she insist upon playing up to our Milligan Seniors, especially Blevins?

Is DeWitt off of blondes and getting "Foxy" these days?

No matter how warlike the situation is, Marie Bible always wants Peace!

The object of Marie Jenkins' affections is now Eddie O'Donnell. Has anyone noticed?

A snooping reporter found Dudd Roberts and Reable Griffeth locked in the telephone booth at Conference.

A sigh from a chemistry student: "Oh, that the world knew what Dr. Thompson has forgotten."

A sigh from many, "Oh, that the world knew what Howard "Major Hoople" Hamlin knows now!"

Did you know that J. R. Wood's girl friend is wearing an engagement ring? Whose is it?

Do you know who Estel Hurley's latest lover is? Ask Crabtree. Estel is very fickle. First it is Barker, then Jenkins. And now? That's right—It is Virginia Smith—A rather sudden change from Chemistry lab to Biology lab.

Do you remember James McIntyre's face a few weeks ago? No, it wasn't a fight. He just fell out of bed and landed on the wrong end.

Another sigh from a group, "Oh, if Milligan only had a boy who was what Noel thought himself to be."

Why do those who have the least to do about matters usually have the biggest mouths in them?

Ruby must be a naughty girl in her practice teaching at Happy Valley. Her supervising teacher keeps her after class often, someone told us.

Ira Morley should give us some information on his brunette case study at Happy Valley soon.

Ira, Caroline DeLaney, had Prof. Blaine Sturgill writing in her memory book a few days ago. Blaine just naturally has a way with the girls.

To Estelle E: I can't be the janitor. In fact I can't be anything. The only acting I ever did was to act like I wasn't hungry when I was.

If everyone would put as much dependance in his fellow man as a woman puts in a safety pin, this would be a much better world.

Here's to happy days. Any fool can have a big time at night.

There was the boy who was kicked out of school for counting his ribs during a Biology Test.

Watch out, Miss England, John Fugate is known as a heart-breaker.

Kathleen Edens and Ruby Smith are said to have been having peculiar dreams. About whom, we wonder?

Rose Tilford enjoys her work on the Salad Force much more since she has discovered Bill Pike's dimples.

Dot: Isn't that Bill Blackwell rather fast?

Kat. Hawkins: Yeah, but I don't think he'll get away from me.

O'Donnell: Say, Doc, I don't believe I deserve a zero on this exam.

Dr. Eyer: I know, but that's the lowest grade I know.

It's a pity some of our senior boys have to freeze themselves half to death in order to be noticed. What other reason? Just because?

"Double or nothing" fits the two boys who are the inspiration of Sibyl Frye's favorite song, "Trouble, double Trouble."

Martha: A penny for your thoughts!

Harry: Sorry, but they've gone up.

Has anyone noticed how much Bill Bowman and Koskinen look alike?

We wonder whose sweet potato "Tater" Fox is now. He was Ruby Orr's in the dish-washing room the other night.

Poor Santa Clause must have had a heavy load this year; He must have had several bags of crosses. Also several diamonds.

Have you seen Alma's diamond? Who is the lucky guy, Alma?

Prof: "Where are you going in such a hurry?"

Soph: "I just bought a new textbook and I am trying to get to class before it goes out of date."

Pike To Defend Boxing Laurels

Bill Pike, who upholds the local reputation in the squared circle will enter the 1938 Golden Gloves Tourney in Knoxville to defend the title of district champion which he won last year. Bill who last year won the championship by a knockout in the finals, made the trip to Nashville. Although defeated at Nashville, there is some alibi for his showing. On the way, Bill developed a case of intestinal indigestion or just plain "Stomack Ache." Even being ill and off-color did not keep him from giving a good account of himself and this year this paper can assure you that Milligan will be represented by one of the best amateur welterweights in the state.

"M" Club Holds Initiation Meeting

Eleven men were voted upon and initiated into the boys' "M" Club at the end of the current football season. This initiation makes known the fact that these men have given their all in some phase of the athletic life at Milligan. It means they will be privileged to wear monogramed sweaters and to take part in any program sponsored by the "M" Club.

The purpose of the varsity organization is to promote more and better fellowship among the athletically-minded students and to further a more wholesome school spirit among the students and faculty. It is the desire of every man to belong to a group that is as respected and upheld as this club.

The following are the new members: Blackwell, Burton, Dillinger, Kirksy, MacClellan, Mason, Peace, Rice, Riggs, Willis and Whinnery.

Buffalo Schedule For 1938

After defeating Emory and Henry decisively, the Buffs will prepare to meet the cream of the crop in the Smoky Mountain Conference and will start their march to further conference honors. Including other teams, the schedule calls for games with Maryville and Carson Newman, and these games will be the highlights of the 1938 season.

Below is a complete schedule of the 1938 games:

Games with L. M. U., Virginia Intermont and Appalachia State Teachers College are to be scheduled.

Buffaloes Meet Railsplitters

Monday, January 24, 1938

The Milligan Buffaloes will visit L. M. U. at Harrogate, Tennessee, Monday, January 24 to meet the Railsplitters in the second annual game of the season.

Although defeated by the L. M. U. men at Milligan, the Buffaloes showed Thursday night by defeating the powerful Emory and Henry team that they will give the railsplitters a real fight. The Buffaloes will be out for revenge and our prophesy is that they will make a much better showing at L. M. U. than at Milligan.

The Lincoln Memorial University Railsplitters upset the proverbial dopster's choice and defeated the Milligan College quint 42-35.

L. M. U. presented a lineup with freshmen and sophomores and although still a bit green, Coach Bowling has a potential title contender in the making.

From the start to finish, it was obvious that the Eylermen were having an "off-night" and only once did they show the form and fight apparent in their pre-holiday games. Midway through the second period, the Buffs started a scoring spree that threatened the lead piled up by the opposing team, but time halted the contest with the Milligan cagesters still on the receiving end.

The game was the initial conference game for both teams and the outcome sends L.M.U. off to a flying start.

GLEE CLUB TO PRESENT OPERETTA

The combined boys' and girls' Glee Club will cooperate in presenting an operetta early in the second semester. Practice on the musical numbers will begin immediately after examinations. Miss Frances Yearly will direct the operetta.

T. C. P. A. Convenes January Twentieth

The Tennessee College Press Association will convene January 20 and remain in session until Saturday afternoon. The meeting will be held at Murfreesboro with "Sidelines" of State Teachers College as host paper.

Invitations have been extended members of the STAMPEDE staff, but semester exams coupled with lack of finances will keep any representatives from Milligan from attending.

DUST OF THE ROAD

"Dust of the Road," a drama, by Kenneth Sawyer Goodman was presented Monday evening, January 17, in the college auditorium by the Christian players of Kingsport, Tennessee.

Dr. P. C. McCord, pastor of the First Christian church of Kingsport, directed the play. Dr. McCord is a former graduate of Milligan College. He spoke recently at the chapel period.

"Dust of the Road," a royalty play, is being staged by Dr. McCord by permission of the Stage Guild in Chicago, Illinois.

PRACTICE TEACHERS AT H. V. H. S. THIS YEAR

There are seven students who have been practicing teaching during the first semester of this year at H. V. H. S. Their work will be finished in two more weeks, and several of the classes in which these students are getting practice will be open for other student teachers the last semester.

Mr. Payne, principal of Happy Valley High School, says that the student teachers, the students of Happy Valley, and the supervisory teachers have gotten along better this year than ever before. Dr. Bennett is pleased with this record.

Many New Books For Library Covering Wide Range of Subjects

Dr. Lambie Chapel Speaker

Dr. Tom Lambie, former personal physician to Haile Selassie and one-time secretary-general of the Ethiopian Red Cross spoke at the Chapel period, Friday morning, January 14.

Dr. Lambie has served in foreign fields for thirty years. In his pioneer work he established missions at Nassar, Dolub Hill in the Egyptian Sudan, and in Ethiopia. Later he was director of the Tafari Malconen Hospital and served as American secretary of Sudan Interior Missions.

Dr. Lambie, is an interesting fashion, related the various circumstances that have led to increased work in the Ethiopian field. It was under his direction that the large Protestant hospital of Addis Ababa was erected as was the leper hospital which the American Mission to Lepers helped to establish.

New Year's Resolution

I, A (Blank) Student, of Milligan College, being twenty-one years of age and of (un)sound mind, do hereby resolve, that I shall keep the following new rules of conduct (in my scrapbook) throughout this new year:

I. I shall arise early to go about my morning tasks. No longer shall I sleep until the first stroke of the last bell—I shall arise one minute before.

II. I shall be more in earnest about ACQUIRING-AN-EDUCATION: I shall endeavor to stay at least half awake in classes, chapel and church.

III. I shall see that my roommate prepares my lessons better for this semester.

IV. I resolve not to smoke in my room except for fumigating purposes.

V. I resolve to use my own soap, clean towels, lotions, toothpaste (etc., etc.)--When my roommate or neighbors have none.

VI. I shall endeavor to clean up my room more frequently--at least once a week.

VII. I resolve not to steal conference any more (except when Mrs D. or Mrs B. aren't around).

Miss England reports that several new books, covering a wide range of subjects, will be in the Library in a few weeks, and will make excellent reading for those who wish to spend their leisure time in a profitable as well as enjoyable way. Here is a list of them:

WHY FRET?

(American Magazine)

Are the trains too slow for you? Caesar, with all of his court, never "exceeded" the speed limit.

Are your wages too small? In Europe people are content with making a living.

Are the lights too dim? David wrote his psalms by the light of a smoky torch.

Are you ugly? Cleopatra, though homely, bewitched two emperors.

Are you cold? The soldiers of Valley Forge walked barefoot on the ice and snow.

Are you hungry? The children of India are starving for want of a crust of bread.

Are you tired? Why fret about it? Jacob was tired when he dreamed of the angels of heaven.

Are you sick? Suppose you had lived two thousand years ago when sickness was fatal.

Are you poor? The Savior of Men was not wealthy.

Cheer up! Praise God that you live in the midst of this blessings! Why fret?

well-liked and respected as both minister and friend. A man of great understanding and dynamic personality, he is always ready to give helpful talk with students. A speaker, he is outstanding, drawing his audience spellbound by the force and imagery with which he presents his message.

Milligan College is very fortunate in securing the services of such a man as Dr. Cooke, and those who are acquainted with him and his work are looking forward to his coming, with great anticipation.

did he emphasize the importance of first aid in schools. He pointed out that it is as necessary to teach people what not to do as what to do in cases of accidents. By a few references to the Celebrated Virginia Mule, Dr. Lacy produced quite a few laughs.

More About MRS. BOYD

Their long residence at Milligan has made Dr. and Mrs. Boyd well known and well loved to a host of friends throughout this part of the state. Since Mrs. Boyd was formerly matron at the boys' dormitory, she is well able to understand college life, and compliments the fine personnel of the student body. Mrs. Boyd is located in the guest room of the boys' dormitory and says: "I am especially impressed by the quietness and courtesy of the boys in the dormitory."

pies, and even eating peanuts. Spinach and eavesdroppers are things which she cannot tolerate.

Getting back to seriousness, however, we find that Miss Gray has not selfishly taken all that she could get from Milligan without giving something in return. She has meant much to the school by having contributed her best in scholarship, religious work, an in charming personality. She says, "If you want to know why people come back to Milligan, try going away."
